VELOCIPEDE RACE FOR A WIFE.—A mischievous girl living in Myrtle street, Liverpool, being bothered by a number of lovers, has incited them to a public velocipede race—the winner to win her.

A SALE of fifteen thousand barrels of oil delivered at Boyd Farm was made yesterday, at $5.25 per barrel. The sale was in two lots, one ten thousand barrels and the other five thousand.

The Pennsylvania State Fair will be held at Harrisburg this year commencing on the last Tuesday of September. All entries by exhibitors will be free, except for horses entered for speed.

We would advise those thirsty individuals who go wandering along the streets looking for some cool and refreshing drink, to drop in and partake of a glass of that ice cold soda water, to be found only at Miller's drug store.

"No man should be regarded as entitled to live unless he was able to keep himself from starving by his own efforts," says a contemporary. If this were law what a forfeiture of titles there would be!

Mr. Joseph M. Deveny, in charge of the drug store of R. R. Fisher, Petroleum Centre has received a fine assortment of house-plants of almost every variety. Now is the time to make choice selections.

The best Velocipedes ever brought into this section are now in Jerry Kinney's school in Atkin's Hall. Two of them will be raffled off to-night—40 chances at $2.00 a chance.

DR. THAYER'S CIRCUS—PRIZES DRAWN AT TITUSVILLE.—The Titusville Herald of this morning contains an item speaking in the highest terms of the entertainment given by Dr. Thayers' acrobatic, gymnastic, and scenic troupe, and below we give a list of those who drew valuable prizes. C. Perkins gold watch and chain; Sam. Wood, silver pitcher and waiter; E. H. Chase, silver butter dish; John Sweeny, silver watch; Mr. Strance, silver goblet; Patt. Hogan, silver pickle basket; Mrs. Webber, gold watch chain; E. Smith, silver table spoon; G. J. Stanham, dinner caster; Mr. Barnsdell, pair butter knives; Mrs Breed, set of jewelry; G. Breed, napkin ring. Many other presents were distributed.

A fire occurred at Oil City on Tuesday night last, which resulted in the destruction of seventy-five barrels of crude oil, at the refinery of Messrs. Hill & Thumm. The Republican says the fire appears to have been the result of water in one of the Stills. On the outside of the still in question, there was an upright tube, with stopcocks, for the purpose of gauging the amount of oil inside, the expansion of the heated water caused the oil to overflow the top of this pipe and falling down in front of the furnace took fire which communicated to the end of the pipe and thence to the shed covering the still.—The refinery was saved.

The pea-nut trade can no longer be ranked among the small things. It is said the consumption of pea-nuts received great impetus during the war; the soldiers of both armies beguiling the camping hours of Dixie, by eating pea-nuts of their own digging and baking. The pea-nut crop has become the most profitable one of East Virginia.—Fifty bushels to the acre is a fair crop and they bring two dollars and fifty cents per bushel. Virginia has ceased raising Presidents and gone into the pea-nut trade.

The Goshen Well, in the bluff, opposite Gaffney's store, near the creek, commenced pumping yesterday at the rate of 25 barrels, and continues at the same rate to-day. This well is nearly five years old, and has been lying idle for about a year. Was torpedoed about two months since, but on account of valve not being in working barrel, never produced until yesterday. Mr. George Wright and others own the working interest.

WOMAN.—God intended all women to be beautiful, as much as he did the roses and the morning glories; and what he intended they should become, they would, if they would obey his laws, and cut indolence and corset stringe, and indulge in freedom and fresh air. For a girl to expect to be handsome with the action of her lungs dependent on the expansive nature of a cent's worth of tape, is as absurd as to look for tulips in a snow bank, or a full grown oak in a flower pot.

In the billiard tournament, Saturday afternoon, Deery beat Daniels, score Deery 1,200, Daniels 849; winner's average, 20: [illegible] 210, 50; Dan[illegible] Snyder, score [illegible],084; winner's av[illegible]; highest runs, 60, 72, 90, 123, 63, 172, 76; Snyder's average, 17; highest runs, 68, 192, 168, 51, 29. Rudolph and Deery have each three games to their credit, and the final result seems to lie between them.

Mr. John Wilson, of Pithole, performed a feat in the rafting line this spring that has never been equalled on the Allegheny river. He piloted two heavy rafts from Brokenstraw to Pittsburgh in the space of one week, returning home on the evening of the last day of the week. The distance between the two points is nearly two hundred miles.

First cousins must beware of allowing "cousin love" to develop into something stronger. The State Legislature has passed a law prohibiting the marriage of first cousins. On sanitary grounds this is a wise provision. Few of our readers but are aware of some lamentable results from intermarriage within the degree of relationship now prohibited.

Dr. Richard P. Jones, a circus agent for twenty years past, committed suicide in Buffalo by taking laudanum, on Thursday. He had been informed by telegraph that his wife had deserted him. He was at the time advertising agent for French's Oriental Circus.

Potato speculators in some sections of the country have been badly bitten, and are unloading their stocks at a sad sacrifice. A Michigan paper says that farmers in portions of that State are obliged to sell potatoes at fifteen cents per bushel, for which they refused $1.50 last fall, and that they have a very large stock on hand.

The Knight Templar celebrated Ascension day Thursday evening at Free Masons' Hall, St. Louis. Rev. Dr. Berkey conducted the services, and Rev. Sir Knight John Vancil, Deputy Grand Commander and Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Missouri, delivered an address. There was a very large attendance of Masons on the occasion.

A bold attempt at robbery occurred at the corner of Broadway and Pearl street, New York, Monday. Two men jumped into one of the money wagons of the American Express Company, and knocked down the messenger in charge, but before they could drive off or break open the safe they were arrested.

The Queen of May, if crowned at all, in this section, must have been content with a watery garland this year, and her annual festival must have been a gloomy affair.

Abduction of a Young Girl from Michigan.—She finds Friends in Rochester.

The Rochester Express says a good looking young country lass was in Rochester on Tuesday, seeking for assistance to reach her home in Michigan. She told the following story:—"My name is Jane Walker. I formerly lived in Allegan, Michigan, and was in the employ of Luther Potter as servant. My cousin, George Isham, who is about twenty five years of age, also lived in Allegan. My mother and sister lived, the former in Detroit, the later in Kalamazoo. As the family in which I lived decided to remove from the city I determined to visit my mother in Detroit. My cousin, George Isham, expressed his willingness to accompany me to that city, and for that purpose hired a horse and buggy. We started out in fine style; he was gentlemanly and proper for a while. I dreamed of no danger, as the common blood flowing in our veins seemed to be an all-sufficient protection.—I think we had travele perhaps about five miles when he, as I thought kindly, proposed to alight from the buggy and take a glass of wine together at a tavern, as he felt somewhat chilly, and myself also. I willingly acceded, and in company we entered the tavern. I drank the wine and again entered the buggy. We drove away. I knew nothing more but that the liquor had a deal of what was passing until the following Tuesday, when I found myself in the city near Clyde, in this State. I was much alarmed, and asked by inquiry what he was doing with me. He replied that he was taking me to North Volney, where his parents lived. At Wenit he conveyed me to a house where I met four or five other young girls. My cousin then told me that I must sleep with him; that I must rest all night in his arms; I said I would never let; I would not do it for the world. He replied that I could not help it, but he would overcome it even by force. A contest followed and attempted to throw me upon the floor, but I rescued him stood my ground. He was badly hurt and I feared I had killed him, but the other girls advised me to go to his assistance. He finally declared I should sleep with one of the other girls in the room; I stayed up all night in the one assigned room, but he made no other attempt. In the morning I left the house; I went with other families for ten days, but he only expressed sympathy for me. I was constrained to try and get home, and I left from Volney to Clyde and arrived in Rochester this afternoon. My money is gone, I have no money to get home." Chief Jerman kindly collected money for her for various expenses and obtained sufficient to pay her fare to Detroit and two dollars to Clyde. She started off in the afternoon train.

If you want to lay good health it is not necessary to take a family West, just go to Gaffney's and get a bottle of Sunday Comfort. may8-1w.
