The Only Remedy FOR Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. D. B. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for almost thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."

Col. R. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Herald, under date of August 2, 1887, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pains, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was once at a way station and could not walk 100 yards, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the result. I am sixty-eight years of age and I feel now like a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand cms without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation."

Mr. P. Wesh, 241 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 12, 1887, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me one bottle, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. S. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Rinville, Bulloch county, Georgia, in a letter recounting the startling success he has in curing contagious blood poisons in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disease."

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

THANKSGIVING.

"Have you cut the wheat in the blowing fields,
The barley, the oats and the rye?
The golden corn and the pearly rice?
For the winter days are nigh."
"We have reaped them off from shore to shore,
And the grain is safe on the threshing floor."

"Have you gathered the berries from the vines,
And the fruit from the orchard trees?
The dew and the scent from the rose and thyme
In the hive of the honey bees?"
"The peach and the plum and the apples are ours
And the honeycomb from the scented flowers."

"The wealth of the snowy cotton-field
And the gift of the sugar-cane,
The savory herb and the nourishing root,
There has nothing been given in vain.
We have gathered the harvest from shore to shore,
And the measure is full and running over."

Then lift up the head with a song!
And lift up the hands with a gift!
To the ancient Giver of all
The spirit in gratitude lift!
For the joy and the promise of spring,
For the hay and the clover sweet,
The barley, the rye and the oats,
The rice, and the corn and the wheat,
The cotton and sugar and fruit,
The flowers and the fine honey-comb,
The country, so fair and so free,
The blessing of glory and home.
"Thanksgiving! thanksgiving! thanksgiving!"
Joyfully, gratefully call
To God, the "Preserver of men,"
The bountiful Giver of all.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

S. P. LANGLEY,

Successor to Spencer F. Baird, as Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

The Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, have unanimously elected S. P. Langley to succeed the late Spencer F. Baird, as its Secretary. Professor Langley was chosen by Professor Baird as his assistant when his health began to fail, with the intention that he should succeed him in the management of the Institution.

S. P. Langley, who was President of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, at its meeting recently held in New York, was born in Roxbury, which now forms a part of Boston, in the year 1834, and is therefore about 53 years of age. While a pupil at the Boston Latin School he developed a remarkable interest in scientific inquiry. By the time he was 30 years old he had made a solid acquaintance with astronomy, civil engineering and architecture. He was in Europe in 1864 and 1865, where he judiciously spent his time in advancing his acquaintance with several branches of scientific learning. After his return to the United States, he taught astronomy successfully at Harvard, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and Pittsburgh. His lectures gave him widespread reputation. The average reader will know Professor Langley the best as a magazine writer on astronomical subjects, the sun chiefly. To the honors this learned man has earned at home must be added those given him in England. His name appears among those of the lecturers before the Royal Institution of London. The Professor was among the distinguished people invited to address the British Association in the year 1882.

The meeting of the Association which Professor Langley is this year President, are regarded with an interest which increases year by year.

FOR THE LADIES.

A Cry Against Decollete Dresses Goes Up from the Women's Temperance Union.

The cyclone which has swept down on Nashville, Tenn., in the form of the fourteenth National Women's Christian Temperance Union Convention has fairly taken away the breath of the people. An amendment offered one year ago by Mrs. Foster, of Iowa, making this body "non-sectarian and non-partisan" was tabled. Mrs. Aldrich, of Iowa, gave notice of a protest.

Resolutions were adapted to-day, protesting against the immoral exhibition of the faces and forms of women as trade marks and advertisements as a degradation to womanhood; against obscenity as exhibited in cigarette boxes; against the demoralizing reports of prize fights, &c., in the public prints; and earnestly appeal to the young women to refrain from wearing the decollete style of dress as immodest and fraught with dangerous and immoral influences.

The resolutions also convey thanks to the Methodist Episcopal Church, who have elected four women delegates (among them our President) and four women as reserve delegates to the approaching General Conference; indorsed the appeal to the Evangelical Alliance for one day to be given to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union work.

It was resolved that the Prohibition party be asked to declare itself in favor of the Bible in the public schools and of enforcing the Sabbath laws.

William Jones, of the Peace Commission, composed of distinguished English gentlemen, some of them being members of the British Parliament, was recently received at the White House in a private interview by Mrs. Cleveland with the affability, dignity and grace of womanhood which so especially characterizes that distinguished lady. She made him the bearer of a message to Miss Willard and the convention expressive of her entire sympathy with the work of women throughout this great nation in the promotion of temperance and of peace and good will.

A resolution was passed expressive of appreciation of Mrs. Cleveland's personal habits as a total abstainer. A telegram was sent to Mrs. Cleveland early in the session.

The resolutions closed by commending the press of the country for their interesting and truthful reports.

A resolution was passed deprecating the cruel slaughter of birds to ornament headdresses of the ladies of this country and pledging those present not to buy headdresses so ornamented.

The convention will go next fall either to San Francisco or New York City.

The South Modestly Speaks Up.

Savannah News.

At the next National Convention the North will not be asked to name a candidate for President, because the party, North and South, has determined to nominate Mr. Cleveland, but a candidate for Vice President will have to be chosen. It is not improbable that the South will again let the North make the choice, though it would seem to be but fair that the South should be asked to do so. However, the South is growing in wealth and influence, and by 1892 will be in a position to have a good deal to say with respect to the candidates for both President and Vice President.

A PRISONER OF WAR.

His Feelings on Being Released from Captivity.

November 18 will always be remembered by me as the day of my deliverance from a Rebel prison, as also one of horror, which the following story will substantiate. On the morning of November 18, 1863, a Rebel sergeant informed the wounded and sick Union prisoners, who were confined in the Second Alabama Hospital in Richmond, Va., that they would be paroled that day, an event we had wished and prayed for; so you may imagine our joy at the prospect of meeting home and friends once more. We all had to sign our names to the parol papers during the day. In the evening we were marched on board a canal boat, and here the horror began. We were all huddled together as a lot of sheep would be, only we were not so comfortable, in the hold of the boat. We had only one lamp burning, which went out soon after we started down the James river, and left us in total darkness. Some of us were too sick to move, having chronic diarrhœa, brought on by inferior food; some suffered from wounds, that were in an awful state from non-attendance. This lasted all night, but the longest night passes away, and so did this one.

Morning came at last, and as we looked down the river we saw the glorious stars and stripes floating above our works and vessels. Pen cannot describe the joyful feelings which possessed us on beholding the emblem which would protect us and end our sufferings. We soon marched on board the steamer New York, which lay at City Point, Va., where our wants were attended to until we arrived at Annapolis, Md. The war is over, but I cannot forget such scenes, especially when I remember the condition the Union prisoners were in, half starved and hardly able to move. The rebel prisoners who were exchanged for us arrived at City Point, Va., from the North, well clad and robust looking.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. THREAW

What Am I to Do?

The symtoms of Biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it cost but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

An Able Protector.

If there is a more able protector against the incursions of disease than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, we have yet to learn of it. Against the periodic attacks of fever and ague it affords a sure defense, it renews waning vitality, and counteracts the infirmities of age; it prevents dyspepsia from becoming chronic, and eventually annihilates it. It rouses the liver and kidneys when dormant, and insures a regular habit of body. To the nervous it is of inestimable benefit, imparting steadiness and vigor into an enfeebled physique. The term, "delicate health," is usually another name for debility. While the Bitters is procurable, the weak need never despair of physical reinforcement. Persons whose avocations are sedentary and laborious, or involve exposure to unfavorable climatic influences, will also find the Bitters an able protector.
