NEWS NOTES.

United States Senator Butler, of South Carolina, was re-elected on the 5th inst.

Friends of the Nicaragua Canal bill are pressing the measure on the attention of the House.

The Pennsylvania House of Representatives consists of 113 Democrats and 88 Republicans.

The case of Caine, who claims a seat in the House as Delegate from Utah, has been referred to a sub-committee.

The Kentucky courts hold that a conversion to Christianity while the convert is drunk does not hold good in law.

General William S. Harney, who is now 82 years old, expects to leave St. Louis this month for his winter home in Louisiana.

Three ex-Secretaries of State, two ex-Secretaries of War and one ex-President attended the funeral of Thurlow Weed in New York.

George Gorham has a rival for the Secretaryship of the Senate in the person of George W. Hooker, of Vermont, who is strongly supported by Senator Edmunds.

The scene of the Dade massacre in Florida, is being plowed for cultivation, and cannon and musket balls, muskets and other broken weapons are found in great numbers.

It is rumored that Congressman John A. Kasson, who has just purchased the late Judge Corwin's residence in Washington, proposes before long to take unto himself one who shall do the honors of the mansion as mistress.

Mrs. Raymond, formerly Annie Louise Cary, is living in luxurious style on Fifth avenue, New York, but attends the opera as regularly as the orchestra. She says never again will she sing in public, and Mr. Raymond echoes "Never."

Dorsey's alleged princely domain in New Mexico, with its millions of acres of land and hundreds of thousands of cattle, is a myth. Dorsey has no such domain. The ranch he actually did have he had to sell to Hooler, the great Pennsylvania cattle king.

The Rutland, Vt., Herald says that when Senator Edmunds was put forward in 1880 for the nomination of the Presidency he warned his friends frankly that they would have only their labor for their pains. Said he: "None of us will live to see a Presidential candidate taken from any State east of the Hudson."

General Rosecrans denies that he will be a candidate for the Speakership of the next House, but intimates that he expects the chairmanship of an important committee. He also says that he does not aspire to the second place on the Democratic Presidential ticket, a position for which he has been named.

Claims were allowed by the Garfield Board of Audit as follows: For professional services Bliss gets $6,500, Agnew and Hamilton $5,000 each, Reyburn and Boynton $4,000 each, and Mrs. Edson $300. All the other bills were settled. Steward Crump gets $300, Secretary Pruden $200. The total appropriation was $37,500, of which $25,500 was for the physicians.

Friends of Mrs. DeLong say that she has commenced the work of preparing the records that were found with the body of her husband for publication. It is possible that Newcomb, the naturalist, may write a history of the Jeannette's expedition, but it is likely that the record of De Long, who wrote with greater fluency than men in his calling are apt to do, and who has left a copious chronicle of his voyage, will be accepted as the authoritative history of the expedition.

The World prints an interview with Mrs. Labouchere, in which, after denying that she had quarreled with Mrs. Langtry, she said she was not going to Boston. "Did you not intend to go to Boston with Mrs. Langtry when you came to America, Mrs. Labouchere?"

"Undoubtedly I intended to go to Boston, because I came out to America with Mrs. Langtry as her friend, and in fact, I may almost say her only friend, and at the suggestion of my husband, who is as much interested as I am in her dramatic success, and has done as much to forward it ever since she first formed her plan of appearing on the stage, just one year ago this month."

"Have you any objection to saying why you do not now go to Boston with her, Mrs. Labouchere?"

"Certainly not, since absurd statements have been made on the subject. I have not quarreled with Mrs. Langtry. I have no wish to quarrel with her, but I have had occasion to remonstrate with her in regard to a certain acquaintance formed by her in this city, which seemed to me likely to interfere with her success on the stage, and was certain to interfere with my comfort as her friend and companion. She did not take these remonstrances in good part and insisted on keeping up this acquaintance at Boston. I then told her plainly that I could not possibly consent to accompany her in these circumstances, and she preferred to go to Boston alone. That is the whole story."

Spain Protests.

MADRID, Dec. 9.—The Red Book contains a note in which Spain demands the United States should not have the right of exclusive intervention in connection with the Panama canal.

Losers by the London Fire.

Congressional Notes.

Most of the Western members favor two cents postage, and Anderson will offer to amend to begin the next fiscal year. The House and Senate Agricultural Committee expects to complete the agricultural appropriation bill Monday

SENATE.

Pendleton asked unanimous consent to take up the Civil Service bill and make it the special order for Monday. Vorhees objected.

Work of an Immigrarion Association.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—The Immigration Association reports 562 emigrant arrivals, overland, for the week. A colony of Englishmen from New Zealand has gone to Mendocino county to select a location for stock raising and general farming. The association has just completed listing the Government lands of Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville and Shasta land districts, and has published a general description of the public lands of California.

Page Offers a Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—In the House, Page of the Commerce Committee, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to whether the money appropriated by the last River and Harbor bill was appropriated for works or objects not in the interest of commerce or navigation, and if so, requesting specifications be furnished. Judging from a long conversation with members of the Commerce Committee they are much aggrieved over the views expressed by the President respecting the last River and Harbor bill. Some members go as far as to say they will prepare a bill this year, the recommendations of the President to the contrary notwithstanding.

In the Senate petitions of tobacco dealers and manufacturers for a rebate equal to the reduction that may be made in the tax on tobacco were presented by Hall, Miller and Edmunds.

The First Plan of the Panama Canal Abandoned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The Graphic prints the following: At Washington it is reported that the Engineers of the Panama Canal have made a radical change in their plan of operations. The intention of the projectors was to make a sea level canal from one ocean to another without locks of any kind. Information now comes that they found it impossible for any sum of money that could be raised to overcome the natural difficulties of such an undertaking, and they have decided to adopt the ordinary plan, that of locking down the grades. The other scheme involved the operation of digging the canal for some distances through great cuts which would have been several hundred feet deep, involving an amount of excavation, the like of which was never attempted by human hands. There were other difficulties also in connection with that part of the canal where the bed of the Chagres river is utilized, which the Engineers concluded would form a fatal obstruction to the plan originally entered upon.

An Important Mining Case.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—John S. Alexander has brought suit in the Supreme Court against Mrs. Cynthia H. Shillaber, to recover $25,000, which he claims he paid for one-eighth part of her interest in the Silver Prince mine, in Peck Mining District, Arizona. Alexander asserts he made a purchase on February 5, 1882, in this city, through Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, wife of Gen. J. C. Fremont, as agent of Mrs. Shillaber, but after he had paid the money Mrs. Shillaber refused to execute the agreement or to refund the purchase money. Mrs. Shillaber, in her answer, says Mrs. Fremont held the contract for the purchase of the mine for $40,000, which she has assumed upon certain conditions, of which Alexander had full knowledge. She also sets up an act of the Territory of Arizona whereby property of a married woman acquired by purchase after marriage shall be common property, of which her husband shall have the entire management and control, with absolute power of disposal, and that the property in question was subject to the absolute control of her husband. Judge Larremore, in the Supreme Court, special term, yesterday sustained the demurrer to this, holding that as it does not appear by the pleadings that Mrs. Shillaber is a resident of Arizona and the contract was made in New York, the laws of this State must govern upon this point.

FASHION NOTES.

Muffs are smaller than ever.

Velvet bonnets are the most fashionable.

Ostrich feather trimming is used on handsome mantles.

The small capote looks more like a baby's cap than ever.

Tan-colored kid gloves are worn with evening dresses.

Velvet is the favorite millinery and trimming material this winter.

The large fur cape will be worn as much this winter as it was last.

A pretty fancy is to trim a black velvet hat with a single white bird.

Some of the new bonnets have the crown of one color and the brim of another.

Waistcoats as separate garments are a feature in English women's dresses.

White or colored silk handkerchiefs are worn around the neck inside the cloak.

The new linen collars are standing bands, with a row of embroidery on the edge.

Black silk embroidery done on white kid is among new garnitures for evening toilets.

Word comes from Paris that the hair is to be worn once more on the top of the head.

Mask veils of tulle dotted with chenille are stylishly worn with either turbans or bonnets.

Evening dresses are frequently made with bodices of a different material from the skirt.

Knots of bright-colored ribbons are worn on the corsage of simple dresses, instead of flowers.

Leather colors, such as Russia leather, cordova, deer skin, and tan brown are among new shades.

Applique designs in plush, such as velvet or cloth, outlined with fine braid, are used for trimming some elegant dresses.

British materials, particularly woolens, are much used in Paris for traveling dresses and utility suits.

Ball dresses of veiling, white and tinted, are as much in favor now as they were in the summer and fall.

Rough-surfaced chine materials in woolen mixtures of many colors are the fancy of the Parisians at present.

Strings of amber-Roman pearl, agates, etc., are worn as necklaces. Indeed, all quaint necklaces are in good form.

ALL SORTS.

A Worcester man who has observed the comparative ease with which people "do" thirty and forty miles an evening on roller skates, makes the prediction that the time is not distant when smooth covered ways for the accommodation of wayfarers so equipped will be as common as are rail and driveways.

At the last term of court at Rockland, Me., a woman applied for divorce, which was granted. Soon after the divorced woman married a second time and went to housekeeping. Now, says the Courier-Gazette, the first or divorced husband of the woman is boarding with his former wife and her newly married husband.

The Early Closing Association of London "points with pride" to the great results that it has accomplished during the last two years, and has no reason to "view with alarm" the future of the movement. There is scarcely a single important district in London which has not shared in the improvement effected among the retail trades.

A Parisian physician declares the following a certain cure for smallpox or scarlet fever: Sulphate of zinc, 1 grain; fox-glove (digitalis), 1 grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar. Mix with two tablespoonful of water. Take a spoonful every hour. He declares the remedy unfailing. Its very simplicity has caused it to be overlooked.

Sheep culture is not a matter of doubt or experiment in the Arkansas Valley. Numerous streams of pure running water, tame and wild grass, cheap food and market facilities present great inducements to sheep owners. From a very small beginning, made about five years ago, the business has increased to great proportions.

A new style of brass "fire dogs" represents two charming women of the Sixteenth century, their coquettish heads emerging from wide ruffs, every fold and jewel of which is beautifully molded. The pair stand nearly three feet from the ground, supported by a guard and fender of heavy brass work, and create a very imposing effect under a high chimney mantel.

It was recently reported that a method of changing the objectionable color of South African diamonds (which have a yellow tinge) had been discovered. "Such," says the London Truth, "is the case, but the important addition has to be made that the yellow reappears after a slight washing, as some French merchants lately found out to their cost, after purchase, at a high price, of some perfectly white diamonds. The method is a simple application of the law of complementary colors. The yellow diamond is put in some violet solution. A slight coating of violet suffices to render diamonds of the most pronounced yellow tint perfectly white."

Young Ben Hill Faints While Speaking.

At the speaking at Atlanta the other night B. H. Hill had been introduced and after speaking with much grace and fluency for a few minutes suddenly faltered, reeled, and would have fallen had he not been caught by a gentleman near him. He was laid in a fainting condition upon the floor of the Speaker's rostrum and his head bathed in cold water, which revived him in a few minutes, when he aroused with the exclamation, "Richard's himself again!" and went on with his speech with an ease and energy that surprised those who had with so much pain witnessed his fainting fit. He had lately recovered from a spell of sickness, and his feeble bodily condition, added to the painful and embarrassing emotions excited by the subject of his remarks, overcame him for a few minutes.—Columbus, Ga., Engineer, Nov. 14.

YOUNG MEN
Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.
Middle-Aged Men.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposit a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito urinary organs.
Office hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 a. m. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5.
