ROSWELL PEOPLE IN NUMBERS SEE THE EXPOSITION

Folk From Pecos Valley Share Honors With Billy Sunday and the Ford Band at San Diego Show.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, Aug. 15.—It was not only "Billy Sunday" and "Ford" day at the San Diego exposition Saturday, but also "Roswell" day, judging by the large number of visitors from the lower Pecos valley at the New Mexico building. Among these was District Judge John T. McClure and wife of Roswell. Judge McClure was much pleased with the building and especially with the prominence given Roswell and Chaves county. He stated that he felt that every part of New Mexico would benefit greatly by the work being done here, and that it would be amply repaid for the amount of money expended. He reported what so many others have said that the impression is general that the New Mexico building and that New Mexico has accomplished at the exposition, was about the biggest and best thing at San Diego.

Larrazola Visits Building.

O. A. Larrazola and party spent considerable time in the building and made a very thorough inspection. Mr. Larrazola expressed himself as confident that New Mexico's exhibit would bear abundant fruit and that thousands of new settlers and much capital would come to New Mexico as a result.

Mrs. L. H. Ferry, a noted artist of Boston, Mass., spent an entire forenoon sketching the New Mexico building for an oil painting of the Cathedral of the Desert that she will exhibit in eastern galleries.

Miss Lucero Returns.

Miss Aurora Lucero, daughter of Secretary of State Antonio Lucero, paid a farewell visit to the building and returned home tonight. The musical programs given by Miss Elizabeth Garrett, the blind singer of Las Cruces, are very popular and draw many San Diego people besides the tourists.

The following registered: Edith Geyer, Mrs. W. C. Reid, Mrs. Phil Helmig, Thomas Reid, Lucille Dabbs, Judge and Mrs. J. T. McClure, Roswell; Helen Lindsey, Portales; Susie S. Frazier, Santa Fe; Margaret C. de Baca, Las Vegas; Ella B. Sellards, A. M. Sellards, Lordsburg; W. S. Cox, Silver City; Charles Kirk, John Milne, D. E. Wilson, H. F. Fagan and wife, Annie Montoya, Katherine Montoya, Mrs. A. Montoya, A. M. Montoya, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Grunsfeld, Florence Grunsfeld, Mrs. J. A. Seder, Florence M. Seder, Vida Pinney, Mrs. Edward Pinney, Mrs. Madge Scott, Wilson Scott, Albuquerque; Helen Nolan, Las Vegas; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wetmore, Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCamant, Des Moines; A. Anderson, Tucumcari; Mrs. Gussie Dyer, Raton; Margaret J. Kennedy, East Las Vegas; C. O. de Baca, Las Vegas; D. F. Sellards, Lordsburg; Bella G. Cox, Silver City; H. G. Bush, Deming; Mrs. P. F. Nolan, Anna M. Nolan, Las Vegas; H. G. Bush and wife, Deming; E. Anderson, L. L. Wilson, Tucumcari; Mrs. Mary R. Hamilton, Socorro; Miss Sophie Gilchrist, East Las Vegas; Mrs. Jose A. Baca, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Larrazola, Frank Carroon, East Las Vegas; O. R. Gable, Artesia; Edward Stommel, Las Vegas; Ella B. Kiser, Artesia; Sidney S. Bartlett, Socorro; Prof. W. R. Goddard, State College; James M. Buckley, Clovis; Bertha S. Mondell, Mesilla Park; W. E. Kindell, Hillsboro.

Twenty thousand heard Billy Sunday preach a revival sermon and scores took the concrete path to the altar and confessed their sins. In the Ford automobile parade, the same day, there were 5,000 Fords headed by the Ford band of fifty-five pieces from the Ford factory at Detroit.

The Salt Lake City commercial club has inaugurated a world-wide movement to keep the exposition open during 1916 thus assuring as heavy a westward movement next year as this.

John J. Sullivan, J. S. Burns, Luke McCoy, Leo J. Doyle, Martin Walsh, Richard Knight and Edward Houlihan, Chicago jurists, were among the visitors to the New Mexico building. Frank B. Connolly, president of the National Retail Grocers' association, was another visitor, as wer twenty belles who had won a popularity contest in Georgia and South Carolina. Next Saturday will be Knights of Pythias day and 20,000 Pythians will visit the exposition. Simon Von Baalte, a wealthy real estate operator from St. Louis, was a visitor and declared that he marveled at the investment opportunities presented by the southwest. Marcus M. Marks, president of the Borough of Manhattan, was another visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Leob Jonas of Philadelphia, who were at the museum today on their return from the San Diego exposition, were extravagant in their praises of the New Mexico building and its management and promised to return to Santa Fe when the Cathedral of the Desert is erected.
