The crowd about Jones's Hotel in Philadelphia, being tired of waiting to see Jenny Lind, stopped a lady as she was entering the house and asked her if she would not be kind enough to receive three cheers which the multitude had on hand and would like to relieve themselves of. She politely assented, was cheered, bowed, and the people appeared to be much relieved. Jenny's first concert in Philadelphia yielded $12,000, grass.

LATEST AND BEST
Collection of Church Music
NOW READY.
THE GOLDEN LYRE:

A NEW collection of church music, adapted to the various metres now in use, together with a great variety of new anthems, sentences, and chants for choirs, singing classes, musical associations, and social, sacred music circles, by V. C. TAYLOR, author of "Taylor's Sacred Minstrel," "Choral Anthems," &c.

We have explored its contents enough to dare to speak well of it. Mr. Taylor is himself the author of a good part of the book, and he shows musical feeling, taste, and invention, which make it no presumption in him to appear as a composer. * * * Mr. Taylor's pieces are recommended by their melody woven into all the four parts, by their expressiveness, which always varies with the subject, and by their uniformly artistic style. * * * And last but not least the work is more beautifully and clearly printed than any work which we remember of the kind.—N. Y. Tribune.

We believe the book to be greatly superior to any that has preceded it, and we think it may claim to be better adapted to, and more suitable for, the use of choirs.—Saroni's Musical Times.

We have examined this new collection of church music, and would add our favorable opinion of its merits, to the many encomiums it has elicited.—N Y. Evangelist.

We hope this collection will meet that favor and success of which it is deserving.—N. Y. Recorder.

Mr. Taylor shows great taste, and no pains have been spared to furnish to choirs the very sole of music.—Detroit Free Press.

It is a collection made with admirable taste, and with a scientific knowledge of the whole field of music. There is a spirit and soul in the compositions, which are too often wanting.—Buffalo Commercial Advertizer.

The tunes Louvan, Dawn, and others of like character, we are particularly pleased with. They stamp the author as a genius of the highest order.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Taylor is winning for himself an enviable reputation as a composer, and of what we see of this new book, we feel assured it will excel anything which has preceded it.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Mr. Taylor's music throughout, is of the highest of composition, and commends itself at once to all lovers of true harmony.—Hallowell Gazette.

KOHN AND MANDLEBAUM'S COLUMN.

Fall and Winter Stock of Goods!

"LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP!!"

There is a saying, old enough, but yet 'tis very terse,
And now we venture to allude to it in rhyming verse;
There's benefits attached to it, which all may safely reap,
But mind whatever else you do, you "Look before you leap."

Some famous tradesmen once arose, their name was on each tongue,
They were determined to do right, though others might do wrong;
They opened store, displayed their goods, the people flocked in crowds—
They saw—admired—largely bought, and spoke in praises loud.

For years successful, they advanced, the favorites of the mass;
They strove to please both high and low, and suit each varied class;
Till envious of their noble fame, why, others thought that they Could wrest the laurels they had won, by puffing and display.

"As Kohn & Mandlebaum have a splendid trade," said they "why then not we!
Let's try and make our place as much like their's as well can be;
The people only look for clothes (thought they) extravagantly cheap;
They little care for quality, not 'Look before they Leap.' "

But mark the full result of this, their estimate was wrong;
'Tis style,—'tis price—'tis quality—that's looked for by the throng;
They know we do stand above for clothing as good as cheap,
The Illinoians are awake, they "Look before they Leap."

The fame of our house has grounded deep, for honorable trade,
For gold and silver, sterling clothes at our establishment are repaid;
Our mart of Fashions is the place, advantages ye'll reap—
Be sure you are at Mandlebaum's, and "Look before you Leap."

It is astonishing how Cheap we Sell,

ALREADY say the discerning citizens of this vicinity, and we would here assure our patrons that this season we are prepared to sell our Ready Made Clothing much lower than usual, as our facilities in business are such as will enable us to compete with any Clothing Establishment, either in St. Louis or any of the Atlantic cities.

Citizens and others are respectfully invited to give us a call. We have a very extensive stock made expressly for the wants of this market, and are confident that after an examination of our prices, you will leave us under a full conviction, that no exertion is wanting on our part to make our establishment worthy of public patronage. We will also warrant our stock to consist of sound materials and the best of workmanship, and for nicity and cut they cannot be excelled; should they be found to prove otherwise, we pledge to make such amends as will satisfy the purchaser thereof.

In connection with our clothing we have every thing else that is usually kept in a gentleman's furnishing store. KOHN & MANDLEBAUM.

THE RISING GENERATION!

CLOTHING FOR BOYS.

Mandlebaum & Kohn, without dispute,
Are chief in all the nation,
For making clothing to suit
The rising generation.

Their very neat vests and choice attire—
The choicest in the nation—
Which style will make you all admire,
On the rising generation.

Their coats and pantz, when them you'll view,
Will gain your admiration,
Elegantly are they adapted too
For the rising generation.

Mandlebaum & Kohn have dress like this
In most every variation,
For in their trade they never miss
The rising generation.

Information Wanted.

TIMOTHY DONOVAN, late of Bantry, county Cork, Ireland, left Ottawa about the 1st of June last, to go to Galena on foot. He was seen about 2 miles below Ottawa, on the canal bank; since which time he has not been heard from. Fears are entertained that he may have come to his end thro' sickness or violence. Any information concerning him will be received with the greatest interest by his friends and afflicted family.

Should any one know any thing about him they will confer a favor by addressing Jeremiah Donovan, Dubuque, or Jeremiah Crotty, Ottawa.

The World Challenged!
S. F. EMERSON'S
Improved Atmospheric Churn.
Patented April 2d, 1850.

THE attention of the public is respectfully solicited to an examination of the above churn, which for efficiency, cheapness, and facility for cleaning, stands unrivalled and alone.

The numerous certificates which have been received, corroborative of its unrivalled performances, with the different churns now in use, and the united testimony of all who have witnessed its operation, furnish ample proof of its being the most approved churn ever exhibited to the public. In it the greatest mechanical and philosophical principles are fully embodied, viz: the agitation or surface friction of the cream or milk, and the introduction of atmospheric air. This mechanical and philosophical action upon the cream or milk has the effect to separate and bring into contact the detached particles of butter, requiring only a proper temperature to promote their adhesion. The process of collecting the butter is not equalled by any previous invention, it being rapid and complete. It has in all cases where tried with other churns, proved itself the quickest, and at the same time a more perfect separation, and consequently a larger quantity of butter. On time and the amount produced, the world is challenged. S. F. EMERSON, Patentee.

N. B.—Persons desirous of purchasing County Rights or Churns, by directing a letter (post paid) to, or calling in person on, William Pearson, Ottawa, Ill., will meet with prompt attention. Mr. Pearson, also manufactures and keeps for sale all sizes of the above churns.
