All may be cured by this wonderful system, if not too far advanced. Bone diseases cured when all methods have failed.

Ladies who are suffering from complaints peculiar to their sex can consult the Doctor with every assurance of speedy relief and permanent cure without subjecting them to the embarrassing procedure of an examination, which in nine cases out of ten is unnecessary. The Doctor particularly invites all cases that have been given up by other physicians.

OFFICE HOURS—From 10 a. m. till 9 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Tumors and Cancers removed without pain or the use of a knife.

Read the Following Home Testimonials:

Mrs. James Shaw, No. 38 Twenty-seventh street has had bladder and female troubles for five years, was treated by thirteen physicians, got no better, suffered agonies of death, took all kinds of medicine, still grew worse, neighbors used to hear her pitiful cries nights, did not sleep unless under morphine for years. She treated with Dr. Wilbur but a short time and feels like a new woman, has no pain and sleeps well nights and takes no morphine. She states Dr. Wilbur has given her a new lease of life.

Mrs. Catharine Wurster, No. 609 National Road, has had a tumor on the edge of her eyelid for fifty years, which was removed by Dr. Wilbur. Its position rendered the operation an extremely delicate one, nevertheless it was done in less than a minute.

Frank Frelsh, No. 2560 Main street, was crosseyed 14 years. Dr. Wilbur made them straight in one minute without pain.

Joseph Garner, No. 30 Zane street; Mary Long, 2 Chapline street; William Arndt, 3137 McColloch street, also had their eyes made straight.

Miss Gracie Jackson, corner Fortieth and Wood streets, had a tumor for sixteen years, which had attained considerable size. Dr. Wilbur removed it and she speaks very highly of the doctor, as she has experienced no pain since the operation.

Mrs. Chalmer Drummond, who resides in Kirkwood, had a large mole removed from her face by means of a plaster. The operation was performed by Dr. Wilbur. Mrs. Drummond states she likes this mode of procedure much better than the knife, as it gave her no pain.

Mrs. Hannah Good, No. 454 Market street, has been sick for years, spent hundreds of dollars, got no relief—no physician knew what her disease was. Dr. Wilbur gave her some medicine, and in a few hours she passed a live tape-worm 30 feet long, and now she feels like a new woman.

The above are only a few of the many testimonials received by the Doctor. Many are withheld from publication by request of the parties concerned.

The Doctor invites correspondence from people at a distance, but never answers any letters unless they contain two stamps. de22-DAW

Profitable Painstaking.

American Agriculturist.

Here is a wheat experiment which well illustrates the importance of keen sense and painstaking on the modern farm. Mr. Mir, of France, is a farmer whose specialty is wheat. He experimented with some of the new crack varieties, and found that on his farm they did not turn out as well as in the locality of their origin. Accordingly he concluded to test selected seed from the wheats already acclimated in his neighborhood. Here is the result of this very common sense experiment: The land on which it was tried had been manured in the autumn with superphosphate in the ratio of 260 pounds per acre, and in the following spring with nitrate of soda at the rate of 130 pounds per acre. In the subsequent autumn, 2 1-5 acres were sown with unselected wheat, and 1 1-5 acres were sown with selected grains of the same variety. The 2 1-5 acres yielded 60½ bushels of wheat weighing 64.17 pounds per bushel, equivalent to 24 1-5 bushels to the acre. The 1 1-5 acres sown with selected seed yielded 49½ bushels weighing 73.15 pounds per bushel, or an equivalent of 41½ bushels to the acre. At the current price of wheat in his locality, Mr. Mir's painstaking yielded him an extra income on the land sown with selected seed at the rate of $14 an acre in round numbers. To get his seed, Mr. Mir employed two methods. One was the screening of the grain, keeping for seed only the kernels which were too large to pass the screen. The other was the selection of the heaviest heads of wheat from the stoutest socks in the field. Of these he threw away the extremities, retaining for seed only the perfected grains in the middle of the heads. It is needless to add that henceforth Mr. Mir will not concern himself so much with "improved" varieties of wheat as with careful attention to the material already in hand.

Apoplexy in Swine.

Apoplexy is usually a disease of fat hogs, although an animal that has long been thin or suffering from excessive irritation of the intestinal canal would also be predisposed to it. It must be understood that the process of fattening an animal in a few weeks destroys the equilibrium of the system, and in one sense the fatness is in itself disease. The storing of fat in the animal economy is always at the expense of muscular development. The muscles become weak and flabby. All the blood-vessels of the system are surrounded by a strong, tough, muscular coat that in a state of perfect health will resist any force that the heart's action can put upon these canals. But the fattening process weakens these fibers; a sudden or unusual strain ruptures one in the brain, and we call it apoplexy. It is not as common in the hog as one would expect, but occurs so often that the breeder should understand it and know the right thing to do. It is impossible to foresee when this is going to occur. If the rupture is a very small one, when the blood is oozing out in tiny drops, the hog will sometimes be found lying insensible and breathing heavily. No effort will arouse it. It is more usual to find a big fat hog lying dead, with no external marks or signs of the cause of death. Cut open the skull carefully, and a clot of blood of greater or less extent will be found inside. If alive, however, tie a stout cord above the knee and with a stick take a twist in the cord until on the inner side of the leg below the knee the brachial vein can be felt. Open it with a sharp-pointed knife, and if the blood will run take a pint and a half or a quart. Don't guess at it. An ounce of blood spread over the ground or on the floor has been mistaken for a pint. If the bleeding is to do any good, there must be considerable taken. If the broken vein is a small one, and the case is observed soon after it occurred, the animal may be saved. If it partially revives it will be proper to evacuate the bowels. A large stock syringe would be valuable here to throw up a quart of warm water. In most cases, however, the owner will have a chance to sell the animal for soap fat.

Sheep and Wool.

The wool product of the world is estimated at 1,600,000,000 pounds. The sheep number 500,000,000. The sheep and the wool in leading countries are tabulated as follows:

	SHEEP.	LBS. WOOL.
Australasia	80,000,000	450,000,000
Argentine Republic	75,000,000	280,000,000
Russia	60,000,000	200,000,000
United States	50,000,000	270,000,000
Great Britain	30,000,000	140,000,000

The wool import of the United States was at latest returns 115,000,000 pounds, of which 18,000,000 were for clothing and 85,000,000 for carpets. Most of this wool was imported from England. The direct importation from South America was comparatively small except from Uruguay, which, with 16,000,000 sheep, sent us last year 2,585,000 pounds of clothing wool.

A Convincing Portrait.

Mr. Harry Furniss, the well known caricaturist on the staff of Punch, tells the following anecdote, which amusingly illustrates some of the troubles of the harassed portrait painter.

A man once called upon a portrait painter and asked him to paint his father.

"But where is your father?" asked he of the brush.

"Oh, he died ten years ago."

"Then how can I paint him!" asked the artist.

"Why," was the reply, "I have just seen your portrait of Moses. Surely, if you can paint the portrait of a man who died thousands of years ago, you can more easily paint the portrait of my father, who has only been dead ten years."

Seeing the kind of a man with whom he had to deal, the artist undertook the work.

When the picture was finished, the newly-blossomed art patron was called in to see it. He gazed at it in silence for some time, his eyes filling with tears, and then softly and reverently said:

"So that is my father? Ah, how he is changed."

J. O. Gibson, Meridian, Miss., writes: "For a number of years I suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise it has made me a well and hearty person."

Z. T. Ballerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."

Ben. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. My throat was ulcerated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore and cured me completely within two months." Logan & Co., Wholesale Agents. DAW.

BURLINGHAM, N. Y., May 31, '86.

G. G. GREEN, Dear Sir:—I am frequently troubled with severe colds, and the only remedy that will relieve me of them is your Boschee's German Syrup. I have used it for more than twelve years. It is a constant household companion with me. Our merchant here procured it first at my solicitation, and says he has sold a great many bottles. It is a very popular remedy in this section. Every person who has used it speaks in the highest terms of its merits. I do not know of a single case it has not cured. I first used it in Vermont, where I lived before coming here. I advise everyone to use it, as it is certainly the best cough medicine I have ever known. I have tried nearly all of them at different times. Yours respectfully,

HOME MARKETS.

The Wholesale Prices of all the Various Commodities.

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
WHEELING, Tuesday, Jan. 1.

Quite a number of interesting changes in our quotations will be found this morning. A review of the condition of the several departments shows about the following state of affairs: The local wheat market continues quiet with but little offering and not much inquiry. The Chicago market has stiffened up within the past day or two, but there, as elsewhere, there is an absence of animation. The corn market continues overstocked and demoralized; prices are now below lay-down cost. The receipts of hay have fallen off, but the supply is still in excess of present wants. The local flour market continues devoid of any special new features. The demand is light, while prices remain practically unchanged. An improvement is looked for at an early day.

In the grocery line, aside from a slight advance in roasted coffee, there is but little to note. A good estimate of the new crop in Brazil cannot be made until about the middle of this month, and business is likely to be light in the meantime. Raw sugars are reported easier, and the poorer grades of New Orleans molasses have declined within the past few days. A New York exchange views the canned goods trade as follows: "For all descriptions of canned goods the market continues extremely dull. Corn is yet freely offered, and at exceedingly low prices, and while attention is withheld to-day the turn of the year may completely change the situation by arousing some speculative attention. Consumption is steadily progressing, and now prices are very apt to stimulate it. Tomatoes are offered at very favorable prices, but momentarily there is no disposition among the trade to handle quantities.
