TWO WRECKS

On the Cleveland & Canton Road Monday Afternoon.

Two Engines Thrown Into Ditches and Several Men Injured.

There were two wrecks on the C. C. & S. road last evening. Train No. 62, which is a local, is due at Canton at 3:45 p. m. from the southern part of the road. While coming up last evening, the engine jumped the track at Barr's Mills. John Hones was engineer and Will Depoister was fireman. The engine left the track a distance of several feet. It had cut loose from the local, which consisted of ten or twelve cars, and was pushing some empty cars up to the sand quarry above that station. The engineer and fireman stuck to their post and were not injured in the least.

They telegraped at once to this place for a wreck train to go to their assistance. As is usual in case of any accident or wreck a train consisting of an engine, tool car and cab was hurriedly made up and left for the scene of the wreck in great haste, carrying with it about twenty men, to clear the wreck. The engine was in control of George Wise as engineer and Charles Ruckles as fireman. They were running at a high rate of speed and while passing around the short curve just beyond South Market street the engine left the track and fell over the bank into a sewer ditch, a distance of five or six feet below the track, and lay there on its back in about two feet of mud, with the throttle wide open and keeping up the same motion as if it was running on the track. It was with some difficulty that the engine could be stopped from throwing mud over the machinery and workmen. Two of the workmen on the train were seriously injured in the wreck. Nick Dickes had his nose broken and was severely cut and bruised otherwise about the face and head. A man by the name of Markey was badly cut on the head and was internally injured. He was taken to his boarding house on East Eighth street. He suffered considerable during the night. He bled internally and it was feared his injuries would prove fatal, but it is now thought he will recover. Mart Reinhold was on the scene, and while standing on the lever of what is known as a blind switch, an engine passing over it threw him a distance of ten or twelve feet into the air and landed him on his back in about two feet of water. He was not hurt in any way but badly shaken up. Mart is to take the part of "McGinty" in the entertainment in the opera house in a few days, and the C. C. & S. boys are having considerable fun over his unlooked for bath.

A CANTON CASE

In the United States Court in Cleveland--Canton Wins.

The Plain Dealer says: The case of Hiram Pool against William McKinley, Jr., M. C. Barber and George D. Saxton, executor of the estate of James A. Saxton, was placed on trial in the United States circuit court yesterday and resulted in a judgment for the defendants. Pool, the plaintiff, says that in 1875 McDonald & Co. of Wooster gave James A. Saxton a promissory note for $5,000, payable in six months at the Tradesman's national bank, which note was assigned before maturity to Pool. Payment was refused and James A. Saxton, as indorser, ten months later paid upon it $5,220.28, leaving a balance of $230.55, interest on the note, unpaid. The plaintiff also claims $13,540.82 on two judgments against Saxton in the supreme court of New York in 1876. The claim of defendants is that McDonald & Co., at a hearing to which Pool was cited as a party, was adjudged bankrupt, and that a settlement at 30 cents on the dollar was accepted by him. Major McKinley and M. C. Barber were made parties as having interests in the defunct firm. Judge Howell E. Jackson of Nashville occupied a seat on the bench with Judge Ricks. The plaintiff was represented by E. J. Estep of Cleveland and A. J. Thomas and John McLaren of Wooster. The defense was conducted by Judge W. R. Day of Canton and W. A. Ambler of Salem. The court held that Pool having been a party to the bankruptcy proceedings was barred from reopening the case.

THE COURTS.

A Prisoner Pleads Guilty and Restores Stolen Property--Suits in Court--Other News.

Several weeks ago Joe Oliphant, of Greentown was arrested and placed in jail for stealing a robe and whip. He was given a hearing and bound over. Yesterday he told Sheriff Krider that he would like to change his plea of not guilty to one of guilty and receive his sentence. Prosecuting Attorney Welty consented to this and he was taken before Probate Judge Fawcett, who asked him whether or not he was guilty. He said he was and gave an order to the Sheriff to get the stolen property from his sister's house near Greentown. The goods were found there and returned to the owner. Judge Fawcett sentenced him to 20 days in jail, $10 fine and costs to stand committed until paid. He is now serving his sentence out in jail.

Common Pleas court adjourned last evening until Monday Feb. 3. Judge Taylor rendered decisions in two cases yesterday afternoon. The first was that of Rex vs. Everhardt, in which the plaintiff sued to recover the price of a furnace which he had placed in Everhardt's house. The defendant refused to pay for it on the ground that it was worthless. Judge Taylor decided the case in favor of the plaintiff, and ordered the bill paid. The other case decided was that of McLean vs. the Western Union Telegraph Co., in which the plaintiff sued to recover damages sustained by the delay of money sent to him by the defendant. The court decided the case in favor of the plaintiff, and ordered all the costs in the case to be paid by the defendant.

This morning Auditor Manly sold about $60,000 worth of property in this county to pay, probably, $2,000 of delinquent taxes. Any of this property can be redeemed by the former owner, providing he pays the amount of taxes, with a penalty of 15 per cent. added and 6 per cent. interest if paid within one year, and a penalty of 25 per cent. if paid within two year's time.

Peter Shanabrook has filed a petition in Common Pleas court asking that Treasurer Doll be restrained from collecting $58.90 taxes which he says has been assessed for a pavement which the city placed in front of his East Third street property without first giving him notice to pave it.

The Farmers Bank has sued Louis Elsass and wife for $400, on a promissory note, which they hold against them. The Bank asks that the defendants either pay the note or that the court will grant them an order to foreclose a mortgage which they held on 33 acres of land in Plain township belonging to the defendants.

The will of Valentine Winnefelt, late of Canton township, has been filed for probate.

The will of Stephen Wagner, late of this city, was filed for probate this morning.

Marriage licenses have been issued to C. E. Frost and Lorena M. Rice, of Massillon; Theodore Kramer and Theresa Haag, of Massillon; Edward Lung and Ida Piero, of Canton; Wilbur L. Medill and Annie Chapman, of Massillon.

SHE COULD NOT SEE ANOTHER MAN.

Whenever Boggs came home at night
Appearing worse for wear,
He told his wife he got tight
Because it banished care.
Said he, "My darling Mary Ann
It makes me quite another man."

One night the door was tightly locked,
And though he raised a din,
As loud he called and louder knocked,
She would not let him in.
"A faithful wife," said Mary Ann,
"Cannot admit another man."

MASSILLON NEWS.

Radical Action of Council--Salaries of Police--That Insurance Co.--Dance--Church News--Two Weddings--Social Notes.

(Special correspondence.)

MASSILLON, O., Jan. 21.

The city council held an important meeting last evening in which a decided stand was taken against the water company. The following resolution, prepared by the solicitor was adopted: That the officials of Water Company be notified that they are not complying with their agreement with the city, because the water was unclean, insufficient, not fit to be used and not such as was contracted for; that the company be invited to meet the city council by accredited representatives; and that until a satisfactory arrangement is made, the payment of the water rent be suspended

Councilman Schlagel has corresponded with the cities of Lima, Mt. Vernon, Delaware and Wooster, and finds that the rates they charge are much lower than our rates. He illustrated by showing that a water service which he uses in his barber shop, he pays $30 per annum, where as in the above named cities it costs only $17.

The salaries of the policemen were increased to $55 per month by the addition of $5, in spite of a few economic twitches, and that each member had received a White Cap notice (found the night before on their front gates) warning them not to increase the salaries. The notices are models of "English as she is wrote," and were evidently inspired by some wag.

The following bondsmen of the police officers were accepted: T. Hagan, J. W. Foltz, F. Warsh; G. Maier, J. O. Garret, L. A. Koons; J. Kitchen, J. W. Foltz, F. C. Sibila; F. Ertle, J. W. Foltz, Joseph Ertle.

A bill of $166.50 for damages sustained by the escape of 117,000 feet of gas by the laying of the sewer, was presented by the Massillon Gas Co. and referred to the judiciary committee and solicitor.

The solicitor reported adversely on the petition of Messrs. Sailer and Warwick to be released as bondsmen for the sewer contractor and to receive all moneys. He said the city had no right to release them and must pay the moneys to Contractor Crooks as he is not able to take care of the business.

An ordinance was passed assessing the following property owners for sidewalks and gutters: E. Bowman, — Geltz, Youngblood Breson, S. S. Goudy, Sarah Boerner, George Shaffert, A. Phelan, John Jacobs, F. L. Baldwin.

Mr. J. G. Warwick was notified to repair East Tremont street, which was washed out by the creek, on account of his side track.

Lack of funds prevented the establishing of proposed additional electric lights.

Adjourned for two weeks.

Russell & Co's Employes Insurance Society, of which mention was made several times in these letters, was organized last Sunday by the election of the following officers: President, C. O. Heggem; vice president, S. B. Rigdom; secretary, C. H. Wilcox; treasurer, Jas. Peacock; board of directors, J. J. Pitts, C. O. Merwin, E. J. Hamill, J. W. Holcomb, John H. Williams, Howard Garrigues, John Mong, Jacob Spuhler, William Clementz, William Plucker and Jacob Simonsen. Nearly four hundred members joined.

The next regular dance of the Holcomb Club will be held on Thursday night of this week in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Koonts have been called to Toledo, owing to the death of Mrs. Koontz's brother, Mr. Peter Wachter.

The Episcopal dime society will be held at the residence of James Peacock, on Friday evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith a girl baby.

Two weddings which excited much interest took place at St. Mary's church this morning, and the contracting are well-known citizens. Mr. Theodore Kramer and Mrs. Theresa Haag were united for life, and Father Kuhn also performed the ceremony which made Mr. Spidle of Lincoln, Ill., and Mrs. Theresa Fiegenschuh, of this city, one. The latter held a reception at the residence of Fidel Herburger on the west side.

Manager Seiler of the Harmonia band went to Canton yesterday and secured the services of J. Smith, the Grand Army band drummer, for the forthcoming concert. The Harmonia's drummer, Charley Wise, has removed to Freeport, Ill.

Julius Roup was bound over to probate court by the mayor yesterday. He was unable to fuanish $100 bail and was taken to jail.

A Massillon Saloon Being Searched.

Last evening Marshal Gentry received information that several tramps had offered cigars for sale at a remarkably low price at a well-known saloon at Massillon. The brands were the same as those stolen from L. Sharpnack's place in this city a few nights ago. A search warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Bederman who is at Massillon making an investigation, and up to the hour of going to press had not made his report.

Had a Three Dollar Fight.

Last night Victor Bailey and Benton Houser, both of Louisville, became involved in a quarrel and a fight in Fred Droese's saloon near the P., F. W. & C. depot. In the melee several panes of glass were broken. Officers Harding and Muckly arrested the pair, and this morning they were fined $3 and costs each for their amusement.

A little girl came to the residence of Mr. and Mrs Joseph Wackerly on Court street a day or two ago. Cigars and liquid refreshments are free at his place now.
