[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE]

Philadelphia, June 12.—Miss Molla Bjurstedt of Norway, retained her title of woman tennis champion of the United States by defeating Mrs. Edward Raymond, of New York, in the challenge round of the woman's national lawn tennis tournament today and added another championship to her already long list of tennis honors by capturing the women's national doubles title paired with Miss Eleanora Sears, of Boston.

In the singles Miss Bjurstedt defeated Mrs. Raymond, 6-0, 6-1. It was the shortest challenge round match ever played in the thirty-one years of the national tournament. The players were on the courts less than half an hour, and the contest lasted exactly twenty-two minutes.

McKechnie Now a Star Third Sacker

Bill McKechnie, the recently acquired third baseman of the New York Giants, is developing into one of the real stars of the game. McGraw has spent much time in training the third sacker and has been amply rewarded for his pains. Bill is fielding and batting well and fills the gap left by Hans Lobert very satisfactorily.

Notice has been served by the national monetary commission, it was asserted that all Vera Cruz paper money in small denominations will be exchanged at the rate of two cents national gold, or one cent American currency on the peso. HOPE SPRINGETH ETERNAL IN THE SUFFRAGE BREAST

Zealots Trying to Nail Pet Plank to Democratic Platform; Borah Wires Welcome Words.

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE]

St. Louis, June 12.—Hope was high in suffrage circles tonight that the democratic convention will incorporate an equal rights plank of some form in its platform.

Suffragists of all factions were busy today working among the more widely known democrats, and tonight with tentative arrangements made for a hearing of their demands, probably on Wednesday, they were in an optimistic mood. They noted with interest the attention democrats have paid to the declarations of the republican platform on suffrage and declare that the democratic party no longer can afford to ignore that issue.

Fight Expected.

A suffrage plank will not be inserted without a fight, however, also led by women. Mrs. Arthur Dodge, of New York, leader of anti-suffragist forces, is here to make a determined stand against any favorable mention of equal rights in the platform. National Chairman McCombs said tonight that she probably would be given the same amount of time to argue against suffrage as the suffragettes will have for espousing it. The National American Woman Suffrage association and the Congressional union and its auxiliary, the Woman's party, will divide the time equally for the plank.

The two older suffrage organizations are now striving for different ends. The nationals want only a favorable declaration for suffrage in the platform, while the union and the woman's party desire immediate action by congress on the Susan B. Anthony amendment, now resting in the house judiciary committee.

Borah Interprets Platform.

Nationals were elated tonight to receive a telegram from Senator Borah, a drafter of the republican platform, declaring that document was intended to indorse equal suffrage unqualifiedly. No efforts will be spared to get Senator Borah's telegram before democratic platform makers.

The telegram received by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the Nationals, follows:

"Suffrage plank of the republican platform is an unqualified indorsement of woman suffrage. It unmistakably favors the extension of suffrage to women and favors it as a matter of justice. This is not subject to possible ambiguity. The only question left open is that of the method of securing it. The plank recognizes the right of each state to settle the questions itself, but it does not declare against the taking away of that right. It was my view at the time of the adoption of the amendment in the committee and still is my view that upon the question of the federal amendment the plank was silent and neither rejected nor indorsed it.

What Nationals Want.

This is the plank which the National association will ask the democrats to insert in their platform:

"Believing that governments derive their vast powers from the consent of the governed, we acknowledge the right of women to participate in government, and favor their enfranchisement."

General suffrage arguments will have no place in the pleas of the Congressional union and Woman's party representatives to the committee.

To Use Big Stick.

They insist that they have the power to wield a mighty voting influence and through it will obtain their demands.

Sara Bard Field of Oregon, a leader of the woman's party, today telegraphed an appeal to President Wilson for aid in getting the Anthony amendment through congress. A communication soon will be addressed to Charles E. Hughes requesting him to go on record on the suffrage issue in his speech of acceptance in a more definite manner than his party platform commits him. When the woman's party representatives—Mrs. Field, Miss Ann Martin of Nevada, Miss Ida Finney Macrille of California, and Miss Maude Younger of California, appear before the committee they will not touch on the right of women to vote, but lay stress on their ability to cut a big figure in the results of twelve voting states this fall.

Offer Their Influence.

After advising President Wilson that she is not influenced by republicans and, as a democrat had campaigned in his behalf, Mrs. Field declared that the five women orators she offered him had "influence and power enough to win suffrage in their own states."

"This is not sent you in a spirit of bargaining," she added. "To that you would turn a deaf ear. It is asking you to make it possible, as far as you are able, to give democratic women a chance to tell our women voters that you have done the things of paramount importance to women and of significant advantage to the democratic party."

To Show Power.

The woman's party members will tell the committee that the twelve states in which women are enfranchised elect one-fifth of the electoral college and cast one-third of the votes necessary to elect a president. The women behind any one candidate would have changed the results of all except three elections held in suffrage states between 1896 and 1912, they will say. In 1912 changes ranging from 376 votes in Wyoming to 20,964 in Colorado, would have changed the result in any suffrage state. They will quote Susan B. Anthony's own statement that the women of the United States should hold themselves as the voting balance and swing their strength to the party inscribing "Freedom to women" on its banners.

Raise Campaign Pin Money.

Congressional Union women voters gave St. Louis a heretofore unexperienced thrill today with some street corner suffrage speeches from motor cars. They also passed the hat—a purple straw creation—and incidentally raised $2 for the cause.

The first motor car meeting came to a sudden and untimely end. Selecting the first car they noticed outside the hotel where democratic headquarters are located, Miss Mabel Vernon, secretary of the woman's party, and Mrs. Rheta Child Dorr, of New York, climbed into it and began speaking. Suddenly Senator Stone, its owner, spied the women and immediately sent word that he would appreciate their vacating the car.

So the suffragists hired an adjacent "jitney bus" and finished their speeches.

Both Union and National workers set up headquarters today and tonight they were busy working among the delegates.

JOBBERS COMPLAIN OF STANDARD OIL METHODS

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE]

Washington, June 12.—Independent oil jobbers testified today before the federal trade commission that the Standard Oil company had demoralized the oil industry and through failure of the units of the company to compete in each other's fields, had jeopardized the existence of independent jobbers and refiners. They declared that arbitrary high prices set by the Standard Oil company in Ohio and eastern states had diverted the flow of oil from the independent refineries of the middle west until the independent jobbers of the west, where a lower retail price is set by the Standard Oil company of Indiana, were no longer able to buy crud oil at prices which would permit them to compete with the Standard company.

The entire first day of the commission's hearing here which will include an exhaustive inquiry into the rise in gasoline prices was taken up with the testimony of the independent jobbers. When the independents have finished Standard Oil representatives are expected to give their explanation of the increases and to reply to the charges of price fixing.

A table showing large profits made by refiners during 1915 compiled from findings in the commission's investigation, was submitted to the witnesses but was not made public. It drew vigorous objection from the refiners, who urged that the commission had singled out some of the most conspicuous successes and had so arranged its figures as to make them misleading.

E. B. Carson, representing the Consumers' Refining company, declared that the profit made by his concern had not been through the sale of gasoline but through a rise in the price of crude oil.

WEST POINT YEAR ENDS WITH BRILLIANT BALL

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE]

West Point, N. Y., June 12.—The brilliant graduation ball at the United States military academy gymnasium here tonight brought to a close an eventful day in connection with the June week exercises. Hundreds of guests prominent in the nation's social life and high officers of the army were in attendance. A warm sun made conditions ideal for the drills, reviews and receptions.

The annual meeting of the Association of Graduates was followed this afternoon by a review of the cadet battalion by Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, accompanied by his assistant, Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss; Col. C. P. Townsley, superintendent of the academy, and the entire academy staff.

The standing of the graduating class on the general merit roll, published today, is headed by Cadet J. H. Wills, of Alabama. The other honor men forming the "first ten," follow: R. G. Moses, Colorado; W. D. Styer, Utah; J. W. Fraser, New York; C. H. Sunningham, Illinois; D. C. Johns, Illinois; W. A. Snow, at large; T. D. Finley, Pennsylvania; W. H. Britton, Iowa, and E. S. J. Irvine, Arizona.

Drive Catarrh Away By Purifying Your Blood

During winter, nature changes the blood of man and we, because of our habits, unconsciously do those things which are against nature. Then far down amid the vital organs creep weaknesses, that our blood is not vigorous enough to fight off.

Here is where Catarrh enters and quickly makes a conquest. We feel the effects of a cold in nose or throat and sometimes in lungs and stomach. The most common symptoms of the presence of Catarrh is an inflamed and tender condition of the breathing passages and the blocking of throat and nostrils with mucous.

It is a frequent mistake to treat this symptom and neglect the actual disease.

If the blood was pure and vigorous Catarrh would not get a foothold. But having gotten a foothold in our system, the only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the impurities from the blood and at the same time tone up the blood so it will become vigorous and healthy again.

The use of washes, sprays, salves, have only a temporary local effect; they do not reach the disease. S. S. S. has proved for half a century to be the most powerful antidote to poison in the blood. Its action is to strengthen the blood corpuscles so they fight off disease. If you suffer from Catarrh in any of its forms, don't be misled into treating the symptoms but take S. S. S. and remove the cause.
