SEEK TO PROBE THE COTTON POOL

Creditors Retain Untermyer as Counsel.

POKER GAMES WILL FIGURE

Threatened Exposures Lead to Renewal of Offers to Settle in Hope of Stopping Proceedings.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The inside of the cotton pools, engineered by D. J. Sully and a clique of big Wall Street men, is to be exposed. Three of the largest firms, creditors of Sully & Co., have retained Samuel Untermyer, the lawyer who ventilated the shipbuilding company, and instructed him to get to the bottom of Sully's operations and failure without regard to expense.

What became of the millions Sully is known to have made before his last disastrous campaign, who were in the different pools, and how the pool funds were contributed and profits distributed, are questions to be settled.

Those Poker Games.

The game of "sweetheart" poker played in the Hoffman House by members of the pools will be ventilated. Who played, who won, the sums won, everything pertaining to them will be told under oath.

The proceedings will begin as soon as Sully has been adjudicated a bankrupt and a meeting of creditors called. This will be in about two weeks.

As soon as it was learned that Mr. Untermyer had been retained, a movement was started to effect a settlement with the creditors of Sully & Co. It is said 60 per cent in cash on debts of $3,500,000 and 40 per cent in notes will be offered. Should two-thirds of the creditors accept it, the terms will become obligatory upon the remaining one-third, and the receivership dissolved. Such a settlement would stop the exposures.

Harriman and Weir.

In the Sully cotton pool the most nobable member, it is alleged, was E. H. Harriman. Others, it is said, were Frank H. Ray, vice president of the Continental Tobacco Company; Levi C. Weir, head of the Adams Express Company, and Edwin Hawley.

Secretary Miller of the Union Pacific Railway, speaking for Mr. Harriman said:

"Mr. Harriman had nothing to do with the Sully cotton pool in any way. Mr. Harriman does not even know Mr. Sully."

A dispatch from Cincinnati says:

"Col. L. C. Weir has arrived in this city.

"What have I to say as to the report that I was one of the backers of Daniel Sully in his cotton operations?' said ne, repeating the question put to him. 'Only this, there is nothing in it.'"

NEPHEW OF BACHELOR GETS NO INHERITANCE

Relative Had Adopted Young Man as Son and Left Large Estate to Him.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 24.—When William G. Green, a wealthy real estate owner and brother of Louis H. Green, the late "Whisky Trust King," died on March 13, he was generally considered a bachelor by his relatives until his nephew, Clifford Green, went to his uncle's boarding house to make the funeral arrangements.

At the door the nephew was informed that his uncle's son was in the house, and had attended to all the funeral arrangements. The nephew was nonplussed, and upon investigation found that his uncle had legally adopted the young man, so that there should be no trouble about his estate. Green left all his property, amounting to about $50,000 in real estate and a large sum in securities, to his adopted son, who became of age on the day Mr. Green died.

SPECIAL LICENSES FOR STATIONARY ENGINEERS

Plan to Bring Them Under Requirement of District Court Decision.

As a result of a decision of the District Court of Appeals that engineers on all craft in the river here must be licensed men, Commissioner Macfarland has recommended that special licenses be granted to men operating engines used in pile driving, dredging, and all other work carried on by the various river craft.

The necessity for this was called to Mr. Macfarland's attention by a letter from one of the river contractors, who said that, as one of his engineers was unable to answer many of the technical questions asked on application for regular licenses, he would have to be discharged, unless special licenses could be gotten out.

This special license will give the holder the right to operate only in the special line of work for which he obtained it. This must be done in order to prevent the suspension of a large part of the work now being done on the river front. It is not thought just to prevent men of this class from working on account of merely technical objections.

Crew Spent One Week On Wreck Without Food

Survivors of British Bark, Abandoned at Sea, Had Terrible Experience Before Rescued. Men and Women Lashed to Deck.

LONDON, March 24.—The survivors from the British bark Mary A. Troop, which was abandoned at sea while on a voyage from Pensacola for Rio Janeiro, have arrived at Southampton. They relate terrible experiences.

The bark encountered a gale, during which her boats were swept away, her main and mizzen masts went by the board, and her bulwarks and hatches were ripped off. The bark became waterlogged, and for twenty-six days tremendous seas swept over her. The carpenter was drowned.

At the end of nineteen days all the food, consisting of a barrel of flour, a dozen boxes of condensed milk and a can of apricots, was eaten and all the water was drunk. The crew chewed lead and wood to relieve their cravings.

The captain's niece, in addition to the agonies of hunger and thirst and exposure, lost all her warm clothing and was compelled to improvise clothing from sacks.

The gale kept up and those aboard the bark were compelled to lash themselves to the deck to avoid being swept overboard. At the same time they had to work the pumps to keep the vessel from foundering. On the twenty-seventh day the survivors were rescued by a passing ship.

RHODES PAPERS HAVE ARRIVED

Thousand Copies Aboard Wilhelm der Grosse.

TO TRY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Examinations Will Be Conducted on April 13 in Ninety-six Cities of North America.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Dr. George R. Parkin, accompanied by Mrs. Parkin, has arrived here on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse with 1,000 copies of examination papers for the Cecil Rhodes scholarships at Oxford. The examinations will be conducted on April 13 in ninety-six different places in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Parkin requested that the examination papers might be passed by the customs officials without breaking the seals. The collector granted the request.

"The papers of candidates will be sent to Oxford," said Dr. Parkin, "and those men who get successful marks will have their papers returned to those in charge of the scholarships in their respective neighborhoods. The papers are to be judged according to the intellectual ability, the athletic ability and force of character of the candidates. The requirements for entering Oxford are the same as for entering Harvard, except that Oxford demands Greek. Men go to Oxford to obtain classical training. Most of the great men of America have had Greek training.

"I am not sure that Longfellow, Eliot and Hay are not as important in the body politic as the men who control the wheat market. I had rather be an Eliot than a Carnegie. The university that has taken part in the production of a Roosevelt or a Hay has done a good work. America has become a world power, and needs men of world-wide knowledge which will enable him to stand among the great statesmen of the world.

"The Rhodes scholarships will yield the successful candidates $1,500 a year for three years. The first forty-seven Americans will begin their course next year. A student ought to save $500 from his allowance for a vacation on the Continent.

"It was the object of Mr. Rhodes that Americans might see something in a monarchy as well as in a republic."

FULL OF ELECTRICITY AND GREASED LIGHTNING

Declared Daniel Whalen to Policeman When He Was Arrested.

"I'm full of electricity, don't touch me. I'm connected with the switchboard of the War Department, and all you've got to do is to turn it on and I'll give you any message you want."

This was Daniel Whalen's reply to Policeman Boswell's inquiry as to the cause of his strange actions on Pennsylvania Avenue, near John Marshall Place.

"So you're charged with the juice, are you?" queried the policeman.

"I am," replied Whalen, "and what's more I've got Marconi beat a block. I'm going to girdle this earth and Mars, too.

"You're charged with insanity," said Boswell, as he grabbed the man and sent him to the Sixth precinct station to await an examination by the police surgeons.

Drs. Vale and Marbury examined Whalen and later decided that he was of unsound mind. Whalen is thirty-four years old, and is well known as a local police character, having been arrested and sent to the workhouse on numerous occasions, so say the police, for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and other misdemeanors.

CASSATT RE-ELECTED.

Dispatches from Philadelphia state that President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was re-elected at the reorganization meeting yesterday, without opposition.

DEAD COACHMAN SAT ON THE BOX

Stricken With Paralysis While Driving.

TAKING THREE GIRLS HOME

Horses Ran Wildly Through Streets of Elmira, Bringing Up at a Distant Stable.

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 24.—Miss Amy Robinson, granddaughter of former Gov. Lucius Robinson, of this State, has had a thrilling experience. Accompanied by Miss Dorothy Mather and Miss Georgiana Palmer, she was being taken home in a carriage from a reception given by Senator J. Sloat Fassett's daughter, Miss Margaret Fassett.

Thomas Delanta, and aged liveryman, was driving the carriage, when he was suddenly stricken with apoplexy. The horses ran wildly down the hill, the dying man still clutching the reins. He managed to stop the horses at the residences of Miss Mather and Miss Palmer, who got out.

A second stroke seized him, and he died, but the horses continued racing along the streets at midnight, finally bringing up at Delanta's stables, where the frightened young woman alighted to find herself a mile from home, and the driver dead, with the reins held tightly in his grasp.

PRESIDENT HAS CHOSEN BARLOW'S SUCCESSOR

Andrew D. Barlow, of Missouri, United States consul general at the City of Mexico, is in Washington. Mr. Barlow will formally present his resignation to the State Department in a short time.

It was understood when he left Mexico that he was to resign. His successor has been agreed upon, but the President is not ready to announce the appointment.

Coming to the Theaters

Ethel Barrymore in "Cousin Kate."

The coming engagement of Ethel Barrymore at the National will present that actress in "Cousin Kate," which is said to be the greatest success of her stage career.

"Cousin Kate" is the work of Hubert Henry Davies, a clever young English playwright, who is better known abroad than in this country. In it Miss Barrymore plays the title role, that of Kate Curtis, a worldly wise and somewhat cynical novelist.

It is quite a departure from the line of the girlish heroines with whom this talented young actress has heretofore been most associated in the mind of the public. The scenes of the play are all laid in England in one rural district, and the entire action of the play is supposed to take place within a period of not more than five years. The only matinee will be given Saturday.

"Glittering Gloria."

John C. Fisher and Thomas W. Ryley will next week offer their latest English musical play, "Glittering Gloria," a piece described as a comedy with music to distinguish it from a musical comedy, which, we are told, it is emphatically not. The production comes to the Columbia, and is well recommended by New York and Baltimore audiences, the only cities where the play has been seen.

The new offering is from the pen of Hugh Morton, who wrote "The Belle of New York," and as the play is under the direction of the managers who produced "Florodora," it should be of some worth.

The cast of "Glittering Gloria" contains the names of many well-known Washington favorites. Adele Ritchie, Gertrude Gheen, Channez Olney, the Hengler sisters, Cyril Scott, Percy Ames, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Forest Robinson, George Schiller, Eugene O'Rourke, and others of as much prominence figure in the production, and are a sort of guarantee of "Glittering Gloria's" excellence.

The public and critics in Baltimore give "Gloria" the highest recommendation.

Polite Vaudeville.

Chase's observes the advent of spring with a polite vaudeville bill next week headed by Billy B. Van and Rose Beaumont in "My Busy Day," a farce designed as a "blues-chaser." Henri Humberty, French equilibrist, is preceded in position by the comedy feature, but there will be many who will consider this act the greatest novelty offered. Cole and Johnson, song writers and comedians, will appear. Coleman's cats and dogs are another feature. Rae and Brosche will contribute "A Woman of Few Words." Dewitt, Burns and Torrance will be seen in "The Awakening of Toys." Leah Russell will have her Yiddish soubret imitations. The motion pictures will show the pursuit of a pickpocket through the streets of London.

"My Aunt Bridget."

The Lafayette will offer for its attraction next week George W. Monroe and others, who will present "My Aunt Bridget." All the phases of life from Shantytown to Fifth Avenue are said to be presented "true to life." The cast numbers several prominent vaudeville people who will introduce their original specialties during the action of the comedy. Among the principals are George W. Monroe, Bert Thayer, Carolyn Lum, Joe and Nellie Donner, Jathro Warner, William Black, Leonora Hatch, and many other people. Bettina Gerard, well-known locally, will play the part of Juliet Rose Recarnier, one of the Four Hundred.

"Driven From Home."

Patrice, supported by a company of unusual merit, in a new comedy drama in four acts, entitled "Driven From Home," will be seen at the Academy next week. Scenically, the production will be adequate, and the story of the play promises to prove of vast interest to patrons of the Academy.

"East Lynne" and "Resurrection."

Starting Monday next the attraction at the Empire Theater will be an entirely new and modern version of "East Lynne." A special dramatization has been made from the novel, and no expense has been spared in staging, mounting, and costuming it. Bernice Howard will appear in the leading role. As a special feature for Good Friday, afternoon and evening, the famous play, "Resurrection" will be offered.

"Blue Ribbon Girls."

Next week's attraction at the Lyceum Theater will be the usual burlesque entertainment by an organization known as "The Blue Ribbon Girls." Two satires and an olio form the program.

Sunday Evening Concert.

The program for next Sunday evening's concert by the Washington Symphony Orchestra, under Reginald de Koven, will, as usual, be made up of requested numbers.

There will be two soloists for this occasion, one of them being Stanley Olmstead, the well-known pianist of this city, who will play with the orchestra Grieg's magnificent Concerto. The other soloist will be Sydney Lloyd Wrightson, dean of the conservatory of music at the University of West Virginia, whose splendid baritone voice is well known throughout the country.

The competition for the $50 in prizes to be awarded by the management for the best program, is exciting wide interest among the patrons of these concerts, and solutions are daily coming in from many sources.

Creatore Concert.

At the Columbia, Sunday night, March 27, Creatore, with his Italian band, will give his last concert in this city for a long time to come. He is completing the last concerts of the several series which have been gong on constantly in various parts of the country since June, 1902. The present winter season was spent in the South, followed by a tour through the middle West. After playing in Boston and vicinity until May, Creatore will take a much-needed rest for about six weeks, before commencing his summer season. Everywhere Creatore has created a profound impression, and has steadily grown into the esteem of the public. At the concert here the selection from "Carmen," which is, perhaps, his most dramatic effort, will be played, as well as some of the music of "Parsifal," which he has recently arranged for his band.

MAJOR CRAIG RESTS IN SHADY ARLINGTON

The funeral of Major Louis A. Craig, retired, was held at 10:30 o'clock this morning in Arlington Cemetery. The body was escorted to the grave from Fort Myer by a detachment of the Second Cavalry, and short services were held at the grave.

Major Craig was an officer of the Sixth Cavalry, for many years. At the outbreak of the Spanish war he was made adjutant general of volunteers, and was later appointed colonel of the Thirty-second United States Volunteer Infantry, serving for two years in the Philippines. He was retired about a year ago.

He died in New York Tuesday morning, and his body was brought here yesterday. A widow and two children survive.

WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Regard Peruna as Their Shield Against Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Grip, and Catarrhal Diseases.

COLDS are considered one of the necessary ills of life. One is liable to catch cold both summer and winter.

Very often a cold is the starting point or cause of a lengthy and dangerous catarrhal disease.

Colds are always dangerous and should never be neglected a day.

A cold is the beginning of catarrh. It may cause catarrh of any of the internal organs—the head, throat, lungs, stomach and pelvic organs. A remedy that will cure a cold, then, would cure all these direct effects of colds.

Peruna is such a remedy. We have letters from all over the United States attesting to this fact. The poor and rich alike use and recommend it.

Cure a Cold Before It Develops Into Catarrh.

Miss Helen Sauerbier, St. Joseph, Mich., writes:

"Last winter I caught a sudden cold which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits. A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that in three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned and within nine days I was in my usual health."

Mrs. Leslie Carter Uses Pe-ru-na to Cure Colds.

Mrs. Leslie Carter.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, probably the most prominent actress in America, says the following of Peruna:

"Peruna is sure to prevent a cold. It will stop a cough before it become settled. It cures all catarrhal affections like magic. No money could tempt me to be without this remedy for even a day. It is just the remedy that all women need, especially such women that are exposed to the vicissitudes of climate as I am.

"I never neglect an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends. It is America's greatest remedy for America's greatest enemy, catarrh and catarrhal affections. I would not have catarrh for a million dollars, and as long as I have Peruna at hand to check the slightest symptoms of its approach, I feel perfectly safe from this disease."—Mrs. Leslie Carter.

Women of National Prominence Indorse Pe-ru-na.

Many women of national prominence indorse Peruna. Women well known in the social and business world, club women of distinction, wives of United States Senators and Congressmen, wives of generals, prominent physicians and ministers use Peruna themselves and recommend it to their friends. Thousands of housewives use Peruna and are never without it in their homes.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

MISS MYNNE BARTON.

Miss Mynne Barton, 221 Washington Ave., Madison, Wisconsin, writes:

"I took Peruna for two months according to directions for cessation of the menses and found that it restored the natural functions of the system, which had ceased on account of getting my feet wet and catching cold and which caused intense pains. It also toned up my system and made me feel much better and stronger, so that I feel in duty bound to say a good word for it. I shall cheerfully recommend it to my friends, and am sure that they will all be pleased with the results if it helps them as it did me."—Mynne Barton.
