ADDITIONAL FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ANGLO-SAXON.

The Great Eastern—Death of Leigh Hunt—French Feeling Toward England—Difficulties at the Zurich Conference—Napoleon and the Duchess—Garibaldi, &c.

QUEBEC, Sept. 12.—The Anglo-Saxon, from Liverpool on the 31st of August, (same dates as the Ocean Queen,) passed Farther Point on Sunday afternoon.

The Teutonia arrived at Southampton early on the morning of the 31st, with the crew of the ship Ben Bolt, lost at sea.

Late Berne telegrams say reports as to the Zurich Conference proceedings are quite contradictory, and there is every reason to believe that the Sardinian Plenipotentiary has not affixed his signature to any protocol in favor of the return of the deposed rulers of the Duchies.

The Directors of the Great Eastern have declined Lever's offer, and adhere to their original programme. The ship had been closed to the public, and would leave the Thames in a day or two.

Leigh Hunt, the author, died in London on the 28th, in the 75th year of his age.

Napoleon remained in retirement in the Pyrenees. It is asserted that he will shortly proceed to Cherbourg, and from thence visit the camp at Chalons.

The Paris Constitutional, in a leading article, says the Emperor will fulfil loyally his Villa Franca agreement for the restoration of the former reigning Princes of Italy; but if he should not succeed in re-uniting the Princes and the people in mutual accord, it is not his intention to force either one or the other.

There is no change in Italian affairs.

A deputation of the National Assembly of Modena had gone on a special mission to Napoleon.

The people of Naples were much excited, owing to the high price of corn.

An earthquake had occurred at Sorgia, Italy, killing 200 persons and injuring a large number.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

The English Cabinet Council is unexpectedly summoned for the 29th. It is generally supposed that it has reference to the new phase of Italian affairs.

The speech of Count Morney had attracted much attention in France, being regarded as enunciating the views of the Emperor. He endeavored to show that England's apprehensions of a French invasion are groundless, and that France is desirous of cementing the alliance.

The elections in Romagna passed off tranquilly.

The Mayor of Parma issued a proclamation on his return from Paris, in which he said: "Napoleon said, tell the population that my army will never do violence to their wishes, nor will I permit any foreign power to wrong you."

Garibaldi had resolved to maintain strict discipline in the army of Central Italy. In the orders of the day, he says he will cause to be shot any one who calls himself a Mazzarian Republican, Socialist or even Garibaldian. He will have none with him but soldiers and Italians.

The Neapolitan government had ordered the purchase of large quantities of corn abroad.

The cholera was spreading rapidly along the shores of the Baltic.

LATEST.

ZURICH, Wednesday.— Private conferences continue.

The Times' Paris correspondent says things are going on badly at Zurich, and the dissolution of the conference in a few days is probable. A congress on war seems to be the only alternative.

A severe gale occurred at Aspinwall on the 29th, killing one person and doing considerable damage to the buildings.

The U. S. ships Merrimac, Saranac, and Warren, were at Panama. The Vandalia would sail for home shortly. The St. Mary's was seen on the Central American coast.

Guayaquil dates to Aug. 19, say a Peruvian fleet was returning to bombard that city. All the upper-class citizens had removed, but those remaining were preparing for a vigorous resistance. Castillo was momentarily expected with his whole force for its relief.

From Utah.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—A special dispatch to the Republican says that dates from Salt Lake City to the 19th ult., reached Atchison yesterday.

Wm. H. Hooper, Mormon, had been elected delegate to Congress from Utah.

Lieut. Gray, with a party of forty-two dragoons, had surprised a band of 150 Indians who were concerned in the late massacre of emigrants on the California overland road. Twenty of the Indians were killed.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—A fire broke out this morning in the store 101 Fourth street, occupied by J. J. SIXTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION
OF THE
VA. MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,
FOR THE
PROMOTION OF THE MECHANIC ARTS:
RICHMOND, VA.

The SIXTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION of the VIRGINIA MECHANICS' INSTITUTE, will open in the new and spacious Hall, on 9th street, on WEDNESDAY, the 19TH OF OCTOBER, and the Board of Managers invite Mechanics, Manufacturers, Artists, Inventors, and all others, both in Virginia and in all the other States of this Union, to avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to display their taste, ingenuity and skill in the collection about to be exhibited.

The Halls of the Institute are so arranged that depositors will have ample accommodations to display their goods to the best advantage. The MACHINERY DEPARTMENT is entirely separate from every other where MOTIVE POWER will not be required; and no pains will be spared to give each exhibitor a fair opportunity of showing his machinery.

The LADIES are especially invited to continue their favors to the institute; for without a liberal share of their handiwork, the Exhibition would be shorn of one of its most attractive features.

All articles presented for competition will be carefully classed, and competent persons only will be appointed Judges, to determine their merits.

The Premiums to be awarded will be money or its equivalent, in sums varying from $3 to $100. For second and third class articles, Diplomas or Certificates of Merit.

The Hall will be open for the reception of articles on MONDAY, the 9TH OF OCTOBER, and goods intended for competition will be received until MONDAY, the 17TH OF OCTOBER.

Any information in reference to the details of the Exhibition, will be promptly given, by addressing WM. FORBES,
