Washington News.

JUNE 26.—Paine's bill giving arms to the State Militia, was referred to the Military Committee.

Hinds introduced a joint resolution extending the bill of 1864 limiting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims to cases of loyal citizens of Arkansas, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

A bill directing the Comptroller of Currency to publish the assets and the location of national banks in liquidation quarterly. Passed.

Distilled spirits was reduced to $50,000, and with bank and bankers' tax as reported by the committee, the bill was passed and goes to the Senate.

The law for removing whiskey from bond has been extended from one hundred days to six months, when it will be sold at auction for more less than the tax—net surplus goes to the owner.

McCulloch won't resign. Its very doubtful whether the President desires his resignation.

Paine's bill furnishing arms to militia, authorizes the Secretary of War to supply each Congressional District with 2000 rifles and a battery, upon the assurance that militia organizations in the respective districts are loyal.

In the Senate—A petition by telegraph from California, was presented, asking the reduction of the grape brandy tax.

JUNE 27.—The President told Grant unless he moved promptly in the matter affecting the Columbus prisoners, he (the President) would act himself.

The investigation by the military commission into the Auburn murder will commence on Monday.

The law ignoring votes of citizen soldiers in the recent municipal election is a law by the lapse of ten days.

General Grant has telegraphed to McDowell to turn over Arkansas to the civil authorities as soon as it is safe.

Colonel Lamar, who has been here, and in New York in the interest of the Columbus prisoners, leaves homeward to-night. Prominent lawyers in New York have volunteered to defend the prisoners. The President's special agent to investigate the matter is an officer, and brother of General Schofield.

The Secretary has issued a circular warning the people that taxes and all dues arising under the revenue laws, whether from fines or penalties, can only be receipted for by bonded officers, or in certain cases, by clerks of the courts. All direct or implied authority to special agents to collect money is revoked.

JUNE 29.—The President's family have departed to spend the Summer in Tennessee.

The Senate has confirmed Admiral Dalgreen Chief of the Ordnance Bureau.

The Deficiency bill reported in the House to-day, appropriates $520,000 for reconstruction purposes.

Cobb introduced the following: Resolved that the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to report without unnecessary delay, a bill levying a tax of at least 10 per cent. on the interest of bonds of the United States, to be assessed and collected annually by the Secretary of the Treasury, and such subordinate officers as are charged with the duty of paying the interest on the bonded debt of the United States. Price inquired if that included bonds held by foreign countries. Cobb replied that it did, and demanded the previous question. Allison asked if the resolution was mandatory. The Speaker replied affirmatively. The House refused to second the previous question. Washburn, of Indiana, moved to lay the motion on the table, which was negatived—yeas 27, nays 100. Price moved to refer it to the Committee of Ways and Means, the previous question was seconded. Butler asked what would be the effect of this vote. The Speaker replied that the effect would be to refer the resolution without instruction. Blair asked if the Committee of Ways and Means was not privileged to report anything. The Speaker replied that it was. Butler said, "But everybody knows they will not report the resolution back unless they are compelled to do so." In answer to further inquiries the Speaker explained, that as the previous question was not operating of the House refused to refer the resolution, the question would recur upon its passage. The House refused to refer the resolution. Yeas, 61; nays, 30. The question then recurred upon agreeing to the resolution and the resolution was agreed to. Yeas, 92; nays, 54. The Democrats excepting Sitgraves voting aye.

The river and harbor bill as reported, $115,000 for the Tennessee River was adopted. $18,000 was appropriated for experiments in shifting sluices. Also, an appropriation for surveying the Ouachita and White Rivers, in Arkansas. The bill was concluded without definite action.

In the Senate bill providing when any State in arrears to interest on bonds, held in trust for the Federal Government, shall withhold money due said State, was passed.

JUNE 30.—In the Senate to-day, a resolution of the Texas Reconstruction Convention, narrating the disorders and anarchies in the State, was referred to the Military Committee.

Thomas W. Osborne, as Senator from Florida, was declared entitled to his seat by a vote of 33 to 8.

It is evident that the object of the Republicans is to make the financial question the paramount issue in the approaching contest, ignoring the condition of the South and the Reconstruction acts, or at least making it a secondary issue.

The credentials of the Florida representatives were presented, and referred to the Election Committee.

The river and harbor improvement bill, without any amendment affecting the South, was passed and goes to the Senate.

A joint resolution to adjourn on the 15th of July was passed—yeas 91, nays 47.

Crowds of delegates are in the city on their way to the New York Convention. The sentiments of some of the Southern delegates give a glow to Hancock's prospects though the united current for Chase is quite strong.

JULY 1.—Hamilton, member of the House from Florida, was sworn in.

In the Senate, Trumbull spoke against the bill, excluding Southern States from the Electoral College, and he moved to strike from the bill, Florida and Arkansas. No action was taken.

The House had under consideration the Alaska bill. Washburne, of Wisconsin, opposed any appropriation to carry the treaty into effect. The understanding is that a vote will be taken Thursday next.

The President has removed General McDowell from the command of the Fourth Military District. He is ordered to report to the War Department without delay. Gillem succeeds McDowell.
