UNNECESSARY LIGHTS OUT

Denison May be Called Upon to Observe "Lightless" Nights As Well As Wheatless, Meatless Days

PATTERSON IS STILL ON THE JOB

Crawford County Fuel Administration First to Issue Orders Regarding Regulating of Temperature.

Denison folks have been called upon to observe the meatless and wheatless days and the time may not be far distant when they will be called upon to observe the lightless nights. J. H. Patterson of the Federal Fuel Commission does not propose to have anyone suffer from lack of coal to heat their homes and in order to insure a supply of coal for the common people drastic regulations have been made and better still, enforced. Patterson has seen to it that all unnecessary electric lights have been eliminated, thus effecting a considerable saving of fuel at the municiple plant. Night lights in business places and offices where not absolutely necessary, have been ordered turned out and people generally are requested not to burn unnecessary lights in their homes.

Iowa leads all the states not only in agriculture but in orders on conservation of fuel. The Crawford County Fuel Board issued their first order on the control of temperature regulation of all public buildings, including the post office, fifty-three days prior to Chicago's order as you will see by the following article which appeared in a recent issue of the Chicago Tribune:

"Order No. 15, of the Cook County (Illinois) Fuel administration issued yesterday ordering that the maximum temperatures in flats, offices, and the stores be 70 degrees unless specific orders for higher temperatures were issued by a physician.

Overheating Must Stop.

"The text of the order, addressed to the People of Cook County, is:

"As a conservation measure for the purpose of relieving the present coal shortage, and indirectly to assist in relieving the congested condition in hotels, office buildings, stores, shops, theaters, factories, apartment buildings flats, residences and all other structures are hereby directed to maintain in all such buildings, a temperature of not to exceed 70 degrees, except on specific orders from a physician where in special instances it is necessary to maintain a higher temperature.

"This order is made effective immediately and shall continue in full force until April 1, 1918, unless sooner withdrawn, and it is important that this order shall meet with the full co-operation of all.

"The order is approved by the state fuel administration and as ot its legality by Levy Mayer, General Counsel for the fuel administration.

Hotels to Co-operate.

"Hotels have agreed to co-operate with the fuel administration by placing signs in guest rooms admonishing roomers to use no more light than is necessary, and not to overheat the rooms. Janitors of flats and office buildings will also be sent notices of the new fuel rule and asked to aid in its enforcement."

LIEUT. MARCUS JONES HERE

The Lieutenant Gives His Parents and Sisters a Real Genuine Surprise Christmas Morning.

The M. E. Jones family enjoyed a regular family reunion on Christmas day, all of the children being home to enjoy the festivities. The real surprise of the day was the visit of Lieut. Marcus Jones, who is stationed at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. Lieutenant Jones did not tell his parents of his intended trip home and reached Denison on an early train Tuesday morning. Finding the front door unlocked he walked in and discovered all of the preparations for Christmas. Ribbons with the names of each member of the family were strung about the rooms leading to the various presents and Marcus, finding his mother's ribbon, decided to make a change in the plan. He stretched the ribbon from a closet out into the living room and secreted himself in the closet. To say the surprise was complete would be putting it mildly. He will return to Camp Green Thursday evening. Those who attended the reunion were Louise Jones, of Lincoln; Eunice and Dorothy Jones, of Grinnell; Mrs. Adelbert Jones and children, of San Diego, Cali.; Misses Orpha and Bell Marshall, of Des Moines; Mrs. Jessie Kimber, of Kansas City; John Miles, of Barrett, Minn.; Ed Miles and son, of Dunlap; Edward Conrad, of Tabor; Adrian Miles, residing in Missouri, and Miss Kathleen Yeast, of Grinnell.

Roy Abbott, of Boyer, is in the city today transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz and Miss Rose Giermann and John Jacobsen are down from Deloittoday.

Mrs. Milo Kelly, of Arion, is in Denison today attending to some business matters. Mrs. Kelly will move to Denison in the spring, having purchased a residence in East Denison several weeks ago.

The fire department was called out Saturday afternoon to extinguish a small blaze at the home of Mayor W. H. Laub. In some manner, a mattress caught fire and the house was filled with smoke before the fire was discovered. The damage was only slight.

TEMPORARY BONDS PLACED AT $5,000

Fritz Orth, Who Struck Mrs. Patrick O'Connell, Charged With Violation of Espionage Act.

WAS NOT ON THE "VATERLAND"

Officers Ascertain That Orth Was a Member of British Boat, Whose name Was Similar to Vaterland

Fritz Orth, who is being held at Council Bluffs for alleged violation of the espionage act, was granted a continuance by United State Commissioner Organ Saturday until this Wednesday morning. Orth stated that he wanted to secure the services of an attorney. His temporary bond was placed at $5,000.

Fritz Orth

At the time of the trouble after he was taken to Council Bluffs the statement was made that he was a former fireman on the Vaterland, interned German ship. Federal officers now say that this is not true. Their investigations they say show that he was a member of the crew of a British boat, whose name was very similar to the Vaterland, and the wrong impression probably obtained on that account. Orth is an alien enemy, having taken no steps in naturalization.

The Review is printing an excellent likeness of Orth in this issue. The picture was taken at Council Bluffs after his return there by Sheriff H. J. Cummings, who had the man arrested at Sioux City. Orth, so Sheriff Cummings says, had nothing whatever to say to him after his arrest in Sioux City. Later, however, he admitted that he had trouble with Mrs. Patrick O'Connell, but claimed that he did not strike her until after she had scratched his face.

It is probable that the man will be sent to Ft. Leavenworth after trial for internment until after the war.

TEMPLE SELLS LUMBER YARD.

Stewart Lumber Company Purchases Stock of W. R. Temple Who Has Been in Business for 40 Years.

The announcement that W. R. Temple had disposed of his lumber and coal business to the Stewart Lumber company came as a surprise to the many friends of Mr. Temple. The deal was closed last week and the stock has been taken over by the Stewart Lumber company.

Mr. Temple has been engaged in the lumber and coal business in Denison for almost forty years, starting in the business with the M. Stone Lumber company in the early eighties, later he was connected with the firm of Stone & Temple for a number of years and has since conducted the business at the old Stone & Temple stand. Mr. Temple has always been a conservative business man and to be a patron meant a friend. The Review hopes that Mr. Temple will decide to continue in some line of business in Denison and that his retirement from the lumber business will not mean his leaving Denison.

Save Coal and Win the War J. H. Patterson has been appointed by J. F. Deems, United States food administrator, to look after the violators of the food law and hoarders of food in Crawford county temporarily. The profiteer and hoarder had better keep his eagle eye on Patterson, and run to cover when hoves in sight. Patterson insists that 90 per cent of the people are the common people and they are the ones that are suffering most from the profiteer and hoarder of foods. He is right and the Review believes that a man who will go into a man's coal bin and remove the coal he has received over the amount of the federal order will be able to handle the food situation in this county. Patterson proposes to see that the people are not charged more than the law allows for flour and in fact all foodstuffs, and will be hot on the trail of anyone who is holding the people up.

The Review this week is being issued on the regular publication day, although all the employees enjoyed Christmas at home with their families. The paper would have been more complete had it been delayed until Thursday, but we felt that the subscribers would prefer to receive it on the regular day.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR MISS GARY

Miss Pearl Gary, the First Young Lady From Crawford to Go to France Given a Purse.

SHE IS A MEMBTR OF UNIT K

One Hundred Denison Friends Meet Miss Gary at Northwestern Station and Say Goodbye.

Miss Pearl Gary passed through Denison Monday evening over the Northwestern with twenty other Red Cross nurses, who are members of Unit K, enroute from Council Bluffs to Ellis Island, N. Y., from which place they will sail in the near future for service with the American army in France. Miss Gary, who has made her home in Denison with her father, received word Sunday that the nurses of Unit K would leave Council Bluffs Monday evening and was ordered to report there. She left Denison Monday morning for the Bluffs.

Nearly a hundred Denison folks gathered at the Northwestern station Christmas evening to bid Miss Gary goodbye and god speed, and as the 8:16 train pulled into the depot they gave a rousing cheer for the plucky Denison young lady who is the first from Crawford county to go abroad as a Red Cross nurse. Miss Gary came to the platform of the special car, where she clasped the hands of all. She was presented with an envelope containing $50 in gold, which was a parting gift from her friends and neighbors.

No one could say that it was a sad parting. All of the nurses in the unit seemed to be in the best of spirits. Some one in the crowd on the platform shouted, "Pearl, be sure and bring back the kaiser." Miss Gary, in a clear, sharp voice, replied, "We will not bring back the kaiser, we don't want him, but will leave him over there." Each window of the Pullman car occupied by the nurses contained a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers which were presented by the citizens of Council Bluffs. Council Bluffs gave the departing nurses a great send off, there being a crowd of 3,000 people at the station to see them off.

Miss Gary joined Unit K last May when the unit was organized by Dr. Donald Macrae. Since then she has been patiently waiting to be called into service, and has spent most of her time here in Denison with her father, A. J. Gary. Miss Gary was born and reared in Denison and received her education in the public schools here, graduating from the high school with honors. She took a course of nursing in one of the big hospitals of Chicago and among physicians was acknowledged to be one of the best trained nurses in this section of the state. She has a host of friends in Denison and vicinity who wish her the best of success and a safe return.

The Review had hoped to print in this issue a picture of Miss Gary, but the plate did not arrive from the engravers. This will be printed in the next issue.

BOYS HOME FOR CHRISTMAS.

Many Denison Homes Gladdened Owing to Presence of Soldier Boys Christmas—Partial List.

Many Crawford county families were able to thoroughly enjoy Christmas because of the return of boys from the training camps to spend the holidays with the home folks. In Denison there were many happy firesides and while the visits of the soldier boys are of short duration they are enjoyed to the utmost. Parents and relatives of the boys in the service read with regret last week the order made by the government that soldiers would not be permitted to ride on the railroads during the holidays. Many of the boys, however, were able to secure furloughs and those at Camp Dodge took the interurban to Boone and had relatives or friends drive them from there to Denison in autos.

The Review has not been able to secure a complete list of those from the camps who were home on furlough, but our attention has been called to the following:

Camp Dodge: Chase Kemming, Chas. Seemann, Russell Hayes, Leslie Heiden, Ed Lehman, Ed Kusel, Martin Saggau, Hugo Saggau, Glen Bouslough, John Duffy, Vail, Lieut. Sharp, Dow City.

Signal Corps, Louisville, Ky.: Joe James and John Krauth.

Great Lakes Naval Training Camp: Ray Heiden and Elias Henry.

Deming, N. M.: Roy Gebert.

Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.: Lieut. Edmund Luney.

Much of the correspondence is omitted in this issue of the Review owing to the fact that it did not reach us until this morning.

An invitation dance will be held this evening in the dining room of the Hotel Denison which will be largely attended by the college students who are home for the holidays.

Mrs. James Armstrong entertained the Woodman Circle Thimble club last Thursday afternoon. Nearly all the members were present and a number of friends were invited. A Christmas tree was the main feature of the occasion. A couple of readings were given by Mrs. R. Partridge, which were very good. A number of beautiful presents were exchanged, and an elegant two course luncheon served. A very enjoyable time was had by all present.

CLASSIFYING REGISTRANTS

Local Exemption Board Now Busy Classifying Registrants—No Announcements Until Next Week.

950 QUESTIONNAIRES MAILED

Legal Advisory Board Busy Last Ten Days Assisting Registrants in Filling Out Papers.

The local exemption board has commenced the work of classifying the registrants of Crawford county who have already returned their questionnaires properly filled out. A Review reporter called at their office in the court house this morning, but was told the work had not been completed, so we are unable to publish in this issue the names with the classes to which they have been assigned.

Up until this afternoon 950 questionnaires have been mailed out to registrants in this county, which is less than half of the number. Five per cent are being mailed out each day and it will require twenty days in all to send them out.

The legal advisory board has been kept busy for the past ten days assisting registrants to fill out their questionnaires and the work has been so great that they have drafed into service a number of business men. Every attorney in the city is assisting in this work. From early morning until late afternoon the third floor of the court house is crowded with registrants, wives, children and relatives. It is not a merry throng either for all realize that from the information contained in the questionnair the registrant will be classed in the order in which he will be called into service.

A number of registrants are waiving all claims for deferred classification and in many instances they state a desire to enter the service of the country.

Crawford county will be foun[illegible] ready when the next call comes f[illegible] men. The local board is working [illegible] and night in order to have the w[illegible] completed in this county in the d[illegible]nated time.

Fred Boettger, who resides a[illegible] Park, Iowa, writes the Review [illegible]mitting for the paper that th[illegible] in that vicinity was 50 per [illegible] He did not pick his corn [illegible] it over to the hogs and said they did a fine job of it. In speaking of the paper Mr. Boettger says: "I always like to see the good old Denison Review come and hope it will come as regular as it has the last three years."
