Something Wrong Somewhere

—a dozen symptoms tell you so. Disordered stomach, unstrung nerves and loss of appetite; a feeling of indifference for the world and everybody in it, including yourself; eruptions that try to force the "badness" out through the skin all tell their tale.

It's Your Blood

that's raising all this disturbance. You'd turn away in disgust from a polluted stream of water, but you'll let your blood—the food of your vital organs—remain in just this condition. Don't do it; take

Brown's Iron Bitters

FROM LOUISVILLE.

*A Wheeling Veteran Writes of the Encampment as He Saw It.

A GREAT AND GRAND REUNION

Of North and South—The Veterans were Given a Rousing Welcome and are Loud in Their Praises of Louisville's Hospitality—A Colored Man's Idea of the Encampment. The Chickamauga National Park.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 13.—This week has been an epoch in the history of Louisville, and one of the principal things it has done is the manner in which the kinks have been knocked out of "Old Glory" and the freedom with which it has waved to the whole people of a reunited country. Louisville was the one city of the south which, it was claimed, a mistake was made in selecting for the twenty-ninth annual encampment of the G. A. R. This week has proven otherwise and the encampment of 1895 goes down into history as one of the most successful ever held.

Whole train loads of strangers started to come into the city Sunday, and it is estimated that during the week half a million outsiders have gathered here from all parts of the country; and all for reverence of the boys of '61 in the hearts of the people. For there must be some feeling akin to love that would induce them to come hundreds of miles to do honor to the memory of the deeds of the war period. And the veterans of then—the heroes of now—have shown the world that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"Old Glory" has been honored this week as never before in Louisville. Not that I mean that the people here held it less in reverence before, but that this week has done much to show the greatness of the country that is represented by the red, white and blue. It is not the colors that are looked to, but what the colors represent; for had the Congress of the revolutionary times selected any other colors than those which it did, they would have been looked upon the same as the stars and stripes have been looked to here.

A WEEK OF REUNION.

The week has done much for the old soldier. Faces that had not seen each other since the war were assembled here, and during the hearty hand shake sentiments were exchanged that does one good to hear. A kind word was said for Louisville, and her history of the sixties was told over again. And she was praised for the progress and improvement that has taken place since then.

Those who remembered Louisville as she appeared then were surprised, and made no hesitation in praising the choice for the encampment for 1895.

The colored man has had his say this week. He realizes that this gathering of peace is only after that one which was of war, and that he was the principal factor in the drama of '61. Or, as one with whom I had a conversation put it, "the Grand Army Republicans are comin' caus' Abr'm Linkum made the cullud folks free."

Lincoln has been talked about as "the greatest American living or dead," and Kentucky, especially, this week of all weeks, is proud of her gift—her greatest gift—to the nation. His birthplace has been visited by thousands.

This week has shown something to the world that anywhere else would have been impossible. Thirty-five years ago the Yankees paid their first visit to Dixie land. Then they came not in the spirit of to-day, but in the spirit of a people who are right in their opinions and are willing to take their stand and on it live or die—with faces stern, and hearts true as steel, and a determination to have but one country and one flag. They come now at the invitation of the southern people to accept the hospitality of those who are of the one country and one flag.

The blue and the gray have mingled together, and the jolly blue coats smile while "Dixie Land" is sung. Then they cheer each other as brothers and wish a farewell with "let us have peace."

CHICKAMAUGA PARK.

On September 19 will be dedicated the Chickamauga National Military Park. In this region occurred the battles of Lookout Mountain, Orchard Knob and Missionary Ridge. Chickamauga Battlefield Park, established by act of Congress two years ago, will be one of the most comprehensive and wonderful object lessons in the world. Its more than 7,600 acres of land have been purchased from the owners, and as nearly as possible the entire ground fought over has been returned to the condition in which it was left at the close of the battle, or more properly speaking, of the battles, for there were a series in and around Chattanooga, known as Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Orchard Knob and Missionary Ridge, occupying the attention of the two forces from September 19, 1863, till November 25.

The four great national parks are Gettysburg, Antietam, Shiloh and Chickamauga. Unfortunately, in the case of Gettysburg, the thought came almost too late and it was not until a great moneyed corporation, had blasted a trolley line along the line of fiercest fighting, cutting out many of the historic points, that the matter was brought before Congress, but, to its credit, it acted quickly.

ORIGINAL LINES RESTORED.

In the case of Chickamauga the fighting positions of all the batteries will be marked as they are identified by guns of the same kind used in the battle by the battery and mounted upon cast iron carriages so as to be an exact reproduction of the carriages of 1861. Every state of the south and nearly all of the north had troops engaged in this battle, and Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri had almost as many engaged on the one side as on the other. At present twenty-three of the states have made provision for the location of the lines of the troops from their state. Some of the states have contributed as high as $100,000. The original appropriation of the government was $125,000.

The entire battle field covers gently rolling ground, with sharp hills in the western part, a slight plateau in the east and abrupt knobs at intervals. As a great deal of this ground is unfit for cultivation it lies in exactly the same condition it was in thirty-two years ago.

The average losses on each side for the troops which fought through the two days were fully 33 per cent, while for many portions of the line the loss reached 50 per cent, and for some even 75 per cent. Such a battle field is an object lesson of what is possible in American fighting.

On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

LOUISVILLE NOTES.

President Zachary Taylor, who distinguished himself during the Mexican war, lies buried at the old home stead, six miles out the Brownsboro road.

The famous statue of Henry Clay, by Hart, is in the rotunda of the court house.

The first bloodshed that occurred in Louisville during the war occurred at Fourth and Jefferson streets, where a man was killed for shouting for Jeff Davis.

Although no battle was fought nearer than Perryville to Louisville, there were many soldiers here all during the war. Federal hospitals were numerous, and many soldiers passed through here on their way home after the war closed.

There was no bridge across the Ohio river here during the war and all of the troops came over on the ferries. The old J., M. & I. brought in all of the troops from Indianapolis, and they went home via this line after the war.

Jeffersonville, just across the river, made all the crackers used in the army during the war. Ask any Wheeling veteran if they were hard. At Jeffersonville also is the United States quartermasters' depot, the largest in the United States, from which army clothing and supplies to the amount of millions of dollars are annually sent out. PARKERSBURG PRESBYTERY

Closes its Session at That City—Consul Munchmeyer's Death.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 13.—The presbytery of Parkersburg finished its fall session here last night. It adjourned to meet at Kingwood, October 7, for the ordination and installation of Rev. Mr. Hackett. Yesterday afternoon was given up to routine work, discussion of the needs of the weak churches, mission work, etc.

The following commissioners were elected to the synod, which meets at Butler, Pa., next month: Revs. L. W. Barr, of Fairmont; J. F. Baxter, of Ravenswood, and Charles L. White, of Clarksburg; and Elders Montgomery, of Mannington, Cox, of Pleasant Grove, and Thorn, of Wyoma.

There was a large representation present from all parts of the state.

Rev. L. W. Barr was elected moderator to succeed the Rev. Mr. Day.

The news of Consul Fred Munchmeyer's death at San Salvador was first received by the people of this city through the dispatch from Washington published in the INTELLIGENCER.

Mr. and Mrs. Munchmeyer and three little children, and Miss Mollie Lou Stephenson, Mrs. Munchmeyer's sister, left this city last February for San Salvador. It was against the wish of their relatives and friends that they went there as they knew that Mr. Munchmeyer's predecessor had been stricken down with yellow fever at his post of duty.

The dead man's parents reside at Washington P. O., six miles below this city.

A Woman's Heroism.

CHEYENNE, WYO., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Olstrom, wife of a section foreman, saved the west-bound fast mail train on the Union Pacific from a frightful wreck near Wolcott station, six miles from Rawlins. She discovered that a wooden bridge spanning a small gully crossed by the track was burning. Mrs. Olstrom ran down the track and flagged the train, which was stopped within thirty feet of the blazing bridge. The timbers were burned to such an extent that the train would have carried down the bridge. The passengers on the fast mail made up a purse of $50 for the woman.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MUNYON THEIR LEADER.

Prominent People Pledged to Support Humane Methods.

Splendid Work Accomplished by the Eminent Professor.

Mrs. John Serven, 310 West Fourth street, New York city, says: "Professor Munyon's Remedies have really saved me a small fortune in doctor's fees. We have had a great deal of sickness in our family, and I used to call a physician for my little ones several times a week. Now I am glad to say that we have not employed a doctor for two years. Whenever anyone is ill a few doses of Munyon's Remedies act like magic, and save us long spells of sickness. We have used Munyon's Cures with wonderful success in colds, coughs, fevers, sore throat, diarrhœa, liver complaint and dyspepsia, and, in fact, in all kinds of sickness. For myself, I have been cured of asthma by Munyon's Asthma Remedies."

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure cures all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles, such as constipation, rising of food, distress after eating, bloating of the stomach, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and all affections of the heart caused by indigestion. It soothes, heals and invigorates stomachs that have been weakened by over-eating, or where the lining of the stomach has been impaired by physic and injurious medicines. Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Homœopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Money on call firmer at 1@1½ per cent; last loan 1½ per cent; closed at 1½ per cent. Small lots loaned at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3½@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange dull at $4 90. Silver certificates 67@67½c.

The eccentricity of movement which has nearly all of the week characterized the speculation in Wall street was again conspicuous today. The volume of the transactions in stocks exceeded the record of the previous day by 160,000 shares, and the distribution of the business was excellent. The leaders in point of activity were Sugar and Tennessee Coal. The local market developed weakness at the outset on rapidly succeeding announcements of engagements of gold for export to-morrow, aggregating up to 11 o'clock $2,000,000. Ordinarily the expectation that the government bond syndicate would come to the rescue would have offset even larger exports, but undoubtedly a favored few were taking advantage of prior knowledge of an event that soon threw the financial community at large temporarily into a semi-panic. This was the startling announcement that Messrs. Lazard & Freres, who previous to the formation of the government bond syndicate had been among the largest shippers of gold to international movements, had engaged $2,000,000 in gold for export to-morrow. As this firm has been a leading member of the syndicate, the news demoralized the general market, and the inference immediately became general that the famous syndicate, which up to the present time had successfully carried out one of the most remarkable financial undertakings on record, had abandoned the unequal task of maintaining the treasury reserve at the $100,000,000 point. The early declines in prices ranged from ½ to 2½ per cent in the grangers, while Sugar dropped 3½ per cent. Other losses reached 2½ per cent in the coalers and 2½ per cent in the specialties. Tennessee Coal made the extreme loss. After 1 o'clock the bear element made another drive, which carried prices down ½@2½ per cent, and this movement was effected in the teeth of the news of the deposit of gold with the treasury by the city banks. A rally then ensued of ½ to 2½ per cent from the low prices of the day. In the last half hour realizing sales were executed, resulting in concessions in the list extending to 2½ per cent in Lake Erie & Western preferred. The market closed weak, with material general losses as compared with the final prices of the previous day.

Bonds were more animated and weak. The sales were $2,195,000.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 454,441 shares.

Government bonds firm.

State bonds inactive.

Railroad bonds weak.
