Encounter with a Bear.

While a party of hunters from this place were peregrinating the swamps of Henry county, not long since, one of them, Mr. Moses Gibson, accidentally stumbled upon a venerable bear and her two half grown cubs. Being armed with a double barreled rifle, Mr. Gibson fired at Madam Bruin, but unfortunately missed her, when she "cut dirt" and disappeared in the thicket. Her laggard cubs, however, remained behind, and our hero, not being able to resist the temptation, raised his piece and discharged its second barrel, wounding one of the cubs in both hind legs, and retarding its locomotion. The wounded cub then raised such an unearthly yell, that it attracted his maternal guardian to the spot, to defend her helpless offspring. Seeing our hero standing some distance off, she made a "straight shoot" in that direction, but, after she had pursued him some distance, she was recalled by the piteous cries of her cub. This was a fortunate circumstance, and Mr. G. embraced the opportunity to make good his escape. Had she overtaken him, she would doubtless have given him such a hug, as would have satisfied him at once of her sincerity. Mr. G. says he is satisfied with his experience in bear hunting.

Dr. Banning's Free Lectures on Health. Tonight and to-morrow night, at 7 o'clock, in the Court House.

We have had an interview with Dr. Banning, from New York, touching the subject matter of his lectures on health, and we most seriously recommend all of our intelligent ladies and gentlemen not fail to of attending his lectures. Dr. B.'s original theory, is that the maladies such as Vocal, Pulmonary, Spinal, Digestive and Female Weaknesses, are usually more the result of a mechanical displacement, (or depressed condition) than of a primary vital disease of the parts concerned; and hence, that until the depressed vital organs are by mechanical or other means elevated to their primary bearings, internal means must be inadequate to remove the cause.

Now, although we are no doctor at all, this idea strikes us as beautifully hopeful and rational, and furnishing an additional element, in the treatment of disease, without being antagonistic to medicine. It will be seen by Dr B.'s card that he may be consulted till Thursday next, at Mr. Reese's.

☞ Pelan, at the Book Store, has the New Atlantic Monthly.

Our friend W. C. Gray, editor of the Tatnum, is about to "launch his craft upon the legal deep," as will be seen by his card in another place.

☞ In justice to the Gas managers, we will say that the gas has been shut off the street lamps by the city, as a matter of economy, and not through any fault of theirs.

A New Establishment.

Barnes & Wessel, Merchant Tailors, have just opened a new and cheap Clothing Store in Singer's New Block, where they will be pleased to wait on the public in their line. Garments of all kinds made to order. Give them a call.

Significant.

It is a significant fact, that while the papers in the neighboring counties contain extended lists of "Lands forfeited for Taxes," embracing in some instances nearly half a page, only four small town lots are on the forfeit list in this county. The people of Seneca county are too honest and enterprising not to pay their taxes.

A. M. COREY, President.

Wm. H. Pearce, Secretary.

MARRIED.

Nov. 17th, by Rev. E. R. Jewett, Mr. John W. Miller, of Effingham county, Ills., and Miss Mary C. Kiehler, of this city.

The Cake received made the "devil" laugh, and caused him to perpetrate the following:

An angel always dwells beneath the roof
Where, in her virtue, a sweet wife fulfills
Her gentle duties; and unnumber'd ills
From that love-guarded precinct keep aloof.
"The man who finds a wife," 'twas said of old,
"Finds something good," and so I always hold.
The bachelor is a mondescript—(I beg
His pardon, but it's true;)—quite out of place,
He seems to me, among our loving race;
Unfinish'd, like a chair that lacks a leg.—
A knife without a fork,—a book unbound,—
A lonely traveller on a lonesome way,
Who, faint and sad, looks wistfully around,
But from the sun of love receives no cheering ray.

On Nov. 15th, by Rev. M. Sullivan, Mr. William Odle, of Cascade, Wis., and Miss Josephine Nott, of this city.

Nov. 17th, by Rev. S. Gee, Mr. Charles L. Mull, of Hopewell and Miss Mary Jane Nichols, of Sandusky county.

By Rev. J. H. Good, on Nov. 12th, Mr. David Wiant and Miss Frances Kneppele, both of Clinton township, Seneca county.

By the same, on the 17th of Nov., Mr. James Burk, of Missouri, and Miss Rebecca Hall, of Seneca county.

On the 15th inst., at Republic, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. W. H. Cooper, Chas. J. Richardson, of California, and Victoria, daughter of J. P. McArdle, Esq.
