Berlin, Pa., Nov. 6, '72, 4t.

A LOT of seasonable goods at Blymyer's Hardware Store.—The best Meat Cutters in the world, Sausage Stuffers, Coal Buckets, (very low,) Coal Shovels, Forks, Butcher Knives, Saw Cutters, Horse Blankets, Sets of Ladles, Sleigh Bells—Also Patent Mop and Brush Holders, Soap Dishes for Buckets and Tubs, Porcelain Kettles, Iron Stands, Stone Sledges, Wire Clothes Lines, Baskets, Step Ladders—in fact, if you want anything at all in the Hardware line, go to Blymyer's Store for it.

CASTORIA—a substitute for Castor Oil—is a physic which does not distress or gripe, but is sure to operate in due time, and all may confidently rely upon the Castoria to relieve Acidity, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup, Worms, Piles or deranged Liver. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine, Opium nor Alcohol, but is purely a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, and above all, pleasant to take. The Castoria soothes and quiets the system, and produces natural sleep. It is a wonderful thing to assimilate the food of children and prevent them from crying. A 35 cent bottle will do the work for a family and save many doctors' bills.

COAL.—Those in want of coal for any purpose,—steam-generating, lime burning &c.,—can be supplied at Alex Stutzman's (formerly the John Neff) bank, south-east of the Borough. Mr. Davis, a practical miner from Johnstown, does the bringing out, and the platform is now filled with beautiful lump and good rough coal. No slate—dug clean. Leave your orders at the Foundry.

BLESSINGS brighten as they take their flight. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having; it is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but, too often, not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or feeble blood, Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance.

THE Ministerial and Sunday School, (Somerset District) Convention, (Evangelical Association) convened according to previous arrangements, in the Lichty church, October 30, 1872. Rev. J. L. W. Seibert was elected president; Rev. J. A. Dunlap, secretary. The regular sessions were continued four days. Various questions of vital importance were discussed. Essays and lectures on different moral and religious subjects were read and sharply criticised. The interest in the discussions was modified by charity, so that all passed along smoothly and pleasantly. On Sabbath morning, Rev. R. Dubs, from Cleveland, preached the missionary sermon; the contributions by subscription and cash, exceeded somewhat the nice and liberal sum of eight hundred dollars ($800).

FOUNDED ON A ROCK.—The disappointed adventurers who have from time to time attempted to run their worthless potions against Drake's Plantation Bitters, vow that they cannot understand what a foundation there is for its amazing popularity. The explanation is simple enough. The reputation of the world-renowned tonic is founded upon a rock, the Rock of Experience. All its ingredients are pure and wholesome. How, then, could tricksters and cheats expect to rival it with compounds of cheap drugs and refuse liquor, or with liquorless trash in a state of acetous fermentation? Of course the charlatans have come to grief. Their little game has failed. Their contempt for the sagacity of the community has been fitly punished. Meanwhile Plantation Bitters seem to be in a fair way of eventually superseding every other medical preparation included in one class to which it belongs. In every State and Territory of the Union it is, to-day, the accepted specific for nervous debility, dyspepsia, fever and ague, rheumatism, and all ailments involving a deficiency of vital power.

A CHEATED BURGLAR.—Yesterday morning a burglar effected an entrance into the house of Mr. John B. Slattery on Beall St., in this city, and stole a dress and a pair of shoes from the room of a female domestic. The burglar, in the dark, picked up two articles which he supposed were pocket handkerchiefs, but which were really those essentials to very new babies, known as diapers. As these had not gone through the wash, and the thief was somewhat fastidious as to his pocket handkerchiefs, they were left in the yard. That gallant burglar now knows the truth of the adage that "All is not gold that glitters."—Cumberland Times.

THE burglars are still at work along the line of the Connellsville railroad. Night before last they paid a visit to Casselman, Somerset county. Thomas Phillips' residence was first entered, and a silver watch and twelve dollars in cash stolen therefrom. They next broke into Joseph Hartman's house and stole a new pair of boots that he had never worn. The rascals put these to peculiar use; they made dark lanterns of them! by cutting off the feet and using the legs. One leg was found with a candle in it. They got into a third house, but were heard, and upon some of the inmates making the alarm, they fled. It was discovered by footprints on the premises where the ground was soft, that the thieves were barefoot. No arrests have been made.—Cumberland News.

ACCIDENT AT THE ROLLING MILL.—TWO MEN BADLY INJURED.—Yesterday morning about 3 o'clock a frightful accident occurred at the Rolling Mill in this city. The men at one of the furnaces had about finished their day's work, the last "heat" was through, and they were cleaning out the furnace of dross or vitrified cinders. These (which are commonly called slags when of any size) are placed in the iron trucks, taken outside the mill and dumped. The puddler (Mr. James Grier,) and his helper (Mr. Peter Stringhack) filled a truck with slags and were backing it out, as is customary, when some water was thrown upon one of the largest slags, weighing perhaps 400 lbs. The consequence was an explosion so terrific as to shake the mill and many of the houses in the neighborhood. Grier was knocked down by the flying fragments of cinder, his face cut in several places and was also scalded very severely in the face, neck, and arms. Stringhack was badly scalded in the face and arms, his eyes suffering the worst. In a quarter of an hour after the accident he was stone blind, but later in the day the swelling became somewhat reduced and he could see a little. Two other employees of the mill, who were in the vicinity of the explosion were scalded slightly. Dr. McGill was at once sent for, and medical relief afforded the sufferers promptly. As soon as possible the two young men were conveyed to their homes. Grier is a young unmarried man; Stringhack is past middle age, and has a family. The Doctor thinks that notwithstanding their severe injuries, both will get well, if proper care is taken and attention is paid them.

It is supposed there was a deep crevice in the slag, into which the water fell, and the steam so suddenly created caused the explosion.—Times.

A SAD CASE.—More than a year ago Dr. R. H. Parks came to this town, a hale, hearty, fine looking, handsome man, well built, being six feet in height, gentlemanly in manners and appearance, and on a great many subjects more than ordinarily intelligent. He came here for the purpose of lecturing upon "The Horse," he having written a treatise upon the subject, which he placed on sale in the book store, was also the vendor of one of the best horse shoes ever made. He had innumerable apparatuses in the way of illustrative bridles, bits, curbs, straps, shoes, &c., which he used in his lectures, and seemed to be a perfect master of his profession. He met with success and was fast growing in the estimation of all who were interested in that noble animal, the horse. He was consulted by many persons in regard to the diseases of their horses, and from one of these cases he received his death. He was called upon by a farmer to make a post mortem examination of a horse that had died suddenly, which was done, and it was discovered that the horse had died of that terrible disease, the glanders. The day was exceedingly warm when the examination was had, and it is supposed that the Dr., through the medium of the million of pores on his body, expanded from the heat, absorbed the deadly virus from the animal. He was not affected immediately, but in due time began to feel the effects of the poison in his system, which increased to such an extent that finally he was confined to his bed at the Washington House, where he remained all last winter, when in the early part of the summer, he rallied enough to permit him to walk out occasionally.

But what an appearance had come over the stalwart man! He was a skeleton, almost, drooping and sad. Again, he was taken with symtoms of the further stages of the loathsome disease, and not wishing to be a burden upon any, took refuge at the Mansion House. Here he lingered until a week or ten days slee, when death came to his relief. At one time immense ulcers appeared on different portions of his body, but strange to say, within a short time of his dissolution they had healed up outward. He had the services of three or four of our best physicians and the attention of a number of our citizens, but without avail, and at his death his funeral services were conducted by Rev. Walter Mitchel, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of this place, and he was buried in the graveyard of that church. The carriages of all the livery stable keepers besides those of others, were placed at the service of those who superintended the obsequies, and quite a number of persons attended. The most singular part of this sad affair is that no one in this vicinity knows where he came from, as he has not communicated upon that point. He merely said he had relatives in Kentucky, but that he did not wish to trouble them with the knowledge of his misfortunes. During the whole time of his sufferings, which are said to be intense, no word of complaint was uttered, bearing all with a fortitude beyond expression.—Twice-a-week.

A Small Cheese Factory.

The following article we clip from the Baltimore American, and commend it to the careful perusal of our many readers. In the different counties in New York, where the celebrated Goshen butter is made there are great numbers of both large and small cheese factories, and this cheese has even a greater reputation than the butter. In the Western Reserve district in Ohio, great quantities of cheese are made, and it is agreed on all sides that the manufacture of cheese is more profitable than that of butter.

There is certainly no reason why in this great butter district we should not manufacture and ship as many pounds of cheese to the eastern market as we now do butter, and thereby increase the income of our farmers.

Mr. J. G. Harvey, who is largely interested in the trade, will no doubt with pleasure furnish all the information desired by any person or persons who may wish to engage in the business.

"At a risk of repeating what we may have heretofore said, as to the expense of establishing a cheese factory, we give the following estimate of the cost of a small cheese factory, such as a farmer could erect alone or such as might be established by several together, forming a joint stock company—the patrons furnishing the milk taking most of the stock:

For one hundred cows, a building sixty by twenty-six feet, with sixteen feet posts, making it two stories, would be required. Take twenty-four feet from the lower story for a "make room," leaving the remainder and the upper story for "curing rooms." The upper story should be partitioned the same as the lower. The twenty-four foot room over the "make room" should be plastered and furnished with stoves suitable for curing early and late cheese. The cost depends upon the price of lumber and labor, which differ in localities. A rough substantial building, which will answer in every respect in most localities would cost $1,000. If finished with paint, etc., $1,300. It could be furnished with vat, tank, presses, hoops, scales, etc., for $300, making in all $1,300 for rough building and $1,600 for the finished one. For two hundred cows, the same sized building would answer. For vat and fixtures $200, making in all $1,500 for rough and $1,800 for finished building. This is the size of many that were built in this State this season.

Stock companies are formed by those interested taking one or more shares, which may be $50 or $100 each. A committee is chosen by the share holders, who superintend the building of the factory, hiring of help, etc. A dairy of one hundred cows can be managed by a man of experience, with additional help, who could be hired at two to three dollars per day and board.—For two hundred cows he would want an additional hand, which might be a woman and inexperienced.

The question was often asked: How many cows must a factory number to pay? For an individual to build a factory to work up milk for others, at $2 per hundred, which is the common price of making and furnishing the cheese all boxed and ready for market, he would want three hundred cows or more to make it a paying business. As with an individual so with a stock company, to make the stock pay good dividends. By the plan given, the farmers build the factory themselves for the purpose of working up their own milk, which is a great saving to them over the old way, both in expense and quality of cheese. If the price named above will not pay as good interest as is just to the stockholder, the price of making should be advanced. As the patrons are the owners of the factory, they can always fix a price that will do justice to all parties."

Fayette County Items.

On the night of the 30th ult. the steam sawmill of Col. A. Stewart, at Stewarton, was destroyed by fire. A coal-pit in close proximity ignited a large quantity of cordwood, and before it was discovered, had gained such headway that it could not be extinguished, though the most valuable portion of the machinery was saved.

A fatal kerosene disaster recently befell John Clark, Esq., once a resident of this community, but lately of Bridgeport, near Mt. Pleasant, Pa. Mr. Clark undertook to fill a lamp while burning which caused an explosion; the consequence was, he was burned to death, and seriously burning another of his family.

Diptheria has made its appearance, Mr. M. Cramer lost two children by that disease.

The Republicans of Springfield township gave Gen. Grant 70 of a majority. How is that for 1872 mon? Greeley got a bigger beet (beat) this time than he ever raised at Chappaqua; he is now on the "home-stretch" (er), and will be placed on the retired list.

Some of the Democrats, wailing is deplorable, indeed, and are enough to enlist the sympathies of the most obdurate, while others say it is not their funeral.

VIAT.

GEN. MEADE.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7.—The flags are at half mast on the Custom House and public buildings, in respect to the memory of the late Gen. Meade.

At a meeting of the Commercial Exchange to-day appropriate resolutions were passed relative to the death of General Meade. The Mayor submitted a message to Councils recommending that appropiate action be taken.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—General Sherman has issued a general order, reviewing in feeling language the life and services of the late General Meade, and directing General McDowell, at New York, to make all arrangements for the funeral, also directing that at all military posts on that day flags be displayed at half mast and minute guns fired, and that officers wear the usual badge of mourning.

It is understood that either General A. A. Terry, now commanding the Department of the South, or E. R. S. Canby, commanding the Department of the Columbia, will be appointed Major General, in place of General Meade, deceased.

Jeff. Davis had one vote cast for him in Dauphin county for President with Horace Greeley for Vice President.

CAUTION.—Every genuine box of Dr. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bears the signature of FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., and their private United States Stamp.—"Take no other. "The market is full of imitation.

Nervous Debility.
