MURDER!

Murder seems to be the prevailing mania of the day. Scarcely a paper can be picked up that does not contain the shocking details of some brutal, cold-blood murder We read of murder, think of murder, speak of murder, dream of murder, and sometimes even witness murder. Sheriffs, Policemen and Constables are almost wholly occupied in hunting up and arresting murderers, Courts and juries in trying them, lawyers in prosecuting or defending them, and newspapers in publishing the full details of murder and all subsequent proceedings. Go where you please, you will rarely fail to stumble upon a murder.—The mania has broken out, and is widespread in its ravages. City, town, hamlet and country are alike afflicted with the ravages of this foul, withering, desolating curse. Scarcely have we been glutted with the bloody details of one, till we are startled with the perpetration of a more atrocious in another section. In more perpetration, they resemble more closely the constant rumbling of the thunderbolt, than the fitful, evanescent glare of the lightning. With them there is seemingly no intereuption and no end. They are omnipresent and omnifarious.

From the date of the brutal and fiendlike murder of young Doctor Norcross, to the present, the public mind has been startled and horrified by a succession of murders, every one, if possible, more daring in conception and more ruthless in execution than that one. Who, of our readers, is unacquainted with the particulars of the Burdell tragedy, with its long train of mystery and concomitant horrors, which was perpetrated close on the heels of the Norcross tragedy. That was closely followed by the White tragedy, in Allegheny county, and that by the M'Keesport butchery. The Danville poisoning case and the Newbury tragedy may also be mentioned in the same category. But the list does not end here. The murder of Robt. Webb and the serious injuries inflicted on Harry K. Eaton, in St. Louis, and the more recent murder of J. C. Bartholemew, by his cousin Charles Philips in Chester county, are necessary to complet the picture.

But these are only a tithe of the murders that have been perpetrated during the time mentioned above. To attempt to recount them all would be an endless task. Their name is legion.

But, it may be asked, what is the reason of such an alarming increase of murders during the present year. We unhesitatingly answer, that it is attributable to the failure on the part of courts and juries to do their duty towards the perpetrators of them. In comparatively few instances are murderers dealt with according to their deserts. From a false feeling of sympathy towards them the demands of Justice and Providence are utterly disregarded or trampled under foot, and he whose crime

"Itself is past all expiration,
The greatest crime that nature doth abhor," is turned loose upon society, which he has so foully and irreparably wronged, or, at best, confined for a short time in prison, to be liberated therefrom by a free pardon too readily to be obtained from Executive officers of easy virtue, on the solicitation of men of wealth and influence.

It is true that in the Norcross tragedy, thanks to the efficient and indefatigable action of the officers of justice, the guardians of the public safety, that murder will soon be atoned for, by the life of the guilty perpetrator thereof. But in the other cases how stands the record? In the Burdell tragedy, a trial of the supposed (may we not say the real) perpetrator or instigator of the murder has been held, but with what result? None whatever. The trial was mere burlesque, a mockery of justice.—The guilty party (in every sense save that of law (?)) has again been let loose upon society, with her hands yet reeking in the warm heart's blood of her victim. That mystery has yet to be dissipated, and, so far, the blood of the murdered cry in vain to heaven for vengeance.

In the other cases enumerated above, with the exception of the Newburg mystery, which has not yet been solved, although every means have been tried to ferret out the guilty parties, the real supposed perpetrators have been arrested and have yet to undergo their trials. What the result of each may be, time can alone decide. In the meantime we sincerely hope that every means will be employed by the proper authorities to develope the guilt or innocence of the suspected parties. We wish no injustice done to them, all we ask is simple justice.

Reflecting Public Opinion.

The resolutions unanimously passed by the Democratic State Convention, which we published in last week's Democrat, in opposition to the increases of Banks, and the bill for the sale of the Main Line to the Pennsylvania Railroad company, by the last Legislature, will meet with a hearty response from a vast majority of the people, of all parties, in this section of the Commonwealth. The action of the Convention in this matter was but the reflex of public opinion. The last Legislature (we mean a majority of those composing it) was, beyond all question or doubt, the most reckless and corrupt body of men who were ever sent to Harrisburg to enact laws. They went there, not to benefit their constituents, or subserve the interists of the State, but to enrich themselves by bribery and corruption, and fill their pockets with their ill-gotten gains at the expense of the honest and industrious tax-payers of Pennsylvania.

We are aware that these are hard sayings, and we make them more in sorrow than in anger. It is no pleasant task thus to speak of the representatives of the people; but when rascality and corruption stalk forth in broad day-light in the high places of the Commonwealth—when the people are thus wantonly and wickedly outraged and cheated—the hitherto fair escutcheon of our good old State besmeared and soiled, and her character tarnished—it is time for the press to speak out in plain and pointed terms. There should be no mincing of matters with scoundrelism, whether it developes itself among bank robbers, gamblers, or legislative robbers. Neither are a whit better than highwaymen—indeed, if there be any difference, the latter class is the more respectable of the four enumerated.

We are therefore rejoiced that the State Convention took the decided stand it did on the subject. That body has truly spoken the sentiments of the people, and the position will be triumphantly sustained by the popular voice speaking through the ballot-boxes on the second Tuesday of October. Had the Convention failed in discharging their duty in this particular, they would have been recreant to the high trust confided to them by the people of Pennsylvania.

☞ It is a fact which speaks volumes against Black Republicanism, that in those places where the mania has raged the most violently, public sentiment afterwards turns against and condemns it. Thus, New Haven, Connecticut, is the place where Rev. Henry Ward Beecher preached a political sermon, and closed the services by taking up a subscription of Sharpe's rifles to arm a company about to start to Kansas, to exterminate the Border Ruffians. The act itself was disreputable. But when the time, the place, the actors and the circumstances are considered, it was one of the most disgraceful scenes ever enacted by even the Black Republicans. It has had its legitimate effect; for at the recent election in that city the Democratic majority exceeded five hundred. The only result of these crazy acts of the Abolitionists has been to convert into impregnable Democratic strongholds places which have been heretofore uniformly against the Democracy, and to immeasurably increase the Democratic majorities were before they were but small.

Democrat for the Campaign.

Being desirous of placing our paper within the reach of all who wish to understand the true issue involved in the coming Gubernatorial contest, we offer it at the following rates; commencing at any time during the present month, and continuing until the first of November, or until we get the official returns of the State election.

Single copy	$0,50
Ten copies	4,00
Fifteen copies	6,00

And an extra copy to the getter up of the club of fifteen. All orders must invariably be accompanied by the cash.

Post Masters and others will please act as our agents for getting up clubs.

Is Wilmot an "American?"

The Philadelphia Daily Sun, an old Native American paper, advocates the election of David Wilmot for Governor as a "TRUE AMERICAN."

In this district the opposition papers hoist the ticket and call it "Republican Ticket;" in other counties it is called "American Republican;" in others "Union American;" while in Philadelphia, an old "Native" paper claims him as their candidate. Now will some of his organs in this part of the State inform us which of these shades he really represents; or whether he is a seven sided concern, including whatever may be supposed necessary to help "lick the Democrats with."

It Did'nt Come!—Our readers will recollect that Saturday last, the 13th inst., was the day fixed upon by certain European astronomers for a general sweep of all creation by the tail of the Comet. It did'nt do anything of the kind, however—and here we are, on this 20th of June, anno domini 1857, safe and sound "as a bug in a rug," and without any intention of leaving this lower sphere yet a while—that is, if we can help it! This globe of our's, we believe, wags on about in the usual way, and bids defiance to all comets and other long-bearded animals. We breathe "freer and deeper," now that we have escaped a switch from the tail of so ugly a customer as our friend the Comet.

Just like Them.

Many of the opposition are anxious to fasten the odium of the bill for giving away the public works upon the democracy. We do not wonder at this. They see that it is not safe to shoulder such a load of infamy. But let us see if they can escape. Here is how parties stood in the Senate upon the final passage of the bill—Yeas, 18.—Dem. 2, Rep. 16. Nays, 14—Dem. 13, Rep. 1.—So much for the Senate. In the House, the vote stood on final passage—Yeas, 51—Rep. 41, Dem. 10. Nays, 41—Dem. 37, Rep. 4.

The Catawissa Railroad:

☞ Republicanism is most assuredly dying out. The New York Times, one of the ablest and most influential of the organs of Republicanism during the last Presidential campaign, has abandoned the cause and come out as an "independent." It is said that by instinct "rats leave a sinking ship." The Times has foreseen the downfall of Republicanism and is preparing to "stand from under" when the crash comes.

☞ Persons of our county visiting Philadelphia, wishing to stop at a first class Hotel, where all their wants will be attended to with promptness by a courteous and affable Landlord, would do well by stopping at the Mount Vernon House on 2d st. above Arch. It is under the charge of Maj. I. L. Barrett, formerly of Clearfield, Pa., who is one of the most agreeable and accommodating Landlords in the City.

☞ Henry Hubbard, the aged ex-Governor of New-Hampshire, and ex-Senator in Congress, died suddenly on Friday morning at his residence in Charlestown, N. H. Besides the offices mentioned Mr. Hubbard was also U. S. sub-treasurer in Boston during Mr. Polk's administration; but his residence has always been in the pleasant village of Charlestown, on the banks of the Connecticut river, where he was born, and commenced the practice of law more than fifty years ago.

Pittsburg Daily Union.

This excellent Democratic paper has recently passed into the hands of Messrs John H. Baily & Co., and is now printed on fine new type. It is ably edited—advocates sound political doctrine, and merits a liberal support at the hands of the people. Success to the Union.

"The Truth of the Matter."—The N. Y. Herald says, speaking of Kansas outrages, &c:—

"But the truth of the matter is, that all this fuss that has been made about Kansas within the past two or three years, has been created for the benefit of a few speculators in lands and politics. Under the new regime the buddle will burst."

At last we are beginning to get the truth of the matter—and from the Herald!

Southern Monitor.

J. B. Jones, Esq, sends us the first number of a new and very neat folio sheet, under this title, just issued in Philadelphia. It is conducted with signal ability, treating all subjects with commendable fairness, and is sound in the democratic faith. Price only $2 00 per annum.

American Agriculturist.

This is a highly valuable agricultural publication, issued monthly in New York, by Orange Judd, A. M. It is in neat quarto form, suitable for binding, containing 24 well-filled pages of interesting matter—each number of which is illustrated with Agriculture and Horticulture Cuts. Price $1 00, only, for one year.

☞ In Philadelphia, last week, butter was selling at 40 cents per pound, eggs 18 cents a dozen, tomatoes 31 cents a quart, new Bermuda potatoes 8 cents per pound, and strawberries from the South from $1,50 to $2,00 per quart.

☞ From a glance over the names of the retiring Senators, we believe the next Senate will be democratic. Many of these Senators were elected in the flush of Know-Nothingism in 1854 and their places will be supplied by democrats and better men.

New Dress!—The Jersey Shore Republican, a Democratic paper, donned a new dress last week, and now presents quite a neat appearance. We wish the Messrs. Bakers success.

Else & Wilson have on hand, each and every warm evening, ice cream of a superior quality which they serve up in the most handsome style.

United States Court.—The Circuit and District Courts of the United States opened at Williamsport, on Monday, June 15th, before Hon. R. C. Grier.

☞ Col. John W. Forney, it is said, has been formerly tendered the lucrative appointment of Consul to Liverpool.

To the School Directors of Columbia County.

MILLVILLE, Columbia Co., Pa., June 15, 1857.

Gentlemen:—Being called to fill the important and responsible trust of County Superintendent of Common Schools, by the first opportunity after receiving my commission, I desire to tender my thanks for the confidence you have manifested, and to address you briefly through the public press. I am aware that the duties of the office as specified by the law and as contemplated by its framers, which you will in reason expect me to perform, are not of a trivial character, but such as should call into continual exercise a vast amount of tact, experience and capacity, and though others could have been selected more competent than myself; yet accepting the office which at first I reluctantly consented to fill I did it with the intention of rendering all the service in my power, and resolved that all the time and talent at my command should be freely given to the educational interests of the county. Our school law was planned upon a broad and liberal scale, and if properly carried into effect would redound to the lasting honor and credit of our Commonwealth. Much opposition to the law has been manifested in some localities, but as all efforts in that direction have proved fruitless, it is hoped that hereafter there will be a more cheerful acquiescence in the requisitions of the law, and when, after thorough experiment, the law is found to be inefficient, it will always be open to amendment. Considering our school system then as a fixed fact, permanently engrafted upon the wise and benevolent institutions of our State, it should be our pride and our interest as well as our duty, to make it practically useful and carry out the intentions of the law by well directed efforts to promote the intellectual development of the rising generation. Parents are mostly interested in the improvement of their own children, but some in their active exertions to promote it at the public expense, seem to forget that the law is impartial in its operations and was designed to benefit the entire community without regard to rank or sex. In making the law effective many important aids may oft unite, but as school directors are elected by the people to administer the law, you as our executive officers are in a great measure responsible for its results. Upon you important duties devolve, and to your care are entrusted the best interests of the cause of education. Upon your judicious selection of teachers and the interest you manifest in your respective schools, will mainly depend the beneficial results of the system. As soon as we find out that the mind requires its nourishment as well as the body, and are willing to devote as much attention to the improvement of the mind as we bestow upon the improvement of our farms, the culture of our stock, &c., our schools will no doubt receive an active impulse upward, but like indigenous weeds, they will not thrive with ut culture, to be of any benefit to society. You select teachers it is true, to have the immediate charge of the pupils to impart instruction each in his own peculiar way, but your poor teachers want your continual advice and encouragement, and even your best teachers need your sympathizing care and oversight—they need your counsel and your frequent presence as a stimulus to exertion and an indication that their labors are appreciated. I desire not to dictate, but at all times in a friendly way, I shall strive to enlist your feelings on behalf of more active efforts for the benefit of our common schools, and it will always be a pleasure for me to cooperate with you in devising measures and perfecting plans for their improvement.

During the summer, I expect to visit all the districts in the county, to make the acquaintance of teachers and directors, to examine teachers, to visit schools when they may be open, and consult with the friends of education respecting the best means of elevating their children. During the winter or whenever any considerable number of the schools, shall be open, my principal business will be to visit the schools, to aid and stimulate the teachers, to encourage associated efforts at improvements, to address the public on educational subjects when desired, and in various ways to excite a spirit of emulation in the art of teaching which will be pleasant to both teacher and pupils, as well as profitable to the entire community.

To do all this so that my private business will not suffer by my absence, will probably cost me more than the compensation allowed, but as I have embarked in the undertaking, I will endeavor to carry it through to the best of my ability, and in the most impartial manner. Directors and those having business who may find a personal consultation inconvenient, may address me by letter and expect a prompt reply.

Very respectfully,

Wm. Burgess.

Editorial Change.—Mr. J. T. Hoover, former Editor of the Democratic Watchman, published at Bellefonte, Pa., has disposed of that establishment to Messrs. S. S. Seely and B. R. Hall, by whom the "Watchman" will hereafter be conducted. Success to it, politically and financially.

☞ The Secretary of War has ordered twenty five hundred men to march for Utah, and will send three or four hundred more. It is said that Col. Cummings will be the Governor.

☞ Judge Jordon at the late session of Montour county Court, very materially curtailed the Liquor business in Danville. He refused to license a single store for the sale of spirituous liquors, in the borough. He also rejected the application for two taverns, and granted license to only three restaurants for the sale of malt liquors and domestic wines.

☞ Counterfeit new cents are already in circulation in New York, intended, no doubt, to mix with the genuine in large quantities. It is said they will easily deceive persons at a casual glance, but being pewter, like all that kind of coin have a greasy feel and slumpy sound that any boy will recognize.

Ladies Wanted Out West.—The Editor of the Iowa Reporter calls with a stentorian voice for ladies to come out West. He says: "The last census reported shows that there are 33,610 more males than females in Iowa. This was taken in June and does not include the Spring and Fall emigration. We are now minus at least 60,000 ladies to make up our quota!"

Marriage in High Life.—The eldest daughter of Queen Victora is soon to be married to Prince Frederick William of Prussia. The Queen has given formal notice to Parliament of the pending event and requested ample provisions for the bride—such as becomes the dignity of the Crown and the Honor of the country.

Marriages.

On Thursday evening, 11th inst., at Warnerville, Columbia county, by James Masters, Esq., Mr. Peter D. Swisher to Miss Elizabeth Warner, both of Pine township, in this county.

Deaths.

In this place, on Saturday, 13th inst., of scarlet fever, Sophronia, daughter of Sheriff Miller, aged about 10 years.

"See, Israel's gentle Shepherd stands,
With all engaging charms;
Hark! how he calls the tender lambs,
And folds them in his arms."

FOR HOGS.

In Swelled Neck, Evies in the Liver, Abscesses in the Lungs, Ulcers of the Bowels, Spasms or Cramps, Choke diseases.

No farmer should be without it a single day; it is his sheet-anchor in diseases of his stock. It increases the amount of milk, butter and fat in healthy animals, from equal quantities of food at least from 20 to 25 per cent., as the experience of over 10,000 farmers, who have used it will testify at any time!

ANOTHER NEW DISCOVERY!

CATTLE LINIMENT.

Unequalled by any other Liniment or Embrocation ever yet known to the world. It is good for the following diseases, and has proved itself in the hands of thousands of farmers, farriers and stage proprietors to exceed anything of the kind ever offered to the public

THE CATTLE LINIMENT IS GOOD FOR

CATTLE.	HUMAN BODY.
Sprains, Bruises,	Rheumatism,

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATION

OF

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Obstructions, Secret Diseases, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs

Arising from Excesses and Imprudencies in life, and removing all Improper Discharges from the Bladder, Kidneys, or Sexual Organs, whether existing in

MALE OR FEMALE.

From whatever cause they may have originated, and no matter of how long standing, giving health and vigor to the frame, and bloom to the pallid cheek.

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!!

It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the symptoms among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Apprehension, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Head, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Emaciation, Universal Prostration of the Whole System, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Wind in the Stomach, Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Emaciation, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyes, Frequently Blood Shots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight; want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no peace of mind, a nervous wreck, no speculation, but a Hurried transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits—in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums and the ominously early graves by Consumption, bear a ready witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is usually sodden and quite destitute—neither mirth or grief ever visits it. Should a gleam of the former occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Disability is not to be relieved and thus brought to a premature grave thousands to untimely graves, thus marring the ambition of many noble youths. It can be cured by the use of this

INFALLIBLE REMEDY.

If you are suffering with any of the above distressing ailments, the Fluid Extract Buchu will cure you. Try it and be convinced of its efficacy.

Beware of Quack Nostrums and Quack Doctors, who falsely boast of Cures and Remedies. Citizens know and avoid them and save long suffering, misery, and expense, by sending or calling for a bottle of this popular and specific remedy.

It allays all pain and inflammation, is perfectly pleasant in its taste and odor, but immediate in its action.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

NEW AND USEFUL.

OLEUM LIQUOR.

A Substitute for Linseed Oil.

[PATENT APPLIED FOR.]

THE undersigned offers to the public the Oleum Liquor as an efficient substitute for Linseed Oil, as a dryer for all sorts of Paints ground in Oil, except Venetian Red.

When mixed with the Oleum the Paint will cover better, dry quicker and will be more durable, and when varnished, the paint will have not only the most glossy appearance, but the durability of the Dryer will enable the paint to yield to the weather and the cracking and peeling off, so common in ordinary varnished oil paints is entirely averted.

For painting Tin Roofs it equals Linseed Oil, as a dryer.

The Oleum can be used by itself, or in common with Linseed Oil, Varnish, Japan or Turpentine at the option of the Painter.

Its cost is about one half of that of Linseed Oil, thus considerably reducing the expense of painting.

We faithfully recommend it for all purposes indicated and warrant it to give satisfaction. A liberal discount to the trade.

DIRECTIONS.—Thin the paint with the Oleum Liquor and work it well until it flows freely from the brush.

The brush must be free from all moisture and invariably ought to be soaked well with the Oleum Liquor previous to painting.

Instead of placing the brushes in water over night, as painters generally do, they could be put in the Oleum Liquor, which will greatly facilitate the work.

The paint mixed with the Oleum Liquor will work better if it be allowed to stand from 12 to 24 hours previous to being used, as the Oleum is thereby in such a consistency as to work readily under the brush.

By the use of Japan the paint will be rendered with firmer. Mix the Japan first with the paint and then thin it with the Oleum Liquor in the manner mentioned above.

100 pounds of Paint thinned with the Oleum Liquor, will cover a larger surface than 12 pounds thinned with oil.

The Oleum Liquor is not to be used with Venetian Red, but with Paint containing any proportion of it.

OLEUM LIQUOR.

CERTIFICATE.

WE, the undersigned House Painters, hereby certify that we have given the newly invented Oleum Liquor, manufactured by Brenning, Gattman & Brening, in Philadelphia, an impartial trial, and have found it an efficient substitute for Linseed Oil—far superior to it in very respect at a cost of only about half as much, thus considerably reducing the expense of painting. We could therefore recommend the public to its general use, and after it has been tried its superiority over Linseed Oil will be admitted by all.

EDWARD DENHARD,

June 13, 1857.

I HEREBY certify that I have had House Painting prosecuted lately with the above named Oleum Liquor, and course in all respects with the recommendation of the above named gentlemen, and will say still, that in future I will have no painting operations performed without the admixture of the above named valuable liquor. Those who may desire to view its effects, will call at my residence, where they can convince themselves of all that is represented of the Oleum Liquor in regard to beauty and durability.

PROSPECTUS OF THE UNITED STATES DIRECTORY.

THE undersigned propose issuing about the first of October, 1857, a book under the above title, to contain about

FIFTEEN HUNDRED PAGES!

(Size of page 12 by 20 inches.)

The object of the United States Directory will be:

1st. To give the name and post office address of every male person (of the age of 15 and upwards) in the United States.

2d. To give the name of every post office and post master in the United States.

3d. To give the name and place of publication of every Daily, Weekly, Monthly and Quarterly Paper and Magazine published in the United States.

Each State, city, town, village and post office will be alphabetically arranged.

The name of each person will be alphabetically arranged under the head of their respective post office address.

As the United States Directory will be a matter of interest to every resident in America, we respectfully solicit the aid of post masters and others, in all parts of the country, in obtaining names and sending them on as soon as possible.

In making up lists, write the name of Post Office, County and State, at the head of the sheet, then fill the remainder with distinctly written names, of male persons only, of the age of fifteen years and upwards, and as soon as you have sufficient to fill an envelope forward them on immediately.

A Prospectus will be sent post paid to any person who may order it.

To prevent mistakes—Write distinctly the name, post office, county and State.

MORRIS, GARDNER & WILKES,

Publishers,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

N. B.—Publishers inserting the above Prospectus, including the notice three times in their weekly paper, and call attention to the same in their editorial column, will receive a copy of the U. S. Directory delivered at their office free of charge. Direct all exchange papers to the United States Directory.

TO THOSE WHO WANT FARMS.

A FARM WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERYMAN.

THE RIDGWAY FARM COMPANY has made arrangements by which all who desire to settle or purchase a home can do so.

The Farms consist of the best limestone soil of the most superior quality for farming, in rapidly improving place, into which an extensive emigration is now pouring. The property is located in Elk county, Pennsylvania, in the midst of a thriving population of some 10,000. The climate is perfectly healthy, and the terrible plague of the west, fever and ague, is unknown. It also has an abundance of the best quality of Coal and Iron. The price to buy it out is from $3 to $20 per acre, payable by instalments, to be located at the time of purchasing, or a share of 25 acres entitling to locate the same for $300, payable $6 per month, or 12½ acres payable $4 per month. Discount for every sum of $100 and under paid in advance, a discount of 5 per cent, will be allowed, and for over $100 a discount of 10 per cent.

In considering the advantages of emigrating to this locality the following are presented:

First—The soil is a rich limestone, capable of raising the heaviest crops owing to which this settlement has attained to present great prosperity.

Second—It is the centre of the great North West Coal Basin, and is destined soon to become one of the greatest business places in the State. It will supply the great Lake market (according to population and travel the greatest in the Union). It has five workable veins of the best Bituminous Coal, amounting in the aggregate to over 27 feet, which makes 22,000 tons of coal under each acre. This will make the land of inestimable value.

The eminent state geologist, Dr Charles T Jackson, of Boston, has made a geological survey of the land, and analyzed the coal, the iron ore and the limestone. This report together with maps, will be furnished to inquirers.

Three railroads are laid out through this property. The Sunbury and Erie Railroad gives us a market for our coal to the lakes—it runs from Erie to Philadelphia. A large part of this road has been washed, and is now in running order. A heavy force is now working from Erie towards our land in the Western direction, the means for the completion of which have been raised—it will soon be finished. The Alleghany Valley Railroad connects us with New York, Boston and Pittsburg. The Venango Road connects us with the West.

There are already good Turnpike Roads running through this property, various other roads have been opened to accommodate the emigration and settlement which has already taken place.

There is no opportunity equal to it now offered to the man who wants to provide himself a home in an easy way, and who wants a settlement where he can live in prosperity and independence in a climate PERFECTLY HEALTHY.

No case of the fever ever having been known to occur in this settlement. It is not like going to the backwoods of the West, among the intemperate and lawless, where the comforts of society, churches, schools, where the price of land is high and where the climate, after being used to the healthiest climate in the world, has to and contagious and putrid malignant fevers, endanger health and that of his family. But here is a thriving village, containing three towns, containing churches, schools, two saw mills, grist mills, and everything desirable. There is a rush now for land. The timber trade last year amounted to over two hundred million feet of lumber. In a short time, owing to the coal, it will become still more valuable, as a number of iron works and manufactories will soon be started, and will greatly increase the demand for land. Therefore those who do not wish to go there, the payments are such that they can easily buy a farm to save their disappointing from want in the future, or to gain a competence by the rise which will take place in the value of lands. By an outlay sparingly allowed, a substantial provision can be made.

Persons should make early application, apply or write to E. JEFFERIS, Secretary, No 135 Walnut street, below Fifth, Philadelphia. Letters carefully answered, giving full information.

Shares or tracts of land can be bought or secured by letter enclosing the first instalment of five dollars, which the subscriber will be furnished with books, maps, &c. Warranted Deeds given. Persons can also purchase from our Agents.

Route from Philadelphia to Tyrone on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and thence by stage to the land. This is a delightful season of the year to visit St. Mary's, the best hotel accommodation is afforded. Enquire of E. C. Schultz, Esq., the Agent for the property in St. Mary's.
