FAIR OFFERING $250 IN PRIZES FOR FINE ARTS

Exhibits in This Department Promise to Surpass Any Previously Shown at New Mexico's Exposition.

With $250 in cash premiums in the fine arts department greater interest than ever is being manifested in all parts of the state in that department. The exhibits for the last few years have been growing and this year they give evidence of surpassing previous displays.

From all over the state inquiries are coming in to fair headquarters and in many instances exhibits have already arrived and while the entries will not close until noon Monday, September 25, a large exhibit is expected to be in place by Saturday afternoon. Some one will be at the art hall all afternoon Sunday and exhibits can be left at that time. No exhibits except in the canning department will be received after noon Monday, the first day of the fair.

There will be $12 in the painting department, $27 for hand painted china, $15 for quilts and auxiliaries, $27 in crochet and knitting, $26 on white embroidery, $14 on colored embroidery, $21 on rattan, $25 on fine hand work and $40 on culinary science. Women interested in the department can secure a copy of the premium list by calling at the state fair office.

The defendant pleaded not guilty upon his arraignment before the justice Saturday. Justice McClellan set the hearing for next Tuesday morning.

ALBUQUERQUE IS ON ITINERARY OF PROHIBITIONISTS

National Committee's Special Train Scheduled to Stop Here More Than Three Hours September 25.

The prohibition national committee's special train will make three stops of length in New Mexico. Stops of 30 hour at Gallup, two hours at Raton and three hour and twenty minutes at Albuquerque are shown on the party's itinerary.

Here is the schedule of the prohibition special for New Mexico:

| | Arrive | Depart |
|---|---|---|
| Gallup | 2:00 p. m. | 2:30 p. m. |
| Albuquerque | 8:40 p. m. | 11:00 p. m. |
| Raton | 7:00 a. m. | 7:30 a. m. |

The train will reach Gallup September 25 and arrive at Albuquerque later that day. It will reach Raton September 26, passing through Las Vegas at night.

No announcement has been made locally that the party's national candidates would speak here, at Gallup or Raton, but the short long stop at the Curious city and longer layovers at Albuquerque and Raton give assurance that they, or at least members of their party, who are aboard the special, will make addresses at these points. A Frank Hanly, of Indiana, candidate for president, and Ira Landrith, of Tennessee, candidate for vice president, and other party leaders are on the train.

Making 9,000-mile Trip.

The prohibition special left Chicago last Friday on a 9,000-mile trip to end at Indianapolis November 6. The party's itinerary calls for nearly 1,000 stops. The party will stop here on its way to Chicago, after having visited the Pacific coast. The candidates are due to arrive at Chicago October 6 for a mass meeting, before starting on their eastern trip.

The itinerary shows that the special will make stops at points in northern Arizona, which it reaches in daytime, of such length as to indicate plans for speaking. A stop of one hour will be made at Winslow. The train will arrive there at 9:20 o'clock in the morning of September 25.

CITY'S POPULATION WILL BE FREE FROM DUTY DAY OF PARADE

The Preparedness parade of the state fair is to be held Thursday, September 28. This is one of the more important holidays on the Jewish calendar and every store in town owned by any of the Jewish faith will be closed on that day. This in connection with the fact that most of the local merchants always have closed their stores the day of the fair parade, assures that practically the entire population of Albuquerque will be relieved from duty on that day.

The idea prevailed at first that the Jewish holiday in question fell on Friday the 29, and for a time it was thought that Albuquerque day and the attendant parade might be shifted to Friday, but this was abandoned when it was discovered that the holiday really fell on Thursday.

Interest in the parade is high and grows every day. Practically all the local civic associations are considering entries or have already promised them and it seems certain that competition for the fat cash prizes hung up by the fair commission will be keen. The forest service, it is said, will enter a "Preparedness against fire" display and the local motorcycle clan is planning to enter a corps of dispatch bearers and a half dozen belgo and civic orders already have made entries of some nature.

ELFEGO BACA WILL START A NEWSPAPER SOON, HE ANNOUNCES

Elfego Baca yesterday announced that he would begin shortly the publication of a Spanish newspaper called "Los Tiempos" (The Seasons). Mr. Baca chose this name because of the fact that he plans to carry political news and editorials clipped from English newspapers of New Mexico. If the English newspapers overlook any item, Mr. Baca said, he would not permit the name of his publication to prevent his doing some original writing.

Mr. Baca also announced that he would call a convention of independent republicans of Bernalillo county to meet September 29 if the regular republican call were not issued by that time.

PAJARITO DISTRICT FAILS TO VOTE BONDS FOR BUILDING SCHOOL

The Pajarito school district rejected Saturday the proposal to issue bonds amounting to $3,000 for the building of a new school house. The vote was 35 for and 45 against.

This was the second time that the Pajarito district failed to vote favorably upon the proposed bond issue. After the first failure residents of the district asked County Superintendent Atanasio Montoya to make a second effort, thinking the proposition would carry. The Pajarito district has the distinction of being the only one in the county to turn down a proposed bond issue in County Superintendent Montoya's term of office.

BRYAN MISSES TRAIN BECAUSE OF AN ACCIDENT

Mrs. L. J. Coppock, Member of Party Taking Him to Belen Station, Receives Severe Injuries.

The injury of Mrs. L. J. Coppock, a member of the party which took him to Belen late Saturday afternoon, caused William Jennings Bryan to miss Santa Fe train No. 1. Mrs. Coppock, sister-in-law of Senator Isaac Barth, was riding in the senator's car, one of the rear wheels struck a piece of timber, hurling it upward. The timber struck Mrs. Coppock, breaking her nose and cutting a long gash in her forehead. She was rendered unconscious momentarily.

Senator Barth saw the timber, a piece five feet long, in the road. He turned the steering wheel out quickly, avoiding it with the front wheels. One of the rear wheels failed to clear it, rolling over one end of the plank and whirling it upward and into the car with great force.

The party leaving Albuquerque at 1:10 o'clock, had less than an hour and a half in which to cover the thirty-four miles to Belen to enable Mr. Bryan to catch train No. 21. Senator Barth was sending his car ahead at fast speed when the accident occurred. The pace was continued as soon as Mrs. Coppock revived, Senator Barth having an additional motive for speed—that of placing Mrs. Coppock under medical treatment speedily.

Bryan Comes to Isleta.

The party reached Belen in time for Mr. Bryan to catch the train. Mr. Bryan, however, was concerned over the injury to the member of the party and went with the others who took Mrs. Coppock to Dr. S. L. Wilkinson's office. Mr. Bryan's kindness really was the direct cause of his missing the train, the accident being the primary cause.

When Mr. Bryan reached the station the train was just leaving. Frank Butt, democratic county chairman, brought Mr. Bryan to Isleta, where he caught Santa Fe train No. 1 last night leaving for Tucson, Ariz., where he will visit his son, William.

Senator and Mrs. Barth, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Coppock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Butt and Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Coors, Jr., made up the party which accompanied Mr. Bryan to Belen. Senator and Mrs. Barth and Mr. Coppock remained at Belen with Mrs. Coppock. Mrs. Barth and Mrs. Coppock returned to Albuquerque last night on train No. 316. Senator Barth and Mr. Coppock, making the trip in the former's automobile, arrived here ahead of them. Mr. and Mrs. Coppock came here recently from Topeka, Kan.

ONE-WAY RATE FOR LIVESTOCK SHIPPED TO THE STATE FAIR

Of considerable interest to stock raisers everywhere in the state is the announcement made by the state fair office that a one-way rate will apply on all livestock exhibits sent to the fair from any point on the Santa Fe lines in New Mexico, and by special arrangement the same rate also has been extended to certain points in Texas.

In order to obtain this rate the exhibitor must mark on his original billing, "For exhibition purposes," and obtain a proper exhibition certificate from the fair authorities before offering his stuff for shipment on the return trip. Full tariff rates will be charged for the trip coming to Albuquerque, the return under these conditions will be free.

FINE CATTLE WILL BE EXHIBITED AT THE STATE FAIR

Lucy Man Will Bring Several Double Standard Polled Herefords; Roswell Sending Nice Bunch Blooded Stock.

The state fair office received notification from John McGillavray, Lucy, N. M., that he would enter at the fair this fall the first exhibit of double standard Polled Hereford cattle that ever has been made in the southwest. The exhibit stock all will be calves, six of them heifers and one bull.

"These are the coming range cattle in this state," wrote Mr. McGillavray in making the entry, "and undoubtedly will attract a great deal of attention among the stock raisers of New Mexico."

Stock From Roswell.

Word was received by long distance telephone from Roswell today that the show stock which is to come from the State Livestock and Products exhibition to the state fair would be shipped September 23, and would arrive here some time September 24. Arrangements have been made with the Santa Fe by the state fair office to obtain an unusually fast schedule for this stuff, so that it need not be unloaded or rested on the way, making the whole trip from Roswell to Albuquerque in less than twenty-six hours, maximum set by law between stops. Rather more than $80,000 worth of stock will be in this shipment, which will included blooded dairy and range cattle, blooded horses and pure bred swine.

This section's representation at the state fair will consist mainly of livestock, which in turn will be the backbone of the fair stock exhibit, although there are a number of herds coming from outside. None of them, however, are expected to be so high grade as this lot, some of which have been imported from abroad.

Range Cattle Display.

Considerable interest is being taken in the range cattle display, for which a purse of $500 is offered. The First National bank of Mangalena has offered an additional special prize of $25 for the best range steer. All other range bred cattle entries, however, will be heifers in order to compete for the $500. The bank has been requested to give this prize for the best heifer in the lot. In addition to the $500 a silver cup worth $250 has been donated by the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association. Also to go for the best car of heifers.

FUSION TICKET IS TO BE PUT OUT THIS WEEK IN SANTA FE COUNTY

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, Sept. 10.—The democratic and the independent primaries held last evening were not as largely attended as had been anticipated but in several precincts there was a lively interest nevertheless.

The county conventions of both will meet on Thursday afternoon to nominate county tickets, or, as has been arranged by the leaders, a fusion ticket, upon which Celso Lopez, the present county treasurer, one of the insurgent republicans, is to be named for sheriff, his brother, who is his deputy, being a candidate on the republican ticket, for county treasurer. Alfredo Lucero is to be named for county school superintendent and D. J. Baca for the house.

IRELAND IS TROUBLED WITH POTATO BLIGHT

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

Dublin, Aug. 11.—Potato blight has made its appearance in Ireland. Two hundred and seventy sub-districts of the country are said to be affected by it. This year preventive spraying materials are more costly than usual and less easily procured, and this, together with wet weather during July, is believed to have accounted for the rapid spread of the disease.

The congested districts board has distributed 500 spraying machines to the people of the Western districts, and it is hoped the disease will soon be checked.

RUSSIA SHORT OF FOOD, ACCORDING TO BERLIN NEWS

German News Agency Hears That Petrograd Has Little Meat and That Famine Exists in Country.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.

Berlin, Sept. 10 (by Wireless to Sayville).—Unofficial reports received by the Overseas News agency say that the sale of meat now is forbidden throughout Russia on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week. A dispatch from Budapest says the decree providing for meatless days in Petrograd has caused an increase in the prices of other articles of food, especially vegetables and fruit, amounting in some cases to 100 per cent.

Reports from Stockholm to the Overseas News agency say that the situation in Petrograd as regards the food supply has reached a crisis and that the opening of the schools will be postponed a month to delay for that length of time the arrival of pupils in the city.

"All persons whose presence in Petrograd is not absolutely necessary will be deported," the news agency says. "The Stockholm advices are that these persons will not escape hanger, as there is famine throughout Russia.

"On learning that the police had tortured to death a working man who had been arrested, a mob in Petrograd attacked and wounded the chief of police and several policemen."

INVESTIGATION SHOWS GLARING FOOD FRAUDS

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

Amsterdam, Netherlands, Aug. 28.—Official analysis of some of the food surrogates in Belgium is disclosing some extraordinary frauds. The director-general of the public health service has found that some of the substitutes for oil, which is no longer obtainable, are worthless concoctions that cost the manufacturers only a few cents per liter but which are sold to a gullible public at fancy prices. One "oil sauce" was found to be 94.25 per cent water, with the remaining 75-100 per cent an extract of gum. A "mayonnaise" in fancy packing and "highly recommended", was found to contain 86 per cent water, 1.70 per cent oil, 10.50 per cent starch and 2 per cent ash. An invalid's food advertised as "meat extract," extra made, was made of 65 per cent water, 15 per cent burnt sugar and 25 per cent salt.

"Butter" that sold at $1.20 per kilogram was made of tallow, cotton oil and borax. Jam brewed out of seaweed, plaster of Paris that passed for rye flour, coffee that was made of cassia seeds, cigars that were rolled in a fine chestnut-tree leaf with the filling of various dried leaves, and such frauds, were found also.

CROPS IN JAMAICA ARE DAMAGED BY HURRICANE

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 30.—"Everybody is agreed that we have lost about 50 per cent of our exportable crops for a year," said Governor Manning after returning from a tour of inspection of the damage caused by the hurricane of August 18. "Bananas are all down; in some parts of the country cocoa has been severely damaged; cocoanuts have been blown off trees and many of the blossoms have been blown off, too. I am hoping that most of the ground provisions have been spared.

"But other than the actual damage done, it is an unfortunate blow. Twenty ships were on their way here and would have come had it not been for the hurricane. They would have lifted an enormous quantity of fruit.

"Sugar and rum are helping the situation somewhat, and will help it still more later on. Sugar does not seem to have suffered much in this blow, and if we can develop it we must do so. But there has been no definite scheme for the expansion of the sugar industry yet laid before the country. The home government, however, has just given us permission to export our sugar to America, and that will be good news to the planters."

Coghlan Appointed.

Rome, Sept. 10 (via London, 11:52 a. m.).—Pope Benedict has appointed the Very Rev. Daniel Coghlan, vicar of Cork, to be bishop of that diocese.

KERRIGAN'S CONGENIAL ROLE IN PHOTOPLAY NOW AT THE LYRIC

Thousands who have admired Warren Kerrigan in "the movies" will find cause for great delight when they see his performance in the forthcoming Bluebird photoplay, "A Son of the Immortals," to be the attraction at the Lyric theater today only. In this piece Mr. Kerrigan has the role of a dashing American suddenly elevated to a throne.

The manner in which he conducts his office seems to be inspired by his Yankee bringing up and the way he tears down tradition and builds up his own personal popularity with the natives constitutes the motive for an exceedingly entertaining photoplay.

There are many exciting features in "A Son of the Immortals" for it would seem that being a king, no matter how popular, invites the coming of the assassin, and the hatred of the under-lords who are commonly supposed to do the actual governing in monarchial countries.

Many tremendously spectacular scenes are created by the use of great mobs of people in street riots and public demonstrations in which the king and his enemies are concerned, numerous explosions of bombs, set with deadly intent, and some stirring battle scenes bring the Kerrigan photoplay considerably above the average in spectacular outcomes.

Supporting Mr. Kerrigan is Lois Wilson heralded as the Alabama prize winner in state wide beauty contest, who has the interpretation of a role that gives opportunity to display the charms of this southern belle to good advantage. Maude George, elevcrest of actresses who play adventuresses and conniving women, is another handsome woman cast in congenial circumstances.
