Great Improvements.

It is not many years ago people traveled on horseback or by stages; now fifty miles an hour is not fast enough for them. Formerly people wrote letters that were weeks in reaching their destination; now the telegraph flashes thought around the world. Formerly doctors bled their patients for nearly every complaint; now they use advanced science of the highest order. Prof. Austin Flint of Bellevue College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis I have found Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success." The well known Dr. R. W. Hutchinson, of New York says: "I highly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice." Rev. S. Mills, of Princeton, Iowa, says: "I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian clergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's Malt Whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one." no21-7th

Medical.

"A Priceless Blessing."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is the best remedy for Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, and all the sudden Throat and Lung Troubles to which young people are subject. Keep this medicine in the house. Hon. C. Edwards Lester, late U. S. Consul to Italy, and author of various popular works, writes:—

"With all sorts of exposure, in all sorts of climates, I have never, to this day, had any cold nor any affection of the throat or lungs which did not yield to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral within 24 hours. Of course I have never allowed myself to be without this remedy in all my voyages and travels. Under my own observation, it has given relief to a vast number of persons; while in acute cases of pulmonary inflammation, such as croup and diphtheria in children, life has been preserved through its effects. I recommend its use in light and frequent doses. Properly administered, in accordance with your directions, it is a priceless blessing in any house."

The Intelligencer.

Office: Nos. 25 and 27 Fourteenth Street.

O! GIVE THANKS.

For the Intelligencer.

Thank the Lord for life and health;
For your pleasant neighbor;
Thank him for a share of wealth,
And for steady labor.

Thank Him for a true helpmeet;
For your girls and boys;
Thank Him for enough to eat,
And for household joys.

Thank Him lastly, not the least—
Praise and thank Him bravely—
For this yearly turky feast,
The stuffing and the gravy.

THE GENTLER SEX.

Matters of Interest to the Intelligencer's Lady Readers.

Thanksgiving Texts.

There is a great deal in this world to be thankful for, says the Philadelphia Times, and if women are wise they will count their benefits before Thanksgiving Day comes.

They should be thankful that bonnets are not as high as they were.

That bustles and reeds are gone and women can sit down comfortably.

That it is fashionable to be clean and wholesome.

That children in silks are supposed to the product of side streets—sensible mothers putting their little folks in warm woollens.

That buttons are made to button.

That the woman who is the most quiet in her manners and in her gowning is best form.

That the man who has pleasant rather than unkind opinions of women is welcomed everywhere.

That the elderly man with a manner is not laughed at, but respected.

Advice to Women Investors.

Do not take the opinion of any one person or set of persons regarding an investment. Hardly a day passes that you do not read an account in the paper of women swindled out of thousands of dollars by trusting too much to one individual. The latest instance comes to hand of a rogue in New Hampshire, who swindled nearly a score of women out of $50,000 on forged notes and mortgages, whereas, if a competent lawyer had searched the titles and recorded the deeds properly, they could have at least caught the swindler before all the harm had been done. It was said of this man, "he operated largely among women and people not accustomed to the details of business."

It behooves women to be constantly on the alert when they have money to invest, to watch carefully their investment, and place around it every safeguard, and not rely too much on any one person's opinion or advice.

A Waterproof Hat.

London ladies are wearing a sailor hat made of waterproof cashmere. It is easily made and should be popular—in fact, any hatter or milliner can make one. Properly and plainly trimmed, they should be all but indestructible.

A Female Athlete.

That was a lady to beware of that James Payne tells of in the London Illustrated News: "Miss Phœbe Bonn, of Matlock, never made an exhibition of herself in anyway, but William Hutton, in one of his tours, speaks of her with wonder as well as praise. 'Her step, at thirty, was very manly, and could cover forty miles a day.' She could lift a hundred weight with each hand, and, with the wind in her face, send her voice a mile. 'She could knit, cook and spin, but hated them all with every accomplishment to the female character except modesty.' If any gentleman made a mistake as to this latter attribute, she knocked him down. She could hold the plough, drive the team and thatch the rick, but her chief avocation was breaking in horses, without a saddle at a guinea a week. She was an excellent shot and a great reader; fond of Shakespeare, and, doubtless, also, of the musical classics, since she played the bass viol in Matlock church."

For Buttons and Cards.

It has been discovered that the pretty girl who takes time by the forelock in her work for the holidays is busying herself just now with all manner of dainty mutilities in the way of bags. For her dearest girl friend she makes button bags, six tiny ones, all on a string. Each is made out of a scrap of bright hued silk, and every scrap is of a different color. A rainbow tinted collection is produced, very kaleidoscopic and cheerful. The object of the button bag multiplication is to separate more effectually buttons of different ranks and degrees. For her best young man—alas, in his inmost soul he may call it "jinks" and smile upon it derisively—she makes a card bag. This is of silk, satin or plush and just large enough for a pack of cards. On the outside is applique in colors an exact similitude of the queen of hearts. This is couched down with embroidery threads and elaborately wrought with silken stitches.

Strange Occupations for Women.

At Martha's Vineyard a dumb woman owns and manages a schooner and earns a living as a fisherman. Between times she peddles threads and buttons along the coast. At Cincinnati there is also a boat woman who earns her living on the water. In Maine many women are farmers, working from 200 to 300 acres and, of course, finding time to read the magazines. At Louisville a Mrs. Shelby is sexton of St. John's cemetery. At Gardiner, Me., Mrs. Preble is a marble and granite cutter, employing ten or twelve men. In New York City Mrs. Gill is a shoemaker. The best of her work is cobbling. Also in New York Mrs. Emma Yewdell gets along fairly well keeping a livery stable. San Francisco and Brooklyn have each a woman blacksmith. Miss Lena Seigfried, of New Orleans, is a bird hunter, living on her father's schooner, and able to kill, clean and prepare more birds to the hour than any male hunter along the coast. In New Orleans more than in any other city we have women engaged in occupations unusual to the sex. Here are to be found women editors, merchants, florists, dairy farmers and manufacturers in great numbers, all earning good sums of money.

Items for Women.

Clothespins boiled a few minutes and quickly dried, once or twice a month, become more durable.

A woman may think a man is a genius, before marriage, but she calls him by some other name afterwards.

The best way when hot grease has been spilled on the floor is to dash cold water over it so as to harden it quickly and prevent it striking into the board.

The newest belt buckles are so long that the wearer must stand erect, under penalty of breaking them. They are of silver or gold, finely wrought and chased.

Make starch with soapy water, and you will find it a pleasure to do up your starched clothes. It prevents the iron from sticking and makes a glossy surface.

Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, says his daughter-in-about as skilled in law as he is. She acts as his amanuensis, and advises with him when doubtful points arise.

There has not been a winter for many a year when it was possible to have skirts so light and yet fashionable, but the tailors persist in making them heavy by facing the underskirt unnecessarily high. One would like to see a man try to walk in an ulster stiffened and doubled in the skirt, says a Boston Transcript writer.

WHAT I know about that standard remedy—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—I know that a 25-cent bottle cured me of a bad cough in twelve hours. It is a fact.

"THE SHELTERING ARMS."

A Thanksgiving Appeal from a Worthy Institution, by the Board of Officers.

A Thanksgiving petition has been issued to the public by the Sheltering Arms Hospital, Orphanage and Home, at Point Creek, Kanawha county, and signed by Bishop Peterkin, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, as President of the Board. The address sets forth the condition of the institution, the good work that is being done, and says as to its needs:

We are depending largely upon the offerings of money and provisions, which shall be made on Thanksgiving Day, to enable us to go on with our work.

The case stands just this way: we are compelled to have a certain staff of workers on hand, without which we can do nothing; and they must be provided for, whether we have few or many patients. We have now—beside the Superintendent, whose time is largely taken up in the work indicated above; and the resident physician—one trained nurse, thoroughly competent and faithful; a cook, a chamber-maid, a gardener, who is also a carpenter, and a boy of all work. We keep one horse and a cow. We need a matron and an additional nurse, but will have to wait for them.

We started in July with six beds, kindly given by some friends in Philadelphia. I am happy to say that friends in our State have recently given twelve additional beds, with mattresses. We shall need some sheets, pillows, blankets, comforts and quilts. We have also had a wagon given, and we hope, with increasing revenue, to have no trouble in feeding the horse.

We would desire on Thanksgiving Day to have donations of money, (which answers all things), and provisions of various kinds, tea, coffee, sugar, and other groceries, including canned goods and delicacies for the sick; and then the more substantial articles, such as flour and bacon. We also need soap and many other things which the kind thoughtfulness of our friends may suggest.

Perhaps the most pressing need is a plentiful supply of water, with complete arrangements for use throughout the house. For this we should be compelled to have a tank filled from the river by a ram. For this in all its details about $600 will be necessary, and we are waiting for some liberal and willing heart to do the work.

The Bishop concludes a stirring appeal as follows:

"I trust that all who can will feel it a privilege on this our annual devotion day to lend a helping hand to this good work.

Ringing Noises

in the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine. 1

The Sultan of Turkey has begun the study of German. He has learned to say "zwei bier," in anticipation of his visit to Berlin.

CATARRH,

Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of the discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above. TThSaSOW

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Money on call easy, ranging from 2@7 per cent, last loan 6 per cent, closed at 5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 6@7½ per cent. Sterling Exchange quiet and steady at $4 80¾@4 85. Sales of stock 337,736 shares.

The stock market was generally easier to day, and as far as the general list was concerned this expectation was realized, the trading being of the retail order. First prices in most cases are slightly lower than last evening. Missouri Pacific was subjected to pressure in the early trading, and it yielded over 1 per cent. Tennessee coal got up with a rush and reached still higher prices, touching 89¾, but it as quickly receded and dropped nearly 5 per cent from that point, closing at its lowest figure. Chicago Gas was the feature of the day, opening at 53 against 55½ last evening; it suddenly dropped to 48½ before a check was put to the decline. The market closed quiet but rather heavy at a shade better than the lowest price. The list is all lower, though the changes are generally for slight fractions, exceptions being Chicago Gas 9 per cent, Denver, Texas & Fort Worth 2½, Sugar 2¼, Missouri Pacific 1½ per cent.

Railroad bonds quiet; sales $1,305,000.

Government and State bonds dull and steady.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Another rainy day keeps up the weather depression upon trade in dry goods, though this is more felt in retail than in wholesale branches, where it is still somewhat between seasons and naturally more or less quiet at this season. Moreover business at first hands is more advanced than usual, and the market is consequently in excellent condition. Accumulations are exceptional. The market was without change or new feature. Holl lay feeling is uppermost just now, but in a few days more activity may be expected.

Metals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Pig iron firm at $16 50@19 00. Copper strong; lake 14 00. Lead quiet at $3 82½. Tin dull; straits $21 85.
