ESKIMOS MURDER TWO PRIESTS AND TWO PROSPECTORS

Same Tribe, It Is Believed, Killed Two Explorers, Radford and Street, After Desperate Fight, Says Guide.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

The Pas, Manitoba, Oct. 29.—Two Catholic priests and two prospectors are reported to have been murdered by Eskimos north of Chesterfield inlet, Hudson bay, according to Captain Lockhart of the Royal Northwest policeboat, Village Bell, which arrived here today from northern waters.

Captain Lockhart said he believed the four men had been murdered by the same inland tribe of Eskimos that attacked Radford and Street, the explorers. Trapped white Eskimos told him that the inland tribe had heard the coastallers were looking for the men who attacked the explorers and therefore were suspicious of all strangers.

A Tepahie guide, who was with Radford and Street, told Captain Lockhart that Street put up a great struggle for his life and with his body full of spear holes, he lived from noon until sundown, when an Eskimo sawed off his throat and pushed his body over a cliff.

The Tepahie saved his life by carrying one of the women of the tribe and eventually made his escape to the bay coast. He positively refused to serve as guide for Inspector Bates, who wished to visit the scene.

President Wilson assured the delegation of sympathy for their expression.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes.

Scott's is pleasant to take.

CARRANZA MEN KILLING BANDITS ACROSS BORDER

Fifteen Marauders Are Said to Have Been Slain on Mexican Side of River; U. S. Patrol Is Again Attacked.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 29.—A new attack by Mexican bandits on a patrol camp of United States soldiers and the reported killing of fifteen bandits in a battle with Carranza soldiers acting under orders of First Chief Venustiano Carranza to clear the border of outlaws, were developments today in the border situation.

Details of the reported fight on Mexican soil, which was said to have occurred fifty-five miles west of Matamoros, still were lacking today, but color was added to the story by the dispatch of Carranzistas up the Rio Grande by Gen. Eugenio Lopez, commander of the garrison of Matamoros. It was understood they were to aid in prosecuting the search for outlaws who have been harrying the Texas border counties in Matamoros from River points across the Rio Grande.

First Report of Fight.

First reports of the fight between the bandits and the Mexican soldiers came from Reynosa, which reputedly has been a center of reliable news concerning Pancho Villa's activities. After losing fifteen of their number killed, the outlaws were said to have fled, pursued by the government troops. There was no official confirmation.

The Mexican bandits, who attacked a patrol of twenty United States troopers in California at Capote ranch early today, chased the camp from three directions. The soldiers were in trenches and opened fire on the Mexicans at fifty yards. The firing continued for perhaps few minutes, when the Mexicans retreated in the direction of the Rio Grande, three miles away, and regrouped.

The infantry were parts of companies E and H. Twenty eighth regiment, commanded at Lieut. M. H. Wainer. It is unknown how many Mexicans were in the band, but it is believed there were more than fifteen. Three of their horses were killed by the soldiers.

Brother of Lopez Jailed

A brother of General Lopez has been jailed in Matamoros in connection with the fatal shooting there two months ago of a man who gave his name as Boone but since he has been identified as San Diego Lopez, of San Francisco, according to J. M. Johnson, American consul at Matamoros. He said Boone on his deathbed said he did not know the name of the man who shot him but could identify him.

Hickey on Blanco died before one of trials were made. Blanco and both had been drinking and the other man was handling a pistol when it was discharged, the bullet entering Hickey's abdomen. The body was buried in Matamoros by the civil government.

GERMAN BODIES THICK IN DVINA RIVER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

London, Oct. 29 (6:55 p. m.).—Accounts have reached here, says a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, of a spectacular fight on the island of Dalen on the Dvina river, a few miles south of Riga, whither the Russians forced the Germans, allowing them time to recall the positive before becoming a bombardment from both sides.

"Survivors from Riga who witnessed the commande from a bridge across the Dvina say the river choked with German corpses and floating green stream, and stated that the German forces had been almost entirely wiped out."

KAISER HAS NO BANK BALANCE IN ENGLAND

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Amsterdam, Oct. 30 (1:01 a. m. London, 1:24 a. m.).—The North Germanische Zeitung, the official organ of the German government, a copy of which has been received here, denies a report in dispatches, that Emperor William has a private credit of $1,000,000 in the Bank of England.

The newspaper also reiterates the denial that thirty Belgians have been sentenced to death at Liege.

CHINA'S POLITICS OF NO CONCERN TO UNITED STATES

Japan Opposes Change From Republic to Monarchy and Is Backed by Great Britain and Russia in Protest.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Washington, Oct. 29.—The United States has declared to express any opinion as to whether it approves the proposed change in China from a republic to a monarchy. It became known today that some of the interested powers in working to avoid all the Washington government informally had learned that the latter would take no step that might be construed as an intervention in the internal affairs of another sovereign state.

Chinese Premier Resigns.

Interest in the Far Eastern situation which was for months large overshadowed in the controversies of the European war, was revived by official questions by a church announcing the resignation of the Chinese premier, Hsu Shih-Chang. This development was regarded as significant because a few weeks ago the premier made a public statement saying that as a former viceroy of the Manchu dynasty he would not serve under another emperor.

No Expression Asked.

The Chinese government itself has not asked for the views of the United States and officially nothing has been said here on the subject. It is known, however, that officials the hope is entertained in Washington that the change will not be made. This is based not only on the natural sympathy for the republican form of government but because of the belief that the change might affect the political equilibrium of the Far East at this time. The first year President Yuan Shi Kai was elected for a term of ten years and is in dominant control of the situation appears to have control and with the Eastern affairs to make any change of present uncertainty and it dread.

Opposed to Japan.

American Minister Reinsch has reported from Peking that the Japanese and British governments seemed to be opposed to the change and officials here were not surprised to learn through press dispatches of the call at the Chinese foreign office of the British, Russian and Japanese ministers and of the formal statement from Tokio of Japan's opposition. The American minister having received no instructions from Washington has not participated in any of the parleys on the subject at Peking.

Both the British and Japanese embassies here are watching the situation closely and the same views that were reported in Peking dispatches today as being expressed to the British and Japanese ministers were reflected to the ambassadors here.

At the Chinese legation comment on the situation was withheld. Official satisfaction of the appointment of Dr. Washington Kuo as the Chinese minister here came in the short dispatches today. It is understood that Dr. Kuo, who is a close friend of President Yuan Shi Kai, is in favor of the monarchy. He is visiting England and France now. It is believed, sounding out the powers on the change in government. He is expected in Washington in a few weeks.

ENGLISH KING THROWN BY HORSE; SEVERELY BRUISED

Cheering by British Troops Frightens Animal and George Is Hurled Heavily to Ground; Injuries Not Dangerous.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

London, Oct. 29 (2:35 p. m.).—An accident to the king happened yesterday morning.

The king was thrown from his horse and severely jarred.

The following official announcement is issued:

"While the king this morning (Thursday) was inspecting his army in the field his horse, excited by the cheers of the troops, reared up and fell. The king was bruised severely and will be confined to his bed for the present.

"A later bulletin under today's date says:

"The king had a fair night, with some sleep. The temperature is now 99.2 and pulse 75. His majesty's general condition has improved and no complications have arisen."

It is understood that the accident to the king was not serious, although no details have been made public regarding those disclosed in the official announcement.

The Prince of Wales arrived at Buckingham palace this afternoon from France, where he was in close attendance with his father, during the king's inspection at the front. It is believed the prince has returned for the purpose of reassuring Queen Mary as to the king's condition.

His presence here is taken as confirmation of the statement that the president was not serious.

A Reuter dispatch from British headquarters describing the accident to the king says he had just completed an inspection of one corps and was on his way to review another when cheers from the troops, who threw their caps in the air, caused his horse to rear and fall over backward, throwing the king to the ground.

He was immediately assisted to a motor car and while being driven away was able to return the salutes of the troops as he sat in the corner of the car.

No Clemency for Bulger.

Denver, Oct. 29.—The state board of pardons late today declined to recommend to Governor Carlson that he exercise executive clemency in the case of James C. Bulger, sentenced to be hanged next week for the murder at Lloyd F. Nicodemus. The action was taken on an appeal for a commutation of the death sentence based upon the claim that Bulger is insane.

ORDUNA ATTACK AGAINST ORDERS TO SUBMARINES

Commander Later Spared American Bark Laden With Contraband Because He Feared Crew Might Drown.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Washington, Oct. 29.—A memorandum from the German government explaining the unsuccessful attempt of a submarine to sink the Cunard liner Orduna, was made public here tonight for the first time. It recalls that as early as July 1, five months before the attack upon the Arabic, German commanders had instructions not to sink "even passenger steamers" without warning.

The document also contains the statement that the same instructions were reiterated in October, although finding that warning could not be given without endangering the submarine, it was recognized that the crew would be rescued if left to their fate in small boats. This is regarded as significant in connection with the last note of the United States in the case of the William P. Frye, in which Germany was asked for assurance that it is American vessels carrying contraband were sunk pending arbitration of treaty rights the crews would not be endangered by the risk of small boats in the open sea.

Made Part of "White Book."

The Orduna memorandum, carrying its depth, September 9, was given out with separate other correspondence supplementary to the second installment of the enemying white book issued yesterday by the state department. Its text follows:

"At about a quarter past seven on the morning of July 5, last, a German submarine sighted a steamer from three to five miles away and a sailing vessel about a mile away. The steamer was proceeding without any flag or recognized markings and was taken for a small cruiser. Accordingly by the commander of the submarine on account of the difficulty of observation caused by the unfavorable weather. The commander decided first to attack the steamer submerged and fired a torpedo at the vessel which missed its mark.

Spares Bark Normandie.

"Hoping to catch the steamer above the water, the submarine rose and chased the steamer on the surface. The steamer did not stop when a shot of warning was fired but in reply several shots were fired at her which did not strike her as the submarine was pitching about and the distance was great. The submarine then proceeded to the sailing vessel, which was flying, as it is the American bark Normandie, bound from New York to Liverpool with a cargo of lumber. Although the sailing vessel was forbidden to continue her voyage, it was impossible to guarantee that the crew would be safely rescued in the small boats if the ship were sunk.

Violated Instructions.

"The first attack on the Orduna by a torpedo was not in accordance with the existing instructions which provided that large passenger steamers are not to be torpedoed after previous warning and after the rescuing of passengers and crew. The failure to observe the instructions was based on an error which is at any rate comprehensible and the repetition of which appears to be out of the question, in view of the more explicit instructions issued in the meantime. Moreover, the commanders of the submarines have been reminded that it is their duty to exercise greater care and to observe correctly the orders issued."

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—John W. Considine, member of the theatrical firm of Sullivan & Considine, who, a few years ago, was reported a millionaire, testified in the superior court here today that he was entirely without means and that he owed $800,000. He was being examined in supplementary proceedings as to his ability to satisfy a judgment for $2,500 obtained against him on September 19 by Alcatraz Robinson on an alleged note signed by Considine. Considine said he had used every means to raise money, even seeking to mortgage his theater tickets but in vain. He said he had sold his diamonds and parted with "everything that would bring money."

FAY ONLY AGENT OF THOSE HIGHER UP, IS BELIEF

Secret Service Agents Seek to Learn for Whom Alleged Former German Army Officer Was Working in America.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

New York, Oct. 29.—Beyond ascertaining that the government was quietly working to trace names mentioned in the alleged conspiracy to destroy ships taken with war munitions for the allies, officials said today. There had been no new developments in the case of the five men already arrested. United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall said he saw no reason were contemplated for the present.

The name of Robert Fay, who confessed to the conspiracy after saying he was a German army lieutenant sent in this country to blow up ships, and Walter L. Schulz, his partner, together with the names of three other men named as having promoted the plans, probably will not become the federal grand jury the latter part of next week.

The appearances of William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, are also busy investigating the various threads of the story told by Fay. The three of them, further questioning of men who sold explosive materials to Fay and assuming personal with whom he had dealings prior to his arrest last Sunday, with a view of excluding from willing his alleged financial aid. It was stated that the government was in possession of evidence that Fay obtained money from private sources in Germany.

Intimations came from other official sources that while no further arrests were contemplated for the present, Fay was considered only the agent of others whose names have not yet been mentioned, but whom secret service agents are seeking and that when other facts are unearthed the present inquiry may assume a much broader scope than at present.

NATIONAL GUARD NOT FAVORABLE TO ARMY PLANS

Executive Committee Dislikes Idea of Being Displaced by Reserves as Second Line of Defense.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Washington, Oct. 29.—Members of the executive committee of the National guard association, some of whom have expressed opposition to the continental army feature of the administration's national defense campaign, had long conferences today and tonight with Secretary Garrison, officers of the general staff and the national militia board. Mr. Garrison explained the war department's plans in detail and while it is said that no agreement was reached, department officials are hopeful that the national guard leaders will agree to the program before the discussions are concluded.

The executive committee, which is composed of state adjutants general, is here at the invitation of Mr. Garrison to spend a week in joint sessions with the militia board the consideration of the army's part in the defense program to be submitted to congress this winter.

Some of the state officers are said to look with disfavor on the proposal to raise a federal continental army because they think that the national guard should be depended upon as the country's second line.

At the statement today the secretary pointed out practical difficulties in the way of utilizing state controlled organizations as a second line of defense, but assured the guardsmen that no impairment of the efficiency of the present militia establishment was contemplated and that on the contrary the administration was determined to do everything possible to build up the national guard and make it a more important factor in the nation's defensive strength.

JOHN PRENTISS POE, JR., KILLED IN FRANCE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Baltimore, Oct. 29.—John Prentiss Poe, Jr., a famous Princeton football player in the early 90's, was killed on September 22, while fighting as a private in the British army along the northern boundary of France. Word to this effect was received today by relatives in this city.

Poe was born in Baltimore, forty years ago. He won international fame as a captain in the Honduran army. With a handful of men in a fort at Amalpa harbor, he opened fire on a Nicaraguan gunboat, sending it scurrying away under the impression that the Hondurans had a big force at the fort.

MELLEN NEVER KNEW INTRIGUES OF NEW HAVEN

Former President Astounded at Revelations in Court of Political Activities of John M. Hall, He Declares.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

New York, Oct. 29.—Charles S. Mellen told the court at the trial of the eleven directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company today that he had never known of the political activities of the late John M. Hall, vice president and later president of the New Haven in influencing legislation in favor of the New Haven, nor as far as he knew was the existence of the numerous letters which Hall wrote on the subject known to other directors or officers of the company.

Mr. Mellen made this statement before leaving the witness stand temporarily to permit the government to rest in its rebuttal against the defendants covering the five-year period of its attempt to the west, 1907 to 1912.

"I was astonished to discover," he said, "that I had been for ten years within reach of those letter press copybooks containing the chief letters and never knew, up. I had no connection with those matters direct or indirect. I never had any reason to refer to them nor do I know of any officer or director that did. I don't think they knew of them.

Nevertheless the government attorneys continued the introduction of more of the Hall letters, which had to do not only with legislative matters but with the inward effort of the New Haven to prevent steamboat competition.

Two letters read today written by President Charles P. Clark, in the earlier, to the late J. P. Morgan, disclosed that the New Haven's plan to get control of a steamship line, called the Eastern and New York, went awry.

Later Clark wrote to Hall: Morgan thinks Hendrick was intending to use the funds to identify the road as a connecting line with the New Haven and that "in my judgment it isn't the best interests of the company that we should call the turn."

W. T. McCreight, business manager of the Journal, is confined to his home, 311 West Lead avenue, suffering from a carbuncle. He will be out again in a few days.
