SHOT IN THE NECK.

Attempt to Rob August Mario of Alliance.

Thrilling Encounter With Assassins on a Flying Freight Train—The Miscreants Escape in the Dark.

A very much excited man boarded a street car at the P., Ft. W. & C. depot Saturday evening. He wore a blood stained handkerchief around his neck, which gave evidence of an encounter. To a NEWS-DEMOCRAT representative he gave his name as August Mario, and stated that he lived at Alliance. Being interrogated concerning the wound in his neck, he said: "I left home early Saturday evening on my way to see my father, who lives three miles from Canton. I have a large amount of money in my possession which I am taking to him. Having missed the evening train, I concluded to board a passing freight train. While waiting for the freight train, I entered a restaurant and procured a lunch, tendering in payment a twenty dollar note which I extracted from a roll of money. Two men were standing near me, but I thought nothing of it at the time. When the freight came along I jumped into a box car for the purpose of riding to Canton. After the train had left Louisville I heard a peculiar noise on the outside and saw a hand grasping a revolver thrust through an aparture at one end of the car. I immediately dodged, but not quick enough to escape receiving a scratch in the neck by a flying bullet. I then threw myself on the bottom of the car, keeping well in towards the end of the car from whence the shot came. Three other shots followed in rapid succession, but I was able to keep out of range, being just under the aperature. Seeing their efforts to rob me were futile, the men scrambled from the car which was running quite slowly at the time. As I heard them jump from the train I rushed to the door, and saw three men sink away. I called after them but received no response, and as it was getting dark I failed to recognize them."

Mr. Mario told his story disconnectedly, and was greatly excited. He had over $300 on his person, and made his way through the city as rapidly as possible, being desirous of gaining the residence of his father and relieving himself of the money the possession of which came so near being fatal.

The police have not as yet been notified of the occurrence.

After she had entered he locked the door and attempted an assault on her. He used a toy pistol to frighten the child. She finally got away and ran out in the street crying. The young man did not succeed in his purpose.

Mrs. Shepherd Claims Some One Threatened to Rotten Egg Her.

"I am looking for those fifteen ladies who were going to rotten egg me," said Mrs. Margaret Shepherd last evening as she stepped upon the stage at Schaefer's opera house. They said that some one was rotten egged in Cleveland and they didn't see why it could not be done here. They forget that there is still a law in this country."

The occasion of these observations was a little episode of the afternoon, which was not down on the bills. A number of women came in together, with the evident determination of refuting some of Mrs. Shepherd's charges against the Catholic church. A sentence to which she gave utterance did not please the ladies and two of their number arose and commenced to question the speaker. The answers received did not please them either, and the whole party, including Mrs. Shepherd, became somewhat excited. After a war of words the ladies withdrew from the contest, and it is said that they made threats to appear in the evening and throw antiquated eggs at the speaker. No such interruption took place, however, and the evening lecture was given without incident.

A large audience was present in the evening the order of American Mechanics appearing in a body. The lecture was interesting throughout, and the audience seemed well pleased. She discussed the public and parochial schools, the unfairness of pauper labor and the political aspect of the country to-day.

LAID TO REST.

The Body of George D. Harter Consigned to its Last Resting Place—Private Services at His Late Residence—Business Suspended.

The last sad rites over the remains of George D. Harter were held to-day. Private services were held at the house, which was thronged with sorrowing citizens, who by their presence attested their deep respect for Canton's lamented dead.

The floral decorations were modest but elegant and in great profusion.

After prayer by Rev. Kuhns, Rev. Mr. Harpster delivered a short address, paying a touching tribute to the memory of the deceased.

Brief but very impressive services were held at Trinity Lutheran church at 2 o'clock. The church was crowded with the many friends of Mr. Harter and the family.

Reverends Harpster, Kuhns and Frey conducted the services. The floral designs which were very beautiful yet simple were handsomely arranged around the casket. Flowers were sent by friends of the family and a lovely floral cross by the Sunday school. Interment took place at Westlawn cemetery. Places of business were generally closed in the city during the services.

The following gentleman from Mansfield were in attendance at the funeral: J. E. Brown, J. M. Cahill, E. W. Gans, G. W. Pyle, W. A. Harbeson, James N. Livingston, John P. Stine, Benjamin Barr and James Reynolds.

At a meeting of the Business Men's Association, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED, That the members of the Canton Business Men's Association have sustained a great loss in the death of Mr. Geo D. Harter. We have always found him a warm friend, safe and competent advisor, in regards to all the interests pertaining to the welfare of our city. We tender to the stricken family our warm st sympathies in their deep affliction.

A PRESCRIPTION CLERK'S NERVE.

An Attempt to Rob the Canton Pharmacy Nipped in the Bud—One of the Burglars Looks Into the Muzzle of a Revolver.

At 1 o'clock this morning two villainous looking individuals made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Canton Pharmacy, located at the corner of North Cleveland avenue and West Tuscarawas street. Two suspicious looking persons were seen loitering about the place by a policeman and were ordered to move on. An hour or so after one of them tried to get in the rear of the store, but failed. Shortly after the other man made his appearance at the front door and inquired for Dr. Rukenbrod's office, near by. William H. Douds doing night duty in the pharmacy pointed out the place, but the man took an entirely different direction from that shown him. Before long the man who attempted to get in by the rear door came to the front door and was met by Mr. Douds. He asked the latter the time of night, as an excuse for an entrance to the place. Mr. Douds, with his timepiece in one hand and a self-repeater in the other pointing directly in the man's face, gave him the desired information, after which the would be burglars made a hasty retreat. Knowing that the place was doing a thriving business, the burglars no doubt had visions of a big haul. This is the second attempt to rob this place within a month.

REV. M'QUEARY'S RETURN.

No Decision Reached in His Case Yesterday—How the Matter Stands.

Rev. Howard MacQueary returned from Cleveland this morning. He appeared before the Ecclesiastical Court yesterday and presented the explanation of his position, as published in last evening's NEWS-DEMOCRAT. No decision was reached and the matter will be held under advisement by the board for ten days. Other minor explanations will be made at that time.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer has the following in regard to the case of Rev MacQueary:

Rev Messrs. A. B. Putanm, Y. P. Morgan, W. H. Gallagher, H. D. Ayes and Geo. F. Smythe, the members of the ecclesiastical court appointed to hear the case against Rev. Howard MacQueary of Canton, and attorney for the prosecution, Rev. Dr. Bates, met yesterday at Trinity house with Mr. MacQueary. The gentlemen did not meet formally as members of the court, but to informally talk over the approaching hearing. Mr. MacQueary brought with him, however, a statement which he desired to read, and his request was granted. "We could not hear his paper as a court, but as he requested us to hear him we could not courteously refuse," said a member of the court after the meeting. Mr. MacQueary was in the city from 10 a. m. till 4 p. m., starting for Canton at the latter hour.

CHARLES MARTIN SKIPS.

He Is Short in His Accounts and Leaves Unpaid Bills.

Rumor That There is a Woman in the Case—His Divorced Wife Now Living in Columbus.

Charles Martin, of Canton, who has been teaching school No. 4 in Perry Township, known as the Miller school district, is missing. Last Monday morning he was not at his usual post, and the children after waiting some time at the school, returned home. Members of the School board came to Canton yesterday to learn something concerning his absence, when it was found he had left the city.

Martin has been keeping books for Contractor J. H. Nolan. Today Mr. Nolan and Martin's father are going over the books. There is a shortage but it will be small. The father saw Charles for the last time on Monday, when he took his grip and started for school.

Martin left behind him several unpaid bills, among which is a board bill of $10, due William Miller, who lives near the school house where Martin has been teaching. He is a young man 25 years of age, and has been teaching in the Miller District for the past two or three years.

It is rumored that there is a woman in the case, but this cannot be verified. It may have started from the fact that Martin is very fond of women. Some years ago he was married to a very handsome and intelligent girl. Trouble was the result and a divorce followed. The wife left Canton and is now in Columbus.

A SAD ENDING.

Death the Result of a Week's Spree.

L. A. Kolby, a barber from Meadville, Pa., came to Canton about six weeks ago, and purchased the shop at 236 West Tuscarawas street. He has for a few days past been on a protracted spree. Last night about 8 o'clock he went to his room to retire when he was suddenly taken sick with cramps. Drs. Herbert and Swartz were summoned and did all in their power to relieve the sufferings of the man. He remained alive only five hours after being taken sick, expiring at 2 a. m. to-day. The doctors pronounced alcoholism the cause of death. The remains were taken to the undertaking rooms of Shilling & Son where they now are. His wife was telegraphed for and is expected this evening.

The Historical Society.

The Historical society, which is the successor of the unique Philosophic, met at the residence Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Sherrick last evening. Extra chairs were sufficent to accommodate all comfortably, as Mr. Sherrick has a spacious mansion. The present subject under discussion by the society is New England history. Prof. Burns read a very scholarly and bright paper on the Puritans, their origin, peculiarty and influence upon our institutions. Mr. A. McGregor read an interesting account of his recent visit to Scotland, full of Scotch wit, and illustrated with stories and incidents of Scottish life.

James W. Hathaway, of Montana, Selected to Succeed Capt. Wheat as Postmaster of the House—Only One Ballot Taken.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—James W. Hathaway, of Montana, has been selected to succeed Capt. Wheat, of Wisconsin, as postmaster of the house. The selection was made at a Republican caucus held immediately after the house adjourned yesterday afternoon. One ballot only was taken, Mr. Hathaway receiving seventy-three votes against thirty-nine votes for all the other candidates. Mr. Hathaway was born in Ohio forty-eight years ago. In 1862 he enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifth Ohio volunteers, and in the fall of that year received a gunshot wound at Perryville, Ky., which permanently disabled him for active service. After the war he went to Montana. He has been deputy United States marshall for the territory, deputy collector of internal revenue and county sheriff and is secretary of the Republican state committee. The other candidates were Samuel Hosmer, the present assistant postmaster of the house; Messrs. Barnes and Ralph, of Illinois, and Reed, of Minnesota.

ATTEMPTED STARVATION.

The Japanese Murderer Has a Horror of the Electrocution.

SING SING, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Shibuya Jugigo, the Japanese sentenced to die by electricity in Sing Sing prison during week beginning Jan. 19 next, has been causing great anxiety to the prison officials of late by his stubborn desire to abstain from all food, wishing to evade the sentence of law by starving himself to death. Since he left New York Dec. 2 he has been in a very despondent condition, and for the last three days absolutely refused to take nourishment in any form. Sunday the warden had a consultation with Dr. George J. Fisher and Deputy Superintendent of State Prisons Charles K. Baker. They found Jugigo in a dangerous state of despondency, and likely to starve himself to death if he was not persuaded to the contrary. After much labor they succeeded in getting him to take some nourishment, and he is now getting back to his normal condition.

DENOUNCE MINISTER SMITH.

The Hebrews of Baltimore May Demand His Withdrawal.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10.—The members of the various Hebrew organizations of this city interested in the work of alleviating the condition of their people in Russia are agitated over an address delivered Sunday night by Meyer Sulzburger, a prominent Hebrew lawyer of Philadelphia, before the Hebrews Men's association. He denounced Charles Emory Smith, minister to Russia, as the mouthpiece of the lying bulletin of a tyrant czar, and urged the Hebrews of Baltimore and the whole country to demand the withdrawal of such a minister who had declared that there was no occasion for the outcry for the Russian Hebrews. The feeling created by Sulzburger is likely to lead to a protest of the Hebrews in Baltimore against Minister Smith.

LOOKS DARK FOR DEPOSITORS.

The Assets and Liabilities as Shown by a Statement — Senator Quay Declares Sensational Reports False.

MEADVILLE, PA., Dec. 10.—There is no diminution in the excitement over the failure of the Delamasters. The magnitude of the failure does not diminish, nor do the prospects of the depositors of getting very much out of the wreck increase with time. Certificates of deposit are offered for 25 cents on the dollar and no takers. The present condition of affairs is that the liabilities of the bank are about $550,000 and its assets practically nothing. The assignees have submitted the following statement: The liabilities, as shown by the bank's books, are about $544,700. The assets consist of stocks and bonds to the amount of $315,751.59; bills discounted, $941,986; real estate, $15,000, and odd items bringing the total up to $473,600. The assets, they say, will be liable to the customary great shrinkage, but the extent and amount cannot be known until appraisers have gone through the office.

Matthew Stanley Quay Not Affected.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Senator Quay says the statement sent out from here, to the effect that his home bank in Beaver holds $26,000 of Delamaster's obligations, and that he is "stung to the quick by Delamaster's villainy," are totally false. He says he has no home bank in Beaver, and that he is not involved to any amount, through Beaver or other banks in Delamaster's failure. The latter owes him nothing and he is not on Delamaster's paper.

REGARDING THE CRISIS.

Mr. Gladstone Says There Appears to be no Question Affecting Himself.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Mr. Gladstone has written a letter regarding the crisis in the Irish Nationalist party. He says there appears to be no question affecting himself, only an unexplained contradiction between the Parnell of November, 1890, and the Parnell of all former dates since the Hawarden interview. Justin McCarthy, the anti-Parnellite leader, has expressed the hope that the division between the two sections of the Nationalist party will be gradually bridged. Mr. Parnell has arrived in Dublin. He is the guest of the lord mayor at the Mansion house. He intends to reorganize the National league in Dublin. The anti-Parnellite section of the Irish Nationalist party has nominated Sir John Pope Hennessy as its candidate for parliament from North Kilkenny. Parnell has nominated Mr. Barry O'Brien to oppose Sir John Pope Hennessy.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—For some time past a company composed of English and American capitalists, known as the American Type Foundry company, has been negotiating for the purchase of all the type foundries in the United States. The fact became known here through rumors of an attempted purchase of the type foundries in this city. Representatives of the company have at their disposal, for the purpose of purchase, $30,000,000. During the past week letters have been sent to all the type foundries in the country asking, first, if the company to which it is addressed will sell out and retain stock in the enterprise; second, if it will sell out and completely abandon the business.

DURANGO, COL., Dec. 10.—Saturday night Thomas Franklin quarreled with two Indians in a saloon at Arrago, N. M. He struck both Indians over the head with a billiard cue, killing one and seriously injuring the other. Yesterday Apaches came to Arrago intent upon having Franklin's scalp, but he was secreted by the sheriff. Great excitement prevails, as the Indians declare they want justice. The townspeople, however, have armed themselves, and if the Indians should attempt to take Franklin out of the town there will be trouble.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

HOUSE VOTES AGAINST REMOVING GRANT'S REMAINS.

Representative Fleet Thomas J. Geary, of California, Sworn In—In Presenting a Bill in the Senate Relating to Circulation Mr. Plumb Said He Would Soon Ask to Have the Election Bill Laid Aside and Financial Matters Considered—Other Measures Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—In the senate Tuesday communications were presented from the attorney general in response to resolutions of the senate calling for information as to voting places and as to election supervisors. The attorney general states that his department has not the means of supplying the information asked. The Farmers' alliance subtreasury bills, which were last session referred to the committee on agriculture, were, at the request of the committee, transferred to the committee on finance as being more properly within the jurisdiction of the latter committee.

Mr. Plumb Introduced a Bill to reduce the amount of United States bonds to be required of national banks and to replace their surrendered notes, and to provide for the free coinage of silver. It was referred to the committee on finance. He also offered an amendment (in the same terms) to a bill now on the calendar, so that the matter can be brought before the senate independently of any report from the finance committee. In doing so he gave notice that if the election bill were not disposed of at an early day he should move to lay it aside for time being in order that the bill just introduced by him and all other measures relating to the financial condition of the country should be considered.

Amendment of the Tariff.

Mr. McPherson offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a certified copy of the accounts of John I. Davenport, chief supervisor of elections for the southern district of New York, for the elections of 1884, 1886 and 1888, together with reports, correspondence, etc. Mr. Quay offered a resolution, which was referred, for the amendment of the tariff bill on the subject of cables, cordage and twine. The federal election bill was then taken up and Mr. Berry addressed the senate in opposition to it. At the close of Mr. Berry's speech Mr. Aldrich, from the finance committee, reported back the house bill to authorize or rebate in certain cases, to correct the enrollment of the tariff bill, and asked unanimous consent to have it considered, but Mr. Plumb objected, and the bill was placed on the calendar. The debate on the elections bill was resumed, and Mr. Daniel addressed the senate in opposition to it. Mr. George obtained the floor. Mr. Butler gave notice of an amendment to the bill providing that supervisors, canvassers and all election officers be regarded as ministerial and not as judicial officers. Mr. Hoar gave notice that he would ask the senate Wednesday to sit into the evening until the debate on the bill was closed. After a short executive session the senate, at 5:35 p. m., adjourned.

Thomas J. Geary Sworn In.

In the house Tuesday Mr. Morrow, of California, presented the credential of Thomas J. Geary as representative-elect from the First congressional district of California, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. J. Haven. Mr. Geary appeared at the bar of the house and took the oath of office. Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, from the committee on appropriations, reported a bill making a deficiency appropriation for public printing and binding. Referred to committee of the whole. In the morning hour the house resumed the consideration of looking to the removal of the remains of Gen. U. S. Grant to Arlington. Mr. Quinn, of New York, regretted the presentation of this resolution, which could have no other object than the tearing asunder of the heartstrings of the devoted family of the illustrious dead. He was surprised that the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. O'Neill) should have committed himself to the furtherance of a resolution which he was sure was repugnant to the gentleman's best feelings.

There was Not an Atom of Patriotism in the resolution. Gen. Grant lay in one of the grandest spots that ever hero slept in. Complaint was made that New York had not subscribed money enough to build a monument. While New York was receiving subscriptions for the monument, the terrible disaster at Johnstown had occurred. New York had lost sight of the monument, but she had not lost sight of the suffering and distress at Johnstown, and had made contributions with a liberal hand. He appealed to American patriotism to do nothing that was likely to disturb the peace of the great hero. [Applause.] After further debate, participated in by Messrs. Flower, Cummings, Raines, Cutcheon, Mason, Spinola, Bingham and Cannon, the resolution was defeated by a vote of 55 yeas to 118 nays. The yeas and nays were ordered and resulted as follows: Yeas, 92; nays, 153. The resolution was defeated. The house then proceeded under the special order to the disposition of public building measures previously reported from committee of the whole, and afterward adjourned.

THE SPRINGFIELD RIPPER.

Members of Council Elected Under the Special Act Ousted and Those Legislated Out Are Now Reinstated.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 10.—The supreme court yesterday rendered a final decision in the Springfield ripper case, which has been pending since prior to the adjournment of the last session of the legislature. The litigation arose from an enactment last winter providing for the appointment by the mayor of Springfield of a commission to redistrict that city into wards for council-manic purposes. The law was enacted for the purpose of giving the Democrats a majority in city council. The attorney general instituted quo warranto proceedings, alleging that the defendants were unlawfully usurping the powers and duties of office of councilmen. The court renders judgment of ouster and induction, which wipes out all the members of council elected under the special act and reinstates those who were legislated out by reason of the changes in the ward boundary lines. The Republicans will have a majority now.

WELDED BY ELECTRICITY.

A New Process Introduced in a Chicago Mill.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—A manufacturing firm here is about to introduce the process of electric welding into its works. The process of welding invented by Professor Elihu Thompson has been so far developed as to produce the most satisfactory results. The principle involved is that of causing currents of electricity to pass through the abutting ends of the pieces of metal which are to be welded. By this means heat is generated at the point of contact, and mechanical agencies are applied to force the parts together. With this process, and proper apparatus for the work, it is possible to not only weld iron and steel, but to weld metals which so far have not been successfully united. Pieces of such metals and alloys as wrought iron, copper, silver, brass, lead, tin, aluminum, and even cast iron, are not only welded to each other, but the different metals can be welded together. The tensile strength of the weld, as demonstrated by mechanical tests, has proved satisfactory.
