STEWART FUNERAL TODAY

Aged Newspaper Woman Once Sat in Capitol Press Gallery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary C. Stewart, at one time a well-known newspaper woman of this city, and the widow of Col. Gordon Alonzo Stewart, are being held at her residence, 204 Fourth street southeast, this afternoon. Interment will be in Congressional Cemetery.

Mrs. Stewart, who was seventy-six years old, died at her home Tuesday, of pneumonia. She occupied a seat in the press gallery at the Capitol for a number of years as representative of several Western papers. Before coming to Washington, she was associate editor of the Des Moines Bulletin, of which her husband was editor.

Mrs. Stewart is survived by a son and daughter, both of this city, and a brother, William A. Hopkins, who is one of the leading newspaper men of France, and is president of the American Aid Society of France.

WHERE IS THE MOTHER

with a child who is rundown, has pale cheeks or thin blood, who will not give that child the very thing it needs to start it growing and keep it going? For over forty years the concentrated liquid-food in Scott's Emulsion has been changing thinness to plumpness—changing poor blood to rich blood.

There is nothing better for growing children—whether they are weak or well—than Scott's Emulsion, but see that you get the genuine Scott's.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection" says Dr. J. W. Ray, of Blockton, Ala. Continuing, he says, "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose anti-kamnia tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia, and particularly the headaches of women.

"When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Obtainable at druggists in any quantity desired."

DISCORDANT NOTE IN REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

After Wrangling Till Midnight, G. O. P. Members of House Widen Breach.

LEADER MANN IS ABSENT

Gardner's Plea for Program of Progressive Legislation Ignored.

Returning to the policy of secret caucuses, the Republicans of the House met last night, wrangled until 12 o'clock, and awoke today far off the main road to harmony. The program for harmony and progressive legislation was in a desperate way before the Republicans had been in session ten minutes, and the so-called Progressive wing of the party was badly steam-rollered.

The caucus was held because of a petition circulated by Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts. Mr. Gardner prepared in advance a speech urging the Republicans to rehabilitate their party and abandon the policy "of strict and undeviating conservatism." Mr. Gardner then proposed various legislative reforms.

Vote Secret Caucus.

To the surprise of Mr. Gardner and the group who sought the rehabilitation, the Old Guard immediately showed its opposition by moving that the caucus be secret. For four years the Republicans of the House have held "open conferences," to which the press and public were admitted.

Congressman William E. Humphrey of Washington, a standpatter, made the move for the secret caucus. It was carried by a vote of 108 to 15, and Mr. Gardner was given little time to protest.

Two members who voted for the open caucus—Congressmen James and Cramton of Michigan—walked out of the chamber soon after the vote for the secret caucus.

Protective Tariff Discussed.

After clearing the press gallery of newspaper men, the Republican Old Guard immediately steered the caucus toward a discussion of that old party standby, the protective tariff. The tariff debate, with a few variations, continued for seevral hours, evidently in accordance with a carefully arranged plan of the Old Guard to talk tariff and avoid discussion of some of the progressive legislation Mr. Gardner advocated.

Congressman Fordney, ranking Republican of the Ways and Means Committee and a high protectionist, attacked the forthcoming Democratic revenue bill, and suggested the party line-up behind a motion to recommit the bill on the final roll call.

Gardner Helpless.

Except for his own speech, Mr. Gardner was unable to bring about a debate on such subjects as a minimum wage for women and children, unemployment insurance, compulsory military training, elimination of "pork" i nriver and harbor and public building bills, compulsory arbitration in transportation disputes, and other topics which Mr. Gardner expected the caucus to discuss.

After the Old Guard steamroller had thoroughly squelched the Gardnerites, a little sop was thrown to them in the promise that another caucus will be held within two weeks, further to discuss party policies.

The Speakership fight was sidetracked in the general row.

Mann Not Present.

Minority Leader Mann was not present because of illness. His rival for the Speakership, Mr. Lenroot of Wisconsin, came in late, after arriving from New York, and was not present on the vote for a secret caucus.

Congressman Gardner, in advocating a platform of progressive legislation, declared that "the brains are on our side of the House, and I believe the people know it. The Democrats spend money like drunken sailors, but, for all that, the people will retain them in power in spite of Democratic incompetence if we turn our backs on liberal legislation."

GOOD ISSUE OF ALL-STORY

Novelette and Other Splendid Fiction Feature Current Number.

The All-Story Weekly for the week of January 27 contains one of the best novelettes which has appeared in several months. "Fifty Belts of Gold," by A. H. C. Mitchell, a prominent writer of adventure stories, is based upon the European war, but the setting for the story is found all over the world—in China, New York, Russia, and then back again to Europe. The story combines humor, pathos and love so skilfully that one imagines himself living through the scenes of the story.

The three continued stories in this issue are "Opportunity," by Edgar Franklin, which was started in the last issue; "The Holy Scare," a thriller from start to finish, and "The Scarlet Ghost," the sequel to "Those Who Walk in Darkness."

The short story section contains an unusually good choice of humorous stories, ranging from the peculiar adventures of a cub reporter in New York to the antics of a circus elephant and some mice in the land of imagination.

The issue this week is stronger than usual in verse, including seven short selections which rank with other All-Story poetry.

WILL HEAD AVIATORS.

Lieut. Col. John B. Bennett has been selected to succeed George O. Squier as chief of the aviation section of the signal corps. Official announcement to this effect is expected to be made at the War Department soon. Colonel Bennett arrived in Washington yesterday from San Diego, where he has been stationed for some time, and will be prepared to assume his new duties in Washington as soon as his appointment is announced.
