Richmond Dispatch.

TUESDAY MORNING.....AUG. 21, 1860.

An Indian, being at an Englishman's table at Surat, expressed his surprise, by loud exclamations, on seeing a large quantity of froth ooze out of a bottle of porter as soon as the cork was drawn. Being asked what surprised him, he replied: "I don't wonder at all the froth comes out of the bottle; but how the deuce did you ever contrive to squeeze it all in?"

A worthy clergyman, upon being asked why he did not venture to an election at which the proceedings were riotously conducted, and give his vote, replied: "I do not see why I should endanger my own poll to benefit another man's."

A loving couple during an evening walk discovered the "variegated prismatic hues" of the Aurora Borealis, by which name he called her attention, to which she, in seraph tones, replied: Aurelius Bolis, what nonsense! them's nothin' but northern lights!"

The record of life runs thus: Man creeps into childhood—bounds into youth—sobers into manhood—softens into age—totters into second childhood, and slumbers into the cradle prepared for him.

"Where's your master, Pompey?" said an angry creditor, the other day, to the black servant of an intemperate debtor. "Up stairs, sar." 'Getting drunk, I suppose?" "No, sar, he be getting sober."

A rich banker gave a beggar a shilling, when the latter exclaimed with gratitude, "May Heaven reward you a thousand times!" "Well, what would that amount to? only fifty pounds!" answered the rich man, smiling.

"You always lose your temper in my company," said an individual of doubtful reputation to a gentleman. "True, sir," replied the other, "and I shouldn't wonder if I lost every thing I have about me."

Jones and Brown met at the Post-Office.—Jones complains of a bad smell about the Post-Office, and asks Brown what it can be? Brown doesn't know, unless it may be the large number of dead letters there!

"Tom, what's monomany?" "Why, you see, Dick, when a poor woman steals it is called larceny; but when it's a rich 'un, the jury says it's monomany, and can't help it—that's it."

Papa, I know what makes some folks call pistols horse pistols. "Why, my son?" "Because they kick so." "Mary, put that boy to bed; he is so sharp he will cut somebody."

"Do try to talk a little common sense," said a conceited youth to a young lady.—"Oh, but wouldn't that be taking an unfair advantage of you?"

A little boy, returning from the Sunday school, said to his mother, "Ma, ain't there a kitty chism for little boys? This cat-echism is too hard for me."

Whatever we may think of woman's right to vote and legislate, there can be no disputing her right to bare arms—and the prettier the better and more irresistible.

In Japan there is not the slightest difficulty in hiring even a prince of the blood for a body servant. All you have to do is to insult him, and he will let himself out immediately.

The following notice might have been seen some time ago stuck up in a corset-maker's shop window in Glasgow—"All sorts of ladies stays here."

To keep eggs from spoiling, eat them while they are fresh. We have tried all kinds of methods, but this we think is the only one to be relied on "in any climate."

Mrs. Partington asks very indignantly, if the bills before Congress were not counterfeit why should there have been such difficulty in passing them?

The Philadelphia Bulletin states that Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt Ritchie is writing a new story for the Ledger, after the completion of which she is going to Europe.

An English paper advertises for sale "a perfect lady's horse." We don't care about the horse, but the perfect lady would be worth having.

If I am about courting a girl I have but little acquaintance with, how shall I come to a knowledge of her faults. Answer.—Praise her among her female acquaintances.

"Where shall I put this paper so as to be sure of seeing it to morrow?" asked Mary Jones of her brother Charles. "On the looking glass, to be sure," was his very prompt reply.

An important omission in Shakspeare supplied: A dramatic genius suggests that after all of the phrases "Go to" in the great bard—h—ll should be inserted.

The reason that the Indians are so fleet of foot is that, from the habit they have of painting themselves, they are accustomed to streaking it.

An artist painted a cannon so natural the other day, that when he finished the touch-hole it went off. Sorry to say it was taken by the sheriff.

The last place in which I should look for the milk of human kindness, is the pale of civilization.

However poor opinions steamboat captains may have of each other's boats when running races, they very likely think them passable.

Why is an invalid, cured by sea-bathing, like a confused criminal? Because he is secured (secured.)

The Great Virginia Remedy, and no HUMBUG.—PETERS' INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR GONNORRHŒA AND ALL SECRET DISEASES.—This great American remedy, containing no Mercurial or Poisonous properties, exists every thing heretofore offered the public, in its curative, restorative and renovating powers; and the medical world are astonished when told that the above remedy will cure the above diseases, and confounded when they have ocular demonstrations of the fact—that the proprietor, who has known of the remedy for twenty-odd years, has known of a case of twenty years' standing to be restored to perfect health, and all other cases of shorter duration to be restored, without a single exception. He therefore challenges any case of Gonorrhœa which the remedy will not cure, provided the directions are carried out with prudence on the part of the patient; and any one purchasing half a dozen bottles, and using accordingly, in his or her case, having been informed a perfect cure; and in case of failure, will furnish additional medicine, free of charge, to complete the cure, through his agents; and a cure will be effected without inconvenience to the patient.
