COLEMAN HOLDS REINS.

New Select Councilman Will Probably Control Organization.

E. J. Coleman, the new Democratic select councilman from the Sixteenth ward, controls the organization of the select council, or at least the selection of a Democratic candidate for chairman, with the Democrats in the majority.

The two candidates for the Democratic nomination are John J. Costello, of the Third ward, and John J. McAndrew, of the Twenty-first ward. According to very good authority, each of these candidates has four members pledged to his support, as follows:

Costello—Melvin, Quinnan, Coyne and Maloney.

McAndrew—Vaughan, Regan, O'Boyle and Cosgrove.

This, with the candidates' own votes, would give each five ballots in the caucus. This leaves Mr. Coleman, the eleventh man, with the deciding ballot. He has not yet committed himself and has pledged his vote to neither candidate. There is a story current to the effect that he does not favor either candidate, and that if the Democrats expect to win out they will have to decide upon someone other than Mr. Costello or Mr. McAndrew.

The Economy's Gift Carnival.

One of the most unique celebrations that Scrantonians have ever been privileged to attend, took place yesterday afternoon, when the Economy Furniture Co. celebrated their twelfth anniversary in a lavish style, long to be remembered by those who attended—and it seemed that almost everybody was there.

As you entered the front door a numbered ticket was presented to you—and then the interest in securing some handsome piece of furniture commenced.

Up and down the various aisles the lines of people progressed—and the press warnings of the past week had evidently influenced them, because their eyes were "to the right." It is presumed their thoughts were on the number printed on the pasteboard in hand.

Now and then some lucky person would make known the fact that her number was in sight, which, coupled with strains of sweet music for which Lawrence's orchestra was responsible—made the afternoon both exciting and orally pleasing.

The total value of the gifts amounted to $700.

Mr. Oettinger, in view of the fact that many were unable to find their gifts, made the following statement to a Tribune representative:

"On account of the fact that a large number of visitors were unable to search properly for their numbers today, because of the vast throng, we have decided to extend the time in which gift numbers may be searched for, until Friday, so there will be no ground for complaint on account of insufficient time. The public are cordially invited to consult only their own pleasure, in looking over the store, from basement to top floor, until the close of business on the day mentioned.

"Within a few days, we shall announce a date—through our advertisement in this paper—when a beautiful souvenir will be presented to every person presenting one of the numbered tickets. This course was necessary, in order to ascertain the number of cards given out, so that a sufficient number of souvenirs could be ordered and nobody disappointed.

"The wisdom of this action is illustrated by the vast attendance today, which greatly exceeded our expectations." **

STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

Citizens Secure Liberal Concessions from the Scranton Railway Company.

ALL THE MEN TO BE TAKEN BACK

Executive Committee of the Central Labor Union Favors a Settlement on Terms Proposed and Strikers' Executive Committee Calls a Special Meeting of the Union for Tomorrow Night to Decide Whether or Not the Fight Will Be Ended. One of the Parties Who Attended a Meeting of the Parties at Interest Gave It as His Opinion That the Strike Would Be Settled Before Saturday.

Another movement to effect a settlement of the street car strike is afoot.

The executive committee of the Central Labor union, through two prominent citizens, have been at work for some time past endeavoring to secure some concession from the company that would result in the strikers agreeing to call off the strike.

As a result of these endeavors the trolley company agreed to take back all the men as fast as places could be made for them, one hundred to be taken back immediately upon the calling off of the strike, and the remainder within a reasonable time, not to exceed sixty days. The order in which the strikers are to be taken back is to be regulated by the strikers themselves. The barn men are to have an increase in wages.

This very liberal concession taken in connection with the recently announced advance in wages was deemed by the Central Labor union committee as being sufficient concessions to move the strikers to give up their fight and the executive committee of the union set about the task of effecting a settlement.

A meeting was held last night in the office of P. A. Barrett, local manager of the Elmira Telegram. Besides the two citizens, who were active in securing the concession, there were present the executive committee of the Central Labor union, the executive committee of the strikers and an attorney representing the company.

The strikers' committee would not commit themselves, saying they would have to submit the matter to the union. After the conference the strikers' committee repaired to their own headquarters and had an executive session lasting until 1.30 a. m. At its conclusion it was stated by the committee to a Tribune reporter that nothing had been done further than to frame a call for a special meeting of the strikers' union tomorrow night.

It is understood that the Central Labor union is disposed to insist on the strikers accepting these new terms. One of the men who was at last night's conference said to a Tribune reporter at 1 o'clock this morning: "You can say that the strike will be settled before Saturday."

A MASQUERADE PARTY.

Delightful Affair Conducted at Excelsior Club House.

A delightful masquerade party was conducted last night in the Excelsior club house and was attended by several hundred persons. The affair was a sort of after celebration of the feast of Purim, and was designed especially for the younger folks. The proceeds of the cake and candy sale conducted in one of the rooms will be turned over to the fund being raised for the erection of the new Jewish temple.

The feature of the night was the singing of the mandarin's song from "San Toy," by Sol Goldsmith and six little girls representing his six wives. Mr. Goldsmith was the mandarin and attired in a full Chinese costume with a celestial make-up he presented a most remarkable appearance. The six litttle maids were also attired in Chinese costumes and the song was rendered in splendid style. Miss Rose Gallen had arranged this part of the programme.

BENEFIT FOR THE HOME.

Will Be at the New Armory, Thursday, April 3.

To correct a misunderstanding which has arisen as to which of the two Easter week concerts is for the benefit of the Home for the Friendless, the managers of that institution wish to announce that the "Home" concert will be held on Thursday evening, April 3, and that the participants are Madame Lillian Blauvelt, soprano; Ben Davies, tenor, and Fritz Kreisler, violinist.

This concert is attracting much attention among the music loving people of this city and vicinity. It has been many a day since a combination of such strength has been heard here. Fritz Kreisler is undoubtedly the favorite violinist of the day. Faithful to his ideals, he exemplifies the aphorism that "genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains," and thus has achieved renown such as comes to but one man of a nation in a generation.

Ben Davies is a universal favorite the world over. Brilliantly gifted, he possesses the magnetism which thrills an audience and holds it. One of the greatest representatives of the Welsh race of today he should be enthusiastically greeted by his music loving compatriots in this region.

Lillian Blauvelt is one of the most sought after concert singers in the world, and it is unnecessary to tell Scranton people that they want to hear her.

The Home is sorely in need of ready funds and by purchasing tickets for this concert practical help can be given.

TROLLEY COMPANY AGAINST O. & W.

Asks Damages in the Sum of $5,500 Because of Alleged Holding Up of Its Cars.

Just to see for once how it feels to be other than the defendant in a trespass case, and, incidentally, to chastise a fellow corporation for not preventing its employes from being violently sympathetic with the street car strikers, the Scranton Railway company yesterday instituted a $5,500 damage suit with the Ontario and Western Railway company as defendant.

The trolley road crosses four tracks of the defendant company at the neck of the Mayfield yard. Since the early part of October, 1901, the plaintiff sets forth in the statement of the case, the employes of the defendant company engaged at and near the crossing, in switching, have, from time to time, almost every day, blocked the crossing, intentionally, to delay the plaintiff company's cars, and that more than one hundred cars have thus been held up from ten minutes to half an hour. For the loss the plaintiff has sustained by reason of these delays $5,000 damages are asked.

Jan. 8, 1902, the statement further relates, a trolley car bound from Carbondale to Scranton was going over the crossing, when an engine that was stationary on one of the tracks, thirty feet away, suddenly and speedily started up and crashed into the car, damaging it to the extent of $500. The collision, it is alleged, was due to a wilful, malicious attempt on the part of the Ontario and Western company's employes to wreck the car.

Willard, Warren & Knapp represent the plaintiff company.

AN EASTER SALE.

Successful Affair Conducted in Y. W. C. A. Rooms.

A number of young ladies prominent in the city's social life decided some weeks ago to conduct an Easter sale for the benefit of the Young Women's Christian association. Plans were formulated and last night the affair became a reality.

The association rooms on North Washington avenue have been transformed into a bazaar. There are four booths at which dainty fancy work, Easter novelties and candy are on sale and a Japanese room, decorated by Williams & McAnulty, in which pretty girls in Oriental garb serve tea, cakes and ice cream. Those in charge of the several booths are as follows:

Fancy Work—The Misses Ripple, Doster and Simpson; Easter novelty booth, the Misses Dimmick and Reynolds; candy booth, Misses Salmon, Stevens and Hanley; domestic booth, the Misses Emma and Alice Burns; tea room, the Misses Northup, Foulke, Hackett and Shepherd.

The sale will be continued today and tomorrow during the afternoon and night. An Olde Folke's concert was conducted last night in the concert room under the direction of Miss Anna Salmon. Those who participated were all attired in old-fashioned costumes of fifty years ago and the selections rendered were all those delightful old airs which never seem to lose their charm.

A trio comprising the Misses Susie Black, Lida Garagan and Anna Salmon sang two selections. "Ben Bolt" was delightfully sung by Miss Garagan and that beautiful old song, "I Know a Bank Where the Old Thyme Grows," was delightfully sung by Miss Black. "My Old Kentucky Home" was sung by Miss Salmon and a piano solo was rendered by Mrs. Baker.

TWENTY-TWO ANIMALS.

Report by Park Superintendent on Number in Menagerie.

Someone sent a letter to Recorder Connell the other day, asking for detailed information regarding the number and kind of animals on exhibition in the menagerie at Nay Aug park. Superintendent Phillips was requested to make an inventory of the live stock on hand, and the following is the result of his labors:

One alligator.
Two North Carolina bear.
Three Florida red deer.
Three opossum.
Three monkeys.
Six racoons.
Four fox squirrels.

The superintendent neglected to mention several dozen of gold fish owned by the city but it is thought that the person desiring the information would not be interested in this fact. The whole collection is valued at somewhere between $400 and $500. Its rather a small and uninteresting one but its a start and before many years elapse, if present plans prevail, there will be a zoological collection at the park that Scranton need not be ashamed of.

The work of erecting the new animal houses at the park will be begun just as soon as the passage of the bond ordinance which contains an item of $25,000 for park improvement purposes is assured. Bids in accordance with the plans already prepared will be solicited and the contract awarded. The work of improving the roadways in the park will probably be begun next week. Until the new annimal houses are built no attempt will be made to make any additions to the menagerie.

SCHOOLGIRLS KNOW ITS WORTH.

PAINE'S Celery Compound

Gives Them Energy, Snap, and Full Life.

It Enables Them to Attain the Blessings and Vigor of True Womanhood.

Women and girls in every station of life who have used Paine's Celery Compound know that it is a blessing that sick and run down females cannot afford to be without.

Modjeska, the peerless queen of artistes, voices the sentiments of thousands of women and girls who have tested the strength making and life giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound when she says: "I have found Paine's Celery Compound the best of all remedies for the nervous exhaustion consequent upon the arduous work of my profession." Overworked women in the home, and weak, languid schoolgirls have found in Paine's Celery Compound the health and vigor it so strongly guarantees.

Ida Mallory, of Allenville, Ill., with the view of benefitting young girls, writes as follows: "I was taken last spring with what the doctors called nervous disease and neuralgia, and three or four doctors treated me all last summer without doing me any good. My father started to travel with me, and in our travels a friend told me to try a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. My father bought a bottle of it and it helped me so I took two bottles more which entirely cured me. My father has nervous headaches and he has been taking Paine's Celery Compound, and says it has done him five hundred dollars worth of good. We are using the fourth bottle in our family, and we consider Paine's Celery Compound worth its weight in gold for nervous and other troubles."

The Schumann-Heink Concert Easter Monday.

To the Editor of The Tribune.

The rumor having been circulated that Madame Schumann-Heink, owing to illness, had concelled her concert engagements, including her appearance in this city at the Lyceum on Easter Monday evening, I deem it proper to make a statement of facts in the case. Learning of the rumors I have communicated direct with Madame Heink and have received assurances from her personally that the report is untrue and misleading, and that she will positively appear here on Monday evening next. She has also expressed a desire to participate in the Charity Ball and immediately after the concert will go to the Armory in time for the grand march.

I can assure my subscribers and patrons that the coming concert will be fully up to the standard of my previous concerts and that it will be an artistic event which will be a fitting climax to my series of concerts for the present season. FRED C. HAND.
