☞ Reading Matter on Every Page.☜

☞ For Locals, Telegraph, and other matters of interest and information, see First and Fourth Pages.

Senator Douglas is said to have stated that he would not be a candidate for the Presidency in 1860, because, "the Opposition are sure to succeed." Stephens, of Georgia, it is reported, gives a similar reason for his retiring at present from public life. "As there is bound to be a smash up," he racily says, "I am for getting off at the first station."—Cin. Commercial.

A great deal of very flat lying is put out by the opposition press now a days by "is said." The above, from the Commercial, is a sample of this stupid falsification; and we are surprised that our cotemporary should give currency to it. We are prepared to read similar stuff in the rural district republican papers, for they deal in just such silly twaddle, to the exclusion of everything else. The poor devils who conduct 'em imagine that they are not doing their duty to the party unless they give their readers a weekly dose of violent denunciation and misrepresentation of democratic men and measures; and if their "cues"—the city papers—do not furnish the required aliment, they draw upon imagination and "spirit" for a supply.—These never fail, when the proper time arrives. It may be that our Cincinnati cotemporary, in giving the above, intended it as a text for his republican friends in the country to preach from; he surely did not design it for consideration at home.

It will at once occur to any one who is posted upon public men and measures, and who understands what he reads, that such statements as are made in the paragraph at the head of this article are untrue; that they are more: they are both simple and false.—The veriest novice in political matters will feel very sure that Mr. Douglas never made the declaration that "the Opposition are sure to succeed in 1860;" the falsity of "is said" is apparent on the face of the saying; and the author of the statement is either a knave or a fool. Those who circulate it, by giving it the semblance of truth, are in the same category.

If any thing could be more thoroughly ridiculous than the "is said" about Senator Douglas, it is the "similar reason" offered for the Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia. He is represented as saying the Democratic party is being disorganized, and that he has left it, "not wishing to go down with the wreck!" That it is a canard, gotten up without the slightest regard to truth, the authors of it know; and that they have the face to send it out to the reading world only proves that they have lost all decent regard for the truth. The opposition press must be exceeding hard run for capital upon which to work, when they stoop to such silly misrepresentation; it plainly shows the desperate condition into which they have fallen; and indicates that they are blindly grabbing at straws to keep above the waves that are now threatening to engulf them. If they are obliged to lie in order to make a showing, for the sake of ordinary intelligence let them tell lies which have a very little color of plausibility in them.

New Railway Law.

The Legislature of Ohio recently passed a law with regard to fences, cattle guards, etc., upon the lines of the various Railways in the State; and as it is equally as important to the public as to the Railways to understand the subject, we present our readers with a synopsis of the Act:

Sec. 1 provides that each railway company, either completed or part completed, within two years from the passage of this act, shall be required to maintain good and sufficient fences, and necessary cattle guards and road crossings, suitable and sufficient to prevent cattle and domestic animals from endangering themselves and the interests of the company; and, after such precautionary steps have been taken, the said company shall not be liable for any damages done to said cattle and domestic animals, unless by negligence; and, if any person shall ride or drive upon such road or within such cattle guard, without the consent of said company, the same shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Sec. 2 provides that any person along the line of said road who shall have received compensation for said right of way, shall pay one-half of the cost of said fence, which may serve as an inclosure for their field or lot, &c.

Sec. 3. That when such fences are duly made they shall be kept in repair in all respects as partition fences are now by law required to be kept in repair.

Sec. 4. That section two shall not apply to any case where contracts have or shall be entered into between said person and railway company for building and maintaining such fence.

Sec. 5. That if any railway company shall refuse to construct such cattle-guards and fences, or to keep the same in repair, the same shall forfeit and pay for each day of refusal any sum not exceeding fifty dollars per day, to be recovered in any action of debt, in the name of the State of Ohio, for the use of the county in which suit is brought. The act to take effect from and after its passage.

By rigidly adhering to these regulations, great trouble, expense, and loss of life will be avoided. Those interested should study well the above provisions.

☞ The Columbus Gazette, for want of something better to do, reproduces the following old saw:

We are credibly informed by one of our physicians that he was present at the birth of a child recently, the one half of whose entire person is of a jetty black color—half the head to the very tip of the nose, presenting the true African type, even as the curly hair—running clear down along the mesial line. The most singular feature in the case is the fact that the parents are both in feature and color, genuine Ethiopians.—Will some of our Ethnological students examine into the matter?

It may be interesting to the querist of the Gazette to learn that his grandmother "examined into the matter," long before he was thought of, and ascertained that the other half of the child was precisely similar to the half described so particularly. The "first of April" seems to have set heavy upon the Gazette man.

☞ A great many persons complain of feeling bad—under the weather; are not exactly sick, but "don't feel right, by a long shot." If all such grumblers would call in at Dister's, on Market street, two doors west of Jefferson, and take a bath, they would feel wonderfully improved. That is just what they want. A thorough scrubbing and cleaning will fix them all right. Suppose you try it, gentlemen; it will work wonders. Dister has every thing in the best possible shape; new, clean and inviting.

Reported Conspiracy in Central Italy.—Numerous arrests have taken place in Modena Parma, Placentia and Leghorn. A vast conspiracy, has, it is said, been discovered in those provinces, which was to lead to a general insurrection about the end of last month. The persons most seriously compromised, although they do not belong to Austria, have been sent to the prisons of the Tyrol.

The Paris papers contain the following:

If credit can be given to letters from Italy the fortresses of that peninsula are by this time completely armed. At Vernoa, Peschiera and Lugnano, the number of guns has, it is said, been doubled. The repairs that had been undertaken to the fortifications of Placentia and Venice, have been completed, and ten batteries of artillery would be sent there by the most rapid conveyance. On the other hand, a conspiracy is said to have been discovered in the duchies of Parma and Modena, where foreign occupation, as is well-known, is not much liked. This conspiracy the wires of which extended into Tuscany, and as far as Naples, had for its object a general rising, which was to take place at the end of this month. The government of Parma is said to have made the discovery, and to have immediately sent notice of it to the court of Vienna."

Mysterious Tragedy at Columbus.—The body of Thomas Bell, a middle aged man, employed in the Ohio Tool Company's establishment, at Columbus, was found, on Wednesday afternoon, suspended by a cotton handkerchief, to a fence post, about two miles from the city. The feet of the corpse rested on the ground, while from deep wounds around the wrists and ancles, apparently cut by a shoe knife, the blood was flowing freely. Blood lay in pools on the ground near by, but no knife or other weapon could be discovered. It was not clear whether death was produced by the wounds or strangulation. A Coroner's inquest was instituted, but at latest accounts no verdict had been rendered. Bell was a widower with two children, and had never exhibited any symptoms of insanity or disposition toward suicide.

Mock Suns.—The rare and beautiful phenomenon of the parhelia, or mock suns, was witnessed at Boston on Saturday. A correspondent of the Boston Journal thus describes the spectacle:

On the occasion of last Saturday afternoon the halo was almost perfect, the part nearest the horizon being the least bright; but the whole, however, displayed the primitive colors exquisitely. The two mock suns were horizontally situated at the right and left of the sun, as viewed by the eye; and were exceedingly luminous, especially on the side of each nearest that luminary—Their hue was exceedingly rich in colors—brilliant in the centre of each, more red near the sun, but somewhat subdued in the opposite direction. From each of the mock suns proceeded in a horizontal direction and from the sun, large rays of a paler tint, presenting in a degree the resemblance of comets. The sight continued visible several hours.

An Extraordinary Case.—A correspondent of the Stockton Republican, writing from Loving's Ferry, San Joaquin River, California, relates the following extraordinary affair:

Mr. Maloy, a native of Kentuckey, aged about twenty-six years, who resides in this vicinity, and who served in Walker's first filibustering expedition, has been afflicted for about twelve months with a tumor in his left breast, extending from the fourth rib to the collar bone. It had the pulsation and all the other symptoms of aneurism. For the last two months his breathing had become so laborious that life was a burden to him.—Last week Dr. Riddell, of Bear Valley, made a deep incision in the lower part of the tumor, and after a pint of thick, yellow matter was discharged, he succeeded in extracting from the incision a musket ball. It had entered from the back, a little below the shoulder blade. The most curious circumstance in the case is, that the patient has no idea in what battle he received the shot. He can only remember that at one time, in Nicaragua, he experienced a sharp burning sensation in his left shoulder, but as he slept on the sand, in the open air, and had no change of clothes for a long time, he did not discover the cause. The patient is rapidly recovering.

Crops.—Mr. W. F. Kelsy writes us from Deerlick, Williams county, in regard to the growing wheat. He says that up to the first of March, owing to the changeable weather, the wheat looked very bad, but that since that time the heavy rains have settled the ground, and given the roots a firm hold, which has caused the grain to come forward very rapidly, and that now there is a good prospect for at least an average crop. He adds that an extensive observation leads him to the opinion that on farms well seeded to clover, and on which a good flock of sheep is kept, the promise of the crop is from 25 to 50 per cent. better than on similar farms where these are not found.—[Toledo Blade, 4th.

DR. AYER'S Throat and Lung Institute, No. 30 West 4th St., Cin., O.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS IN THE CURE OF THROAT DISEASES, CATARRH & LUNG COMPLAINTS,

By Means of Medicated Inhalation.

THE Institute is daily thronged by persons who have suffered alike from various diseases, and the bankruptcies of the old school of practice. Dr. Ayer has no occasion to speak of his eminent skill and long experience in this speciality.—It is enough to say he is the founder of "Medicated Inhalation," and never fails to cure or greatly benefit any case he undertakes. He has liberty to refer to clergymen and others of the highest respectability and worth in this vicinity, as to what he has done for them.

Dr. Ayer, (who, by the way, is a permanent resident of Cincinnati,) says: It is my firm belief, that if the forty thousand who are detained to die of pulmonary disease in the Western States within the next twelve months, be put on a system of inhalation judiciously administered, thirty thousand of them would remain to comfort their friends for many years. It is also my opinion that thousands are hastened to their graves by so-called "remedies," administered into the stomach.

The Curative Vapor is conveyed directly into all the air passages of the lungs where the disease is—not into the stomach, where it is not.

The earliest indication of Consumption is an irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes. Of the thousands that die annually of Consumption, there is not one instance to be produced where the disease commenced in the lungs. It is quite the opposite.—The wasting and decay of the human body have their origin in the trachea, larynx and œsophagus, before they descend to the lungs.

Bear in mind, these great and new remedies are not patent medicines, and can only be obtained of Dr. Ayer.

Dr. Ayer effectually and permanently cures Catarrh, and furnishes a prompt and reliable cure for this disease, which all can use for themselves, wherever they may be. Dr. Ayer's Cough "Cordial" is a sure remedy for the worst cough. Who can be so rash, so prejudiced, so unjust to their friends, and negligent of their own lives and comfort, as to hesitate, when timely application will restore to health and ward off hopeless illness and untimely death.—Call in season while there is hope.

Where it is impossible for parties to visit and remain under my treatment, they may write as full a history of their case as possible, and I will send per Express to any part of the country such medicines as are desired.

UPON RECEIPT OF FIVE DOLLARS,

I will send a written opinion respecting any case submitted to me, and also a package of medicine in such cases the writer should give as full a history and description of the case as possible. Address,

I. W. AYER, M. D. Surgeon and Physician, "Throat and Lung Institute, Cincinnati. jan17

THOSE WHO ARE SICK AND CONsidered incurable—who are suffering with pain, and can find no relief for body or mind—who are crippled with paralysis, rheumatism, or from any other cause—who have been given up by their physicians as incurable, and beyond the reach of medical aid, have now an opportunity offered for a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Chamberlin would say to those suffering from pulmonary consumption, early and middle stages, diseases of the liver, catarrh, paralysis, diabetis, rheumatism, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, brain diseases, piles, skin diseases, deafness, amaurosis, dropsy, stiff joints, contracted muscles, diseases incident to females, seminal weakness, and nervous and chronic complaints generally, that his important discovery in the application and adaptation of electricity to the human organism, will restore them to health. It is no matter of experiment, doubt nor uncertainty, as he has cured multitudes suffering from the above diseases, even in the most hopeless condition, after all other known remedies had failed. He makes no compromise with the stomach in way of medications, but relies solely on the vitalizing and all controlling power—electricity, which eradicates from the system every vestige of disease, and brings it into a condition of health and vigor. Dr. C.'s important discovery in diagnosis, made clear by electrical contact, as well as his method of application, is unknown to medical men, and all others, except the few who have been instructed by him. As the agent he employs is universal, so is it alike applicable to all disease. The diseased of body and mind are invited to call and witness the astonishing cures it is effecting, frequently in a single application. Instruction given to those wishing to learn the mode of practice. mh1-1wdaw
