Punctuality.

Punctuality is the soul of business.—Without it, the complicated machinery of commercial affairs becomes disordered; and the simple skein of ordinary, every day life, becomes a tangled web. It originates from many causes. Idleness, carelessness, lack of energy and bad examples, in some cases; while there is another, which trifling as it seems, has often caused serious disappointment, and loss. This is placing dependence upon, and regulating one's business affairs, by an unreliable watch. Those who have been troubled in this way, can remedy the evil, by calling upon KING & BROTHER, and providing themselves with a chronometer, which is always up to time, exactly. Mr. HENRY K. HAPGOOD will be found punctuality on hand at this establishment, ready at any time, all times, and precisely at the right time, to supply any deficiences in this line. Speaking of KING & BROTHER's establishment, it may be well to hint to those who are tired of pricking their mouths with iron forks, and whose dining apparatus are behind the times, that they can find silver and plated, three and four pronged forks, silver knives, fruit dishes, tea urns and all the paraphrenalia of complete dinner and tea sets, at the place.

Cleveland and Mahoning R. R.

The Cleveland & Mahoning Railroad Company, is pushing forward the work on this end of the road with considerable vigor. The new bridge over the C. C. & C. track, near Scranton's heights, is almost completed, and a new building—the first, we believe, on this section of the road—has been erected just opposite the Harrison street bridge. A large force of hands is employed, and when the work near Warren shall have been completed, a reinforcement will be sent up to this end of the work. The Messrs. DE AMATER, of this city, have just taken a contract of seven unfinished sections, and will press forward the grading with their proverbial vigor. Thus far, no road in the West has been managed with more prudence and ability.—Cleveland Leader.

At this point, the road progresses steadily. Two spans of the iron bridge across the Mahoning river, at this place, are erected, and the workmen are now engaged on the third. The abutments and piers are finished, and the iron is ready. The heavy embankment on the flat, on the west side of the river, is nearly completed for the track. Under the vigorous management of Mr. O. ROURKE, the last named work will soon be finished.

Goods for the Ladies.

Some one has said, that the prettiest trimming for a lady's bonnet, is a handsome face. But as there may be differences of opinion on this point, these who prefer something else, or who think a handsome face is made still more handsome by adornment, can call on Mr. GESHMAT, who has just opened a new store, on Main street. His stock consists entirely of Millinery and Fancy Goods, and is designed for the particular benefit of the ladies. Those who have bonnets too far behind the fashion, and not far enough behind the head, can be accommodated with new ones; or the old bonnets with new shapes. Those who have a penchant for laces, collars, gloves, &c., will be shown through the stock, at any time, by the polite lady in attendance.

New Select School House at Baconsburg.

The citizens of the village of Baconsburg, in Bazetta, with a spirit of enterprise, and liberality highly creditable to themselves, have just completed a new building or school purposes, at an expense of between six and seven hundred dollars. About three months since the first initatory steps were taken, and Messrs. A. J. GERSARD, WM. B. KENNEDY, and DANIEL FAUNCE were appointed a building committee, and now the house is completed.

The number of scholars in attendance is between 50 and 60. The school is under the charge of Mr. KING, of Vernon, a gentleman who, we are informed is well qualified for the post of teacher.

Durham Cattle.

Farmers who wish to purchase Short-Horn Durhams will have a fine opportunity by attending the sale of R. H. WALKER, Esq., of Church Hill, in this County, on the 23rd inst., (see advertisement) Mr. W. and his son, recently attended the Fairs at Bourbon, Clark, and Fayette Counties in Kentucky, and made purchases. Those Counties are celebrated over the whole United States for the superior quality of their blooded Cattle, and those purchasing of Mr. W. can be certain of obtaining thorough bred stock.

The American Hotel.

Mr. LOU has been improving his house very decidedly. The steep ladder-like stairs up which, for long years, his guests have clambered, at great expenditure of strength, breath and temper; and which they have descended at the peril of life and limb, have given place to a beautiful spiral staircase, reaching from the first to the fourth floor of such easy ascent, that one is tempted to go up it, just for amusement. The new arrangement of the rooms, has also added to the appearance and convenience of the house. The whole does credit to the enterprise of Mr. LOU, and the skill of Mr. JOHNSON, the architect.

Chaneille Embroidery.

We were shown, yesterday, some beautiful specimens of Embroidery upon velvet, by Misses SPALDING and HUNTER. These ladies bring high recommendations, and the specimens which they exhibit, place their skill beyond question. They may be found at Mr. BARTLETT's on Liberty street, above the American House, where they propose teaching the art of Embroidery, to a class of young ladies. Those who wish to possess a very desirable accomplishment, will do well to attend.

Outrage Against Methodists

The Enterprise, (Richfield, Missouri,) of the 21st September, has the proceedings of two meetings held at Plattsburgh, Clinton county, for the purpose of preventing the good people of "the Methodist Episcopal Church North" from holding a camp meeting.

The following is an extract from an account of the first meeting:

Judge R. Johnson was called to the chair and T. D. W. Yonley, Esq., appointed secretary. Major Mason Summers, by request of the chair, explained the objects of the meeting.

Chas. C. Birch, Esq., was then called upon, and offered the following resolutions which he sustained in few forcible and elegant remarks. They were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, It is known that the people of Northern Missouri have been and still are greatly excited upon the Slavery question owing to their proximity with the Territory of Kansas, and various other causes known to the public; and whereas it is known that the Methodist Episcopal Church North design holding a camp meeting at their camp ground in this county, commencing on the 8th inst.; and whereas, we believe that the holding of said camp meeting in this county, in view of the state of public opinion here, and the Anti Slavery sentiments and opinions of the ministers and others who constitute said camp meeting; may lead to results and acts to be regretted by the citizens of the community, we deem it but an act of justice to notify the ministers and others who may constitute the said camp-meeting, of the state of things here, and earnestly requesting them to hold said camp meeting at some other point where less excitement prevails.

Resolutions in accordance with this follow. A judge, a major, and a lot of esquires, figure here to bully Christians on their legitimate worship

The second meeting is thus officially given:

At a meeting of the citizens of Clinton county, held at the Northern Methodists' camp-ground, on the 8th of September, 1855, Moses Shoemaker was called to the chair, and T. V. Mattingly was appointed secretary.

Chas. C. Birch, Esq., being called upon explained the object of the meeting; and after some appropriate remarks, introduced the following resolutions, which were adopted by acclamation:

WHEREAS, The treasonable purposes of the North—pointing as they do, to the destruction of the Constitution and of the rights of the South, and as a consequence of the Union—render it the duty of the South to prepare for such an event by ridding herself of all individuals and organizations antagonistic to her institutions; and whereas the Northern Methodist Church, as it is sought to be established among us, is founded in breach of its contract with the church South, and in direct antagonism with the institution of Slavery, therefore be it

Resolved, That we will see to it that Northern Methodism as an organization, ceases from to-day to have an existence in Clinton county:

Resolved, That regarding Northern Methodist preachers, as a class, to be Abolitionists, we will on all occasions treat them as such.

On motion of T. D. W. Yonley, Esq., it was voted that The Richfield Enterprise, and The Platte Argus be requested to publish the proceedings of the meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

So, ruffians with whisky, bowie knives and pistols, drive off men, women and children, peacefully and religiously assembling in the rightful exercise of one of their customs—customs hitherto respected on the wildest frontiers, and contributing, too, essentially to the civilization of that region.—*N. President Pierce and Captain Tyler—A Fraternal Embrace

There was an affecting scene at the Virginia White Sulpher Springs the other day. The President came down to get rid of the Washington chills, and was welcomed by Captain Tyler, of Sherwood Forest. The Captain congratulated Mr. Pierce on his administration; and Mr. Pierce said that nothing could have been more brilliant than the reign of Mr Tyler. This interchange of courtesies reminds us of a remark made by a Whig Senator in Washington, when some Democrat were satirizing the present administration. "Gentlemen," said he, "I think you are wrong. Mr. Pierce's administration, is, in my opinion, a very good one." "Why?" exclaimed several surprised individuals. "Because," rejoined the Senator "it has dignified the administration of John Tyler, and nothing else in the world could have done that!"

Wild-Cat Banks Denounced.

On the last day of the Illinois State Fair, held in Chicago, a large meeting was held outside of the fair grounds for the purpose of considering the issues of Georgia banks, owned by brokers of Chicago, and circulated in large amounts all over the State of Illinois forming in fact the largest share of the currency seen in the hands of the people. Two of these Georgia banks, with an aggregate capital of 300,000 dollars, are owned by George Smith, a broker, who loans the money in Chicago. Smith holds the entire stock, excepting ten shares to each of eleven men who serve as machine directors, living in the neighborhood of the banks. The meeting seemed enthusiastic, and were unanimous in their determination to get rid of the dangerous and irresponsible nuisance.

Illinois has a good system of banking, which these men set at defiance because they do not choose to give security for their circulation. We in Ohio are not reduced to Georgia wild-cats yet, but we may soon be unless we have a revised and enlarged system equal to our ordinary wants. There is no difficulty about security in Ohio—there soon will be nothing to secure. We are now dependant on foreign banks at commercial points for more than half our circulation.—O. S. Journal.

The Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad

The New York Tribune of Saturday says, that the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad has just closed a contract for all the iron required to complete the river division from Beaver to Wheeling on favorable terms, payment to be made in monthly installments, eight to sixteen months.

The work of connecting its terminus, Wellsville, with Wheeling to the southward, and with Beaver to the northward, will be pushed on, we understand, with vigor, and when completed will connect our city by a continuous and uninterrupted line of rail with Wheeling, Baltimore and Washington, and will connect Pittsburgh and Beaver with the same points. It will be of great importance, not only to the Company; but to our business and traveling public.

ERROR CORRECTED.—The Rev. Sydney Smith, preaching a charity sermon, frequently repeated the assertion that of all nations, the Englishmen were most distinguished for generosity and the love of their species. The collection happened to be inferior to his expectations, and he said that he evidently had made a great mistake, for what his expression should have been, was that they were distinguished for the love of their specie.

NOV. & DEC. APPOINTMENTS.
DR. S. D. HARDMAN, Physician for Diseases of the Lungs, (formerly Resident Physician at the Consumptive Hospital,) now Physician to the Salem Lung Institute,
Will be at his rooms, Gaskill House, Warren, Tuesday, Nov. 27.
Ravenna, Prentiss House, Nov. 23.
Akron, Empire House, Nov. 24.
Jefferson, American House, Nov. 29.

Canton, Dec. 3.
Massillon, Dec. 4.
Wooster, Dec. 5.
Milgrove, Dec. 7.
Dr. Hardman treats Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Laryngitis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs by Medicated Inhalation, lately used in the Brompton Hospital, London. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies, is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased, we take medicines directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into the lungs. Medicines are the antidotes to diseases, and should be applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the application of this principle to the treatment of diseases of the lungs, for it gives a direct access to those intricate cavells and tubes which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicines. The reason why consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment, is because they have never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to act upon the lungs, and yet were applied to the stomach! Their action was intended to be local, and yet they were administered that they could only act constitutionally, expending their principal and immediate action upon the misdirecting stomach, whilst the feeble stream within the lungs were unmolested! Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant, or feeblest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the smallest degree, with the strength, comfort or business of the patient. The report of the Brompton Hospital, London, shows a cure or cure of four-fifths of cases treated by Inhalation. If properly employed, there is no case on low, it will not benefit.
☞The Inhalations are compounded from the original formulas used in the Brompton Hospital, London. No charge for a consultation.
CONSUMPTION CURED.—CASE OF MR. U. R. MONTGOMERY.
Three years ago Mr. Montgomery began gradually to fail in strength and flesh, with almost incessant hacking cough, and all the symptoms of Consumption. In the winter of 1853 took a severe cold, with increased cough, expectoration, night sweats and emaciation. His case claimed the gloom, more, and in the spring of 1855, was attacked with an alarming hemorrhage from the lungs, and increased debility. He then applied to Dr. Hardman of New York, but with no benefit. I then prescribed for his case. After a course of treatment by inhalation, he is restored to health, and is actively engaged in business.
SALEM, O., Oct. 2, 1855.
The above is a correct statement of my case and I am truly grateful to Dr. Hardman for the restoration of my health. WM. R. MONTGOMERY.

STATE OF OHIO, Trumbull County, ss. In the Court of Common Pleas.
Wilkins Giles, vs. Augustus A. Barr, David Matthews, Abner Hubbard and Joshua W. Lamerson.
The said William A. Giles has filed his petition in said court, setting forth, among other things, a decree obtained by said plaintiff against said Barr, Matthews & Hubbard, at the October Term of said Court, in said County, A. D. 1855, by which the sum of $2,338 78 is found due from said Barr to said Hubbard, and is ordered to be paid to the plaintiff on a larger indebtedness from said Hubbard to said Giles; that unless the said court set aside a sale to said Matthews under a mortgage from said Barr to said Matthews, of a farm of about one hundred and fifty-two and 80 100 acres of land, situate in said County, and lying on the Mill Creek to said Barr, and now occupied by said Lamerson—which setting forth that said Matthews, in the year 1854, had purchased said land of said Lamerson, who has since been in possession of said land, and had the rents and profits thereof from that time; that said Matthews has received under said contract, by way of interest, on the purchase price of said land, about one thousand dollars, and is still indebted in the sum of $120 for further interest thereon, and praying that the amount so paid Matthews be applied upon an amount decreed to be due said Hubbard by said Barr, for the said land, and that the amount still due from said Lamerson for the use of said land, be applied on the indebtedness aforesaid to the plaintiff, and that the land aforesaid be sold in favor of the plaintiff's judgment against said Barr, or released from the lien of said Mortgage, to an extent equal to the amount paid him as aforesaid, and for other and further relief, as the nature of the case requires, and that said Barr and Abner Hubbard must appear and answer said petition by the tenth Saturday after this date, or said petition as to them will be taken as confessed.

DAY, commencing Sunday next, Oct. 21st, and to continue Sabbath evenings until further notice, on Moral and Intellectual subjects of the most interesting kind. The first Lecture will be on the Laws of Locomotion, which is applied to all motion, mental and physical. We propose to establish the laws that cause the better feelings of the earth moon, stars, and other heavenly bodies, and to show what causes the north and south poles, or the poles of all the planets. There will be a practical demonstration of his theory, as far as practicable, of the phenomenon of their motions. The Lecturer will also establish the cause of the attraction of the Magnetic Needle. He invites attention to these lectures, as they are a gift free to others to be delivered at the same place.

MERCHANT TAILOR and Clothier.
JOHN L. WEEKS
No. 11 Market Street, Warren, O., (opposite the Court House.)
The favor with which this establishment has long been regarded by the public generally, and especially those who appreciate a very superior kind of work, and consider their own interest renders any other advertisement almost superfluous.
By extensive Fall and Winter stock of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS and TRIMMINGS, with a choice assortment of READY MADE CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS, and a corresponding and extensive stock of HATS AND CAPS, of all prices and styles, and in short almost everything that is wanted to improve the outer man, can at all times be found.
From long experience in business, and having arrangements in New York so as to be posted up in everything that is new, both in goods and styles of garments, it is evident that a more perfect and extensive establishment of the kind cannot be found in this section of country. (Oct. 17, 55)
