LAST SHOT OF THE WAR.—Four years ago while plowing in his field near Parker's Store, in Spottsylvania county, Mr. E. P. C. Chewning plowed up a long bullet shaped cannon shot, and thinking it of no account, put it on top of a fence post to dry.

A few days ago Mr. Chewning was burning brush near the shell, and being of an experimental turn of mind, concluded to put the shell in the fire and see if it would "go off." He did so, and making a hasty retreat from the shell-charged brush pile, had got a about 150 yards away when a terrific explosion occurred which jarred the ground for several hundred yards around the fire, and could be heard many miles. Burning brands were scattered in all directions, and Mr. Chewning on looking for some parts of the shell could only find a large hole in the ground. He said he never heard a cannon shot go off before, and never wants to hear another go off. He took an inventory of the damages, and found the adjoining trees badly cut up, but otherwise no damage done.—Fredericksburg Star.

DO JAPS WANT HAWAII?—The Berlin Kreuz Kerting calls attention of Europe to Japanese scheming for Hawaii. The steamship line from Honolulu to Seattle, it says, is only one mesh of a net by which Japan is trying to embrace the whole Australian world. Japan intends to make the Pacific islands all contributary to her at first commercially and subsequently politically. Honolulu possesses great maritime and strategical importance, which is increasing daily. In view of the rapid development of cities on the Pacific coast, this importance will assume an international character if the Nicaraguan canal is ever opened. At present there are 26,000 Japanese living in Hawaii, and if immigration continues at the present rate the Japanese population will soon gain the upper hand there, particularly since a great many soldiers who took part in the war with China are now settled there with there families. The Japanese element is a danger for all seafaring nations.

ENGLAND'S POWERFUL NAVY.—In the course of the discussion of the naval estimates in the British House of Commons on Tuesday Sir Charles Dilke said he thought that the navy was greatly deficient, especially in respect of lieutenants, engineers, and stokers, and even the programme for building new ships was not large enough. The Right Hon. George J. Goschen, first lord of the admiralty, declared that if Great Britain should go to war to morrow with two of the greatest maritime powers the British navy would be found distinctly superior to both in the number as well as in the class of its ships.

CUPID'S RAPID WORK.—Townsend in agog over the romantic marriage of William Jordan, a 60-year-old war veteran, and pretty Miss Bertha Gold, who is just eighteen. The couple met for the first time this week. The grizzled veteran was smitten on sight. He proposed marriage at once, and off the couple went to Rev. John Webb, who tied the knot. The meeting, courtship and marriage all took place within two days.
