Semi-Weekly Miner.

VOLUME 6, BUTTE, MONTANA: WEDNEDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1882. WHOLE NO. 375.

To be Quarantined.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The official gazette gives notice that vessels arriving at Italian ports from Florida and Texas will be considered as infected with yellow fever, and quarantined.

Cubans in Trouble.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A dispatch from Paris reports the Cubans who were sometime ago captured by the Gibraltar police while endeavoring to escape to America, and surrendered to the Spanish authorities, have petitioned the queen to have the matter investigated with the view of demanding their restoration to British soil.

Danenhower's Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Danenhower testified everything was done that was possible to avoid the loss of the Jeannette. No ship could have survived under the circumstances. Had the witness been in command of the Jeannette he would have tried to get her out of her pack. On the evening of Sept. 6th the prospects of success would have been good.

The Ministry and the Khedive Responsible for the War.

GENEVA, Oct. 21.—Niret, Arabi's European adviser, declares he has received no rewards for services, and he can prove that the evacuation of Alexandria and the defence of the country were ordered by the Ministry and sanctioned by the Khedive.

KORACSBERG, Oct. 21.—There has been a tremendous decline in prices of Russian grain owing to American competition.

Too Thin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Graphic says it is whispered at the headquarters of the State Republican committee that astounding developements have been brought to light in regard to the Morey letter. It is said that John I. Davenport has now in his possession a confession from Garvey, confessing his participation in the case, and it is alleged implicating W. H. Barnum, chairman of the National Democratic committee, as one of the chief conspirators in the Morey letter forgery.

A Repentent Criminal.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—Fred. Captain, Jr., the Canadian arrested for complicity in the murder of Ross, before the coroner's jury made a clear, shrewd statement to-day, that his confession was untrue, and that he had been persuaded into giving it by a distinguished detective imprisoned with him, who told him Harris had made a confession, and that if he (Captain) would, he would save his neck and get a large reward. The detective had himself outlined the story he told. The witness said he had sincerely repented and hoped God would forgive him.

A Terrible Accident.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Oct. 21.—A terrible accident occurred on the State road. On the Hoosac Tunnel Line this morning a caboose loaded with workmen was run into by an engine and nineteen men were badly scalded and crushed. James Wall, Thos. Dempsey, John Young, Chas. Carpenter, Amasa Campbell and Jas. Crafles were all burned, some seriously. Conductor Haywood is scalded about his head. Jas. Enwood, Thos. Connors, Thos. Flavin are scalded. John Welch's legs are broken and scalded. The others injured were James Bolger, scalp wound, face cut and scalded; James Ball, Patrick Murray, Thomas Driscoll, Joseph Barrelow, M. Kieley, Cornelius Shay, are all injured, but not seriously. As John Hogan was crossing the railroad track to see the accident he was struck by the Pittsfield & North Adams train and killed.

Ocean Freight Business and Rates —Immigration Society Doings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Quite a fair amount of business was transacted today by vessels loading for San Francisco, more the result of accumulation during the storm of the past week than any new movement for market. It cannot be any better than quiet. However, with increased manufacturing facilities on the Pacific Coast there must be a steady demand for raw material from the East, and as these must be laid down at as low a rate as possible, it is highly probable that sailing ships will find employment for a long time to come, although the number of departures will be less than formerly. Rates are as last quoted and quite steady under the slow movement of merchandise. Isthmus freights are unchanged. To-day's steamer has for San Francisco 200 pounds of rasin and 500 kegs of nails. The auxilliary steamer George S. Homer was launched at Bath, Maine, to-day. She will load at this port for Portland in the Van Vleck & Co.'s line. Freights at Boston are rather slow. The Enos Soule is waiting for a lot of coal on the way from this port. The Sonoma is in berth for a general cargo. Railroad freights are fairly active with shipments of the past week of 298 packages of fish; 26 packages of tobacco; 50 boxes of herring; 240 cases of canned fish; 70 case of baker ma ceroni and 576 cases of canned goods. Freights at Philadelphia are not very lively. The Standard has finished and will be followed by the new ship Berlin. Freights at Portland are fairly active. The Imperial in Van Vleck's line cleared to day. The Harry Morse will be full in about ten days.

The Immigration Society of this city finds as the result of the first year rate that of 43,000,000 acres of land in California still belonging to the United States, fully 20,000,000 are suitable for agricultural purposes. These lands are found in nearly every county of the State. The Society is distributing pamphlets and circulars throughout the United States and Europe, which call forth numerous letters of inquiry. During the current week immigrants by overland railroads number 866. Letters have been received during the week from twenty-five different States, besides enquiries from Belgium, Germany, France, England and other countries.

He who seldom speaks, and with one calm, well-timed word can strike dumb the loquacious, is a genius or a hero.—Lavater.

Love sees what no eye sees; love hears what no ear hears; and what never rose in the heart of man love prepares for its object.—Lavater.

One who is very confident has reason to fear a fall. Do not boast that you will not fall into sin, but pray to be delivered even from temptation.

THE REPLY

Of "Tax Payer" to "Tax Payers."

BUTTE, Oct. 21, 1882.

There is and ought to be but one excuse for the passage of the so-called "Gag Law," and that is its necessity. Class legislation is beyond all controversy not only wrong but uncivilized. Laws to be just must be universal and effect all classes alike, and when this test is applied and the law fails to meet the requirement, its repeal is the proper remedy. It appears to be the determination of a class, or a portion of the community, to make the Gag Law an issue at the coming election, and regardless of party to vote for the men who favor its repeal, and to defeat, if possible, those who entertain a different view. Your correspondent in this morning's issue insinuates that this law was passed by corrupt means and in the interest of a certain capitalist of this place. It is not known who this accuser is, but he by his communication convicts himself of being either a knave or a very poorly informed individual, for it is a well known fact to all who have examined the history of the bill that the same was passed without a word having been uttered against its passage in either house, and virtually without opposition, and consequently fraud or corruption was not necessary. The measure was passed freely and with knowledge of its provisions by the Legislature, and it would be humiliating indeed to any member of that Legislature to assert the contrary.

A certain class, or rather the demagogues who pretend to ally themselves with the interests of the working classes, proclaim aloud that they are insulted by the provisions of this law. Quite likely, and these same loud-mouthed advocates of Kearneyism, if the truth should be known, are insulted by the statutes punishing murder, arson, larceny, and every other statute for the prevention of crime. Why should these men be so infuriated and insulted by this law? It punishes one class as well as another, and it only punishes such acts as cannot and will not be tolerated by civilized communities, and the Legislature has done no more than was required of it, in providing a punishment for acts which, otherwise the law-abiding portion of the community would punish in a very summary manner. The law is a good one, and is in the interest of peace and good order. If no illegal acts are contemplated then this law has no terrors; but should these complaining parties, very many of whom may not be honest workingmen, expect to prevent the use and enjoyment of private property by the rightful owners, or apply the torch and ax to other men's property, or trample upon other's rights, which they hold so dear to themselves, then the law does apply, and it is the wish of every good citizen that it may be rigidly enforced, and that "no guilty man escape." If the issue must be presented upon this law, it looks strange that the workingmen, if such they be, should worry themselves as the law-opposing party, and enter a contest which must inevitably prove disastrous, and destroy the confidence of law-abiding citizens in the honesty of their designs and purposes.

Should the working classes enter this contest and strive for the repeal of this law, there is much to be said that would excuse their course. They are, if we are to believe these pretended or would-be exponents, entirely ignorant of the provisions of the law. There has been conjured up in their minds, by the application of this misnomer of "Gag Law" to the enactment of the Legislature, grave fears concerning their lives and liberties. They have been told by unscrupulous persons that the very bread for themselves and families depended upon the repeal of this law; that the stability and price of wages are regulated by it, and although in nearly four years of its existence no hardship has been experienced thereby, there seems to be an undefined and ungrounded fear that they may be called upon at any moment to answer some grave charge for uncommitted crimes without the intervention of Judge, Jury or counsel. This is the teachings of such educators as the writer of the effusion in this morning's issue, in which he falsely intimates or asserts that this has the harshness coupled with the power of absolute and unrestrained enforcement of a Russian law or edict. It may be as predicted that the law and order men will be "buried deep" in this contest, but it is well for this correspondent to remember that men who attempt to teach falsely, knowing it, and who seek every opportunity to espouse the cause of the "dear people," in a spirit of demagoguery, will eventually be assigned to their proper place in society, if they do not already occupy it.

It is known of certain of the nominees that they favor the present law or a modification of it. Now let us know who among the nominees favors its repeal. Messrs. DeWolfe, Forbis and Leggat, are supposed to favor the law. Let those who favor its repeal announce themselves, that property owners and law abiding citizens may know how to cast their ballots. Is it not certainly a reasonable presumption, that those who will not speak, will not have the manliness to act for the right.

ONE TAXPAYER.

The Scoville Insanity Case—An Insane Family.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—In the Scoville insanity case Fanny Scoville Harper, the daughter, this morning, testified she intercepted a note from Geo. W. Earlie to Mrs. Scoville, the contents of which were very improper, and had seen her mother kiss three men whom she had no right to kiss, and had heard of many others she had kissed. She declined to give names. Dr. A. McFarlane, of Jacksonville, Illinois, who was subpoened but did not testify in the Guiteau murder trial, and who has been for twenty-six years in hospitals for the insane, in New Hampshire and Illinois, said eighteen years ago Luther W. Guiteau brought to him an insane sister for treatment. From Guiteau's talk, which was very peculiar, he set him down as a crazy man. The impression was very strong on the witness and he readily saw how Luther's son could get into a state of mind necessary to kill President Garfield. He met Mrs. Scoville in Washington last winter. She had quite a controversy with Jno. W. Guiteau about the witnesses testimony. John declared nobody should testify that his father was insane. Mrs. Scoville said he should testify and said all the family were predisposed to insanity. He believed Mrs. Scoville's fainting and epileptic fits were sure to produce insanity. She being a chaste and loving wife until recently, her sudden change, was evidence to him. He held, in short, that the whole family, including John W., were of unsound mind and insane.
