Senatorial and Judicial Nominations.

At a Union Democratic Senatorial Convention for the District composed of the counties of Huron, Erie, Sandusky, and Ottawa, held at Clyde, on Friday, the 20th inst., Judge Charles B. Stickney, of Norwalk, was nominated for Senator. The Norwalk Experiment heartily indorses the nomination, and speaks of Judge Stickney as a man of tried integrity, and a sound, unflinching Union man.

A Judicial Convention was held at the same time and place, and nominated for Judges—John Whiteck, of Norwalk, for the full term, and William Arnezley, of Ottawa county, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Worcester.

Mr. Tod Declines the Stump.

We are advised that Mr. Tod has "let down" and declines making speeches. We thought he would find it an up hill business. Why don't the committee withdraw him? Mr. Jewett is an able sound Union man; and what is the use of trying to keep the people divided? It is rumored that this change in Mr. Tod's policy will soon be followed by his declination.

Tod and Stanton.

On the State ticket of the No party party, stands first the name of David Tod; second, that of Hon. Stanton—the former Governor; the latter for Lieutenant-Governor.

These candidates were nominated by a Convention calling itself Union, and professing to represent an exclusive Union party. Its candidates are, therefore, presented to the people of Ohio as Union men of the first water.

Nobody questions, we believe, that Col. Tod was a true Union man previous to his late nomination; whether he will continue to be regarded as such, will depend upon his future course and the action of those to whom he may lend his aid and influence.

But the record of Mr. Stanton is such, that conservative Union men in the Republican ranks, who know that record, have no confidence in him as a Union man. In a speech in Congress on the 23d of February last (see Congressional Globe of February 22, 1861, page 1,265), Mr. Stanton said:

"Seven or eight States now deny their allegiance to this Government; have organized a separate Confederacy, and have declared their independence of this Government. Whether that independence is to be maintained or not is with the future. If they shall maintain their position, and if public opinion in the seceding States shall sustain the authorities there for a year or two to come, so as to show that nothing but a war of subjugation and conquest can bring them back, I, for one, am disposed to recognize that independence."

The Bellefontaine Republican, the Republican paper of Logan county, Mr. Stanton's own county, in its issue of March 23, 1861, stated that Mr. Stanton read that speech in a meeting held on the 9th of that month in the Court House at Bellefontaine, and re-iterated his purpose to adhere to the sentiments it contained. The Republican copied the passage we have quoted above, and commented upon it, heading its article with the significant words—"SPOT THE TRAITOR!!"

That it is the well matured and settled conviction of Mr. Stanton, by which he will be guided in his future political course, that in case the seceded States are able to maintain their rebellious and traitorous organization of a Confederacy for a year or two, the Union should be dissolved by an acknowledgment on our part of their independence, is manifest from his speech in Congress last winter, which he wrote out and had printed in the Congressional Globe. Many of his constituents in his Congressional district were indignant at, and repudiated the disunion sentiments in that speech; but Mr. Stanton reasserted them, by repeating his speech in Congress at a public meeting in Bellefontaine, and avowing publicly his determination to adhere to them through thick and thin.

Mr. Stanton continues, for aught the public know to the contrary, to hold the same views in regard to a dissolution of the Union. The Union men of Ohio would like to know from Col. Tod whether he coincides with Mr. Stanton in these views. The silence of the former will be taken as evidence that he does so coincide. If he does not, he should come out publicly and say so. This is due to himself, to his former political standing, and his present attitude as a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people of Ohio. Besides, it is rendered the more necessary from a passage in his letter of acceptance, in which he provides for an eventual dissolution of the Union, and suggests that in that event, the Northern States might place themselves under the guardianship of Great Britain or some other strong foreign power. This, at least on its face favors the idea that Col. Tod has, since his nomination, from intercourse with Mr. Stanton or others of a like political faith, become imbued with the dissolution sentiments of that gentleman.

Mr. Stanton, who is associated with Colonel Tod on the No-party ticket, is not only in favor of a dissolution of the Union in a certain contingency, but it is his thorough and matured conviction, that free and slave States can never co exist in the same confederacy, and that the original mistake of our fathers in forming a Union of such States, has caused all our past and present national troubles. This position he made a long and elaborate argument to establish in an "oration" at Bellefontaine on the Fourth of July last.

This oration the Republican paper in that town refused to publish. The Logan County Gazette, a Democratic paper, out of courtesy to Mr. Stanton, published it, in its issue of July 19, 1861, together with a note from Mr Stanton, stating that the Republican had refused to publish his oration.

In this Fourth-of-July oration, Mr. Stanton compares the present conflict in the United States to the old contest in England between the Roundheads and the Cavaliers, or between Presbyterians and High Churchmen, and insists that the existing civil war in this country is the "natural, necessary, and inevitable result of the union of diverse and conflicting social organizations in the same confederacy." This is part and parcel of the old heresy, that men having different and diverse forms of religious worship and different theological tenets, could not live in harmony under the same political government. We have proved that this, in regard to our own country at least, is a false assumption. It is no less a false and mischievous doctrine to assert that communities or States, with different and diverse social organizations, cannot co exist and harmonize in the same political confederacy. Our Federal Government is founded upon the great American idea of non-interference with the religious or social status of the several States.

It is due to himself and the people of Ohio, that Col. Tod should explicitly state, in some public manner, whether since his nomination, he has become a convert to the "irrepressible conflict" heresy. His silence on that head and certain expressions in his late letter of acceptance, would seem to give color to the idea that he has. In that letter he proposes to wage "war eternally," as the only means of restoring our misguided Southern brethren to reason.—"War eternally" and "irrepressible conflict" will, in the ears of most people, sound wonderfully alike. Probably, Colonel Tod did not mean that his words should bear that construction, and that he does not subscribe to the "irrepressible" dogma; if not, it is his duty to explain and repudiate.

The suspicion is gaining ground among the people that in procuring the nomination of Col. Tod for Governor and Hon. Stanton for Lieutenant-Governor, on the same ticket, the quondam Republican leaders set a trap to gull unsuspecting Democrats and other conservative Union men. Should the scheme succeed, and the bogus No-party ticket be elected, then, in case of the death, impeachment, resignation, removal or other disability of Col. Tod, the "irrepressible" Stanton would be the Governor. Col. Tod's health is said not to be good. It is in fact no longer ago than last Monday, the 23d inst., that he was announced to speak at Cincinnati, and went down to the city for that purpose; but when the people had assembled to hear him, it was announced, as stated in the Cincinnati Gazette of the next morning, that Col. Tod, owing to a sudden attack of illness, was unable to attend." In fact owing to his ill health or some other cause, it is already announced in the No-party organs, as by authority from Col. Tod himself, that he will make no political speeches during the present campaign, although the so called Union Central Committee have made numerous appointments for him in different portions of the State. If Col. Tod's health is thus precarious, how can he, if elected, execute the onerous and responsible duties of Supreme Executive of the State, and of Commander-in-Chief of its military and naval forces, in a time of perilous civil war, when the State itself is in imminent danger of invasion? Indeed, it is even now the boast of prominent leaders and active wire-workers of the bogus No-party movement, that in case their machinations are crowned with success, David Tod will be, at the best, only nominally, but Ben Stanton in reality Governor of Ohio. No doubt the prospect of such a "nuseedanseem" for Governor is highly stimulating to the radical Abolitionists and other disunion extremists on the Western Reserve and in other parts of the State.

The Administration and the Republicans.

The leading Republican papers of the State are already "whetting their bills" to attack the Administration so soon as the election is over. Policy keeps them quiet for the time being. Hon A. G. Riddle, the member of Congress from the Cleveland district, has commenced the attack through the Leader. The masked Republican batteries are preparing to open, and so soon as the ballot-boxes close, on the evening of the second Tuesday of October, we shall hear them. Nothing is more certain than that the Government must rely upon the old National Union Democracy to be sustained in this hour of its peril. This is as clear as the noonday sun.

Every good Union Democrat, who votes with this hotch-potch party, will regret it in ten days thereafter. Mark this prediction.

[From the Dayton Empire.

Eloquent Letter of Hon. Hugh J. Jewett, to a Workingman in Dayton.

Some weeks since Mr. John Lukey, a mechanic of this city, addressed the Democratic Union candidate for Governor, Hon. Hugh J. Jewett, a letter relative to the position of affairs in the country. In response, Mr. Lukey received the following eloquent and manly letter:

Zanesville, Sept 6, 1861

Mr. John Lukey—Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your kind favor of the 24 inst., and am gratified to learn that yourself and friends stand by the Union and the Constitution to the end; that the blessings intended by our fathers to be secured by the one, and protected by the other, shall be transmitted to our posterity as an inheritance of inestimable value.

There is no portion of our people so deeply interested in the maintenance of the institutions of our country, as they were made and designed by those great and good men, who, regardless of differences of opinion upon the subject of slavery, and all other questions of a local and domestic character, stood shoulder to shoulder through the dark and trying days of the Revolution, as the laboring man and the mechanic. To him who is born to wealth, to place, and position, the form of government under which he lives, so far as it regards his personal ease, comfort and prospects, may not be a matter of much consequence; but to those whose only inheritance is honesty, industry, energy and native capacity, it is of the utmost importance that they should enjoy a government in which these qualities are appreciated, and are made the essential elements, entitling the possessor to respect in the community, and to be heard as active participants in the councils of the State and Nation. There is no form of government known to the civilized world, offering so many inducements to the laborer, to the mechanic, to honest and intelligent industry, in whatever department it may be found, as that under which we now live, and for the preservation of which we are struggling; and it gives me great pleasure to learn that yourself and associates, appreciating these advantages, are determined to devote your best energies to the support of the Government, to the maintenance of our glorious flag, and to give your influence in favor of restoring, in the administration of the Government, to those principles which its founders inculcated, and which, so long as adhered to, secured to the people and the nation, peace and prosperity.

The remark to which you refer, as having been made by one of your city papers, referring to the employees of the Central Ohio Rail road Company, calling them "Irish mud diggers, etc.," is one of the many evidences we have, that among those who make the loudest professions in favor of a Democratic form of Government, and of the capacity of the people for self government, are to be found men who, without one stroke of the pen, if they had the power, would rend the whole system to atoms. The employees of the Central Ohio Railroad are beyond any such influences. If the attempt was made they would promptly resent it. Whenever spoken to by any of them on the subject of politics, I have said to them, as I now say to you, that in this country, the exercise of the elective franchise is a solemn and important duty, in the discharge of which every man, availing himself of all the means of information within his reach, should appeal to his own conscience for the right, and in accordance with the promptings thereof, act and vote. In the present instance, as a candidate for Governor, I thank you for your proffers of assistance and support; but if, upon further reflection, your conviction of duty should lead you to throw your influence elsewhere, you will be none the less entitled to my respect.

I trust we may both live to see the present difficulties and dangers in which we are involved, and by which we are threatened, pass away; the Union of the States, and peace and prosperity of the people, fully restored.

Respectfully, H. J. JEWETT.

The Gale Sisters.—Our readers have been made acquainted with the sad catastrophe that occurred lately at Wheatley's Theatre—formerly the National—Philadelphia. The Bulletin of Pike's Opera house last winter will recognize in two of the Gale sisters a pair of beautiful girls, who were especial favorites with the admirers of the "grace and poetry of motion." There were four sisters belonging to the corps de ballet at the time of the disaster, and three have since died; the fourth, although badly burned, will recover. There is a romantic interest attached to this family. The father was a Lieutenant in the British Navy, and some years since, while his daughters were children, he made an experimental ascent in a balloon from a public garden in Paris. While in the air the gas by some means was ignited, and Lieut. Gale perished by the same agent—fire—that has overtaken three of his daughters. There were in all five children—all girls—who with their mother were thus thrown friendless upon the world. Four were taken under the tuition of a celebrated professor of dancing, and it will be remembered first made their appearance in this country with the celebrated Ronzani Troupe. The fifth is in Europe, fulfilling her destiny as an equestrienne in a circus. The mother is still living, and depended for her support upon the earnings of her daughters.—Cin. Enq.

Hello! What's Up!! Don't Go Tod!!!

"There is evidently a screw loose! The Cincinnati Sentinel won't go Tod. It is opposed bitterly to abandoning the Republican party.—Hear it talk:

"We are betrayed, transferred, and offered up as cattle to the shambles to slavery Democrats and sham Republicans. They, who had hold of the machinery of our party have disposed of us as mere machines, and have thought no more of a transfer of two hundred thousand voters than they would have thought of selling so many hogs, harness or spinning jennies."

"The editor of that Sentinel should be in Fort Lafayette. He is sold, swindled, and why not pen him up!—Morning Sentinel.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

Whereas, a joint committee of both Houses of the Congress of the United States, requesting the President to recommend "a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, to be observed by the people of the United States, with religious ceremonies and the offering of fervent supplications to Almighty God, for the safety and welfare of these States; His blessings on their arms and speedy restoration of peace;" and, whereas, because it is all these fit and becoming for all people to acknowledge and revere the supreme government of God, the President has appointed Thursday the 26th of September as a day of humiliation, prayer and fasting for all the people of the nation, therefore,

I, William Dennison, Governor of the State of Ohio, do earnestly commend to the people of this State, that, according to their several creeds and modes of worship, they do keep and observe that day, in order that their prayers may unite with the prayers of the right minded of other States, for guidance by the Supreme Ruler of nations, to the end that law and order and peace may be re established, and the blessings of civil, and religious liberty secured and perpetuated throughout the wide extent of our country.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great Seal of the State of Ohio, to be affixed this 14th day of September, A. D. 1861, of the organization of our State the 59th, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the 86th.

By the Governor. W. DENNISON.

Meigs County.

Pursuant to notice the Democracy of Meigs county met in Convention at the Court House in Pomeroy, Sept. 21st, 1861:

On motion, Wm. McAboy was appointed Chairman of the Convention, and T. Strider, Secretary.

By motion of James M. Miller, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the Democracy of Meigs county, fully indorse the action of the Democratic State Convention, held at Columbus, Ohio, August 7th, 1861, and pledge ourselves to support the candidates there nominated. We also fully indorse the sentiments contained in the patriotic letter of acceptance of the Hon. Hugh J. Jewett, our candidate for Governor.

After adopting the above resolution the following persons were nominated:

For Representative, Robert Peoples, of Orange; Sheriff, Tilla Striber, of Salisbury; Prosecuting Attorney, Jacob S. Earhart, of Salisbury; County Commissioner, Milo Guthrie, of Orange; Infirmary Director, Isaac Radford, of Chester; County Surveyor, Wm. McAboy, of Bedford.

On motion, the following persons were appointed the Democratic Central Committee of the county:

On motion, the following persons were appointed delegates to the Senatorial Convention, to be held at Gallipolis on Saturday, Sept. 28th, 1861:

Dr. Rehm, Silas Gamer, J. M. Miller, J. W. Shields, Robert Peoples, R McKay, Jr., J. S. Earhart, James Rogers, Milo Guthrie, Aml Coudie, James Tresner, Joseph Atkins, Job Philips, Tilla Strider, Chas. Smart.

On motion, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention be published in the Ohio Statesman and the Cincinnati Enquirer.

On motion, the Convention adjourned.

WILLIAM M'ABOY, Ch'n.

Striking the President.

Messrs. Editors of the Evening Post:

Don't you think it rather funny for the Journal of Commerce, which has just saved its neck by a recantation, to undertake to dictate the policy of the patriotic party?

Wall Street.

We do; but as we perceive that the journals which were lately in strong sympathy with the rebels, are those which most earnestly approve the President's interference with Fremont, we propose to let them speak without reply. In that way, at least, the President will learn whither he is tending.—Editor Evening Post.

In view of the splendid position of such men as Joseph Holt, and the hearty commendation which the President's course meets with throughout the country, and especially in view of the earnest desire of all good men to stand together by the President and the Congress of the United States in times like these, is not our respected neighbor doing bad work by hitting the President such hard blows as this? If the Post only wishes to strike at us, that is one thing; but to make a rap on our backs the excuse for saying that the President is tending to sympathy with the rebels, is, in our poor judgment, a very objectionable method of supporting the Government.—Journal of Commerce.

☞ The Zanesville Courier is fond of calling Union Democrats "the Vallandigham Democracy." Pray, Mr. Courier, what does thee think of Stanton Unionists?

A New York paper states that United States District Attorney Smith has received instructions from the Secretaries of State and War to examine into the case of a number of the prisoners now confined at Fort Lafayette. The examination will be so conducted that innocent parties will not be detained one hour after the fact of their non complicity with treason is established.

The Texan Troops.—It is stated that the War Department has at last decided to discharge the Texan soldiers who, under General Twiggs, had to surrender themselves prisoners of war, and who for several months past have been encamped at Fort Hamilton. This measure will be tantamount to disbanding the several companies of the First, Third and Eighth Regiments of infantry which are now at the Fort, and steps will be taken at once to reorganize these companies and form them into a battalion on Governor's Island.

Narrow Escape of Fort Hatteras and Garrison.—After the capture of Fort Hatteras, one of the shells was found to have pierced the rebels' powder magazine without bursting. On examination, it appeared that the gunner, whose duty it was, had forgotten to tear off a small leathern cap, ordinarily put on for safety. This was the only shell thrown that did not explode. Had the cap been removed, the fortifications would have been blown up, and not a handful of prisoners left alive to be captured as prisoners of war.

A Large Contract.—Stephen Cromwell, of Camden, Ohio, has made a contract by which he is to furnish one hundred and fifty thousand cords of wood for the Ohio Central Railroad Company. The magnitude of this contract can be understood only when we take into consideration the fact that it makes a pile four feet high and not less than two hundred and fifty-seven miles in length, and requires the delivery of nearly fifty cords a day (Sundays excepted) for ten years.

☞ The Cadiz (Harrison county) Republican floats at its mast head the "Republican county" ticket, regularly nominated, and says in relation to the new Union party as follows:

"We think it would have been best to have kept up the Republican organization, and to have invited all loyal, patriotic Democrats to co-operate with us in the support of the Government; but our State Central Committee determine otherwise, and we acquiesce, knowing that the object of the Union organization is the same as that had in view by the Republican party.

When we will have Peace.—A distinguished Salt Lake, Mormon elder makes the prediction—or rather expresses, as he calls it, the decided opinion—that the United States will see no peace until Brigham Young takes the Government in hand, which glorious consummation is to be brought about before long.

☞ Mrs. Fanny Kemble Butler's ex-husband, Pierce Butler, Esq., who is one of the prisoners at Fort Lafayette, is described by a correspondent of a Philadelphia paper as being employed at present in reading "Johnson's Vanity of Human Wishes." The N. Y. Express says that since Mr. Butler's incarceration Mrs. Kemble is said to have become desirous of reconciliation, and to have applied for admission into Fort Lafayette. The difficulty which led to a divorce originated in Mrs. Kemble's abolition sentiments.

SPECIAL NOTICES

JAYNE'S AGUE MIXTURE.

Is an infallible remedy for Fever and Ague. The experience of many years, in almost every climate, proves that where used in strict accordance with the directions, it has rarely failed to cure, not only by breaking the chills, but by removing the morbid taint of the system, preventing the recurrence of the disease.

FEVER AND AGUE, though not in itself dangerous, is apt, unless speedily removed, to have such a pernicious effect on the system, as to engender disorders much more baneful than itself, and which not only render the after-life of the patient miserable, but are in themselves often fatal. A prompt and effectual remedy is therefore what is wanted, and as such Dr. D. Jayne's Ague Mixture is confidently recommended. For sale by Messrs Roberts & Samuel, Columbus, and by agents everywhere.

The following is an extract from a letter written by the Rev. J. B. Ecton, pastor of the Fleetwood Street Baptist Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., to the "Journal and Messenger," Cincinnati, O., and speaks volumes in favor of that world-renowned medicine, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething:

"We can say advertisement in your columns of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. We never said a word in favor of a patent medicine before in our life, but we feel constrained to say to our readers that we know from a long trial that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is one of the best, if not the best, of all the preparations of the kind. Among the many of our cousins who have taken it do better than to use it."

Facts are Stubborn Things!

Hear what the Philadelphia correspondent says in the "Commonwealth," Wilmington, Delaware, 9th of April, 1859:

"An English gentleman, formerly connected with the British Army, and who styles himself the 'Indian Botanic Physician' has of late gained an extensive reputation here by his skill in curing all manner of complaints. Some of his patients I have conversed with, and they pronounce his remedies and mode of treatment as every superior. Some have been restored as if by magic. The medicine he uses is distilled by himself from various herbs possessing rare curative properties.

"While acting in the army he devoted his leisure moments to a thorough study of the effects produced by certain medicinal roots and herbs on all manner of diseases. It seems he has found a sure and speedy remedy for all the ills that flesh is heir to.' His practice is already extensive and is daily increasing. In the complaints to which Females are subjected, he has no equal, as a large number here have testified that they owe not only their present good health, but their lives, to the skill of this Indian Botanic Physician."
