Local and Personal.

THE REV. MR. HARE, (Episcopal) will preach at the Court House, in this place, on Tuesday evening of next week.

THE REV. DAVIDSON Preached or Lectured, or both preached and lectured, on Temperance, at this place on Sunday afternoon and evening, last.

THE SCRANTON REPUBLICAN Office is about to be supplied with a new $5000 Hoe Press which will throw off 3000 sheets per hour.

THE NEW BANK BUILDING at this place, is now under way again and will be put up without further delay.

THE PLACE to get yourself most beautifully "booted" is at C. A. Little & Co.'s extensive Boot & Shoe Store on Tioga street. Try it. It'aint such a damaging experiment as may be imagined.

THE R. R. DEPOT, here, has been let for building, to Wm. B. Overfield and C. D. Gearhart. It will be commenced immediately and will be ready for use about the 1st of July.

WINTER GRAIN.—The Wheat and Rye crops in this region are said to be in a flourishing and growing condition and to give promise of an abundant harvest.

REV. HENRY BROWNSCOMBE has attained that interesting position which is described by the term "superannuated" or "retired." Half pay and no preach, we believe is one of the perquisites of the position—It is said, he will stick his stakes on some property he has in this place.

THE DAILY PAPER AT WILKES BARRE, which was talked of, is still in progress of incubation.

The establishment of a Daily at that place, will no doubt, prove rather an expensive experiment; but if Scranton can sustain two of them, Wilkes Barre might certainly to keep up one.

A GRAVEL TRAIN is now busily employed in filling up and strengthening the Railroad embankment below the bridge at this place. It is making hourly trips from the red-shale banks at Teague's Eddy, three miles above town. The frequent visits of this, in connection with the regular trains, give the town quite a rail-ready character. This train will be used here and in this vicinity for several months.

DON'T FORGET that the date on the label attached to this paper indicates the time up to which you have paid your subscription to it—If it says '67, it means that you owe us from that date—If '68, it shows that you owe us for only six years—We expect to keep the concern alive and kicking way up into the seventies unless there shall be a total stoppage of dumpling timber. Our boys have tried "chawin gum" as a substitute for flap-jacks, and have come out hot foot in favor of the flaps. Of course its a mere whim of theirs, but we feel like yielding to it—as long as the needful holds out.

NEW COURT HOUSE.—The Court House at this place will be improved by an addition as large if not larger than the one now on the ground. The plans for this improvement which have been drawn by Mr. Knoll, an architect of Scranton, have been under consideration by the Commissioners for several days and approved by them except as to some minor particulars. It has not yet been determined whether to let the building by contract, or to have it done by the day under the supervision of a competent mechanic. If done before winter, no time should be lost in making a beginning.

C. DETRICK, who is now entering upon his second year of trade, in this place, desires to say to the people, that the liberal patronage extended to him during the past year, will be reciprocated by him, during the year to come, by continued efforts to please and satisfy them in the quantity, quality and prices of his goods. As a specialty for the season he has laid in an extensive stock of Carpets, of every description, at very low figures, to which he invites the attention of all those about to furnish either a house or a room.

Remember the place—Two doors below the Bank, in S. Stark's block.

NEW GOODS.—A. B. Mott, on the corner—everybody knows where the corner is—returned from New York a few days since with a large stock of new Goods; and as a result has had his store crowded almost night and day with men women, and children anxiously awaiting their turn to be waited upon. He now keeps on hand a stock of Oils and Paints of the first quality. We would suggest to many men in this vicinity, that now is just the time to shine up their fences buildings. On account of the numerous husbands who are hard up for change this spring, we won't say a word about the splendid line of brussels, ingrain and other styles of carpets which he has received. The women will find out these things quick enough, without being told of them.

A REPORT to the effect that a dead child was seen hanging on the brush in the river, a few miles above town, was made a day or two since by some passing raftsman. Several of our citizens actuated by commendable motives, took a team and drove to the place in search of the supposed human body. After a careful examination about there, they found, not the body of a child, but that of some animal—a dog, goat or a hog—The jury failed to agree as to the species. A majority of them however seemed to incline to the opinion that it was a fleshy specimen of that kind of animal, into which the devil entered, in olden times,—which entry caused them to suddenly go to the water; and that some person or persons in the jurors aforesaid, unknown, had inflicted a dangerous and fatal wound on the fatest extremity of the defunct, "devil ketcher" aforesaid.

A VELOCIPEDE RACE for a prize cup came off at Wall's Hall, on Monday evening. The cup which is of extra heavy plated silver, lined with gold, was presented by Mr. William Smith, the "school-master" to Alonzo Gillespie—the judges having decided the contest in his favor. Among the contesting riders were Thomas Carey, Mr. Gregg, Henry Missett, and Arthur Simerell—A mark or circle was made around the room, on the outside of which the riders were required to drive their steeds fifteen times each—the time being carefully kept by the watch, in the hands of the judges. Gillespie made the journey in 1 min. 32 seconds—Carey, in 1.42—Gregg, in 1.50—Missett, in 2 minutes. She latter though esteemed one of the best riders, met with an unusual number of accidents. After the close of the prize race most of the contestants beat their own time.

Gillespie, who is undoubtedly the champion velocipedist of the County, manages the pony in a most graceful and admirable manner—driving it with one or both feet, and guiding it with one or both hands at pleasure.

His a la side-saddle riding, shows a skill in balancing which could not probably be excelled by the ladies themselves.

As an amusement and a means of exercise, the velocipede is a success; but as a thing of practical utility, it may perhaps be classed among the things of a day.

M. E. CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.—The following are the appointments made at the last M. E. Church Conference for the present year, for the Wyoming and Wyalusing Districts.

VAN AMBURGH & CO.'S MENAGERIE.—This zoological collection—said to be the largest and most comprehensive in the United States, or ever organized anywhere, by private enterprise—will give two exhibitions in Tunkhannock, May 5th.

The collection of animal, birds, and reptiles, number nearly five hundred specimens, and includes many curious and interesting novelties, which have rarely been exhibited in the United States. Among these are the only giraffe in America; the black rhinoceros, the only one exhibited here for thirty years; the Tartary yak, very rare; the large African eland; the Caffrarian impoon; the bleshok; the springbok; the white zebra; the Cazembian aoudad, the Rocky Mountain moose, and many others, which can be seen no where, but in the Great Golden Menagerie.

The Street parade will be the most brillant and magnificent ever seen here. Among its most notable features, will be the "Great Golden Chariot of Pactolus," containing the Golden Opera Band. This will be followed by a herd of Elephants, Camels, Buffalo, &c., &c., preceding the Grand "Golden Car of Cleopatra," on the summit of which, an enormous Numidian Lion, will be carried loose, free and uncaged, through the open street! Following this novel sight, will come the long line of Cages, Dens, Aviaries, Chariots, Vans, &c., all resplendent with Banners, Mirrors, Gilding, Burnishing, Carving, &c., the panels on the sides and at either end, being decorated with over three hundred beautiful Pictures illustrating scenes and incidents recorded in the Bible. There is no circus attached to the menagerie, but the ring performances are of a most interesting character, and will include the wonderful feats of the 'Lion King' in the den with four, ferocious, young Lions, Puma, Panthers, &c.; the performances of the trained Elephants, Camels, and Buffaloes; the three-horned Bull; acting Dogs and Monkfes; Pony race, &c., &c.

Remember Wednesday May 5th.

OBITUARY.

DEBORAH BEDFORD ONE OF THE SURVIVORS OF THE WYOMING MASSACRE.—We clip from the Luzerne County papers, the following tribute to the memory of DEBORAH BEDFORD, probably the last survivor of the Wyoming massacre. From the initials, as well as from its neat, chaste style, we feel quite certain that it comes from the pen of that accomplished and christian gentleman, Caleb E. Wright Esq., of Wilkes-Barre, who is a most zealous and earnest coworker in the church of which Mrs. Bedford was so long an honored member.

DIED.—On the 3d inst., at the residence of her son, Dr. Andrew Bedford, in Waverly, Luzerne county, Mrs. Deborah Bedford, aged 96 years, 1 month and 26 days.

Mrs. Bedford, whose maiden name was Sutton, was born at North Castle, State of New York, the 8th of February, 1773.—When between two and three years of age she came with her parents to the Valley of Wyoming, then in the dawn of its settlement by the whites. At the time of the incursion of Butler and Brandt, very soon after, her father's family were inmates of Forty Fort, the strongest hold of the settlers. It was her chance to be witness of the dread scenes of that disastrous day, when, the battle lost, the stockade was given up to pillage and many of its occupants to slaughter. The Suttons, however, shared a better fate at the hands of the savage captors, than many of their fellows. They were made prisoners of war; but through some unexplained clemency of Butler, the tory leader, were set at liberty, and taking passage in a rudely-constructed boat, pursued their way down the Susquehanna to Middletown—a few miles below the site of Harrisburg. Here the family remained until the withdrawal of the invaders to their homes in the North permitted their safe return.

On taking up their residence once more in the Valley, the Sutton family occupied a house on the river bank of Wilkes-Barre, erected on the ground now covered by the mansion of Judge Conyngham. Shortly after they moved across the river to Kingston, and it was at that place in September, 1788, when a girl of 15, the subject of our sketch, through the instrumentality of the pioneer laborers of the M. E. Church, became the subject of converting grace. She at once became a member of the first class formed in Northern Pennsylvania, was in due time after taking in full connection, and sustained the relation with undeviating fidelity through a period of more than 80 years. Perhaps no person in America was a longer time a member. She was cotemporary in membership with John Wesley (who died in 1791,) and the honored fathers who were his co-laborers in the building up of that church, which now reflects such imperishable honors on their names.

Mrs. Bedford, by family ties, was connected with names not soon to be forgotten, She was the grand-daughter of Dr. Wm. Hooker Smith, a man noted in this vicinity, whose foresight outran by half a century that of the community in which he lived, in comprehending the ultimate value of anthracite coal. George Catlin, whose name will become historic as the representative on canvass of tribes and nations of men, even now, many of them extinct, was her nephew.

But in this region of country, the remembrance of Mrs. Bedford will rest on the reputation she acquired for earnest zeal enduring Christian purity. The apartment in her son's house, where in many of the last years of her life passed away, was truly the sanctuary in which the children of the church were wont to gather, in order to hold commune with the heavenly-minded invalid. At no time did her interest in the Redeemer's cause and kingdom flag. Never did a doubt overspread her mind, that the crown would be to her a vain hope.—Her long age was infused with the terms of the sanctuary and the texts of the Bible. She had a message of cheer to every absent saint; a lesson of encouragement for every visitor.

The last twenty-five years of her life were passed under the hospitable roof of her son. Surely, never was filial duty more sacredly discharged. The obligations incurred in infancy and boyhood were amply repaid.—Many times a visitor at the mansion, I was always impressed with a sense of the sacredness of the spot—it was truly a Christian home. For some years since disease and waning physical powers had confined the ancient pilgrim to her room, the family had been accustomed to assemble there for prayers. On Sabbath evening it was the established turn of Mother Bedford to lead. Sitting up in bed, with clapsed hands she would pour forth her trembling accents, filled with all the fervor and inspiration of faith and love. And this was continued, until the long drawn-out thread of life was spun, and the spirit rose to the mansions above. C. E. W.

WILKES-BARRE, April 14, 1869.

OBITUARY.

We take the following notice from the Allentown News. The deceased who was a brother of H. B. Morgan—so well known to our citizens—was one of the most eminent mathematicians of the country. The loss to the Institution to which he belonged can hardly be supplied.

"DEATH OF PROF. MORGAN.—Col. Edwin Wright Morgan, Professor of Mathematics and Mechanics of Lehigh University, died at his rooms in the Sun Hotel, at Bethlehem, on Friday morning. Col. Morgan was born in Luzerne County, Pa., about 1816. He entered the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1833, and graduated third in his class in 1837, being especially skilled in mathematics. He was commissioned as an artillery officer, and after serving three years he resigned his commission in 1840. He then pursued the profession of civil engineering, and by his high attainments and skill helped much to produce and give excellence to the public works of Pennsylvania, Kentucky and other States. When the Mexican war broke out he was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel of the Eleventh Infantry. At the close of the war his regiment was disbanded and he took charge of the Kentucky Military Institute, as Superintendent, which post he filled till the opening of the civil war. At the founding of the Lehigh University, in 1866, he was called to the chair of Mathematics, and performed the duties thereof until within a week of his death. As a mathematician he was remarkable, being one of the very few who have been able to go to the boundaries of the science. As an engineer he was distinguished, being called to all parts of the country for consultation, and the excellence of many a work is due to his sound judgment. Col. Morgan was held in high consideration by all his friends, pupils and acquaintances, and those near him every day became warmly attached to him on account of his uniform gentleness and geniality. He was a skillful teacher, an honorable gentleman and a devout Christian."

BILLY BURGESS former editor of the Republican of this place, and more recently editor of the Belvedere Intelligencer has retired from that position, having had an "urgent call" to go at school teaching at his old place in Columbia county. His successor, a Dr. Brotherton, out-Tiffanies even Tiffany. He tears Webster's dictionary nearly into tatters in his salutatory.—He says:

"To my editorial associates—with respectful deference, I tender for their acceptance the hand bearing the friendly assurance, and earnest wish for amity, and fraternal interchange, and bespeaking for my humble qualification and inexperience, that kindly indulgence—magnanimous forbearance—and generous assistance, that is characteristic of the honorable fraternity."

If this lingo don't make the "Jarsey blues" stick out their eyes we don't know what will.

MONTROSE RAILROAD.—Judge Packer's corps of engineers, now engaged in the survey of proposed routs for the Railroad from Tunkhannock to Binghamton, reached the vicinity of Preston Tiffany's, in Dimock, on Saturday last; spent the Sabbath in Montrose, and will probably survey to Montrose this week. The grade from Tunkhannock to Marcy's pond does not exceed 90 feet to the mile; and from thence to this place the highest grade will be much less.

Married.

SHOOK—ROSE—In Tunkhannock, April 24th, by Rev. S. F. Brown, Mr. Jacob R. Shook and Miss Rachel Rose, both of Monroe Township.

Died.

LUCE.—In Eaton, Wyoming Co., Pa., April 22, 1869, Abraham Luce, aged 69 years.

Mr. Brother Luce was a respected citizen, a kind husband and father, and for forty years has been a member of the Church. He died in the faith and shares a Christian's reward. W

WILSON—In Monroe, April 8th 1869, after a long and painful illness, which was borne with christain-like fortitude, Alvia Wilson, aged 14 years, 8 months, and 8 days.

KINTNER.—In Mehoopany, Pa., April 27, 1869, Hattie G. daughter of Wm. H. and O. G. Kintner, aged 6 months.

FITCH—In Falls, on Monday the 19th inst., Elizabeth Fitch, daughter of Mongan Fitch. Aged 30 years, 11 months.

PARKER & CO'S.,

GREAT ONE DOLLAR SALE

OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBUMS, HOSIERY, SILVERPLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH and GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase any thing in their immense stock for

ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have buyers in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase FOR CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods used by us, thus saving the consumer the profits made by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, each of whom demand a larger profit than taken by us. We can give MORE GOODS FOR ONE DOLLAR than the Retail Merchant for twice or three times that sum. Our goods are described on printed checks, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage, printing, &c, &c.

If the article named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange from a list comprising Three Hundred and Fifty Useful Articles, among which are—

Ladies' Silk Parasols, Ladies' Fine White Tucked Skirts, Silver Plated Five Bottled Castors, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

Reference will be given, if required, from the most reliable Wholesale Merchants of Boston and New York, as to our standing and the strictly honorable character of our business.

☞ We want Agents in every town to whom the following Commissions will will be paid;
