ALAS, POOR BEAM.

The Quakers Say They Have Solved the Nineteenth Century Mystery.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—Young Beam, who claims Latrobe, Pa., as his home, and his occupation as that of a baseball pitcher, made his Philadelphia debut to-day with the Pittsburg team, which is down on the cards as one of the mysteries of the nineteenth century. It took nine of the Philadelphia players just two innings to get the hang of the young man's delivery, and then they jumped onto him with both feet. It was in the third inning when the slaughter began, and then the entire nine came to the bat, two of them twice. Those of the local men who did not hit him were sent to first on balls, and when the smoke cleared away seven runs had been scored on three doubles, two triples, three bases on balls, four stolen bases, and a muffed ball thrown by Kuehne.

A REAL SLAUGHTER.

While the Pittsburg men were being retired in their half of the inning the local nine was gathering its second wind, and in the fourth they again fit onto the ball for five singles, which, with a wild pitch, two stolen bases and errors by Dunlap, Carroll and Kuehne, netted five more runs. Beam pulled himself together in the fifth inning and changed his pace from a slow to a speedy ball, which puzzled the home batsmen, and as a result but four singles and a double were made during the balance of the game.

Sanders and Schriver were the battery for Philadelphia, and both men never did prettier work. For six innings the Virginian kept the visitors down to four hits, when he eased up on his delivery, and was hit for three singles and a double and a triple.

'TWAS VERY ONE-SIDED.

Of the game little can be said. It was one-sided, tedious, and utterly devoid of special interest, the only features being the battery work of Sanders and Schriver, the fielding of Sunday, Maul, Smith and Irwin, and the batting of the locals in the third and fourth innings. Pittsburg scored two runs in the seventh on singles by Hanlon, Beckley and Dunlap, a passed ball and a wild pitch, and Sanders' wild throw to Irwin. In the ninth a base on balls, Carroll's tripple, and Dunlap's sacrifice yielded them two more runs. The attendance was 3,200, and at no time did the spectators grow enthusiastic. Curry's umpiring was fair and impartial. Score:

ANOTHER FOR CLEVELAND.

Bakeley's Curves Puzzle the Tail End Senators.

LOCAL BALL GOSSIP.

President Nimick Quietly Disappears—Something About Beam.

President Nimick left the city mysteriously yesterday, and left everybody guessing as to whether or not he had gone in pursuit of more new players. An official of the club, however, stated that no more money is to be expended on new players until those now engaged are tested. The official also said that all engagements already made for players will be fulfilled as far as the club is concerned.

Some baseball authorities conjectured that Mr. Nimick had gone to Detroit and Buffalo to see if an arrangement could not be made with White and Rowe. It is thought that if ex-President Stearns, of Detroit, can be induced to offer a little more than $1,000 each to Rowe and White of their purchase money they will come here. It is, therefore, thought that Mr. Nimick is trying to accomplish the above object.

On the other hand, it is said that the President has gone to Philadelphia to see the two games to-day and have a talk with Phillips about the team. This is a probable feature of the question.

Beam's work in the box yesterday caused considerable disappointment among the local cranks. The disappointment was the more intense because of the gushing words that have been said about the young man locally. This is another instance of thoughtless and extravagant laudations of a youngster before he is thoroughly tried. THE DISPATCH so far has nothing to retract, but it is only fair to remark that yesterday's game no more proves Beam a bad pitcher than his victory at Washington proves him a good one.

ANSON VICTIMIZED AGAIN.

He and His Boys Fail to Defeat the Boston Fellows.

BOSTON, May 29.—The game to-day between Boston and Chicago was an intensely exciting one. The visitors took the lead in the second inning and kept it till the ninth, when, after one man was out, singles by Kelly and Brouthers and a terrific two-base hit by Richardson sent in two runs and won the game. EAST LIBERTY ATTRACTIONS.

Two games That Promise to Be of the Liveliest Kind.

There promises to be two interesting games of baseball this afternoon at Liberty Park, and the lovers of the national game will certainly witness two fine contests if they will only take the trouble to wander out in that direction. Last year the Homesteads and the East End Athletics were evenly matched and every time they came together it was a signal for a hard struggle on both sides. They broke even on the championship series of four games by each winning two and as this is the first game of this season between these two clubs the coming game promises to be an interesting one. The following is the make-up of the two nines for this morning's game. Manager Edwards is going to try another new pitcher, as Donohoe sent him word this morning that he was hardly able to raise his arm.

E. E. Athletics.	Position.	Homesteads.
O'Donnell	Catcher	Hess
Mason	Pitcher	Ladew
Lauer	First base	Bulmer
D. Barr	Second base	Youngman
Gray	Third base	Harry Colgan
Oliver	Short-stop	Rohe
Tener	Left field	Gessner
Swift	Middle field	Harry Colgan
W. Barr	Right field	Armor

Umpire, Zachariah. Game called at 10:30 A. M.

The afternoon game with the Braddocks promises to be even more interesting as Manager Bair feels confident that he can defeat Manager Edwards' pets with Gordon in the box, and on the other hand Manager Edwards is as equally confident that his sluggers will line-er out off Gordon just as easily as off Baker. Just what each side will do will be proven to-day, but there is no doubt that the contest will be a close and interesting one. The Braddock nine will bring quite a large following with them and they will, no doubt, make things interesting. Thomas Zachariah, the well-known local umpire, will umpire both contests and his work, no doubt, will be quite a feature, as his umpiring on all occasions has been very fine.

Athletics.	Positions.	Braddocks.
Schoyer	Catcher	Killen
Oliver	Pitcher	Gordon
Lauer	First base	W. Bennett
D. Barr	Second base	B. Bennett
Gray	Third base	Shields
O'Donnell	Short-stop	Clark
Tener	Left field	Cooper
Swift	Middle field	Anderson
W. Barr	Right field	Baker

Umpire, Zachariah. Game called at 4 P. M.

A LITTLE ONESIDED.

The Stockyard Boys Make Easy Victims of the Liberty Stars.

The Stockyard Baseball Club crossed bats with the Liberty Stars, of the East End, at Liberty Park yesterday afternoon. The only features were Lauer's pitching and the heavy batting of the stockyard boys. Score by innings:

The McKeesports Have a Picnic With the Johnstowns.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

MCKEESPORT, PA., May 29.—The Johnstown club stood in front of the McKeesport club again to-day and went under. Johnstown is a victim and the home club knew it and played a careless game, the score being 19 to 4 in favor of the home club. The visitors tried hard to make a showing and failed.

Manager Torreyson says that if the McKeesport club is going into the Tri-State League he is not aware of it. The home club and the Etnas play here to-morrow morning. The Oaklands play in the afternoon. Two good games are expected.

The Scottdale Baseball Club, which has Milbee, the strong young pitcher the Allegheny club was trying for, will play at McKeesport Monday and Tuesday, and expects to clip the wings of Torreyson's crack players. There is now considerable money bet on them.

Baseball Notes.

KRUMM will certainly get a try to-day.

MAY NOT BE HANGED.

The Board of Pardons Recommends Commutation of Two Death Sentences to Imprisonment for Life—Samuel Johnson Given the Benefit of a Doubt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

HARRISBURG, May 29.—The Board of Pardons late to-night unanimously recommended the commutation of the death penalty of Samuel Johnson, the murderer of John Sharpless, in Delaware county, several years ago, to imprisonment for life. The board gives its reasons at length for its action:

While the board cannot say that they have no doubt of Johnson's guilt, yet it is not certain that such serious doubts have been raised in the minds of the board as would alone induce them to recommend executive interposition, but it is a fact shown by petitions and letters of men of this State of highest standing and greatest intelligence and by numerous petitions filed with the board, embracing the names of nearly 5,000 citizens, that a very serious and widespread doubt of the prisoner's guilt has been produced in the State, and with a large number of people this doubt has grown to a conviction of his innocence. The board are convinced that this feeling is so strong that the execution of the sentence would produce a moral shock on the minds of many people, and be regarded as a judicial murder. It is important not only that the law should be justly and impartially executed but that the people should believe and feel that it is justly and impartially executed, and the board base their recommendation very largely upon this widespread doubt of the guilt of Samuel Johnson, which has been proved to them to exist. In this connection they expressly call attention to the representations of Postmaster General Wanamaker, ex-Governor Hoyt, General Hartranft, ex-Governor Pollock and many others in favor of commutation.

In conclusion the board says they are not satisfied that Samuel Johnson is innocent, or they would recommend his pardon. They are not satisfied beyond all doubt that he is guilty, or they would take no step to interfere with the due execution of the law. They believe there are some grounds upon which doubts of his guilt may rest, and do rest in the minds of a very large portion of this community, and that while such widespread doubt exists, and the further feeling that possible future developments may increase this doubt or demonstration, his innocence remains in the minds of so many people, the execution of the death penalty is not advisable.

The board also recommended the commutation of the death penalty of Harriet Burrows, of Philadelphia, who disemboweled her husband, to imprisonment for life.

The case of George Clark, of Greene county, was held under advisement. The applications of Joseph Allen and Rose Hall, convicted of keeping disorderly houses in Pittsburg, were refused, and those of John Byers, felony, and John K. Scott, felonious assault and battery, held under advisement.

A pardon was recommended in the case of George Garland, for horse stealing in Westmoreland county.

CHEERS FOR THE WRONG MAN.

Blaine, Though Absent, Remembered by a Crowd Welcoming Harrison.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 29.—President Harrison arrived in Jersey City in the private car of President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Road, at 9:19 o'clock to-night. With him were Secretary Halford, General Tracy and General Lew Wallace. There was not much of a crowd waiting for the President's arrival in Jersey City. There were five carriages in waiting, and a reception committee. The President and party crossed by the Courtlandt street ferry, and were driven rapidly through this city over the big bridge, and to Mr. Knapp's house in Williamsburg. A crowd had been waiting in front of the house since 7 o'clock, and 17 policemen had their hands full to keep a passage open to the stoop.

There were cheers when the President appeared, and when General Tracy, with his white beard, emerged from the second carriage some one shouted: "Three cheers for Blaine." The cheers were given with a will. Mr. Knapp, whose guest President Harrison will be during his stay, had a supper in readiness at which the only guests beside the party were the gentlemen who met the President at the depot.

MISS MOORE WILL RETURN.

She Was Arrested at Ft. Wayne and Held Till Her Father Came.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

YOUNGSTOWN, May 29.—W. H. Moore, whose daughter eloped with R. B. Nicholas, arrived in Fort Wayne this morning, and, proceeding to the jail, where the couple occupied separate cells, secured the release of his daughter, she consenting to leave Nicholas and return to her home. During last night Nicholas alarmed the jail officials by yelling that Miss Moore was dying. On reaching her cell they found that by reason of the excitement she had fainted, but upon the application of restoratives she soon recovered.

Mr. Moore left for home with his daughter at once. Nicholas was released from jail at Fort Wayne this afternoon, and will not be prosecuted, the relatives of the young lady being satisfied to get her out of his clutches.

A Confession That Explains a Mysterious Death Some Time Ago.

WESTMINSTER, MD., May 29.—A report is current here that Theodore Johnson, colored, who is seriously sick and is now confined in the House of Correction, has made a confession that he murdered Richard Morgan, colored, on September 17 and put his body on the track to avoid suspicion.

The remains of Morgan were found on the railroad near Westminster on the morning of September 17. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he had been accidentally run over and killed.

They Catch the Public Again on the Latonia Track.

CINCINNATI, O., May 29.—The ninth day at Latonia had more rain, making the track a perfect mudhole, and after a finish it was a hard matter to distinguish the jockeys who were in the ruck. The attendance was large and more ladies were in the grandstand than on any day of the meeting. Up to the fourth race the track was dry and dusty, but just before that race it commenced to rain and never let up. It was a good day for the books, as but one real favorite won. The "bookies" made airtight books on anything that looked like a probable winner and scarcely offered any odds on a crab. Havillah, who won in the mud Saturday was favorite today in the Latonia Oaks, but was miserably ridden by her jockey, G. Covington.
