...remarks of ... the latter seemed to ... in favor of ... repealing the neutrality laws. He suggested that such might not have been Mr. Morris' meaning and that Mr. Morris was not war. ranted in saying such. The purposes of Southern Democrats he had seen with much regret and his own position was misrepresented and the remarks of others attributed to himself.

Mr. Morris replied that he did not attribute such motives to the Democrats of the South, but to ultra men.

Mr. Scott replied to some remarks of Mr. Morris, of Ill., on California affairs, saying that his attack upon 61,000 Democrats of Cal., came with an ill grace from a friend of Mr. Douglas. Had it come from a Republican he would not have been surprised. He stated that Mr. Broderick was never strong enough in California to create any fear or cause any desire to hunt him down. The report that had gone abroad that there was a conspiracy of the leaders of the Democratic party to strike down Mr. Broderick he branded as an infamous falsehood.

Mr. Grow, of Pa., complained of the unparliamentary and ungentlemanly conduct of Mr. Branch of N. C., in accusing him of unworthy motives in defeating the postoffice appropriation bills.

Mr. Branch—Do you accuse me of ungentlemanly conduct?

Mr. Grow—My language was plain. I have nothing to renounce.

Mr. Vallandigham said he was one of the Democrats who voted for Mr. Grow's resolution at the last session, and deemed an explanation proper. For all he had done he assumed the responsibility, and was surprised that ...

Among other warehouses destroyed are the following on Beekman street: Duncan, West & Co., paper dealers; Bulkley & Co., paper dealers; C. W. Field & Co., paper dealers; H. H. Haydock, drug importer; Incidoll & Co., lithographers; Mason & Dodge, heating apparatus. The above are entirely destroyed.

The following are some of the buildings now in flames in Gold street: The warehouse owned by John Parrott and occupied by H. Heakle, importer; I. O. S. Smith, japanner, on Fulton street; store of J. Kepler, linewaxer; Isaac Ayres, Globe Wire Works; George Wake, surgical instruments; Haris & Hirschman, Fulton scale manufacturers, on Ann street. Beside the above, part of Ann street, running from William to Gold street, which is filled with machinist shops, dwelling houses and drinking saloons, is now in flames.

STILL LATER.—NOON.—The fire has been extinguished, and it has proved less disastrous than at first believed. Six buildings on Beekman street, four on Ann street, were totally destroyed, and two fronting on Fulton street, and running through to Ann st., were greatly damaged. The latter are extensive warehouses, and were owned respectively by Edward Brack, importer of musical instruments, and Olcott McKesson & Co., wholesale druggists. No estimate can yet be made of the loss. Cyrus W. Field & Co. had an insurance of $3,000 on their stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—6 P. M.—The loss by the fire is estimated at $300,000. The insurance will probably cover it. Several firemen are said to have been injured by falling walls.

Great Excitement at Bolivar, Mo.—Desperate Fight Between Negroes and White Men.

[Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.

A special dispatch to the Democrat, from Bolivar, Missouri, states that on Monday night a gang of negroes made a sudden and desperate attack upon a few white men at that place, with rocks, &c. The latter boldly resisted the assault and drove the negroes to the woods. Fire arms were freely used on both sides. The negroes, after being driven back, threatened to burn the town, but a vigilant watch was established, which foiled attempts in that direction. One negro was dangerously wounded, and several were arrested. A vigilance committee was appointed to ascertain the names of those engaged in the riot and arrest them.

A mounted company was immediately organized and proceeded to the woods in search of the rioters. Such of them as were arrested were summarily dealt with, and severely dealt with. The greatest excitement prevailed, and every white man in the neighborhood was under arms, but the blacks having been conquered, the excitement yesterday was abating.

MORRILL'S SELF-HEATING Smoothing Iron, O. F. MORRILL, Patentee, Boston.

THIS IRON IS HEATED WITH AN ALCOHOL Lamp, which is attached to it with a spring, which can be put on and taken off with pleasure. It takes but 15 minutes to put the iron in readiness for work, and it will remain so as long as it is required. The heat may be regulated as desired. The irons are of the usual weights, and the lamp is no incumbrance, and it is warranted not to soil the clothes. The heating fluid will cost about 2 cents per hour.

The self-heating Iron is certainly one of the greatest inventions of the age, and the ladies will thank the inventor for his skill in saving them a roasting over a stove; and those who buy the fuel will look upon him as a benefactor of the pocket.

These smoothing irons may be had at the Store of L. BUYINGER, Third street, near the Xenia Depot, or at the residence of the Agent, 86 East Third street.
