Ayer's Cherry Pector

For Diseases of the Throat and Lo

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so whiely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as the recording framedy for pulmonary compiliates. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to midder forms of disease, and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Crosu, it should be top on the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Crosu, it should be top on the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Crosu, it should be top of the lungs and throat, and the patient consumption is thought the curable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to k. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

from malarious, marga, or missimus poisons.

As its name implies, it does Curre, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quisine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the neknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unncolimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through missinatic localities will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

THE CHARACTER OF THE LOUISville Courier-Journal is so well known from Maine to California, and its reputation for energy, ability and enterprise is so universally conceiled by the press and the people, that we deem any elaborate exposition of its policy and principles altogether unnecessary in this prospectus.
Suffice it to say, that in the future, as it has in the past, it will maintain and advocate the principles of the National Demcoratic party, without abating one jot its independence or besitating to express its honest convictions as occasion requires,
and always having at heart the interests of the people as against the cliques and scheming, selfish and dishonest politicians.
