LOCAL MATTERS.

JOB WORK.—We have now completed our office so as to execute, in the shortest possible time ALL KINDS OF JOB WORK, and we most respectfully ask the patronage of our friends.

Post Office Notice.

POST OFFICE, CHARLESTON, S. C., July 6, 1867.

After to-day the mails for Northeastern Railroad will close at 8 o'clock A.M., and to-day and afterwards they are expected to reach the Railroad "Station" at 2:30 o'clock P.M., and to be ready for delivery at this office at 3:30 o'clock P.M., except on Sunday, when the hour will be from 6 P.M. to 7 P.M., until further notice.

STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

—o—

POSTOFFICE NOTICE.—An evening mail for Augusta and Savannah, and for distribution beyond those offices, will close daily at the Postoffice at half-past 6 o'clock.

—o—

SALE OF THE STEAMER VOLUNTEER.—The steamer Volunteer, her tackle and apparel was sold yesday by Messrs STENHOUSE & Co., for the sum of $680 cash.

—o—

ON THE WING.—The steamer from Georgetown brought among her passengers five gentleman of color, who are on their way to the Penitentiary, where they propose to pass a short time for their country's good. They were convicted of various offences, from cattle stealing to general larceny; but were firmly convinced of their own innocence and disposed to murmur at their lot. During their stay in this city they were caged at the Detective office, but leave to-day.

—o—

ROBBERY.—On Tuesday night about 10 o'clock, a United States soldier lodged information at the office of the detective police that he was robbed of a watch and some greenbacks in Elliott street, by a woman named EMMA HAMILTON. The Chief of the Detectives, acting on the information, arrested Mrs. EMMA, who returned the watch and fifteen dollars of the stolen money. The matter has been turned over to Captain SIGWALD, Chief of Police, for further examination.

—o—

THE RAFFLE OF COL. LAURENS' GOLD SNUFF BOX.—The Baltimore Gazette says that for some time a valuable gold snuff box, studded with fifty-six diamonds, one of the relics of the days of the Revolution, has been at the jewelry establishment of Messrs. WILLIAMS, BROWN & SON, at the corner of Baltimore and Charles streets, to be raffled for the benefit of Mrs. LAURENS, the owner, a widow lady of South Carolina, who lost all her means by the late war. It was presented by LOUIS XVI of France to Colonel JOHN LAURENS, of South Carolina, an aide to General WASHINGTON. It remained in the family until necessity compelled its disposal. On Friday last the drawing for the historical relic took place, and it was awarded to ticket No. 210, belonging to Mrs. HILL, of New York.

—o—

COTTON TIES.—Those interested in Cotton Ties are requested to call at the Ship's Cotton Press, corner of Anson and Hayne streets, and examine a bale of cotton compressed with the LEWIS Cotton Tie. This Tie differs from all others of the same class of Ties, called Self-fastening Ties, in its having an outside adjustment, without which the inventor contends no band can be properly or expeditiously secured to a bale of cotton. Mr. LEWIS is a citizen of Charleston. The Ties on the bale were made for him in 1860, when he was prepared to place them in the market. The war has left him without the means to introduce them, and he is anxious that some capitalist who can see money in the invention should take an interest in the patent. The patent broadly covers the outside adjustment in this class of Ties. The patent was granted in 1859, at which time he also received a patent for another Cotton Tie, which likewise is front-adjusting and self-fastening, which has valuable catures.

—o—

GREAT REDUCTION IN CLOTHING AT THE KING STREET DEPOT.—Mr. WM. C. MATTHIESSEN, the prince of clothiers, advertises in to-day's issue that he has reduced the price on his entire stock fully twenty per cent, and can now offer inducements that are irresistible to any one who believes that the human form divine looks diviner when arrayed in good clothes. Mr. MATTHIESSEN has had a long experience in the clothing business, and his stock has always contained every article needed by the sterner sex. He still continues this practice, and though the price is considerably lower than it was, the variety is the same and the material as good.

Mr. MATTHIESSEN is ably assisted by Capt. McTUREOUS, who has long been engaged in this business, and is a thorough expert. The hot weather necessitates a full wardrobe, and there are few places where it can be replenished with more pleasure to the wearer than at Mr. MATTHIESSEN'S. We commend our readers to his establishment, knowing that they will be both fitted and suited.

—o—

THE GREAT SEABOARD AND INLAND AIR LINE.—A grand consolidation of the different railroads between this city and points further North has at last been effected, and a route is now opened that offers to merchants and shippers unparalleled advantages. Every effort has been made by the Agents and Managers of this route to insure a quick transmission of goods, and all losses are promptly adjusted. The tariff charged on the freights has been reduced to the lowest point, and goods can be sent by this route as safely and as cheaply as by a steamer.

We learn that a number of our prominent merchants have embraced the offers made by the agents of this line, and are now ordering goods by it. Other parties who have become interested in the subject are only awaiting the circulars which will soon be issued. Mr. W. T. J. O. WOODWARD, an old resident of this city, is the General Agent for this line, and will be pleased to give any information regarding the roads and the facilities offered by them for freights.

—o—

THE DESTITUTION IN THE COUNTRY.—The failure of the last year's crop brought an unparalleled amount of suffering upon the country, and affected all alike. The poor were completely destitute, while those in better circumstances had their hands tied, and both were compelled to appeal to the Bureau for assistance. The Florence Gazette, in referring to this subject, says we learn that the cry for the prime necessaries of life—corn and bacon—still prevail to an alarming extent. To show the great want to which people had been driven, we learn that one hundred thousand pounds of bacon and five thousand bushels of corn were given out at Darlington for lions on the crops, on Monday, 15th instant. Besides this, two thousand bushels of corn have been given away exclusively to the destitute. In our own immediate section only about two thousand bushels have been taken, secured leins, &c., making in all nine thousand bushels of corn received in our District since January last. Truly we ought to feel grateful, if our wants are so great, and that our demands can and are being supplied.

—o—

DIFFICULTY BETWEEN THE CIVIL AND THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES AT MARION COURT HOUSE.—The Marion Star contains the following account of a conflict between the civil authorities and the military stationed at that post:

There occurred at this place on Saturday last a most unfortunate and mischievous collision of the military authority with the regular administration of justice. A freedman, named Ben. Finklea, had been arrested and imprisoned, under due process of law, for an assault and battery, with intent to kill, upon the person of William McClellan. Captain Pingree and Mr. J. E. Lewis representing the Freedman's Bureau, called upon Mr. Moody, Clerk of our Court, and required him to discharge the prisoner upon his own recognizance. This he refused to do, declaring that both the State law and Order No. 10, of General Sickles, required in criminal cases that the usual recognizances should be given and that there must be bail, that in this case the physician attending the assaulted party had informed him that he was in a critical condition, and that his recovery was very doubtful; that to release the prisoner under those circumstances would violate his sworn duty to the State laws, and the express provisions of paragraph eleven, of Order No. 10, to which he especially called the attention of the officers of the Bureau. They replied that they had nothing to do with General Sickles' orders; that they acted under General Scott, who was the ruling power in this State, and would sustain their action in this case; that they had orders from him declaring that freedmen should not be required to give bail, and that they recognized him only, and that this negro should not give bail; that Congress would sustain General Scott in what he did. Mr. Moody still declining to discharge the prisoner upon his own recognizance, they called a freedman standing by, Coleman Alford, and instructed him to go to the jail and order the jailor to turn out the prisoner. Alford started off in hot haste, and on the verbal order delivered by the negro, the jailor turned the prisoner out and he is now at large. We have no wish to increase the excitement which this affair has occasioned, and will not assail the motives of the officers of the Bureau. In a conversation with Capt. Pingree afterward, in which we endeavored to convince him of his error, he assured us that he was acting in accordance with General Scott's decision in a similar case, and that whatever might be Gen. Sickles' orders, Gen. Scott would sustain him.

SALE OF A FLAT.—We direct attention to the sale of a fine flat, which will take place to-day, by Mr. J. A. THOURON. This flat is large, strong and perfect, and would be a valuable acquisition to a lumber mill.

—o—

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH.—On our first page will be found an interesting account of the origin, history, and present condition of this Institution. The Rev. JNO. H. CONNISH has been appointed agent to solicit contributions and subscriptions in this State. Mr. C. is now in Charleston on this mission, and we hope he will meet with such encouragement as his cause merits.

—o—

MAYOR'S COURT.—Two persons, who took the market for a meeting house and commenced harranguing each other in loud and angry tones, were interrupted in their discourse by their audience, and were fined $2 for their waste of words.

An individual, who thought the ills of this life were hard to bear, concluded he would lighten the burden by lying down, and choosing a soft flag stone, was soon in the land of forgetfulness. He found that the recipe was not a good one, and that he was not a free agent; for his snoring disturbed the neighbors, and he was toted off to a locality where he could indulge in his fondness for resting his head upon a lap of earth without incommoding those who were of a different opinion. A fine of $5 brought him up standing, and he will stick to the perpendicular in future.

Two darkies, who had taking proclivities, endeavored to cultivate an acquaintance with ham and eggs, but they missed their mark, and caught a tartar. The egg thief was confined to the dungeon for ten days, while his enlightened confrere, who walked away with the bacon, was cured of his propensity by a similar sentence.

A number of witnesses were examined, but the Court adjourned before the testimony was concluded, and the case will be continued to-day. She sues for $10,000 damages.

Verdict of the Faculty.

STIMULANTS INDISPENSABLE AS MEDICINES.

The most distinguished physicians in the United States have recently been placed on the witness stand, and have, with one voice, declared that pure stimulants are valuable medicinal agents. This decision of the faculty refers especially to medicated stimulants, of which the purest and the best at present known is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Its basis is the alcoholic principle of the finest rye grown in the United States, and its herbal ingredients comprise the extracts of a large number of plants, barks and roots produced in various parts of the world, and all noted in the countries to which they are indigenous for their powerful sanative properties. As an invigorant and tonic, the value of the Bitters can scarcely be overrated. Hence its extraordinary effect in fever and ague and intermittents and remittents of every type. Its anti-bilious properties are marvellous. Persons of bilious habit, by taking a small quantity once or twice a day, may completely change their constitutional tendency to liver disease, and escape all the unpleasant consequences which arise either from the undue sensitiveness or the unnatural torpidity of the biliary organ. Chronic constipation is eradicated thoroughly and in a very short space of time by small doses of this wholesome regular, taken night and morning; and for all the disorders which are superinduced by exhalations from decomposing vegetable and animal matter in the streets of cities, or the miasma of swampy districts; it is, when taken as a protective and preventive medicine, the most reliable of all safeguards.

TESTIMONIAL.

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL, ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, YALE COLLEGE, November 16, 1866.

I have always recommended the Faber Polygrade Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both ornamental and mathematical drawing; but, after a thorough trial of the American Polygrade Lead Pencils, manufactured by the American Lead Pencil Company, New York, I find them superior to any pencil in use, even to the Faber or the old English Cumberland Lead Pencil, being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and mechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead pencil.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead; even the softest pencils hold the point well; they are all that can be desired in a pencil. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or any other foreign market for pencils.

In introducing this new Power into the market, we would state that the following are some of the advantages possessed by the "LITTLE GIANT" over all other Horse powers:

1. Its great strength on account of being double-geared, which not only doubles the strength by dividing the strain on twice the number of teeth, but by gearing on both sides of the wheels it equalizes the wear on the shafts, and materially lessens the friction, enabling the horses to do much more work than with any other Power.

2. Its compactness and extreme portability, it weighing about one-half as much as other Horse Powers, and occupying but one-third the space, it can be packed in small boxes, thus saving much expense. It is so simple that the most ignorant person would have no difficulty in putting it together.

3. The facility with which it can be adjusted to any kind of machinery at any angle, either on the ground or over head, without moving it from its foundation, will be appreciated by farmers and planters as specially adapted for driving Cotton Gins.
