Rally for Seymour and Blair.

BY W. A. SWINNOCK.

Again the cry rings through the land,
That calls the Democratic band,
To meet once more with heart and hand,
And strike for freedom's banners!
Rally the Democratic pall,
From State to State, across the land,
From North and South, from brothers all,
We want no man to smoke and drink,
We have one who can speak and think,
And save us from the crumbling brink
Of ruin by taxation.
Horatio Seymour is the man,
Of gathering hosts he leads the van,
And by his sound financial plan,
Will guard and save the nation.

We'll have no slave to rum or smoke,
'Tis not the hour to palm a joke,
But one who loves his country's weal,
Of iron usurpation;
Who'll sound the tocsin of reform;
Who'll guide the ship safe through the storm,
Curtail expense of every form,
And save repudiation.

We've found the man, New York's brave son;
Ring out the bells, and fire the gun!
The victory of peace is won,
When Seymour heads the army;
The hosts are gathering for the fight,
The plundering crew are put to flight,
And soon we'll have one law of right,
In Maine and Alabama.

March on, march on, ye true and brave!
Let despotism find a grave,
The laws and Constitution save,
While wrath and strife go under.
Let he who is the people's friend,
Proclaim rebellion at an end,
The mob down to the shades descend,
Beneath their load of plunder.

Already beam the brighter skies,
And thanks from human hearts arise,
With volunteers and full supplies,
For Freedom's bold defenders;
With Seymour brave, and gallant Blair,
Placed in the Presidential chair,
Greenbacks and Gold one price shall bear,
And both be legal tenders.

Then rise ye men with hearts of steel!
Upon us rests a Nation's weal.
A nation's heart e'er long shall feel
The bond of our communion;
Hate love shall take the place of hate,
When statesmen fill the chair of State,
The Nation's nuisances abate,
With Seymour, Blair and Union.

SOUTHERN CARPET-BAGGERS AND THE CAMPAIGN.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says:

All the advices received here recently from the South represent carpet-bagism as on its death-bed. With the exception of Florida and South Carolina, all the Southern States are conceded as certain to go for Seymour and Blair. The radical organizations in the reconstructed regions are dwindling away rapidly, and defection has reached their very stronghold with such alarming results that the carpet-bag heroes see nothing but ruin ahead. The most intelligent blacks have determined to join hands with their old masters and thus drive away the carpet-bag adventurers from the South to their native element.

There is danger of a general war on the western and southwestern frontier; and that it will be inevitable unless great prudence be exercised by the military. If measures other than prudential ones be not taken, and if an indiscriminate onslaught on the Indians be commenced, there is reason to fear, from the known spirit of the army, that there will be a disastrous war of indefinite continuance, drawing into its vortex thousands of Indians now at peace with the United States, and, besides the cost of lives, involving the government in the expenditure of millions of dollars. The present difficulties originated with less than two hundred and fifty of the Cheyennes, Arapahoes and Sioux. They are called the Dog Soldiers, are young men, and started for Nebraska to punish their hereditary enemies, the Pawnees. Passing through the intermediate country they committed the murders and other outrages to which publicity has already been given. Acting in this way, not only against treaty obligations, but contrary to the wishes of the confederated nation to which they belong.
