THE PARISH DEMOCRACY AT WORK.

The Parish Democracy of Orleans has already gone earnestly to work, and in a quiet but most effective way is steadily organizing victory. On adjournment. Present-Friday night last it established a Central Ward Club in the Third Ward, under encouraging auspices, and within a short time will take the same important step in every ward in the city. In politics, and particularly in New Orleans politics, organization is well nigh the equivalent of success. For a long term of years the city has been, more or less, completely under the control of a minority, which has prevailed only because its til 2 o'clock P.
