A Ditty.

My true love hath my heart, and I have his,
By just exchange one to the other given;
I hold his dear, and mine he cannot miss,
There never was a better bargain driven:
My true love hath my heart, and I have his.

His heart in me keeps him and me in one,
My heart in him his thoughts and senses guides;
He loves my heart, for once it was his own,
I cherish his because in me it bides:
My true love hath my heart, and I have his.
[Sir Philip Sidney.

The Money Market.

THURSDAY, November 4.

The market remains unchanged, with limited transactions and a general feeling of depression in business circles. We have no changes to report and renew our list of quotations, referring to them as merely nominal. Large payments were made at the different banks yesterday, which will doubtless relieve the present stringency in the money market. Money is 1½ ℘ cent. per month on good collaterals.

The Charleston Cotton Market.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4.

THE CROPS AND RECEIPTS.—A sharp frost having occurred over most of the cotton region during the past week, all further development of the plant has been stopped and the final result of the growth of the year has been reached. What this amount will finally be is quite uncertain, but judging from previous experience since the war, the yield is more likely to be estimated at over the actual product than short of it. Reports from the sea island cotton region mention that large numbers of pods, which some time since gave indication of coming to maturity, have suspended growth and are now drying up, and becoming utterly valueless. This is supposed to have been caused by the lessening of the vitality of the plant by the action of the caterpillar. The arrivals of uplands at the principal cotton ports have continued liberal, and were as follows up to the latest telegraphic dates:

	1869.	1868.
New Orleans, November 3	163,783	163,013
Mobile, November 3	58,218	45,615
Savannah, November 3	115,698	65,571
Charleston, November 3	65,724	35,119
Texas, October 29	23,489	21,533
Virginia, October 29	43,763	19,916

THE COTTON MARKET.—This staple has shown moderate stability during the week, and prices have varied but to a limited extent, the English market commencing at 12d and improving to 12½d; at New York the rates began at 26, hardened to 26½@26¾c and receded to 26½, while at this point the article has weakened; middlings beginning at 25 and receded to 24½c ℘ lb.

The Liverpool and New York markets have shown the following movements since our last report: On Friday, October 29, the former closed steady, uplands 12d, sales 12,000 bales; the latter was heavy and lower at 26c, sales 1500 bales. On Saturday the former closed buoyant, uplands 12d@12½d, sales 20,000 bales; the latter was a shade firmer at 26¼c, sales 2800 bales. On Monday the former was firm at 12½d, sales 15,000 bales; the latter was a shade firmer closing quiet at 26½c. On Tuesday the former was steady, uplands 12½d, sales 10,000 bales; the latter closed heavy at 26¼c, sales 2000 bales. On Wednesday the former was unchanged at 12½d, sales 12,000 bales; the latter was a shade easier at 26⅛c. Yesterday the former was unchanged, sales 12,000 bales; the latter was dull and nominal.

The arrivals at this port for the week have been 350 bales of sea islands and Floridas and 11,398 bales of uplands, against 389 bags of sea islands and Floridas and 10,532 bales of uplands the week before, and 251 bags of sea islands and Floridas and 6683 bales of uplands for the same week last year. These supplies have come from the following sources, say of uplands, per South Carolina Railroad, 9989 bales; per Northeastern Railroad, 1083; Savannah and Charleston Railroad, 57; Peedee, 197; wagons, 31; Georgetown, S C, 2; Santee, 16; James Island, 1; Cooper River, 1; Savannah, 5; Florida, 16. The operations in this market have been as follows:

On Friday, October 29, the transactions were limited and on somewhat easier terms, but factors were not generally willing to accept the rates offered by purchasers, and the market closed nominal; sales 275 bales; quotations were unreliable, say ordinary to good ordinary, 23½@24¼c ℘ lb; low middling, 24½c; middling, 25c, and strict middling, 25¼c ℘ lb.

On Saturday the market opened easier and irregular, prices declining in some instances ⅛@¼c ℘ lb, but after receipt of dispatches a better feeling prevailed, and the article closed somewhat firmer; sales about 650 bales, ordinary to good ordinary being quoted at 23½@24¼c; low middling 24½c; middling and strict middling 25c ℘ lb.

On Tuesday purchasers offered easier rates, which were generally unacceptable to factors, the market closing quiet and unchanged; sales 200 bales; quotations as before.
