BECKLEY THE BOSS.

Big Jake in the Role of Giant Killer.

GREAT MEN DOWNED AGAIN

A Most Exciting Game Won by the Local Team.

BOSTON STEPS INTO FIRST PLACE.

Clarkson's Fine Pitching Prevents the Clevelands' From Scoring.

GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE DAY

Victory once more was on the side of the Pittsburg ball team yesterday. They defeated New York in a remarkably exciting game. Beckley did great work. Boston beat Cleveland and once again stepped up to first place in the League race. Chicago also won. There were several interesting amateur games.

All the sensations of a drama wherein a monster struts to and fro terrorizing everybody until he is throttled and jumped on in the last scene of the last act, were present among and felt keenly by the 1,000 people who visited yesterday's argument at Recreation Park between the Giants, from New York, and the small chaps of this city. The game will be labeled "a daisy" for years to come by all who saw it. It was a life and death struggle from first to last, and, David like, the little folk just hit their towering enemy on the right spot and at the right time and ended all hostilities. The Giants were downed again, and in this instance without any question at all Beckley has earned the title of Jack the Giant Killer. He brought them to their knees, and great was the fall thereof.

Without doubt yesterday's game was one of the best that has been witnessed on the home grounds. It was of the pins and needles kind that keeps patrons moving from one side of their seats to the other just as restless as the sea; ever and anon there came stages that brought a cheerful yell, a happy smile or a very painful sigh. Probably underwent as many fluctuations during the game as would a thermometer in an hour were all the variations of a year's weather compressed into that time. What with Jeems' anxiety to hear from Cleveland about the fortunes of the Bostons, and the tough struggle he had in hand at Recreation Park, he was the most restless man in christendom. Fears, laughter, groans and cheers came and went in rapid succession. And after all the Giants were downed again.

There were mistakes on both sides, but the visitors had the majority. In one instance luck, misfortune, or whatever it may be called, was dead and expensively against them. Had an unfortunate streak of ill-luck not overtaken them at the very offset of the game the result might have been different. Nobody can tell, however, because during the latter part of the game the home players were in just as good form as the champions. It is seldom that the home team puts up such a game as they did yesterday. They displayed more vim than they usually do, and it is safe to say that if the team could keep up the gait of yesterday and Thursday, more pennant aspirants than the New Yorks would frequently be laid low.

SOME VERY BRILLIANT WORK.

The contest abounded in brilliant plays. Ward and Gore really did great things, and had it not been for their very accomplished fielding the score would have been bigger for Pittsburg than what it is. Hatfield, however, was not such a success at short. He went to that position in the second inning. This change was caused by an accident that befel Richardson at that stage of the game. Richardson, who was just recovering from the effects of an injured finger, tried to stop a very hot grounder from Kuehne's bat. Richardson's right hand was struck extremely hard by the ball, and he had to retire. Ward then went to second and Hatfield to short. As far as Ward was concerned the change was certainly not a bad one, but, as stated above, Hatfield was not a tremendous success. That 214 pounds of humanity—Mr. Crane—pitched a good game, and up to the beginning of the ninth inning only six hits and one earned run had been made off his delivery. Ewing supported him in his usual way, and that means first-class.

AND BECKLEY WAS THERE.

Staley also pitched well and received excellent support all round. Now and again he was hit hard but he kept the big hits very far apart. Beckley's fielding was almost as much of a treat to see as his batting. Both were excellent and it was decidedly Beckley's day. The echoes of the yells that burst forth when he brought three men home in the ninth inning by a terrific hit may be resounding among the Butler county hills yet.

The visitors drew first blood and that in the first inning. After two men were out Ewing got his base on balls and big Roger Connor went to the plate as if determined to knock holes in the roofs of the houses in some of the adjoining wards. The big fellow hit the ball with a dull thud that banged it high over Hanlon's head for three bases. Staley's immediate prospects were not of the brightest just then, Richardson, however, was early retired at first.

The home representatives tied the score in the second inning. After Fields had been retired, Kuehne reached first on Richardson's fumble referred to above. The Kaiser's representative was advanced a base by Hanlon's sacrifice and then Dunlap sent out a merry single to right which sent Kuehne home.

THOSE STUBBORN GIANTS.

In their half of the inning, however, the Giants insisted on taking the lead again and that after two of their delegation were downed. Whitney got his base on balls and Crane made a nice little scratch hit toward third base. Then Gore came with a corking single to middle, sending Whitney home. Tiernan next loomed up and thumped a terrific low liner over between first and second. Unfortunately for the Giants' prospects, the ball struck Gore on the leg and he was called out. The hit was a hard one and might have been a two-bagger.

The small chaps clung to the big people like grim death and tied the score again in the fourth. Beckley led off with a single to left and reached second on a very wild throw by Crane. The wild throw left Beckley safe at second and Fields all right on first. Kuehne knocked a fly to Connor and Hanlon knocked a grounder to Hatfield, who threw very wild to Ward, and Kuehne scored.

The Giants, however, still insisted on being first, and in their half of the inning they made another run. Rowe fumbled O'Rourke's grounder and Whitney made a good single to right field. Carroll threw the ball wildly to third base and O'Rourke got home on the error.

In the sixth inning the home players made something like a determined effort to shake off the big fellow. Beckley again led off with a single to left, and Fields flew out to Gore. Kuehne banged out a double to left and Beckley scored. The former reached third on a passed ball and scored on Ward's fumble of Hanlon's grounder.

INSISTED ON A TIE.

The score was now four to three in favor of the home players, but those determined Giants tied the score again in their half of the inning. After Ward had been retired O'Rourke whacked the ball over Hanlon's head for three bags and scored on Whitney's single. This was exciting and no mistake.

The ninth inning and the score stood 4 to 4. Everybody moving impatiently. Dunlap started the inning and got his base on balls. For the fourth time Staley struck out and Miller knocked out a single to left. Then Carroll flew out to Ward amid a painful silence. Rowe made a short single, filling the bases, and amid what doubtless was a breathless excitement, if such a thing is at a ball game, Beckley walked up to the plate. There was a vacant place far out in center field and with one big swipe the Giant Beckley banged a liner into it and sent in three runs. Oh! but there was yelling. The visitors got two men on bases after two men were out, but Beckley made a remarkable stop of Connor's grounder and the jig was up. Following is the score:

CLARKSON WAS TOO MUCH.

He Puzzles the Babies and They Were Shut Out.

CLEVELAND, August 16.—Clarkson was too much of a puzzle for the Clevelands to-day and at no time were they "in the game." At one time they had the bases full and no one out, but Clarkson, by great pitching and superior intelligence, blanked them. Score:

ERRORS BEAT THEM.

The Senators' Bad Field Work Gives Chicago a Victory.

CHICAGO, August 16.—Chicago made but three hits off Haddock up to the seventh inning. In the seventh and eighth a single, a three-bagger and two home runs, with errors by J. Irwin, gave them the lead and the game. The Senators hit Dwyer hard and at the right time, but their fielding errors lost them the game. There were no features of interest. Attendance 800. Score:

Banker is Willing.

The following statement, which explains itself, will appear in to-day's Bulletin:

EDITOR BULLETIN—I hereby accept the challenge of Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, as published in the Wheel and Bicycling World for a hill climbing contest for the championship of the world; the conditions to be as follows: The loser to pay all railroad fare and hotel expenses of winner to and from the place of contest and purchase a $50 gold medal, properly inscribed. Contests to take place, one in St. Louis, one in Pittsburg and one on some neutral ground mutually satisfactory, and contests to take place some time in the latter part of September. I will not agree to pay in event of losing nor do I ask payment in case of winning for trainer's expenses, as I do not consider this either sportsmanlike, necessary or a part of the contest. Respectfully yours,

'TWAS A BIG SURPRISE

Harry Wilkes Easily Beats Gean Smith at Rochester,

ED ANNAN WINS THE 2:17 PACE.

Teemer Puts Up His Forfeit to Row for the Championship.

CAPTAIN BROWN ON THE WARPATH.

Interesting Racing at Canton—Results at Saratoga and Brighton.

The grand circuit races at Rochester closed yesterday under unfavorable circumstances. The weather was bad. Harry Wilkes defeated Gean Smith and surprised everybody. John Teemer has put up his forfeit to row anybody. There were some good horse races at Canton. Captain S. S. Brown threatens to enter suit for libel against Eastern papers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

ROCHESTER, August 16. — Everything looked favorable for the conclusion of the grand circuit meeting this morning, as the weather was warm and clear, but shortly after noon it grew cloudy and cold. Before starting the horses a shower fell, but not enough to interfere with calling the unfinished 2:18 class, in which Susie S had two heats from yesterday. Another heat ended the contest, as the young Kentucky mare was able to beat Kit Curry, the only one of the field that could get near her.

The 2:17 came next, and after the first heat a heavy rain drove the spectators under cover, and stopped proceedings for some time. At last it cleared up sufficiently to go on, but the course was soft and heavy, and the heats were much slower than they would have been. The 2:17 pace took six heats to decide, but finally Ed Annan outlasted the party, and pulled off the victory, as he did last week at Buffalo.

Ketch had a very easy victory in the 2:33 class, jogging home a long way ahead each time.

A GREAT SURPRISE.

The free-for-all trot was a surprise to those who backed Gean Smith for a winner, for Harry Wilkes reeled off the victory in straight heats in very slow time. Gean Smith broke in the last two heats and was far in the rear.

Belle Hamlin trotted in 2:16¾ a very good mile on the heavy track.

To day Susie S brought $100 to $20 for the field before the third heat of the 2:18 class. Going away Kit Curry outfooted Susie S. and came so close that the latter broke on account of the foul. She caught handily, and trailed Kit to the third quarter, and on the home stretch outtrotted her easily, winning the heat by a scant length in 2:20¾.

ON THE WARPATH.

Captain Brown Threatens to Enter Suit for Criminal Libel.

Captain S. S. Brown, the local horseman, has made the following reply to the charges in certain New York papers that his stable was being run in the interest of bookmakers:

"There is one thing that I cannot understand," said he. "It is the inconsistency of some New York writers in referring to the work of my horses. They have been keeping it up for several years past, and I cannot see why. I hadn't a dollar on Reporter when he won the Stockton stake. I don't think Rogers had either. The only bet I made on Reporter this season was when he ran last. In this race he was virtually left at the post. One New York man, who afterward made the charges, wrote of this race that a bad start ruined all the chance 'Reporter, the favorite,' had of winning. Then when the Stockton stake was run and Reporter gets off well, runs a good race and beats Longstreet, he sets up a howl about queer racing. He couldn't reconcile his statements before the Racing Board. I have the case in the hands of an attorney, and the paper has been given a certain time to make a retraction or a suit for criminal libel will be entered. Again, I see the statement that J. A. B. is an in and outer. That's amusing. Here is his record as a 3-year-old: Six wins, two seconds—one each to Eurus and Major Domo—and one fourth. In the last he got a miserable start."

BOOKIES HIT RATHER HARD.

A Mistake in Telegraphing Causes a Loss of Several Thousands.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, August 16.—Some of the city pool sellers were hit rather hard to-day on the fourth race at Brighton Beach. Through some mistake the result of the race was sent to all the rooms giving Tenbooker first, Bronzomarte second and Benedictine third places. The time was also received by the "bookies," and for fully ten minutes Tenbooker tickets were paid. Suddenly dispatches were received from the Western Union not to pay off on the races. It was too late then, for several thousands of dollars had already been paid. The true result of the race was received a few minutes later, and it read Bronzomarte first, Tenbooker second, and Benedictine third. When this was announced a new line of Bronzomarte ticket holders was formed, and all were paid off.

A prominent downtown bookmaker, in talking to a reporter of THE DISPATCH, said: "We will probably not lose anything by the mistake, as the telegraph company is responsible to us when we receive the third horse and time of a race from them." The poolrooms' agent or the agent of the Western Union Telegraph Company must have been posted somewhere in view of the finish with a racing glass, and trusted to his eyesight for the winner. The three horses named finished heads apart, and the watcher picked the wrong one.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."

MANY persons are under the impression that Ivory Soap is expensive, and intended for the use of the wealthy only. The fact is, the price is lower than for ordinary soaps, quality considered, for in the "Ivory" no "cheapeners" or "makeweights" are used, so the buyer gets all "true soap" for her money. Its harmlessness, durability and efficiency admit of its being used for all purposes with equal satisfaction and economy in the families of the rich or poor.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'!" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
