OFFICE, 25 & 27 Fourteenth St.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1874.

Our Moundsville Letter.

MOUNDSVILLE, August 12th.

Editors of the Intelligencer:

THE PRESIDENTS

of the different Boards of Education of Marshall county met on last Monday and elected a Board of Examiners for the ensuing school year. The old Board was re-elected, and I believe unanimously. The Board consists of S. R. Hanen, County Superintendent; W. M. Wirt and B. B. Newman. They will hold their first meeting on Friday and Saturday of this week for the purpose of examining those of our Normal Institute who expect to teach during the coming year. I believe they also meet next Monday in this place to examine other applicants.

OUR COUNTY COURT

is again in session, but as this is a Court of Levy, it is not expected that it will last but a few days.

I see that your reporter of the proceedings of the Teacher's State Association does not seem to relish the fact that a boquet was presented to one of the teachers. If it will be any satisfaction to him to know it who presented it was not so selfish as he imagined. Your unworthy correspondent was made the recipient of an exact counterpart of the one of which he spoke. It was presented for the rendering of the piece entitled

THE LADY

"THE BLUE AND THE GRAY."

Appended to it was a neat tie of blue and gray ribbon, and, considering the circumstances, was gratefully received, and will be sacredly cherished as a memento. The lady who presented it was

A NATIVE OF MISSISSIPPI,

and from near the place where occurred the circumstance that gave rise to the beautiful poem mentioned. When informed of the fact that the one who rendered the piece had served as a soldier in the Union army, she made the remark that it was all the better, for although she had been a zealous advocate of

THE CAUSE OF THE SOUTH,

all animosities and bitter feelings were buried. Would that we could all say this, and adopt those beautiful lines of the poem—

"They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead."

This is what we want to bring

PERFECT PEACE

again to our beloved land. The war is now over, and let North and South join hands in eternal friendship, and swear that—

"No more shall the war cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red."

I noticed that in your mentioning of the different Republican candidates for Congress you omitted the name of our Moundsville candidate, and also that you generously made the correction needed in your last issue. We were glad to see that you did this, for while we would not detract one iota from the ability or the standing of either of the other gentlemen mentioned, we think

CAPTAIN CRISWELL

compares very favorably with many of them, and should he receive the nomination at the hands of the Convention, he will be

A HARD MAN TO BEAT

by the other party. And should he be elected he will make a representative of whom the District could and should well be proud. But I will forbear on this point for fear it will be thought I am meddling in politics, which is the least of my thoughts at present.

ALL THE POLITICS

I ask is give us true, whole-hearted men to fill our offices, who, irrespective of party, will dare to do right under all circumstances, and work for the greatest good of the whole country.

QUITE AN ACCIDENT

occured here yesterday. Charles Riggs, a young man residing near town, while in the act of turning either a somersault or a handspring, struck a rusty nail, which penetrated his heel some distance into the bone, and a portion of it remained there so firmly that the physicians were compelled to place him under the influence of chloroform before it could be extracted. He is now doing well. But for fear I grow prosy I will close. X.

Tyler County as Seen by a Visitor.

Editors Intelligencer:

Those of our citizens who do not have occasion to travel on the river do not know what delights are in store for them if they should decide upon a trip down the beautiful Ohio. For magnificent natural scenery, the Ohio River Valley cannot be excelled, especially at this season of the year.

AT THE PRESENT TIME

the stage of water is ample to admit the running of larger boats, and the fine steamers in the Wheeling and Parkersburg trade furnish everything in the way of first class accommodations. It was my fortune on Saturday last, to take passage on the Courier, Captain, J. Harrison; Clerk, M. Nolle—two of the most urbane and attentive steamboat officers on the Ohio. The boat is large and commodious, elegantly furnished, and having been repainted and thoroughly overhauled, is neat, if not gaudy. For speed and comfort

SHE IS WITHOUT A RIVAL.

After gliding swiftly down the placid stream for about 50 miles I found myself at Sistersville, Tyler county—one of the oldest towns in the State. Here I concluded to remain and spend the Sabbath day, having in times of yore passed many a pleasant day in the quiet village and enjoyed the hospitality of some of her people.

The lands upon which the town is located were at one time all owned by two of the Wells girls. The two sisters gradually disposed of portions of their possessions in the way of building lots, and many years ago the two sections of the small village were merged into one town, and called

SISTERSVILLE.

It is rather a small place, but a vast amount of business is done here for a place of its size. The mass of the people of Tyler county are very well-to do, owning their own lands and getting fair crops. They enjoy a good outlet by the river for the shipment of surplus farm products. The Sisterville people are proverbial for their intelligence, hospitality, energy and enterprise. There are three church buildings in the place, a Presbyterain, Methodist and Baptist. The pulpit of the latter being occupied on Sabbath last by Rev. Mr. Bristow, of Wheeling. The health of the town is always good, but still we find here two or three of the

BEST OF PHYSICIANS.

Monroe county, Ohio, lies just across the river from Sistersville, and near the banks of the river reside Capt. J. T. Russell and Prather Russell, Esq., two gentlemen well known in Wheeling, the former being one of the most popular steamboat captains and the latter one of the most successful farmers.

THE RECENT RAINS

have gladdened the hearts of farmers in this vicinity. The prospects of good crops are now most promising. Oats alone will be any way short. Except apples, fruit will be very abundant, and the apple crop will by no means be a failure. Peaches are rapidly ripening and are being as rapidly plucked and hastened to market. They will be remarkably cheap before the middle of next month.

WHILE IN SISTERSVILLE

I had several hours' conversation with Mrs. McCoy, a lady now in her eightieth year. She was one of a family of twenty-two children, and in 1803 her father (Mr. Wells) removed here from near what is now Bethany, going down the river in canoes, as it was before a steamboat was ever seen on the Ohio. At that time nearly the half of what is now the State of West Virginia was Ohio county, Virginia. The family only removed from the upper to the lower part of Ohio county. Mr. Wells was for years a member of the Virginia Legislature and a prominent man. His daughter, Mrs. McCoy, informed me that she well remembered when many of the heroes of

THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR

were entertained at her home. One of the family connection became a cousin of Henry Clay's by marriage. This old lady recollects all the important movements made in the organization of the first Church in what is now Sisterville, and has evidently taken a great interest in all public improvements and in all prominent men

OF THE PAST HALF CENTURY.

Mrs. McCoy's hearing is as perfect as ever, her eye-sight is very good, enabling her to read the smallest print, and she regards it a great pleasure to walk around the town and call upon her relations. Near one-half of the residents are related to her. She has one brother living, Mr. Wells, who resides about a mile below town. He is in

HIS EIGHTY-EIGHTH YEAR.

Many years ago, when the Wells children were comparatively young, numbering twenty-two, there resided on the adjoining farm below a family of twenty-eight children, and on the farm immediately above there was a family of twenty-one children—in all seventy-one children in the three families!

THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION

for Tyler was held at Middlebourne Saturday, when delegates were appointed to go to the Ellenboro convention. It is said that Tyler will cast a complimentary vote for Dan Johnson on the first ballot, and then, first, last and all the time, her vote will be for Colonel Ben Wilson. The Colonel is regarded in Tyler as the only man who can poll the party vote. I was somewhat amused to hear old residents and prominent men in political circles asking who Hans Good was. Several came to me and asked about the young man, presuming that, as I was from Wheeling, I could impart the NECESSARY INFORMATION.

Several new residences of modern style have been erected in Sistersville during the past year—that of Mrs. Wells presenting a very handsome appearance. Ely W. Russell, Esq., expects soon to build a large and commodious store-room, to accommodate his

INCREASING TRADE.

It was in Sistersville that Mr. John T. Russell, the talented editor of the Wheeling Argus, was born and raised. He was well and favorably known to many of the citizens of Wheeling. Soon after his return from Santa Fe he died at his mother's residence, and his remains rest in the beautiful little family cemetery about half a mile

BELOW THE TOWN.

There are still four or five members of the Russell family living in Sistersville. They are known only to be respected, and the name stands high in Tyler.

Several members of Capt. Taylor's family, of Wheeling, are visiting at Sistersville, being entertained by the hospitable Mrs. Wells. OLIVER.

—OF—

DR. LONGDON'S SKILL.

Statements that may be relied on for truth and which prove Dr. Longdon's skill and the efficacy of his treatment in curing disease.

MRS. T. H. HIGGINS, 2213 Eoff street—Disease of the lungs, night-sweats, cough, hectic fever, emaciation, physical and nervous prostration, &c., perfectly cured in a few weeks.

W. H. STRINGER, Tiltonsville, O.—Commencing tubercle of lungs, severe cough, exhaustive sweats, loss of flesh and strength, expansion of chest only half an inch, all the symptoms of incipient phthisis. After two weeks' treatment the cough and sweats abated, the strength increased, five pounds were gained, the chest could be expanded four inches, and in one month the cure was complete.

MRS. THOS. BURKE, 1163 High street—All the early manifestations of Consumption, spitting blood, cough, hectic fever, night sweats, consolidation of lungs, physical exhaustion, &c. Upon taking three bottles of Dr. Longdon's medicine she was able to resume her household duties and to walk all over the city. A remarkable cure.

HENRY STEWART, Fulton—Asthma, broken down health, unable to work. Commenced Dr. Longdon's treatment one year ago, has lost but one day's work since and now enjoys very good health.

JAS. MURRIN, Benwood—Heart Disease, cured in six weeks after other physicians said he must die.
