Stark's Letter Accompanying the Gifts to Massachusetts.

"BENNINGTON, Sept. 15, 1877.

"Gen. Stark begs leave to present to the State of Massachusetts Bay, and pray their acceptance of the same, one Hessian gun and bayonet, one broadsword, one brass-barrelled drum, and one grenadier's cap, taken from the enemy in the memorable battle fought Walloomsac, on the 16th of August last; and requests that the same may be kept in commemoration of that glorious victory, obtained over the enemy that day, by the united troops of that State, those of New Hampshire and Vermont, which victory ought to be kept in memory, and handed down to futurity, as a lasting and laudable example for the sons and daughters of the victors, in order never to suffer themselves to become the prey of those mercenary tyrants and sycophants, who are daily endeavoring to ruin and destroy us."

Massachusetts, in accepting the trophies, replied as follows:

"BOSTON, 12th December, 1777.

"SIR.—The General Assembly of this State take the earliest opportunity to acknowledge the receipt of your acceptable present—the tokens of victory at the memorable battle of Bennington.

"The events of that day strongly mark the bravery of the men, who, unskilled in war, faced from their intrenchments, a chosen number of veteran troops, of boasted Britons; as well as the address and valor of the General who directed their movements, and led them on to conquest. This signal exploit opened the way to a rapid succession of advantages, most important to America.

"These trophies shall be safely deposited in the archives of the State, and there remind posterity of the irresistible power of the God of armies, and the honors due to the member of his sword.

"Still attended with like successes, may you long enjoy the just rewards of a grateful country."

Vermont's acknowledgment:

"STATE OF VERMONT,
"IN COUNCIL OF SAFETY,
"BENNINGTON, 20th Sept., 1777.

"The Council beg leave to return their sincere thanks to the Hon. Brigadier-Gen. John Stark, for the infinite service he has been pleased to do them, in defending them and their constituents, from the cruelty and bloody rage of our unnatural enemy, who sought our destruction on the 16th of August last. They also return their grateful acknowledgments for the honor the General has been pleased to do the Council, by presenting them with one Hessian gun, with a bayonet, one broadsword, one brass-barrelled drum, and a grenadier's cap, taken on the memorable 16th of August, for the use of this State. The General may rely upon it, they will be reserved for the use they were designed.

"I am, dear General, with sentiments of esteem, your most obedient humble servant.

"THOMAS CHITTENDEN, President.

"Hon. Brig. Gen. Stark."

Stark also presented to the Vermont Council of Safety a Hessian broadsword, as a mark of his approbation of their zeal in the public cause.

"IN COUNCIL OF SAFETY,
"6th Sept., 1777.

"The council's compliments most cordially waits on his honor, Brigadier General Stark, with their sincere thanks, for the honor the General has been pleased to do them, by presenting them with a Hessian broadsword, taken by a number of troops from the State of New Hampshire, and elsewhere, under his immediate command, in the memorable battle; fought in Walloomsack, near this place, on the 16th of August last; and also for the honor the General has been pleased to do them, in applauding their exertions in a public weal, as a Council.

"JOSEPH FAY, Sec'y.

"Brig. Gen. Stark."

Distinguished Visitors.

The following is a list of arrivals of distinguished visitors and their hosts, so far as can be ascertained:

President Hayes, with Postmaster-General Key, Secretary McCrary and General Devens of the cabinet, are to be the guests of Rev. Mr. Tibbitts at Bennington Center. Governor Fairbanks, Lieut.-Col. Knight of Massachusetts, Gov. Prescott of New Hampshire, and the Judges of the Vermont Supreme court are to be the guests of Hon. T. W. Park. Chief Justice Waite, and Secretary Evarts stop with Rev. Mr. Jennings. President Bartlett goes to A. B. Gardner's, Ex-Governor Hoffman of New York to John V. Hall's, the representative of the Canadian government to S. B. Hunt's. Hon. E. W. Stoughton, Gov. Van Zandt of Rhode Island, and Gov. Connor of Maine stop with Luther R. Graves, and Mr. Billings of Woodstock and Senators Morrill and Edmunds with Henry G. Root. E. J. Phelps of Burlington stops with Trenor W. Park. Ex-Gov. Seymour of New York is invited to Rev. Mr. Tibbits'. Gen. Robinson of New York, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, stays with Olin Scott, Paymaster general Alvord of Washington stops with Ex-Gov. Hall at North Bennington. Rev. Mr. Allen of Woodstock, Ct., goes to the house of the late C. H. Hubbard, and Dr. George B. Loring, and Gen. W. F. Smith to Mr. Hall's. President Chadbourne and Prof. Perry of Williams College, the latter of whom has made the battle somewhat a special study, are coming. Daniel Roberts is to stop at Geo. Wattle's, and Larkin G. Mead and wife are at Gilbert Berry's. Gen. Alden, commander the 10th New York Brigade, stops with F. C. White, Esq.

Guests of Camp Stark.

The following gentlemen will be the guests of Col. T. S. Peck, at Camp Stark, during the centennial:

Gen. J. C. Robinson, Grand Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of the United States.

Col. James Tanner, Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the Department of New York. (Everybody knows that General Robinson lost a leg at the Wilderness, but everybody may not know that Col. Tanner has two wooden legs.)

Gen. William Wells.
Col. A. G. Watson.
Gen. P. P. Pitkin.
Col. Fred. E. Smith.
Col. G. G. Benedict.
Hon. W. C. Smith.
Col. H. P. Clapp, commander of Pierce Light Infantry, of Boston, Mass.
J. S. Patterson, of Philadelphia.
Gen. John Hammond, of Crown Point, N. Y.
Col. Penfield, of Crown Point, N. Y.
Col. M. S. Colburn, of Manchester.

Summons to Bennington.

The following lines from Walter Scott might have done for the summons to Bennington in 1777:

"Come from deep glen and
From mountain so rocky;
Come every hill plaid and
True heart that wears one,
Come every steel blade, and
Strong hand that bears one;
Leave untended the herd,
The flock without shepherd;
Leave the corpse uninterred,
The bride at the altar;
Leave the deer, leave the steer,
Leave nets and barges,
Come with your fighting gear,
Broadswords and targes;
Come as the winds, come when
Forests are rended,
Come as the waves come, when
Navies are stranded."

The Camp.

The camp presents considerable change since our last issue. The tents of the Veteran Volunteers are nearly up, against the arrival on Tuesday next, and seven large tents, designed for the headquarters of the Governor of Vermont and the other New England Governors, are already pitched in the northwest corner of the grounds. The grand refreshment tent for the public is in perfect order, and ready for business. The orator and banquet tents are all pitched, and are the sleeping tents for the public.

The First Regiment of National Guards, on their arrival Saturday afternoon, found their tents all up and their beautiful camp in perfect order. The entire camp is in admirable condition. The "Ransom Guards" company street was noticeably attractive, with its beautiful arch, leaving the legend, "Co. F," in immense letters, and underneath that, extending over the curved brow of the arch, the company's name, "Ransom Guards," in letters of artistic design and beautiful colored effect, flanked on the left with the date of the company's organization, "1856," and on the right with the centennial date, "1877." The entire street of the Ransom Guard is covered by an awning running back to the captain's quarters.

Directly back of the Ransom Guards is the headquarters of the Ransom Guard Band, which has been organized for three successive annual musters by their appointment as regimental band. The band consists of 24 pieces, under the excellent leadership of Mr. Henry W. Hatch, the Drum Major being Geo. C. Hastings. They have just procured a new uniform. It consists of a dark blue broadcloth suit with white trimmings, white buckskin waist and cross belts, with gold-plated buckles and clasps, a black leather music pouch, a black beaver dress cap, with white plume and tassel, gold plate with the silver letters "R. G. B." thereon; and also a jaunty English skull-cap of blue and white for fatigue duty.

The companies generally have provided their own rations. The Ransom and Estey Guards each have their own mess tent, cook-house, cooks, etc; and at all the companies we received a hearty welcome, and saw evidence that they were both able and anxious to entertain their friends who came to visit their quarters. Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Sunday morning inspection took place. Owing to the heat of the day the men were formed in the various company streets, and the quarters inspected by their officers.

At 2:30 p. m. divine service was held by the chaplain, Rev. D. C. Roberts, of Brandon. There was a full attendance of the regiment the men wearing only their side arms. We understand that there will be a short daily religious service consisting only of prayer and singing, at 6:45 A. M. and 5:15 P. M. We are indebted to Col. Peck, Adjutant Tenney and many other officers for many acts of courtesy in the line of our profession, and we congratulate Col. Peck on the command of so fine a body of intelligent soldiery, and on the possession of so charming a camp. May the boys have a good time. We publish elsewhere a full roster of the regiment, officers and men. The camp fronts east, and commencing from the right the companies run as follows: F. C. A. G. I. E. B. H. K. D.

VI. An officer of the day will be detailed each day, who will report to the commanding officer for orders immediately after Guard Mount.

VII. Company morning reports will be sent to the Adjutant's quarters each morning immediately after Surgeon's call, except upon the 11th of August, when they are to be handed in immediately upon arrival in camp.

VIII. Guards relieved from duty in the morning will be excused from duty until formation of line for afternoon battalion drill.

IX. Passes will be granted to not more than three (3) enlisted men from each company at any one time, and must be signed by company commanders and countersigned by the Provost Marshal.

X. There will be a Provost Guard to patrol outside the camp limits, who will arrest and place in the guard-house all enlisted men found outside the guard lines without a proper pass.

XI. First Lieut. Eben Taplin, Co. E, is detailed for duty as Provost Marshal.

XII. Company commanders will send a detail of a sergeant and five (5) men to report to Q. M. William Smith, Friday, Aug. 10, to make camp.

XIII. Company commanders must be present promptly with their commands in all battalion formations, or they will be excluded from the line.

XIV. There will be an inspection of the command by Adjutant General James S. Peck, and a review before His Excellency Governor Horace Fairbanks and Staff, at some day to be hereafter designated.

By order of T. S. PECK,
Colonel Commanding.

Official: A. D. TENNEY, 1st Lieut. and Adjutant.

FULLER'S BATTERY.

We found Capt. L. K. Fuller in the act of Sunday inspection, and so had a good opportunity to observe the excellent condition of his fine command. An account of the passage of the mountain by the battery will be found elsewhere, as well as a full roster of the battery and men.

III. An officer of the day will be detailed each day, who will report to the commanding officer for orders immediately after guard mount.

IV. Guards relieved from duty in the morning will be excused from duty until afternoon mounted drill

V. A reasonable number of passes will be issued. There will be a provost guard to patrol outside the camp limits, who will arrest and place in the guard house, all enlisted men found beyond the limits of the camp without a proper pass.

VI. There will be an inspection of the battery by Adjutant and Inspector General J. S. Peck, and a review before his excellency Gov. Horace Fairbanks and staff.

A Comment.

The editor of the Burlington Clipper makes a few comments on our centennial in the words following, which are quite readable to those who are acquainted with the publishing business in the State:

"Not being fully convinced that it will be convenient for us to attend the next centennial of our State, we have decided to omit the regular issue of the Clipper next week and visit the land which under certain conditions—on a time—was liable to make Molly Stark 'a widder.' In doing this we save for our creditors from fifty to sixty dollars and have a whole week to ourselves. To those of our patrons who so promptly pay that 'two dollars' in advance, we make due apology for this omission, although fully satisfied that we furnish far more wisdom, news, abuse and compliments in fifty-one issues than any one of our neighbors do in twice that number! As for those slow coaches, those dilapidated specimens of humanity who live simply to spongeout an existence, we have no apology to make, simply saying they can please us in two ways only; pay up what they owe or give us a chance to publish their obituaries. Hoping to meet everybody 'on the battle field' and hoping still more to find them all happy and sober, we return to private life—for one week. During all this time please do not forget that the Clipper is only two dollars a year when paid in advance."

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

HIGHEST HONORS AT ALL WORLD'S EXHIBITIONS OF RECENT YEARS.

STYLE 243.

THESE Organs excel others in ALL IMPORTANT CHARACTERISTICS. Comparing them with instruments of the kind from the best makers, as placed in competition at the UNITED STATES CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION AT PHILADELPHIA, 1876, the very able jury, after the most thorough examination and comparison, UNANIMOUSLY assigned to the Mason & Hamlin Organs, "THE FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF THE CLASS; viz., smoothness and equal distribution of tone, appropriateness of sentimentality, combined with simplicity of action." This includes all the more important qualities of an Organ, and no other Organs were found worthy to rank with the Mason & Hamlin, in any one of them.

This emphatic judgment is entirely in accord with that reached at ALL THE GREAT WORLD'S EXHIBITIONS OF RECENT YEARS. In competition with the best makers of the world, they were awarded first medals or highest honors at the great Expositions in PARIS, 1867; VIENNA, 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875; and PHILADELPHIA, 1876; being the only American Organs which ever won any medal in any European World's Exhibition.

The judgment of the most skilful musicians respecting these Organs is scarcely less uniform and emphatic. THEODORE THOMAS, the distinguished former and conductor of THOMAS' ORCHESTRAL, pronounces them "the best instruments of the class with which he is the acquainted in Europe;" adding that a wide acquaintance with musicians enables him to say that "they generally regard the Mason & Hamlin Organs as unequaled by any others." OLE BULL, whose judgment, especially of qualities of tone, is perhaps as highly cultivated and discriminating as that of any man living, says, "They excel all instruments of the class I have ever seen;" adding that "their fine quality of tone is in contrast with that of other Reed Organs." JOHANN STRAUSS, the famous Vienna composer and conductor, wrote, when in this country, "I know of no similar instruments, anywhere, at all comparable to them." Dr. FRANZ LISZT, than whom no living musician is more highly esteemed, and for whose expressive use Mason & Hamlin had recently the honor to make one of their Organs, wrote to the Agent in Hanover, Germany, after its receipt and trial, as follows: "Budapest, 28th February, 1877. The beautiful Organ of the Mason & Hamlin Organ Co. in Boston, receives no less praise here than in Hanover. It fully justifies the remarkable, well-founded and widespread renown of these superb instruments." CHARLES GOUNOD, the composer of FAUST, and perhaps the most popular of living composers for the Organ, selected a Mason & Hamlin Organ for use in his Concerts in London; Dr. FRANZ LISZT employs the one already mentioned, in his Orchestra; and, in fact, the most distinguished musicians of the principal cities, and the artists of the opera, when they have occasion for an instrument of the class, either in sacred and secular concerts, or for private use, always select a Mason & Hamlin Organ, when it is attainable. Mr. IRA D. SANKEY, appreciating their superiority, has used them in all the Moody and Sankey meetings in England and America. The New York Christian at Work, Aug. 31, 1877, says: "A clerical friend at our elbow, who has preached in hundreds of country churches, and addressed hundreds of Sunday-schools, says that he can almost always tell when a Church or Sunday-School has a Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ. He has often been annoyed beyond endurance by the sufferings produced by broken-winded and otherwise infirm instruments, but he has yet to see the first Mason & Hamlin Organ, large or small, which failed to give satisfaction."

It would be easy to keep up testimony like this from the four quarters of the globe; from the most distinguished musicians and those who have had best opportunity of observing such instruments, of all countries; who recognize, and do not hesitate to declare, the superiority of the Mason & Hamlin Organs to all others.

AS TO PRICES.—But while it is conceded by all who have knowledge in such matters (except such as are trying to sell other Organs—and even by some of these) that the Mason & Hamlin Organs are UNEQUALED; the very STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE AMONG INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, it is by many supposed that the prices must be correspondingly high. This is an error. The unequaled facilities of the Mason & Hamlin Co., accumulated in the largest factory in the world, and perfected by experience in the manufacture of nearly ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ORGANS, and the great demand for their Organs, enable them to produce and sell their work at prices which would be impossible without such facilities and session to manufacture so largely. It is not claimed that the Mason & Hamlin Organs can be offered at the prices of the very poorest Organs, made at a fraction of the cost of good work, merely to sell; but the difference in price is THAT SMALL and the difference in value VERY GREAT. Mason & Hamlin Organs, with two sets of reeds and THREE STOPS, are now sold for cash, for $100 each; with NINE STOPS at $115. They are also offered for easy payments on most favorable terms. A small Organ, but of best quality, may be had by payment of $2.25 per quarter (three months) for ten quarters. Larger sizes at proportionate rates. All Organs made by this Company are of the same VERY BEST QUALITY.

THE VARIETY OF STYLES now offered is larger and finer than ever before, including Organs from $56 to $1,500, and upwards, each. But the greatest number of styles are from $150 to $250 each. They are adapted to all uses, public and private; to all climates and positions; being in cases from plain to very elegant.

AN ILLUSTRATED QUARTO CATALOGUE, with accurate illustrations from photographs, of the appearance of all styles, with descriptions and explanations of stops, and full particulars, with PRICE LIST, will be sent free to any one desiring it. Address

SANFORD'S
JAMAICA
GINGER

This elegant preparation is prepared from the TRUE Jamaica Ginger, combined with choice aromatics and genuine French brandy, and is vastly superior to every other Extract or Essence of Ginger before the public—all of which are prepared with alcohol by the old process.

CHOLERA MORBUS,

Cramps, Pains, Diarrhœa and Dysentery are instantly relieved by it. It will render an attack of Cholera Morbus impossible, if taken when the symptoms of this dangerous complaint first manifest themselves.

CRAMPS AND PAINS

whether produced by indigestion, improper food change of water or diet, too free indulgence in ice water, exposure to sudden changes of temperature, are immediately relieved by it. One ounce added to a gallon of and sweetened, forms a mixture which, as a cooling, healthy, and refreshing Summer Beverage, has no equal. Barrels of ice water prepared in this way may be drank without the slightest injury, and happy is the man who finds in this a substitute for spirituous liquors. Its value to the Farmer, the Mechanic and Laborer cannot be over-estimated. It is so cheap as to be within the reach of all; so finely flavored as to be enjoyed by lovers of the choicest liquors.

ICE WATER
