

The Louisiana Democrat.

A. B. RACHAL

THE WORLD IS GOVERNED TOO MUCH.

(PUBLISHER

VOL. 33.

ALEXANDRIA, LA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1878.

NO. 32.

DEMOCRAT.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE PARISH.

TERMS:
THE DEMOCRAT is published Weekly at FOUR DOLLARS per annum—TWO DOLLARS and FIFTY CENTS for six months—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. No subscription taken for a less period than six months.

ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at the rate of ONE DOLLAR per square for the first insertion and FIFTY CENTS for each subsequent one. Eight lines or less (brevier type) constitute a square. OBITUARY NOTICES, Marriages, Public Meetings, Cards of Thanks, etc., to be paid as advertisements. PERSONAL CARDS—when admissible—charged double the usual advertising rates.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

H. P. LUCKETT, Tax Collector, vs. P. J. BYRNE. No. 1434. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

F. HALLAND R. vs. THE SAME. No. 1426. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

MAY-R BROS. vs. THE SAME. No. 1426. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

ZUBERBER & BHEAN vs. THE SAME. No. 1423. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

JORDON GILES & CO. vs. THE SAME. No. 1428. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

ROBERT G. MCCORKLE & CO. vs. THE SAME. No. 1429. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

L. MEVAL vs. THE SAME. No. 1424. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

G. JAQUET & CO. vs. THE SAME. No. 1427. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

ERGENS DOHERTY vs. THE SAME. No. 1435. Parish Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

MAYOR OF ALEXANDRIA vs. THE SAME. No. —. Justices Court, Alexandria Ward, Parish of Rapides, La.

MAYOR OF ALEXANDRIA vs. THE SAME. No. —. Justices Court, Alexandria Ward, Parish of Rapides, La.

L. C. ARNY vs. THE SAME. No. —. Justices Court, Alexandria Ward, Parish of Rapides, La.

BY VIRTUE OF AND TO SATISFY twelve writs of Fieri Facias issued and to me directed in the above numbered and entitled suits, I have seized and will offer for sale at Public Auction, at the Store lately occupied by P. J. Byrne, on Second Street, Alexandria, La., under the Town Hall, between the hours prescribed by law, on SATURDAY, the 6th of APRIL, A. D. 1878, the contents of said Store, consisting of Groceries, Liquors, Whiskies, Wines, Ale, Spices, Tobacco, Snuff, Candles, Store Fixtures, Gallery additions, Contents of Bar Room, etc. etc., and Book Accounts—as per inventory now on file in my office.

Terms of Sale:—This being the second and last offering, the property will be sold for whatever it will bring, on twelve months' credit or bond, the purchaser being required to furnish good and approved joint security, bearing interest from the day of adjudication, at the rate of five per centum per annum from that date until paid.

H. M. ROBINSON, Sheriff. March 20, 1878. Printer's Fees $14.00.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

MRS. ANN C. MANNING, EXECUTRIX, vs. JOSEPH E. ROBERT. No. 2213—9th Judicial District Court, Parish of Rapides, La.

BY VIRTUE OF AND TO SATISFY a writ of Fieri Facias issued and to me directed in the above entitled and numbered suit, I have seized and will offer for sale at Public Auction in front of the Court House door, in the Town of Alexandria, La., between the hours prescribed by law, on SATURDAY, APRIL 6TH, A. D. 1878, the following described property, to-wit:—

Two certain tracts or parcels of land situated in the Parish of Rapides, on the left descending bank of Bayou Rapides, and fronting on said Bayou, bounded above by lands of Mrs. Daniel Robert, and below by lands of Mrs. Caroline A. Simms, and containing each the quantity of one hundred and twenty-seven acres, and designated on the Surveyor's plat as Lots Nos. four (4) and five (5) in the partition of the Succession of Daniel Robert, with all the improvements thereon.

Terms of Sale:—This being the second and last offering, the property will be sold for whatever it will bring, on twelve months' credit or bond, the purchaser being required to furnish good and approved joint security, bearing interest from the day of adjudication, at the rate of eight per centum per annum from that date until paid, and final payment, and special mortgage retained on the property sold.

H. M. ROBINSON, Sheriff. March 20, 1878. Printer's Fees $9.00.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE DEMOCRAT

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JURORS DRAWN TO SERVE AT THE NEXT MAY TERM OF THE DISTRICT COURT.

CLERK'S OFFICE, ALEXANDRIA, LA., March 16, 1878.

BE IT KNOWN THAT ON THIS the 16th day of March A. D. 1878, we, Charles C. Wooms, W. A. Griffin and William Hustmyre, members of the Jury Commission in and for the said Parish, duly qualified and sworn, together with James H. Ransdell, Clerk of the District Court for said Parish, and ex-officio a member of said Commission, did meet in the Court House in the Town of Alexandria, and did then and there proceed to draw from the General Venire Box the names of those who are to serve as Jurors at the ensuing May Term of the Ninth Judicial District Court in and for the Parish aforesaid, as follows, to-wit:

FIRST WEEK.

1 A. E. Nider Paul's Store
2 W. H. Robert Cheneyville
3 C. G. Goulet Alexandria
4 L. F. Kennedy
5 Emile Ray
6 B. Brady Bayou Rapides
7 Joseph T. Gay Pineville
8 A. J. Hanna Lamourie
9 W. U. Mills Alexandria
10 Wm Morrison Pineville
11 J. L. Pearce Cheneyville
12 C. M. Wells
13 G. W. Audibert Bayou Robert
14 H. Audibert Cheneyville
15 A. Roushon Paul's
16 Steve Freeman Lamourie
17 Jas. Moore Alexandria
18 W. B. Goldman Paul's
19 D. Kuhnagle Alexandria
20 L. Simpson Bayou Rapides
21 E. B. Barker Spring Hill
22 F. M. Escalante Alexandria
23 Jas. T. Nicholls Nicholls
24 John Haulan Big Island
25 Isaac Manteaux Cheneyville
26 John Grantham Calhoun's
27 J. D. Phelps
28 T. L. Peart Lamourie
29 H. A. Thompson Cottle
30 W. H. Headon Spring Hill
31 W. H. Scott Bayou Robert
32 G. W. Cotts Cottle
33 G. W. Gardiner Cottle
34 M. M. Marler Bayou Robert
35 A. Heyman Alexandria
36 M. Paul Jr. Alexandria
37 E. C. Herbert Cheneyville
38 Fat Kelly Alexandria
39 Charles Krehal Pinewoods
40 L. C. Roberts Alexandria
41 F. B. Melder Paul's
42 E. V. Wooms Bayou Robert
43 Alexander Glucksmann Alexandria
44 E. J. Va. Co. I
45 John A. Dixon
46 Wm Sullivan Holloway's Prairie
47 W. H. Readman Wise's
48 Wm. McRobert Spring Creek
49 Henry Walkling Pineville
50 H. R. Dulaney Alexandria

SECOND WEEK.

1 John A. Williams Cothoun's
2 F. H. Barker Alexandria
3 Tom W. Compton Alexandria
4 E. M. Starksford Bayou Rapides
5 A. A. Goodwin Alexandria
6 J. E. David Pineville
7 C. E. Miller Alexandria
8 J. M. Forney Lamourie
9 J. A. Crawford Lamourie
10 J. Swann Paul's
11 W. C. Johnson Alexandria
12 T. J. Small Cheneyville
13 S. Henderson Cottle
14 F. D. R. Morgan Alexandria
15 Alph. Slay Bayou Rapides
16 C. E. Jett Cheneyville
17 B. Meyer Lamourie
18 Joseph V. Melder Calhoun's
19 John P. K. — Alexandria
20 C. M. Carouth Paul's
21 C. H. Blanchard Cottle
22 J. W. Glass Hin-ston
23 H. A. Blossat Cottle
24 W. A. Charleville
25 M. Deville Holloway's Prairie
26 M. M. Calloway Cheneyville
27 A. C. Brister Bayou Rapides
28 S. A. Ballio Bayou Robert
29 C. E. Hoses Alexandria
30 C. Goldenberg

THIRD WEEK.

1 J. C. Irving Alexandria
2 R. L. Walker Cheneyville
3 James Hickman Pineville
4 A. T. Compton Alexandria
5 E. M. Wells
6 J. A. Albright Cheneyville
7 L. Q. Brantje Cheneyville
8 D. M. Lytle Pineville
9 Geo. R. Waters Pineville
10 M. L. Duham Bayou Rapides
11 F. Melder Paul's
12 Lewis Texada Jr. Bayou Rapides
13 Thos. Chevallier Holloway's Prairie
14 Louis Gossoux Alexandria
15 B. nard Well Cheneyville
16 P. L. Kays Holloway's Prairie
17 Henry Walkling Pineville
18 N. S. McNutt Calhoun's
19 B. K. Hunter Bayou Rapides
20 James I. Davis Bayou Robert
21 Ransom H. Rhames Paul's
22 John Wooms Bayou Rapides
23 B. T. Lewis Borland's
24 C. Afferman Lamourie
25 A. E. Chitty Paul's
26 Dennis Kelly Alexandria
27 W. H. Simons Cottle
28 J. E. Roberts Pineville
29 E. M. Brashear Bayou Rapides
30 H. M. Goldman Cottle

OUR POET'S CORNER—SELECTED.

TOM ANDERSON, MY JOE.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When we were first acquaint,
I looked against your keno game
Till every rod was spent,
Though I have quite reformed my ways—
For that was long ago—
It seems you haven't changed a bit,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
Since then for many a year
You played a vastly meaner game,
In quite a different way,
A game at which the other side
Had not a chance to crow,
Because you marked and stocked the cards
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you began that game
I wondered that our that was not
In danger from the same;
And when I passed a field of hemp
I smiled to see it grow,
And thought 'twas growing there for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You surely might have seen
That you, beside those Northern sharps,
Were very soft and green;
For when the game is politics,
So many tricks the know,
That they are quite too much for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
They coaxed you on to sin;
They made you play a swindling game,
And raked the profits in;
They told you many, many lies,
And wept and pleaded so,
That you were badly swindled, too,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You never thought that swags
Of wickedness were trodden by
The mock and lamblike Hayes,
For that Ohio band was made
To strike a snaking blow;
But now you understand it all,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you shall court the east,
You'd better give away the game
At which you win and lose;
And you should well remember Hayes,
When you go to prison go,
And not forget those other Frands,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

BILL LONGLEY.

An Interview with the Famous Texas Desperado.

HOW HE FOLLOWED A Foe AND KILLED HIM IN A DUEL.

THE BLOOD-THIRSTY BANDIT'S HOPE OF ESCAPE FROM THE GALLOWS.

William Longley, the famous Texas desperado, who has been credited with the killing of thirty-two men, has been interviewed in the jail at Galveston, where he awaits death sentence.

"How are you today, Mr. Longley?"

"Very glad to see you, gentlemen. Mentally I feel very well, and would do so physically, but these chains and this infernal stuff iron are breaking me down."

As Longley said this he pointed to a cross bar of iron that extended from one leg to the other, to which was appended strong chains.

"Are you chained day and night?" I asked the desperado, as his sharp, dark eyes looked from behind the bars at the party ready to propound to him the Mexican question in dispute.

"Yes, they keep me chained day and night, and change the irons twice each day—morning and night. The jail is seem to like my company, and do not want to part with me."

"Perhaps they wish to keep you from making any more raids into Mexico."

"Do you think so?" queried Longley, as he hurriedly glanced from under his broad-brimmed slouched hat.

"Bill, pardon my familiarity, did you and John Wesley Hardin, with a picked company of your class of men, ever make a raid into Mexico and levy contributions on rich Mexicans living in the State of Tamaulipas?"

"No, sir; no, sir. I never went with Hardin anywhere. I don't even know Hardin personally, and only once met him, and that was in the county of Comanche. We simply glanced at each other as we passed on horseback, Hardin not knowing that he was meeting his rival in notoriety."

"During any period of your outlawry did you extend your travels and operations across the Rio Grande?"

"Once. I was alone then, and did not molest any of the greasers. My stay in Mexico was short—not exceeding one month. I was in search of a man who had killed a friend of mine in Texas. At Matamoras I was within one hour of catching him. He knew I was on his track,

OUR POET'S CORNER—SELECTED.

TOM ANDERSON, MY JOE.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When we were first acquaint,
I looked against your keno game
Till every rod was spent,
Though I have quite reformed my ways—
For that was long ago—
It seems you haven't changed a bit,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
Since then for many a year
You played a vastly meaner game,
In quite a different way,
A game at which the other side
Had not a chance to crow,
Because you marked and stocked the cards
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you began that game
I wondered that our that was not
In danger from the same;
And when I passed a field of hemp
I smiled to see it grow,
And thought 'twas growing there for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You surely might have seen
That you, beside those Northern sharps,
Were very soft and green;
For when the game is politics,
So many tricks the know,
That they are quite too much for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
They coaxed you on to sin;
They made you play a swindling game,
And raked the profits in;
They told you many, many lies,
And wept and pleaded so,
That you were badly swindled, too,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You never thought that swags
Of wickedness were trodden by
The mock and lamblike Hayes,
For that Ohio band was made
To strike a snaking blow;
But now you understand it all,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you shall court the east,
You'd better give away the game
At which you win and lose;
And you should well remember Hayes,
When you go to prison go,
And not forget those other Frands,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

BILL LONGLEY.

An Interview with the Famous Texas Desperado.

HOW HE FOLLOWED A Foe AND KILLED HIM IN A DUEL.

THE BLOOD-THIRSTY BANDIT'S HOPE OF ESCAPE FROM THE GALLOWS.

William Longley, the famous Texas desperado, who has been credited with the killing of thirty-two men, has been interviewed in the jail at Galveston, where he awaits death sentence.

"How are you today, Mr. Longley?"

"Very glad to see you, gentlemen. Mentally I feel very well, and would do so physically, but these chains and this infernal stuff iron are breaking me down."

As Longley said this he pointed to a cross bar of iron that extended from one leg to the other, to which was appended strong chains.

"Are you chained day and night?" I asked the desperado, as his sharp, dark eyes looked from behind the bars at the party ready to propound to him the Mexican question in dispute.

"Yes, they keep me chained day and night, and change the irons twice each day—morning and night. The jail is seem to like my company, and do not want to part with me."

"Perhaps they wish to keep you from making any more raids into Mexico."

"Do you think so?" queried Longley, as he hurriedly glanced from under his broad-brimmed slouched hat.

"Bill, pardon my familiarity, did you and John Wesley Hardin, with a picked company of your class of men, ever make a raid into Mexico and levy contributions on rich Mexicans living in the State of Tamaulipas?"

"No, sir; no, sir. I never went with Hardin anywhere. I don't even know Hardin personally, and only once met him, and that was in the county of Comanche. We simply glanced at each other as we passed on horseback, Hardin not knowing that he was meeting his rival in notoriety."

"During any period of your outlawry did you extend your travels and operations across the Rio Grande?"

"Once. I was alone then, and did not molest any of the greasers. My stay in Mexico was short—not exceeding one month. I was in search of a man who had killed a friend of mine in Texas. At Matamoras I was within one hour of catching him. He knew I was on his track,

OUR POET'S CORNER—SELECTED.

TOM ANDERSON, MY JOE.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When we were first acquaint,
I looked against your keno game
Till every rod was spent,
Though I have quite reformed my ways—
For that was long ago—
It seems you haven't changed a bit,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
Since then for many a year
You played a vastly meaner game,
In quite a different way,
A game at which the other side
Had not a chance to crow,
Because you marked and stocked the cards
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you began that game
I wondered that our that was not
In danger from the same;
And when I passed a field of hemp
I smiled to see it grow,
And thought 'twas growing there for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You surely might have seen
That you, beside those Northern sharps,
Were very soft and green;
For when the game is politics,
So many tricks the know,
That they are quite too much for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
They coaxed you on to sin;
They made you play a swindling game,
And raked the profits in;
They told you many, many lies,
And wept and pleaded so,
That you were badly swindled, too,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You never thought that swags
Of wickedness were trodden by
The mock and lamblike Hayes,
For that Ohio band was made
To strike a snaking blow;
But now you understand it all,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you shall court the east,
You'd better give away the game
At which you win and lose;
And you should well remember Hayes,
When you go to prison go,
And not forget those other Frands,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

BILL LONGLEY.

An Interview with the Famous Texas Desperado.

HOW HE FOLLOWED A Foe AND KILLED HIM IN A DUEL.

THE BLOOD-THIRSTY BANDIT'S HOPE OF ESCAPE FROM THE GALLOWS.

William Longley, the famous Texas desperado, who has been credited with the killing of thirty-two men, has been interviewed in the jail at Galveston, where he awaits death sentence.

"How are you today, Mr. Longley?"

"Very glad to see you, gentlemen. Mentally I feel very well, and would do so physically, but these chains and this infernal stuff iron are breaking me down."

As Longley said this he pointed to a cross bar of iron that extended from one leg to the other, to which was appended strong chains.

"Are you chained day and night?" I asked the desperado, as his sharp, dark eyes looked from behind the bars at the party ready to propound to him the Mexican question in dispute.

"Yes, they keep me chained day and night, and change the irons twice each day—morning and night. The jail is seem to like my company, and do not want to part with me."

"Perhaps they wish to keep you from making any more raids into Mexico."

"Do you think so?" queried Longley, as he hurriedly glanced from under his broad-brimmed slouched hat.

"Bill, pardon my familiarity, did you and John Wesley Hardin, with a picked company of your class of men, ever make a raid into Mexico and levy contributions on rich Mexicans living in the State of Tamaulipas?"

"No, sir; no, sir. I never went with Hardin anywhere. I don't even know Hardin personally, and only once met him, and that was in the county of Comanche. We simply glanced at each other as we passed on horseback, Hardin not knowing that he was meeting his rival in notoriety."

"During any period of your outlawry did you extend your travels and operations across the Rio Grande?"

"Once. I was alone then, and did not molest any of the greasers. My stay in Mexico was short—not exceeding one month. I was in search of a man who had killed a friend of mine in Texas. At Matamoras I was within one hour of catching him. He knew I was on his track,

OUR POET'S CORNER—SELECTED.

TOM ANDERSON, MY JOE.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When we were first acquaint,
I looked against your keno game
Till every rod was spent,
Though I have quite reformed my ways—
For that was long ago—
It seems you haven't changed a bit,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
Since then for many a year
You played a vastly meaner game,
In quite a different way,
A game at which the other side
Had not a chance to crow,
Because you marked and stocked the cards
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you began that game
I wondered that our that was not
In danger from the same;
And when I passed a field of hemp
I smiled to see it grow,
And thought 'twas growing there for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You surely might have seen
That you, beside those Northern sharps,
Were very soft and green;
For when the game is politics,
So many tricks the know,
That they are quite too much for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
They coaxed you on to sin;
They made you play a swindling game,
And raked the profits in;
They told you many, many lies,
And wept and pleaded so,
That you were badly swindled, too,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You never thought that swags
Of wickedness were trodden by
The mock and lamblike Hayes,
For that Ohio band was made
To strike a snaking blow;
But now you understand it all,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you shall court the east,
You'd better give away the game
At which you win and lose;
And you should well remember Hayes,
When you go to prison go,
And not forget those other Frands,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

BILL LONGLEY.

An Interview with the Famous Texas Desperado.

HOW HE FOLLOWED A Foe AND KILLED HIM IN A DUEL.

THE BLOOD-THIRSTY BANDIT'S HOPE OF ESCAPE FROM THE GALLOWS.

William Longley, the famous Texas desperado, who has been credited with the killing of thirty-two men, has been interviewed in the jail at Galveston, where he awaits death sentence.

"How are you today, Mr. Longley?"

"Very glad to see you, gentlemen. Mentally I feel very well, and would do so physically, but these chains and this infernal stuff iron are breaking me down."

As Longley said this he pointed to a cross bar of iron that extended from one leg to the other, to which was appended strong chains.

"Are you chained day and night?" I asked the desperado, as his sharp, dark eyes looked from behind the bars at the party ready to propound to him the Mexican question in dispute.

"Yes, they keep me chained day and night, and change the irons twice each day—morning and night. The jail is seem to like my company, and do not want to part with me."

"Perhaps they wish to keep you from making any more raids into Mexico."

"Do you think so?" queried Longley, as he hurriedly glanced from under his broad-brimmed slouched hat.

"Bill, pardon my familiarity, did you and John Wesley Hardin, with a picked company of your class of men, ever make a raid into Mexico and levy contributions on rich Mexicans living in the State of Tamaulipas?"

"No, sir; no, sir. I never went with Hardin anywhere. I don't even know Hardin personally, and only once met him, and that was in the county of Comanche. We simply glanced at each other as we passed on horseback, Hardin not knowing that he was meeting his rival in notoriety."

"During any period of your outlawry did you extend your travels and operations across the Rio Grande?"

"Once. I was alone then, and did not molest any of the greasers. My stay in Mexico was short—not exceeding one month. I was in search of a man who had killed a friend of mine in Texas. At Matamoras I was within one hour of catching him. He knew I was on his track,

OUR POET'S CORNER—SELECTED.

TOM ANDERSON, MY JOE.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When we were first acquaint,
I looked against your keno game
Till every rod was spent,
Though I have quite reformed my ways—
For that was long ago—
It seems you haven't changed a bit,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
Since then for many a year
You played a vastly meaner game,
In quite a different way,
A game at which the other side
Had not a chance to crow,
Because you marked and stocked the cards
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you began that game
I wondered that our that was not
In danger from the same;
And when I passed a field of hemp
I smiled to see it grow,
And thought 'twas growing there for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You surely might have seen
That you, beside those Northern sharps,
Were very soft and green;
For when the game is politics,
So many tricks the know,
That they are quite too much for you,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
They coaxed you on to sin;
They made you play a swindling game,
And raked the profits in;
They told you many, many lies,
And wept and pleaded so,
That you were badly swindled, too,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
You never thought that swags
Of wickedness were trodden by
The mock and lamblike Hayes,
For that Ohio band was made
To strike a snaking blow;
But now you understand it all,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

Tom Anderson, my Joe, Tom,
When you shall court the east,
You'd better give away the game
At which you win and lose;
And you should well remember Hayes,
When you go to prison go,
And not forget those other Frands,
Tom Anderson, my Joe.

BILL LONGLEY.

An Interview with the Famous Texas Desperado.

HOW HE FOLLOWED A Foe AND KILLED HIM IN A DUEL.