SEMI-WEEKLY MINER.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1882

Local News.

From Sunday's Daily.

The petit jury were excused at noon, in the District Court, until Monday morning.

Our Dillon correspondent, whose front name is Brown, graphically relates occurrences in Dillon. Come again, Brown.

The District Court adjourned, after the afternoon session, to Monday morning at 9 o'clock, to allow members of the court to attend the corner stone ceremonies.

Proposals are invited for building the upper story of the Miners' Union hall, up to next Tuesday, the 3d, at 6 o'clock p. m. Builders should take notice and govern themselves accordingly. See notice in another column.

It has been suggested that Judge T. M. Pomeroy, Grand Master of Masons for Montana, coming from the infected smallpox district of Missoula, should have been quarantined from coming into the city. The Judge has so many friends in Butte that health regulations lose their force in his case.

Deputy Sheriff Fish left for Deer Lodge this morning with three prisoners sentenced in the District Court yesterday. Clarence Earl and Wm. Williamson, for grand larceny go to the valley for a residence of three years, and Wm. Thompson for the same offense will be a Territorial guest for the term of five years.

Mr. Longmaid's riding horse, which was hitched at a post at the concentrator, was taken by some person unknown about noon yesterday and ridden away rapidly up the Pipestone road. The officers were immediately notified and started in pursuit. A description of the individual being given to Mr. Shields, he gave it as his decided opinion that the horse appropriator was none other than his absconding clerk.

Arrangements are being made for the production of the Cantata of Queen Esther in this place shortly. It is understood that Miss King, who formerly delighted Montana audiences by her sweet singing and cultivated voice, and has since traveled Europe under instruction, will take the part of Queen Esther. The preliminary meeting to perfect arrangements will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian Church Monday evening.

Glendale Items.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Prof. Chas. A. Hoyt, assayer for the H. C. M. Co. is no longer a bachelor. His wife and two boys now keep him company.

The two children of J. B. Reynolds, Laura and Bub, who were at the Sacred Heart Academy, Ogden, have returned.

A number of the smelter workmen have been ill. Messrs. Bowyer and Culbertson are still suffering from typhoid fever, but under Dr. Shorn's care will recover.

Mr. Thomas L. Widowson, the courteous mail carrier and expressman between here and Melrose, has kindly taken charge of what mail is too late for the evening trip. The thanks of the MINER correspondent and many others are due him.

The side of a blizzard struck here on Thursday and it looks like real winter. There is considerable snow at the concentrator, and Lion City has long since had on its winter clothes.

Chas. T. Jameson, late of Indianapolis, has left here to start a bakery in Butte.

H. S. Libby now has charge of the Hecla blacksmith shop, Sim Dexter having gone to the Concentrator.

The Methodists, under the lead of Rev. Dr. Metzner, will establish a church at Melrose.

The infant son of Jas. Galusha died last week of typhoid fever. The funeral services held Sunday were conducted by the grand-father, Rev. H. C. Duncan.

The Hospital Association met recently at Lion City and unanimously elected the former officers.

The members of the Methodist Church have been holding an ice-cream festival and oyster supper, which so far has been very successful.

Chas. W. Rich left Friday morning for New York, having heard that his mother was seriously ill.

Dillon Correspondence.

To the Editor of the MINER:

Our usually quiet and orderly town was slightly ruffled this morning from the even tenor of her ways, by the warlike attitude of a very angry washerwoman, who made a lively demand for back pay from the high-toned cashier of the Utah & Northern and B. F. White's favorite clerk in the forwarding house. After abusing and throwing billingsgate, till the noble youths were thoroughly sick and wanted to die, they undertook to settle by throwing the angry female out, but, like Banquo's ghost, she would not stay down, nor out, but rose more angry than ever, and kicking in the office door, she had her little say, vowing to repeat the dose if the boys did not come to time in short order. Moral:—Always pay your washerwoman.

Eliel Bros. & Fybrie's new brick building is fast approaching completion. C. L. Thomson's new brick is going up rapidly. Business is lively, and everybody appears to be doing well, and to be satisfied. The six thousand dollar school house will shortly be ready for bids. From eight to ten cars of merchandise are received daily at this place. Dog fights are numerous. Ye local of the Tribune likes to play red chips, but white ones seem to fit his case better. All the hotels are full to overflowing, and everything is lovely and the goose hanging high on the banks of the Beaverhead. Yours truly,

ANCIENT RITES.

The Masonic Temple Corner Stone Laid with Imposing Ceremonies.

Early in the afternoon yesterday the streets of Butte were enlivened by the appearance of members of various societies in regalia, moving toward their respective halls, crowds thronging the side walks and music rending the air. At 3 p. m. the line was formed on Montana street as follows:

Silver Cornet Band.
Uniform Rank K. of P.
Fidelity Lodge No. 8 I. O. O. F.
Ridgeley Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F.
Crusader Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F.
Mount Moriah Lodge No. 24, A. F. and A. M.
Butte Lodge No. 22, A. F. and A. M.
Deer Lodge R. A. Chapter No. 3.
Montana Commandery No. 3, K. T
The Mayor and City Council in carriages.

Grand Marshal H. G. Valiton gave the word of command, and the procession moved eastward on Montana street.

As the column filed past the the MINER office, and the entire line came into view, stretching east and west on Broadway, it presented a brilliant spectacle. The soldierly uniforms of the K. of P., the knightly regalias of the Knights Templar, and the more modest lamb skins of the Masons of less degree, gave the line the appearance of a civic pageant. After marching on Broadway to Wyoming street, on Wyoming to Quartz street, on Quartz to Main and down Main to Park street, the procession halted in front of the site of the new Masonic Temple on West Park street. Here the Territorial Grand Lodge, took place upon a temporary platform which had been erected upon the partially built walls of the temple, which was also occupied by the Mayor and City Council and a large number of Butte's fairest ladies. M. W. G. M., Thomas M. Pomeroy, advanced to the front of the platform, and in a few well chosen words, announced the object of the gathering and explained the significance of the ceremonies about to be performed. The corner stone had been suspended by ropes attached to a derrick, over the position it was to occupy, in the pilastered granite column, on the southeast corner of the building at the intersection of the first and second stories; a square hole had been chiseled out of the section of granite, upon which the suspended block of granite was to rest. As the M. W. G. M. concluded his address Grand Architect Hoyt advanced, having in his hand an oblong tin box, into which were placed the silver historical tablet, described in yesterday's MINER, copies of the DAILY and WEEKLY MINER and Inter-Mountain, the constitution of the Territorial Grand Lodge and other relics and emblems. The box was then covered and a craftsman with furnace and soldering iron hermetically sealed the casket, which was then placed in position, and the corner stone lowered upon it. M. W. G. Chaplain, J. E. Smith, then pronounced an eloquent invocation, after which the officers of the Territorial Grand Encampment, performed the interesting ceremony of consecration, scattering upon the corner stone the corn, symbolic of plenty; oil, the emblem of peace, and the wine of gladness. The square, plumb and level were then applied and the stone was declared to be set according to the requirements of the ancient order. A benediction was then pronounced, at the conclusion of which the M. W. G. M. struck three blows with the gavel upon the corner stone and declared it duly consecrated. The ceremonies were completed by the peculiar rite of Masonic "Grand Honors" given to the people and other orders present. To the uninitiated the rite seems to consists of a dumb show gesticulation of the arms and hands in "three times three" evolutions and the performance produced a mystifying effect upon the minds of the crowd, in keeping with the mystic character of the ancient order.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the immense concourse of people, gathered in front of the Temple were addressed by Hon. Hiram Knowles, who in eloquent language eulogized the principles and precepts of the Masonic Order. Hon. G. W. Galbraith followed in a scholarly and graceful address which embraced a history of the Order and defended it from the aspersions of its enemies. The line was again formed and after escorting to their lodge rooms the various lodges of Knights of Pythias, and Odd Fellows, the Masons marched to Caplice Hall and there broke rank and separated for their homes and places of business.

The ceremonies were unquestionably the most imposing ever witnessed in Butte.

Renshaw Opera House.

The Frank Cleaves Dramatic Combination played "Enoch Arden," with an after-piece last night, to the best house they have seen in Butte. The presentation of Tennyson's touching story was up to the usual standard of this excellent company of artists. The play was announced as a "last night" entertainment but we understand that Mr. Renshaw is negotiating with the combination to remain in Butte another week, and perhaps for the winter. In the interest of our theatre-going people it is to be hoped these negotiations may prove successful, as Butte has raroly been favored with entertainments so artistic and enjoyable as those which have been given by the Frank Cleaves Dramatic Combination.

MINING NEWS.

Silver Bow Mining District.

No better evidence could be adduced of the stability and permanence of the mines of this camp than the absence of fluctuation in the weekly reports of their condition. The low grade of our ores has been frequently referred to as an influence likely to militate against the ultimate success of this camp, but the result of experience in high and low grade camps indicate that the alternate fluctuations caused by occasional strikes of high grade ledges and failures to "pan out" of supposed "rich discoveries" have been the bane of western mining camps. Virginia City and the Comstock lode form a notable instance of the effect upon financial interests, of the failure of high grade ores to maintain their standard of productiveness. On the contrary, all the low grade camps of the Pacific coast are a practical illustration of the fact, that when capital has been interested in the working of low grade ores, and facilities provided for saving the metals to the best advantage, the occupation of mining becomes as staple and reliable a business for the investment of capital as that of a woolen or cotton mill, or any other manufacturing interest.

The general outlook of the mines of this district during the past week has been favorable; their operations being characterized by continued exploration and a steady output of ore. At the Moulton we found Mr. P. Clark, general foreman, who is at his post again looking better for his recent trip to the Exposition. He reports the in good shape. Rapid progress continues on the air shaft and the upraise from the 300 to meet it, and connection will be made in a few days, when the system of ventilation will be complete. The mine is employing a full force and keeping the ore house full. The ledge of high grade ore uncovered last month in the west chute of the air shaft continues good, as do also the ledges upon which stoping is being done on the two and three hundred. The Moulton mill is making a steady run and dropping its entire 40 stamps.

ALICE.

Everything was running smoothly at the Alice. The ledge in the Magna Charta and Valdemere shaft, last week, continues good and is passing out of the shaft, trending toward the north. The bottom of the shaft last night was 45 feet below the first level. All the stopes of the Alice are being worked, and there is enough ore hoisted to keep both mills busy. The vein of copper, bearing native silver, uncovered in the 400 foot of the Magna Charta, continues to develop strong.

LEXINGTON.

A full force is employed in the stopes of the three and four hundred and are hoisting the usual amount of ore. The ore house is full and the mill running steadily.

CLEAR GRIT.

Work on this property is at present confined to exploration and development. The faces of both the east and west drifts of the 217-foot level are in good ore, the ledge being about two and a half feet wide. Work is now being done preparatory to stoping and hoisting ore.

GAGNON

Keeps up its regular output of high grade ore, working full force and produced more ore during September than in any previous month since the mine was opened.

THE ORIGINAL

Continues its steady and reliable production of rich ore. This mine is probably the only one in Montana, which has not missed a monthly dividend for so long a continuous period as four years.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Dr. Thompson is on a visit to friends in St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. G. B. Sarchet has removed his residence to No. 19 West Granite street, and will on Monday remove his office to No. 11 Granite street.

Mr. F. R. McConnell, Western Freight Agent of the Union Pacific, and a member of the banking firm of Hoge, Brownlee & Co., is in the city.

Jacob Loeb, Esq., of Helena, arrived last night, on his way home from Baltimore, where he attended the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the world of I. O. G. F.

Mr. W. P. Hickey, who for the past fourteen months has been acting as foreman of the MINER newsrooms, which position he resigned two weeks since, left on this morning's train for Omaha, taking with him the best wishes of the management and attaches of this office. Mr. H., during his connection with the MINER, proved himself reliable, competent and agreeable, ever uniformly conducting himself with propriety, and we cheerfully commend him to the kindness and consideration of those among whom his lot may hereafter be cast.

The Catholic ladies of Helena propose holding a fair for the benefit of the church and new college in that city. At the fair, polls will be opened and votes taken for the most popular Congressional nominee and for the candidate for the treasury of Lewis and Clarke county. The successful candidate for the former office will receive a handsome morning wrapper, and the latter will be presented with an elegant gold headed cane, presented by Rev. Father Dols of this city.

Railroad Racket.

The end of the Northern Pacific track reached a point a mile and a half west of Stillwater on the 27th inst.

On the 20th inst. Northern Pacific railroad stock was quoted as foll ws: Common, 50½; preferred, 67.

Cars on the Northern Pacific are expected to be running between Missoula and Puget Sound by next Christmas. Only about 53 miles remain ungraded.

The track of the Deer Lodge extension of the Utah & Northern reached Dempsey creek last Tuesday and for the first time in history a locomotive is in sight of Deer Lodge.

Largest Mill in the World.

The Alice sixty stamp mill is the largest dry crusher mill in the world, and when the two Alice mills are both running, the Alice Company are dropping more stamps (80) and employing more men in their mills, than any other company in the world, which uses the dry process of reduction. The Moulton and Lexington mills, each 40 stamps, are probably the next largest dry crushers.

A Card.

It having been reported that I had left the Territory owing debts I had failed to pay, I wish to state that such reports are wholly malicious. During my temporary absence I left behind me but one debt, which was fully secured by mortgage. I do not wish to suffer from slander, and refer to Curtis & Andrieux, who hold the only claim against me, for particulars concerning my financial integrity.

A hotel, costing $1,000,000, is being erected on Park avenue and Fortieth street, New Qork. Plans are nearly completed for another in the same vicinity, modeled after that of Charing Cross, in London.

A 15-year-old boy, named Julius Rosenheim, hailing from Baltimore, was arrested at New York on the 19th inst., on the charge of forging the name of Thomas Hill to a check for $400, which he endeavored to cash at the Union Dime Savings Bank.

A very dangerous disease is prevalent in the State of Chiapas, Mexico. It is described as being similar to the Asiatic cholera.

James H. Elliott, a New York attorney, was recently arrested for entering, through a window, the house of an actress named Emeline Laurent and abstracting a deed for property valued at $25,000. It would seem that the woman had locked herself up in order to starve to death.

A mysterious serenade, apparently coming from the clouds, delighted as well as excited the people of Madison, Ga., a few nights since. Whence the music came is yet an unsolved mystery, and the superstitious are greatly disturbed.

Some interesting ruins covering quite a large piece of ground and somewhat similar to the famous ones of Parlenque were recently discovered by Sr. Isidro Bvines in the State of Chilapas, Mexico, near a place called "Agur Escondida.,"

The Czar's Coronation.

The crowning of the Czar of Russia is a business upon which no certain information can be had. The Nuremberg Korrespondent states that it is the Empress Maria Feodorowna who alone stands in the way, and that she continually insists upon the postponement of the Emperor's coronation. She holds fast to the conviction that the Czar ought to abdicate in favor of his son, and wants to appoint a regency over the present Crown Prince (who was born in 1868), and then to take up a permanent residence in some foreign land, presumably Germany or Denmark. In the event of the coronation taking place she shrinks with natural terror from sharing in its dangerous honors, since she believes with a dogmatic assurance that an attempt must inevitably be made upon the Czar's life during the function. In Berlin Court circles, on the other hand, it is thought the Czar's coronation will take place within the next few weeks, but with a simplified and diminished ceremonial. Instead of foreign princes, only the ambassadors of foreign states will be invited, it is said, to witness the ceremony. At the same time the Moscow correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten states that he learns that the preparations for the coronation are in full swing and that the Kremlin will be ready for the ceremony as early as the 15th of September. The writer knows, at any rate, that the workmen are laboring hard at the preparation of the building. Precautionary measures are being taken in every possible direction. The pompous entry into the Kremlin through the Twerskaga street and under the Spasskaja Worota (Porch of Redemption) is to be omitted. A long procession is regarded as inadvisable. Stages for the spectators are to be erected in the court of the Kremlin, but they will only be one tier in height, which will greatly limit the admissions. The day of the coronation, he affirms, is actually fixed for the first of October (19th of September, Old Style), which will fall upon a Sunday.—London Post.

The Income of Royalty.

The Queen of England's estate or estates, if any, are not crown property. The Kensington property, bought by Prince Albert, is small, which was sold by his agents in building lots, no doubt realizing a handsome profit on the purchase. It will fall into the hands of the heir at the expiration of the lease of ninety-nine years, with all the buildings thereon. We will now turn to the fixed income of the other European crowned heads. The Emperor of Russia, £1,000,000; the Emperor of Austria, £750,000; the Emperor of Germany, £600,000; the King of Italy, 550,000; the Sultan, £350,800; the King of Spain, 200,000; the King of Portugal, £150,000. These sums represent the English pound sterling. The persons who grumble about the Queen's income being so large, forget that the peoples representatives voted the sum of £365,000 per year to the Queen as an equivalent for all she relinquished.—Corr. Richmond Whig.

On November 6th the Swedes of Chicago are to celebrate the 270th anniversary of the death of Gustavus Adolphus.
