WEST SCRANTON

LOCAL WOODMEN HELD A SOCIAL

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF HYDE PARK CAMP.

Celebrated Last Evening in Ivorite Hall with an Entertainment and Smoker—Addresses by Professor George Howell, John J. Davies, E. E. Robathan and Others—Lecture in Mears' Hall Tomorrow Evening. Funerals of Aaron James and Mrs. Riley—Other News Notes.

The first anniversary of the Hyde Park camp, Modern Woodmen of America, was celebrated in Ivorite hall last evening, with a large number of wood-choppers gathered around the camp fire, and enjoyed a smoker and social hour, after the regular business session. Two initiations were performed during the meeting, which were attended with much enjoyment. The candidates were Messrs. Hughes and Brown.

The committee in charge of the social session, Emrys Joseph, Watkin Williams and Hy. A. Parsons, prepared an excellent programme, which was enjoyed by all present. Prof. George Howell gave a pithy talk on "American Citizenship," in which he threw out some excellent suggestions for his hearers to follow.

Prof. George Marsh rendered piano selections in his usual clever manner, and Fred Robinson played several harmonica numbers, which were generously applauded. Druggist John J. Davies spoke of the benefits and pleasure to be derived from fraternal societies, and explained the advantages of insurance along this line.

Banjo and mandolin selections were played by Messrs. Cooney and Johnson, and David Owen sang a solo in his usual pleasing style. Remarks were also made by E. E. Robathan, Hy. A. Parsons, and others.

Organizer James R. Hughes, who was present, also gave one of his pleasant talks on Modern Woodmanism, which was both instructive and entertaining. The programme was interspersed with harmonica, banjo and mandolin selections by the colored trio present.

A light lunch was served afterwards in the social rooms, which was partaken of and enjoyed by all in attendance.

A Noted Statesman.

A lecture will be delivered in Mears' hall tomorrow evening by William Abraham, M. P., "Mabon," on the subject, "A Night in the House of Commons." Mr. Abraham is well known on account of his connection with the cause of labor, the prominent part he takes in every matter of national interest at home, together with his influence and activity as a member of the English parliament, apart from his many personal qualifications.

The lecture he will deliver has been heard at a number of important centers in the western states, where it was well and favorably received by American audiences. The lecturer comes, therefore, well recommended. Admission, 25 cents.

An Unwelcome Visitor.

There was a flutter of excitement among the dressmakers in Miss Elizabeth Lloyd's establishment on Jackson street yesterday afternoon, when a big, burly Polander entered the house, and took possession of the front room, where he stretched himself out on the floor for a good sleep.

The young ladies were much disturbed and called in Lieutenant Davis and Patrolman Peters, who escorted the fellow to the station house, where he was permitted to sleep in peace. He will be given an opportunity to explain his conduct before the police magistrate this morning.

Funeral of Aaron James.

The esteem in which the late Aaron James was held was attested by the large number who attended his funeral yesterday afternoon. The services were held at the house, corner of Jackson street and Grant avenue, where Rev. William Davis and Rev. Hugh Davis, pastors of the Bellevue and South Main avenue Welsh C. M. churches, conducted the services.

Members of the Odd Fellows and several other fraternal organizations attended the obsequies and accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Washburn street cemetery. An abundance of floral offerings were in evidence. The pall-bearers were: Thomas Price, Robert Roberts, Adam Newell, D. M. Jones, George Powell, John Jones. The flower-bearers were: Robert Roberts, W. J. Davis, Will Davis and David Johnson.

E. C. W. Foot Ball Team.

The team selected by the Electric City Wheelmen to defend the club colors on the gridiron Thanksgiving morning against the Green Ridge Wheelmen's eleven are practicing diligently for the event, and expect to put up a first class game.

Under the guidance of Captain Owens, an old player of much experience, the E. C. W. boys are becoming crackerjacks at the game, and their punting, passing, and interference will surprise their friends when they make their appearance.

Several up-to-date plays, including the guardsback formation, and triple tandem play are features of their game. The sprinters on the team are all able to do fast work with the ball.

Musical Matters.

The Oxford Glee club will meet for rehearsal in Co-operative hall this evening. All members are requested to be present.

The children's chorus rehearsing, "Carried by Angels," will meet for practice Wednesday evening.

The mixed voice choir, under the direction of William John Davis, will meet for rehearsal Thursday evening.

Prof. John T. Watkins will meet the members of the Young Men's Institute minstrel troupe at the rooms tomorrow evening, and expects every one to be present for instruction in their respective parts.

Mrs. D. B. Thomas' female chorus will meet for rehearsal this evening.

Funeral of Mrs. Reilly.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Reilly occurred yesterday morning from the family residence, 2116 Price street, and was attended by many relatives, friends and neighbors. A requiem mass was sung in St. Patrick's church and the sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Dunn.

The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Neville, and interment was made in the Cathedral cemetery. The pall-bearers were John Campbell, Edward O'Boyle, P. J. Farley, P. Laveile, Edward Kelly and James Haggerty.

Weekly School Deposits.

The following deposits were made at the West Side bank yesterday for the pupils of public schools Nos. 13 and 19:

No. 13—David Owens, .25; Alice Evans, $1.15; Edna D. Evans, .25; Nellie Richards, .70; Catharine Phillips, $1.68; Edna Lewis, .62; Sarah McDonald, .36; Eliza Price, .26; Nellie Kelly, .20; total, $5.47.

No. 19—D. W. Phillips, $1.10; Miss Murray, .18; Miss Nicholls, .85; Miss Reamish, .75; Miss Morgan, .75; Miss Hutton, $1.40; Miss Evans, .81; Miss Davis, $1.88; Miss Kellow, $1.40; Miss Wade, .89; Miss Flynn, .45; Miss Murphy, .71; Mrs. Ferber, $2.21; Miss Peck, $2.61; Miss Burall, .56; total, $16.88.

Events of the Evening.

The second informal dance of the Electric City Wheelmen will take place at the club house this evening.

The D. and L. dancing class will meet this evening in Mears' hall instead of tomorrow evening.

The Colonial club will hold a meeting in Washington hall this evening.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Charles Dougherty, of the Western Union local branch office, spent Sunday at his home in Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. W. J. L. Davis and children, of Main avenue and Jackson street, returned home last evening from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Paterson, N. J.

The lecture by the Rev. Lyman Abbott on "Our Homes and Their Enemies" will be given at the Lyceum theater this evening.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the chrysanthemum social to be given by St. Paul's Pioneer corps on Wednesday evening, December 11, are working diligently for the success of the event.

Miss Bertha Crawford, of North Hyde Park avenue, will leave today for Kankakee Ill., where she has been called by the illness of her aunt.

A team of horses belonging to I. A. Finch & Co., were killed recently by a casting weighing five tons rolling from a wagon and falling on them. The team was valued at several hundred dollars.

Services over the remains of the late Samuel Dingman will take place this afternoon from the house on Hampton street. Services will be held at 2.30 o'clock in the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, and interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery.

Roderick Dunn, of Roland avenue, a driver in the Bellevue mine, was kicked by a mule recently, on the head, and sustained a severe scalp wound.

Joseph McNamara, of Scranton street, was recently held in $200 bail for appearance at court, on the charge of making threats against his landlord Cadden.

Mrs. D. B. Thomas' ladies' party will meet for rehearsal this evening at 8 o'clock sharp, in the Robert Morris lodge rooms, South Main avenue.

A delegation from the Women's Home Missionary society of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church will attend the semi-annual missionary meeting of the Wyoming conference at Wilkes-Barre on Thursday.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ELIZABETH JONES, widow of the late Jenkin Jones, died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Keller, 231 Chestnut street. Deceased was 81 years of age, and had been an invalid for the past twenty-five years. She was a native of South Wales, but had resided in West Scranton for a long time. Three daughters and three sons survive her. They are: Mrs. Elizabeth Behee, Mrs. Mary Keller, Rachael, William J., David T. and Richard H. Jones. The following grandchildren also survive her: Minnie A. Reese, Helen Reese, Charles Keller, Mamie and Mattie Behee. The funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Interment will be made in Spring Brook cemetery.

MRS. CATHERINE DUFFY, wife of Engineer James J. Duffy, of 526 Jackson street, died last night at 9.30 o'clock. She was taken to her bed a few months ago and has been hopelessly ill ever since. This is the second death in the family inside of two months, the son, Austin Duffy, aged 25, having died while the mother was ill.

Mrs. Duffy was possessed of every quality that goes to make up an admirable woman, and her death will be sincerely mourned by a vast throng of friends. Surviving her, besides her husband, is one daughter, Miss Mary Duffy.

ELMER M. DOBSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dobson, died at his home, corner of Blakely and Grove streets, Dunmore, yesterday, after a short illness from pneumonia. Mr. Dobson was 28 years old, and was a conductor on the Laurel Hill line of the Scranton Railway company up to the time of the strike. The striking street car men will take action at their meeting this morning, relative to attending the funeral.

J. R. RICHARDSON, of 1351 Von Storch avenue, died yesterday, after an illness of about a week, from pneumonia. Mr. Richardson was an employe of the Emery Slate Picker company and was 49 years of age. He is survived by two sons and one daughter.

CATHERINE MALONEY, age 27 years, died yesterday at her home, 162 Brook street, Dunmore. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 9 o'clock. A requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's Catholic church, and interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM ROGAN, wife of the well known merchant, died last night at her home on Dunmore street, Olyphant. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Katie, Mary, John, William, Edward, Thomas and Sadie. The funeral announcement will be made later.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogan, of 521 Hampton street, died yesterday. The funeral announcement will be made later.

Funerals.

The funeral of Cornelius Smith will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence. Interment in Cathedral cemetery.

The funeral of John Blanch, of Bloom street, Dunmore, will occur this afternoon from his late home at 3.30 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

School Controller Peter Neuls Will Be a Candidate to Succeed Himself—Aldermanic Cases.

School Controller Peter Neuls, of the Eleventh ward, will seek a re-election next February and his friends are at work to secure for him the nomination at the coming primaries. Mr. Neuls was born in the ward he represents about thirty-four years ago, and has always been identified with the Republican party.

He served for years on the election boards in his district and in 1897 was nominated for controller after an exciting contest, beating his opponent, the present select councilman, John J. Schneider, by two votes. In the subsequent election he won against a strong opponent after the hardest kind of a fight when he was ably supported by his life long friend, Emil Bonn, who rallied the young Republican voters around the Neuls' standard. He has given general satisfaction since assuming the responsibilities of a school director and has been successful in having extensive changes and repairs made to the new No. 3 school on Pittston avenue, which has added greatly to its beauty and comfort. So far he is not being opposed and he may get a unanimous nomination.

Aldermanic Doings.

Joseph Rorae, of Wilbur avenue, swore out a warrant against Bernard Susmer of Theodore street, yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery. The men are employed as miners at the Continental and became involved in a quarrel over the loading of a car. Rorae alleged that Susmer struck him on the head with a dinner pail. As their were no witnesses to the affair, the case was dismissed by Alderman Lentes.

J. B. Brime, of South Main avenue, lodged information against Frank Bartel of the same place for attempting to evade payment of a debt. Brime stated to Alderman Lentes that he went to Bartel's house to collect a bill for goods. Bartel put him off with an excuse but noticed that his goods and chattels were packed as though he intended to leave and he decided to swear out a warrant. The case was settled by Bartel paying the amount due with costs.

Harry Manhof, of 117 Hickory street, was arrested and brought before Alderman Lentes yesterday on a charge of larceny by bailee preferred by H. M. Kilberg, of Hickory street. It appears that Kilberg sold a watch last June to Manhof valued at $22.50 and that $15.00 had been paid and Kilberg had him arrested. As a civil suit could only be brought the case was dismissed and the prosecutor advised as to the proper course to pursue to recover the balance due.

NUBS OF NEWS.

The funeral of Joseph Hickey who was found dead on Sunday morning, will take place this afternoon at 2.30 p. m. from his wife's home, 924 Cherry street.

Sister Ignatius, of St. John's convent, on Fig street, is seriously ill.

Comet Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held an interesting session in Hartman's hall last evening.

SYRUP OF FIGS

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

MONTHLY ASSEMBLY OF THE MEN'S UNION.

Adresses by Judge A. A. Vosburg and Rev. Dr. J. H. Whalen, of Carbondale—The Latter Spoke on "The Leveling Force of Classes." Judge Vosburg Declared in Favor of the Chinese Exclusion Act—The Funeral of Mrs. Martha Jones. Other Matters.

The Scranton Men's society held its monthly assembly in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church last evening and was largely attended. The opening address was made by Judge A. A. Vosburg, the new president, who spoke as follows:

It seems that the gentlemen of this society took advantage of my absence from the last meeting to elect me president, and I am told that I am expected to deliver an inaugural address.

I think that every reasonable man will concede the advantages to be derived from a society of this character. Any organization which tends to "promote the general literary, philanthropic and social advancement of its members," to quote from the constitution of this society, is manifestly a public benefit. So great have been the advancements in the line of scientific achievements, such as wireless telegraphy, the X-rays, and the like, that we must be constantly on the alert, or we will find ourselves behind in the 1st generation, instead of keeping pace with the present one. But I think we should restrain ourselves still more with the national and local problems which confront us; and I do not know of any question which appeals more strongly to us in the Pennsylvania coal regions than the question of Chinese exclusion.

The boast of our American institutions is, that we make the condition of the common people better; that the American working man is better paid, and stands in a higher position, socially and intellectually, than the toilers of any other country in the world.

In no other country would it have been possible for a man to rise from the log cabin and the towpath to the chair of the chief executive of the nation. The fact that industrial complications arise, and that capital some times uses its power to oppress the workers, does not prove that our system of government is wrong. It simply demonstrates that the oppressor is wrong in the individual case, and some times points out the necessity for legislative action to prevent a recurrence of the same evil. I think you will all agree with me in saying, that whatever we may think of some of the legislation, in certain states of the union, almost all the acts passed by the congress of the United States are good and wholesome in their character, and calculated in an eminent degree to enhance the progress and prosperity of our nation.

One of the best statutes of the nation for the benefit of the working man, and consequently for the advantage of the entire nation, is the Chinese exclusion act, which is sought to become ineffective by limitation of time.

As American citizens, prides ourselves in a nation for the whole people; as Pennsylvanians, guarding with jealous care the industries of the great old Keystone state, how can we hesitate for an instant to demand the reenactment of this wise and beneficial legislation? I am sure that there is not one person present this evening who could contemplate with equanimity the pouring of a horde of Chinese into the anthracite coal regions, taking the positions of the mine workers, and the toilers in every department of life, depriving their families of bread, and ruining the business and prosperity of this entire section.

To my mind, we are approaching a crisis in our history; and if we are to avert this national calamity, we must demand from our congressmen and our senators that they stand as firm as the rock of Gibraltar, to repel the invasion of this yellow peril from the East.

Let the congress of this great nation proclaim in no uncertain tones, that the American workingmen of the country will be protected; that no Boxers or Chinese assassins of fair wages are wanted, to reduce the prices of labor to the point of starvation; and let us thus carry out the letter and the spirit of our republican institutions and the federal constitution.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Whalen, of Carbondale, delivered an eloquent address on "The Leveling Forces of Classes." Among other things, he said:

"Education is a factor in the leveling of classes. Paul's words were, 'God hath made of one blood all men.' Thomas Jefferson wrote that 'all men are created equal.' The problem of civilization is to establish the principles of equality among nations of individuals. In this, religion is the prime factor and education its chief handmaid."

He said the social distinctions which would divide us into classes, can be counteracted by education as in no other way. "The problem of wealth, with its attendant dangers, will yield only to intellectual force. Upon those lines only can the poor man's son become the peer of the rich man's son."

Dr. Whalen gave illustrations of men lowly born who, by their moral and intellectual worth, have risen to positions of influence and power. "The only solution of social and industrial problems," he said, "are to be found in the unifying principles of the Gospel and the equalizing influences of education."

Prof. Walkinshaw and his orchestra rendered some very fine music for the occasion and were warmly received. After the meeting, refreshments were served.

Th next meeting will be held on Dec. 9, in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church, and this will be ladies' night. Mr. and Mrs. Dixie will give Shakespearian delineations.

Funeral of Mrs. Jones.

The funeral of Mrs. Martha Jones, the late beloved wife of Lewis H. Jones, of Wayne avenue, took place on Saturday and was largely attended. All the members of the family were present, as well as a great number of the immediate relatives and several hundred friends of the deceased, and of this noble Christian family. Beautiful and most impressive services were held, both at the home and at the First Welsh Baptist church, on Market street, where the departed sister was a faithful and much-beloved member.

Rev. J. V. Davies, her pastor, officiated, assisted by the Dev. Dr. Jones, pastor of the Welsh Congregational church; Rev. J. B. Rees, pastor of the Pritan church of this city, and the Rev. J. E. Davies, M. A., of Plymouth. The services were extraordinarily pathetic throughout. A profusion of beautiful flowers, arranged and made into suitable designs and emblems, were tendered.

A trio, consisting of Miss Annie Rees, W. J. Hopkins and Watkin Isaac, sang two selections in a touching manner. David Williams, organist at the above church, presided at the instrument. The bereaved family tender their sincere thanks to all the kind friends for their attendance and the loving sympathy shown with them in their deep sorrow.

The pall bearers were W. R. Edwards, J. H. Evans, Isaac Edwards, Samuel L. Lewis, D. F. Davies and D. W. Edwards.

THOUSANDS LIKEWISE

One of the most prevalent, annoying and irritating troubles is Itching Piles. Suffering ones do not believe they can be cured, because they have tried so many remedies that failed. It is now an admitted fact that Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment never fails, and to impress upon Scranton people the absolute surety they have, Matthews Bros. are authorized to guarantee satisfaction or refund the price paid.

Mr. P. J. Manley, of No. 616 Birch street, Scranton, Pa., says: "For eight years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. Some nights I could not sleep at all, and in hot weather I lost lots of time at work with them, the irritation was so great. I tried everything with no success until I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment at Matthews Bros', drug store, 320 Lackawanna avenue. I used part of the box, and have seen nothing of the trouble since. This result I consider wonderful in the light of past efforts and failure to cure. It's a great ointment."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is sold at 50c. a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

The Auditorium this evening will be the scene of one of the most scientific games of basket ball yet played in this section this season. The opposing teams will be the North End Stars, of this section, and the Crescent Boat Club team, of Philadelphia, which is considered one of the most scientific teams of basket ball players in the state.

Thomas McAndrews, of Wales street, had his right hand painfully injured at the Leggett's Creek mine Friday by having his hand caught between the cars.

Work at the Leggett's Creek colliery was suspended Saturday at noon for a few days, on account of the disabling of the fans.

The funeral of the late Mrs. James Tigue, of 145 Hollister avenue, who died Friday, after a long illness, took place from her late residence yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Holy Rosary church by the Rev. N. J. McManus. Interment was made in the Cathedral cemetery.

The funeral of Catherine, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, of Wayne avenue, will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock. Interment in the Washburn street cemetery.

Local No. 205, Team Drivers Independent union, met last evening in Leonard's hall.

The Independent orchestra held its weekly class and social at the Auditorium last evening and was well attended.

Fred Golding and Edmund Lewis, two well-known sportsmen of this section, returned last evening from a day's outing, with twelve rabbits and a squirrel apiece.

Miss Dora Davis, of West Market street, is around again after a week's illness.

Miss Eva Allison, of Pittston, is visiting her cousin, Miss Jennie Herron, of Court street.

Mrs. Solomon Davis, of Throop street, is confined to her home by illness.

William Williams, of West Market street, has returned home from a visit to friends in Wilkes-Barre.
