KING OF JUNGLES

Arrested for Fighting Short Companion—Others Caught in the Police Net.

"Slim" Jackson, who prides himself on being "the king of the Jungles," was brought into the police station Sunday evening in company with another colored individual named Jim Head. Jackson is one of the tallest colored men in the city, while his partner is very small. It was reported at the headquarters Sunday afternoon that these men had engaged in a fight and that the air was blue for awhile in that locality, while the ground had a crimson hue from the spilling of gore. Like all good performances the matinee took place in the afternoon, while the real entertainment follows in the evening. Both men were somewhat under the influence of drink and when the night row took place beer bottles and brims played a prominent part. Both men were the worse for wear. They will tell his honor about it at the morning session of police court.

Peter Boux, Mick Marcello and Jim Rose, three natives of Sunny Italy, came in via the patrol wagon for overdriving a horse. They had been drinking a little and did not know that they were violating the speed limit. They were having a little race all to themselves in the "Jungles" and will be expected to give the exact time to Mayor Turnbull at 9 o'clock, as he knows a little about horses himself.

Lewis Wilson, a few shades lighter than ebony, was arrested for disturbing the peace. He admitted that he had "jes' slugged a woman's mouf because she kept the key to his trunk." He will be held to explain this trunk mystery.

BEACH CITY MAN DEAD OF LOCKJAW

Special to Morning News.

Beach City, April 26.—Daniel Adams, aged 36 years, died this morning of lockjaw. About two weeks ago Mr. Adams while painting a house in Massillon, ran a small splinter beneath the nail of one of his fingers. No attention was given the trifling wound at the time, but about a week ago the finger became so badly swollen that Mr Adams was forced to quit work. It was feared at the time that blood poisoning would set in, and the physicians did all within their power to save the man. Later the case developed into lockjaw and today Adams died.

Adams is very well known in this community and his untimely end was a great shock to his many friends here. He was a painter by trade and before his death he was employed by Louis Converse, a Navarre contractor. Surviving are two children and his wife. He came to this place several years ago from Massillon. A brother, Bert Adams, of that city, survives.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal church. Interment in Beech City cemetery.

MASSILLON NEWS

Special to Morning News.

Massillon, O., April 26.—At a special meeting of the township board of education yesterday afternoon, the plans of Architect Bostick, of Canton, for the addition to the Vinedale school house were accepted and the specifications for the addition were ordered at once. It is expected that these will be ready in about a week. The board plans to have the work of construction on the new addition started by the first of June.

The finance committee of the Massillon board of trade is expected to make its report by Thursday upon the outcome of the soliciting for funds for the new sheet steel mill. The time limit was to elapse yesterday, but by a mutual agreement on both sides a longer time was given. The committee has met with some success in its work, but nevertheless they were pleased with the grant of longer time.

COUNCIL APT TO GRANT POLICEMEN

Letters have been sent out by Clerk Paulus of the board of public safety, to 18 of the 25 men who recently took the examination before the board for the position of policemen. Letters are only addressed to those who were successful and those who took the examination and failed to have an average of 75 per cent will not receive the missives from the clerk. It is thought that the council will act upon the chief's request for more officers in the near future.

TWO LIVES LOST IN CLEVELAND FIRE

Cleveland, April 26.—Two lives lost, eleven families burned out and one hundred people homeless are the results of a fire that destroyed the Parker tenement house and damaged four other dwellings early this morning. William Pako, aged 22, and Hugo Gresser, aged 35, lost their lives.

Examination of the ruins leads to the belief that the fire was caused by an exploding lamp.

LATE ALLIANCE NEWS

Special to Morning News.

Alliance, April 26.—The choir of the First Presbyterian church conducted memorial services Sunday evening for the late E. J. Morris, who for a number of years was director of the choir. A number of selections, favorites of the deceased, were sung. The memorial was largely attended.

The Alliance Retail Clerks' association has already taken up the subject of a weekly half-holiday. The plan is to have Wednesday afternoons each week from the first of June to the first of October. In past years the clerks have been granted the concession and it is believed the proprietors will do likewise this year.
