Linimentum.

WORTHY of the NINETEENTH CENTURY.
DR. E. CONWAY'S
LINIMENTUM
For the speedy and effectual cure of
RHEUMATISM
IN presenting the "Linimentum" to the public as one of the best and most curative medicines of the day, I do not wish to be understood as claiming for it the power of performing unheard of cures, but I do claim that for all the purposes of a FAMILY LINIMENT, it has no equal. The "Linimentum has"
Never been Known to Fail
In any case of Rheumatism, no matter of how long standing, where the directions were carefully followed, nor, indeed, in the case of any disease for which it is recommended.
In cases of Sore Throat, pains in the back, side, and chest, swellings in the joints, sprains, spinal affections and weakness, chronic sores, burns, scalds, frosted feet and hands, toothache, headache, &c., it is a little medicine.
The "Linimentum" is the result of many years persevering experiment, and comes as nearly to real excellence as the pursuit virtues of
AN EXTRAORDINARY PENETRATIVE POWER,
Which no other Liniment possesses, and which is the secret of the unprecedented success which attends the "Linimentum" wherever it is used.
TRY IT ONCE, AND YOU WILL NEVER BE WITHOUT IT.
It is put up in 25 cent, 50 cent, and $1 bottles, with full directions for use, and manufactured only by Richmond Papers Apprehensive.

FORT MONROE, May 31.—General Grant's communication with the White House is complete, and all works well.

Richmond papers of the 30th, have been received here. They have changed their views with regard to the military ability of General Grant, and say that they have been underrating him. They say he is smarter than they had deemed of, and manifest some fears in regard to the safety of Lee, or rather as to Lee's success in repelling the Yankee army.

A message from General Grant reports that on Monday morning our army had reached Mechanicsville with but little opposition. General Sheridan had routed the enemy's cavalry at all points, and captured many prisoners. Heavy cannonading was heard in the direction of Mechanicsville.

European Auxious.

SANDY HOOK, June 2, 2 P. M.—The steamer Australian, from Liverpool the 21st, via Queenstown 22d, has arrived.

Great anxiety was felt to learn the result of the battles in Virginia.

Breadstuffs dull; flour very dull and still declining; cotton quiet and unchanged; wheat dull and nominal; corn heavy.

The steamer Shreveport has been disabled on Red River by guerillas, who were subsequently shelled out by gunboats.

Mobile passengers mention prevalence of anxiety there, consequent upon interrupted telegraph communication with Richmond.

Monmouth dates up to the 18th, state that 2,000 rebels at Ringold Barracks, Texas, are designing an attack on Brownsville.

Shipment of Gold.

New York, June 1.—The Persians takes out $302,195 in gold.

Atlantic and Great Western Railway.

The Urbana Citizen and Gazette says:

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week the officers of railroads which enter here had a meeting in this place. We suppose the object of the meeting was to consult in reference to the building of the new depots, and other matters connected with the roads.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Kennard's car, on the A. and G. W. Road arrived, with his officers. This being the first passenger car that arrived on the road, attracted a good deal of attention. Many of our citizens visited and examined the car. It is a nice affair. In all its arrangements, comfort and convenience have been consulted. It has its parlor, sleeping room, kitchen, cupboards, fine water arrangements, and everything looks as if those who travel on it might take real comfort. On Thursday the car returned Northward. We have not learned anything transpired in the doings of the meeting, as they have not been made public.

The Road is progressing Southward with its accustomed energy, and we suppose ere this, has reached if not passed Springfield.

The workmen are now laying the Foundation of a freight depot here, which is over 300 feet long. It runs close along the track of the C. P. & R. R., opposite the gas works. We notice also that they are erecting a very fine water-house, in connection with the C. P. & R. Road. The water will be propelled by steam. We are not yet advised as to the point where the passenger depot will be erected. The amount of work to be done on the road, at this point, gives a very lively appearance to things about the depot.

The Urbana Union says:

The rail on the Broad Gauge is now below Hunt's Station. The concluding work on the road between Urbana and Lewisburg is progressing rapidly.

The location of the passenger depot in Urbana has not yet been determined upon.

Richmond.

Can General Grant take it? He is weaker now than when he crossed the Rapidan, while General Lee is relatively stronger—General Beauregard, by an admirable stroke, has rendered General Butler powerless, and left him free to cooperate with General Lee; while General Breckinridge's defeat of General Sigel has sent him ten thousand of the flower of the Southern army, and the rugged nature of the country in which the armies must now operate affords defenses as formidable as those in Spottsylvania against which General Grant hurled his column in vain. Besides this, the retrograde movement of the Federal army from the North Anna leaves most the Virginia Central Railroad, with its western and southern connections. General Lee's line of defense, which will extend almost due north and South, will protect the Richmond and Fredericksburg and the Central roads to Richmond. In fact the railroad communications with his army and Richmond and the South are quite secure from interruption. Such is the present posture of affairs; and, as the fighting process only turned General Lee into the impregnable position at Spottsylvania, which could not be carried by storm, and again posted him so strongly at Hanover Junction that Grant dared not make an assault, we presume he will now renew the fighting.—*N.
