"Bob-Tail Again.

Mr. Hudson, the old Ping Superintendent of the Mad River road, has re-established the "Bob-Tail" train, for the accommodation of travel between this place and Republic. The train will make a daily trip to and fro, leaving Tiffin at 5:15 P. M. and Republic at 9 o'clock, A. M.—This road, from its long neglect, has become rather dilapidated, and travel on it must be necessarily slow.

Teachers' Institute.

We hope every Teacher in the county, and as many others as can, will attend the Teachers Institute at Fostoria, commencing on Monday next. There is much good to be derived, both to the teacher and the schools, by the interchange of opinion and the general good feeling, which characterizes such meetings. The time for commencing the winter schools, is drawing nigh and all, who design to teach, should embrace every opportunity of better qualifying themselves. Much valuable information may be gathered at these Institutes, when properly conducted. Let there be a numerous attendance.

New Advertisements.

CRUM & BROHL have just opened a new Wholesale and Retail Grocery, in the North end of the Shawhan House. Their stock is extensive and well selected. Give them a call.

TUNISON & FAY are "drawing," hosts of customers, at their Ambrotype Gallery, in Tomb's Block, third story. Their pictures speak for themselves.

OYSTERS and GAME, with "Sparkling Catawba," served up at all hours, at the St. Nicholas Saloon, by John M. Quinn, opposite the Court House.

M. WAGNER, Fashionable Merchant Tailor, calls attention to his card in another place.

HOOHWARDEN & RALPH, Fancy Silk and Woolen Dyers, will attend promptly to everything in their line.

House and Lot for Sale by Dr. McAdoo. See notice.

The Atlantic Monthly.

We have just received from the Publishers, PHILLIPS, SAMPSON & Co., Boston, the initiatory number of this new and valuable monthly, devoted, as its title page informs us, to Literature, Art and Politics. It contains within its handsome exterior, 128 solid pages of purely original matter, from the best minds in the country, and is calculated to meet a desideratum long felt in the North, for a magazine devoted to the interests of the Free States. While the ATLANTIC will not bend to the dictum of any party or sect, it promises to meet and discuss, frankly and openly, the political questions of the day, avoiding both fanaticism and dogmatism. We hope it will adhere strictly to this policy, and avoid the dangerous current, into which Harper and others have drifted. Among the literary SAVANS, whose services are engaged, as contributors to the ATLANTIC, we notice the names of Wm. H. Prescott, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Wm. C. Bryant, H. W. Longfellow, John G. Whittier, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Geo. W. Curtis, Harriet Beecher Stowe Mrs. L. Maria Childs, Mrs. C. M. Kirkland, and a host of other stars, well known in the literary world. The articles in the number before us show, that master minds have been at work upon them. Every one, who wishes to encourage Northern Enterprise, Genius and Song, should subscribe for the ATLANTIC immediately. Price—$3,00 per annum. Address Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston. Also for sale by Booksellers, Newsmen, and Periodical Dealers generally.

Laws of Newspapers.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled the bill, and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take papers from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is PRIMA FACIE evidence of intentional fraud.

☞ Postmasters neglecting to inform publishers, when papers are not taken from the office, lay themselves liable to pay the subscription.

It is also their duty in such cases to notify the publisher that the papers are not taken out by those they are sent to, and the reasons why they are not, if known.

OCTOBER.

BY THE LATE WILLIS GAYLORD CLARK.

Solemn, yet beautiful to view,
Month of my heart! thou dawnest here,
With sad and faded leaves to strew
The summer's melancholy bier;
The moaning of thy winds I hear,
As the red sunset dies afar,
And bars of purple clouds appear,
Obscuring every star.

Thou solemn month, I hear thy voice!
It tells my soul of other days
When but to live was to rejoice,
When earth was lovely to my gaze!
Oh, vision bright—oh, blessed hours—
Where are thy living raptures now?
I ask my spirit's wearied powers—
I ask my pale and fevered brow!

I look to nature and behold
My life's dim emblem, rolling round,
In hues of crimson and of gold—
The year's dead honors on the ground;
And sighing with the wind, I feel,
While their low pinions murmur by,
How much their sweeping tones reveal,
Of life and human destiny.

When Spring's delightful moments shone,
They came in zephyrs from the west;
They bore the woodlark's melting tone,
They stirred the blue lake's glassy breast,
Through Summer, fainting in the heat,
They lingered in the forest shade;
But changed and strengthen'd now, they beat
In storm o'er mountain, glen and glade.

How like those transports of the breast,
When life is fresh and joy is new;
Soft as the halcion's downy nest!
And transient all as they are true!
They stir the leaves in that bright wreath
Which hope about her forehead twines,
Till grief's hot sighs around it breathe,
Then pleasure's lip its smile resigns.

Alas for Time, and Death and Care,
What gloom about our way they fling!
Like clouds in Autumn's gusty air,
The burial pageant of the Spring.
The dreams of each successive year
Seemed bathed in hues of brighter pride;
At last like withered leaves appear,
And sleep in darkness side by side.

Chinese Sugar Cane.

Capt. J. Poorman has laid us under many obligations to him for a bottle of syrup, manufactured from the SORGHUM, or Chinese Sugar Cane. The cane was grown by him and his brother-in-law Mr. Joseph Fonceannon, near the moth of Honey Creek, in this county, and from a patch, containing 47 square rods, (a little more than the fourth of an acre,) they obtained 64 gallons of excellent syrup—one gallon to about every one hundred stalks. This would give over 200 gallons to the acre, a yield unsurpassed by the best canefields in the South. The syrup is of an excellent quality, having a sweet, lively taste, a golden color, and is much superior to the imported article, for which we pay from 90 cents to $1,00 per gallon. The process of obtaining the syrup is very simple. In the case before us, the stalks were cut and run through a wooden machine, similar to a common cider-mill, with smooth rollers. The juice thus expressed, is collected and boiled down to the proper consistency, then clarified with eggs, lime, charcoal, or some such substance. When exposed in a shallow dish, it soon granulates, which shows that it can easily be converted into sugar. From this and other experiments that have come under our notice, we think that the practicability and profit of the SORGHUM in this latitude, is fully established, and that it will be extensively raised, in Ohio and other Northern States. Let us hear from others on this subject.

☞ Harper for November is before us. Notwithstanding the temporary embarrassment of the publishers, this "giant of monthlies" looses nothing in size or interest. It abounds in historical and biographical sketches, literature, romance, art, poesy, criticisms, sparkling wit and humor—in fine, everything calculated to instruct and amuse the reader. The illustrated articles are "A Winter in the South;" "A Reminiscence of Rome;" "Nothing to Wear;" and "In High Latitudes." Published by Harper & Brothers, $3,00 per annum.

☞ We have received the November number of the Lady's Home Magazine, edited by T. S. Arthur and Virginia F Townsend, and devoted to the interests of the fair sex. It is well worth the price—$2,00 a year—to any lady. Published by T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia.

Seneca County Lands at Private Sale.

AS AGENT for Dr. H. H. Sorrel, I offer at private sale the following described lands:

First—The Farm on which Jacob Gerwick resides, adjoining the City of Tiffin, and on the Black Pole leading from Fremont to Upper Sandusky. This Farm contains three hundred and eleven (311) acres, about one hundred and eighty of which is cleared and under good fencing and cultivation, and in quality is not surpassed by any in the county, being mostly River bottom; the remainder is heavily timbered and all under fencing. The Sandusky River forms part of its Eastern boundary.

The improvements consist of a good Log Dwelling House, New Frame Barn with granaries, corn cribs, wagon shed and other necessary out buildings, and a good of water in the yard. On the farm is a good bearing orchard, containing a number of the choicest fruits, planted four years ago. The river, for fertility of soil, timber and other advantages, is one of the most desirable to be found, and will be divided if desired, to suit purchasers.

Second—The Farm, containing 160 acres, on which Jeremiah Miller resides, in Adams township, adjoining the village of Lowell, on the Fremont road, and the road leading from Republic to Green Springs, about three miles from the river village.

Between fifty and sixty acres of this tract are cleared and under cultivation, the balance heavily timbered with beech, walnut, poplar and other valuable timber. The soil is mostly a black loam, and of the best quality.

It is well watered by a never-failing spring and stream. The improvements consist of a new and substantial Frame House and other out buildings, and an orchard of choice fruit planted four years ago.

Third—A tract of one hundred and sixty acres, in Adams township, adjoining the above tract, about thirty acres of which are cleared and under cultivation, the remainder heavily timbered with valuable timber. A small stream passes through this tract, and the soil is of first quality.

Any further description of these lands is deemed unnecessary, as persons desirous of purchasing will of course examine for themselves, which the, can do by calling on the undersigned or his tenants above named, or on the Agent in Tiffin, either of whom will show the premises. Terms made easy.

Chester's Portable

RADIATOR.

For Heating with Gas, Wood or Coal.

THE advantages of this new method of heating is its economy, convenience and adaptation to the wants of private families, counting rooms, city greenhouses, library rooms, school rooms, churches, &c.

The advantages of heating by steam has long been acknowledged, but the expense of the expensive apparatus, and the labor of keeping up fires, &c., has confined its use to large establishments, while private families have been denied its benefits.

Small stoves prepared expressly for this heater will be furnished to those who have no gas, or who prefer a still cheaper method of heating. This is unquestionably the cheapest method of heating known, and much less trouble than any other, except wood, is used.

From one to six feet of pipe per hour as may be best, will keep a pint and a half of water at the boiling point, be it is needed for an ordinary sized private sitting room.

The PORTABLE STEAM RADIATOR is so simple in its construction and so perfectly automatic in action, that neither inexperience nor carelessness can derange its parts, or disturb its operation.

There is no possibility of explosion or accident, as a pressure of a pound pressure raises both valves for the escape of steam. As the steam condenses in the radiator, it gives out its heat and returns to the boiler, to be again converted into steam, so that the water in the boiler will not need replenishing for months.

The subscribers have the right for this State and will answer to supply the demand for this and the adjoining counties; but as it is impossible for them to do so more, they will sell county rights to responsible parties, and give all necessary instructions for the manufacture of the Portable Radiator.

This department is under the immediate supervision of P. R. Spencer & Sons. To the whole thirty-two years of existence it will be well conducted.
