AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

Berlin, Mass., 25th Dec., 1855.
Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. R. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.
Sycamore, Miss., Feb. 1, 1856.
Brother Ayer: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., Moorefield, Ia., writes, 23 Jan., 1856: "I had a bilious influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.
West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.
Sir: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARRS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1856: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.
Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

Astor House, New York City, March 5, 1855
Doctor Ayer: Lowell: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours with gratitude and respect,
ORLANDO SHEARY, of Belleville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merit of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the supposition of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of the afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—
Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Cigars, Tobacco, Snuff, Scotch Snuff,
&c., &c., ever exhibited in this city and all to be disposed of on the principle of quick sales and small profits.

Hallo, stranger! stop a minute,
Here's a Cigar shop, just drop in it,
And view with wonderful surprise,
The cigars that will meet your eyes.
The plug of Tobacco you have not seen,
Or else you must be dogged green
To thus in haste go past the door,
And see the Indian Tobacco store.
They've cut cigars, none the best,
For North or South, or East or West
'Tis not made up of slop-shop trash,
But the Indian Cigar M. are sells cheap for cash.
So come along—come one—come all—
Come rich and poor—stand great and small—
Come pious folks—come hardened sinner,
And help along the new beginner.

THE DESIGN.
It is the design of the proprietors of these Colleges to perfect a chain of Business Schools from East to West, affording the most ample facilities for young men and young ladies to qualify themselves for responsible positions in life. Their schools in the origin have now established on a firm basis, and are all in a most prosperous condition. The teachers in the various departments are thoroughly accomplished practical business men.
THE COLLEGIATE COURSE
Will embrace the most improved and practical forms of keeping books by Double Entry in the various departments of Trade and Commerce—including the General Wholesale and Retail, Mercantile, Exchange, Commission, Manufacturing, Railroad, Banking, Printing, Mining, Shipping, Steamboating, Insurance, Partnership and Joint Stock Company Business. All monetary accounts from which the Student requires practical instruction in a bold, rapid business hand, which will serve as a great auxiliary in securing to him an excellent style of writing.
WRITING DEPARTMENT.
This department is under the immediate supervision of P. R. Spencer & Sons. To the public this is a sufficient guarantee that it will be made perfect in every thing. Ladies will find it pre-eminently high as an Author and Teacher. It may in justice be said of his sons, who are associated with him, that they compare favorably in point of artistic attainment with their accomplished sister. This without doubt the most desirable place to pursue Penmanship as a study in the entire West.
THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT
Is entirely separate from the gentlemen's, and is fitted up in a neat and convenient manner.
TIME OF COMMENCING.
As there are no terms, and no vacations, students may enter at any time, and prosecute their studies without reference to classes. All the arrangements are made adapted to progressers rapidly, as his enterprise will admit.

THE COLLEGIATE COURSE
which is intended to embrace all branches of Purely Mercantile, has been recently enlarged, and each one to require the course of the most lengthy, thorough and complete series introduced to the public in any similar institution in the United States.
BOOK KEEPING DEPARTMENT
embraces three distinct grades viz: Initiatory, Regular and Extended Courses, and employs Folsom's New Method, recommended by over twenty of the most reliable Practical Accountants of Cleveland.
NEW METHOD OF TEACHING strikes at the very germinating points of the Science, revealing the great water-tight division of the Ledger, whereby is seen the proper line of demarcation between Realized, Representative Property and the governing laws of transfer, as regards its affecting the two classes of accounts, and those of the same class, in every variety of transactions, thus exposing the most useful and beautiful science of mercantile fictitious-honored mysteries made such by arbitrary or indifferent rules, meaningless forms and false notions; and hence enables the student to acquire correct notions of accounts as embodied in actual practice.
THE INITIATORY COURSE
embraces a regular progressive series of manuscript cards, classified somewhat as to the variety of transactions. It aims to develope the first principles and philosophy of Accounts, rather than mere routine and actual formula, by addressing the reason and judgment of the student, who studies with the view of apprehending and arriving at results, and so pushes on his investigations with much greater confidence, pleasure and independence.
THE REGULAR COURSE is intended to represent every species of business, from the smallest Retail to the heaviest and most complex Wholesale and Commission, as well as Banking, Railroading, etc., demanded at present by our vast and constantly increasing Commerce.
THE EXTENDED COURSE
embraces lengthy, practical sets from the various Business Firms, and is designed for such time as any may wish to spend longer than the time required by the Regular Course, (and that gratuitously,) preparatory to entering some Special House.
By taking in addition the Extended Course, the student will be faithfully and profitably employed six months.
PENMANSHIP, (Practical and Ornamental,) in all its varieties, will be taught in the most thorough and efficient manner, by one of the best teachers in the West. Besides a sound method of teaching Business Writing, the Chirographic System will also be taught. This system, so highly and recommended by our best educational men, is now taught in the Public Schools of Cleveland, Columbus & Toledo. Many other schools are open for good teachers of Chirography, as soon as they can be qualified.
DAILY LECTURES on Practical and Theoretical Book-Keeping, Mercantile Laws, Commercial Ethics, Political Economy, Art of Computation, Commercial Calculations, Mercantile Customs, Banking, Exchange, Commerce, Railroading, Commercial History, Business Correspondence, Penmanship, etc.
The New Suit of Rooms, of this College, occupies the finest location in the city, situated as they are on the corner of the Public Square and Superior street, affording a fine view of most parts of the city and the Lake. The rooms are neatly and tastefully furnished, contrasting in beauty and convenience, perhaps those of any similar institution in the Union.
THE LADIES' COURSE is the same as that of the Gentlemen, affording equal facilities to all who may wish to avail themselves of the Commercial Course.
The Principal having an extensive business acquaintance is enabled to secure good situations for many of his graduates.

CORN AND COB MILL
Invented by Charles Leavitt, and Patented on the 27th of Feb, 1855.
For Sale by J. M. NAYLOR, TIFFIN, OHIO.
The above Mill is the most valuable improvement in portable Corn Cob Mills, and is adapted to the various Grinding and Crushing purposes for feeding all kinds of Stock. Which system of feeding is now required and found profitable by experience.
THE ADVANTAGES THIS MILL HAS OVER OTHERS,
1st, That no grinders are inserted on movable rings, which are cast of hard metal and when worn out can be replaced by new rings, in five minutes, for the small sum of three dollars.—2d, this mill can grind faster than any other Corn and Cob Mill offered for sale. This Mill was awarded
THE FIRST PREMIUM AT THE OHIO STATE FAIR, of the present year (1855) in a fair trial with the Little Giant, Star, and all other Mills brought in competition. The Excelsior Mill will grind from ten to fifteen bushels hourly, according to the degree of fineness, and can be worked by one or two horses.

Miscellany.

From Forney's Press, Democratic.

The Four Governors of Kansas.

Four Democrats have, in succession been appointed to govern Kansas. The first was Andrew H. Reeder, of Easton, Pennsylvania, who had always been known as an unwavering National Democrat previous to his departure for that Territory. The events which transpired there were of such a character as to induce him to protest bitterly against the action of the inhabitants of the border counties of Missouri. We are not disposed to re-Agen any of the questions connected with the early history of Kansas difficulties, nor to endorse the position which Governor Reeder finally assumed, for we battled against it with all our energies. We refer to him in this connection merely as a historical character.

He was succeeded by Wilson Shannon, of Ohio, whose career was not marked by any important incident, and whose views on the Kansas question never attracted any considerable degree of attention one way or the other. His mission was, however, evidently an unsuccessful one.

With these failures before him, Gen. Pierce selected John W. Geary, of this State, to act as Governor. He exerted himself very energetically, and to some extent successfully, in pacifying Kansas. But, finally, he also returned, and notwithstanding the auspices under which he had gone, he protested most bitterly against the conduct of the ultra Southern party as exceedingly unfair and unjust.

So this question stood when Mr. Buchanan was appointed President. That sagacious statesman found the appointment of a new Governor of Kansas, in view of the difficulties by which it was surrounded, one of the most delicate and important duties devolving upon him.—He brought to its discharge the most careful and patriotic deliberation. The Kansas issue had been the great feature of the presidential campaign of 1856. The eyes of the whole nation were upon that distant Territory. It was pre-eminently proper that the government of it should be confided to able hands. And certainly the President fully acknowledged the importance of this consideration. It might have been charged that the former Governor had not had sufficient political experience. But no one could urge that objection to Robert J. Walker. He had been a Senator of the United States and Secretary of the Treasury. In both capacities he had displayed abilities of the very highest character, and he confessedly ranked among the leading statesmen of the Union. It might have been charged against the other Governors that they were imbued with Northern prejudices—that their vision was distorted by their Northern ideas and associations.—But no such objections could be made to Mr. Walker. He had been as devoted a friend, and as firm a champion of the South, as she ever had. He had been a leading spirit in securing the nomination of James K. Polk, and the annexation of Texas, by which an immense scope of slaveholding territory was added to the Union. He had given a greater impetus to the favorite free-trade theories of the South than any man in the Union. And even so late as February last, he had been urgently pressed upon Mr. Buchanan for the appointment of Secretary of State, by nearly all the ultra men of the South. He thus stood before the country as one who possessed their confidence in an eminent degree. His Secretary, Mr. Stanton, was also well known as a devoted friend of the South, and had for years ably represented Tennessee in Congress.

Now, throwing entirely out of view the opinions on Kansas formed by all the previous Governors—adopting without question the theory that they were biased and incorrect—what are we to think of the act that both Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton most indignantly protest against the action of the late Lecompton Convention as a violation of all principles of just and fair dealing? If we cannot confide in such witnesses, in whom can we confide? If we reject their testimony, are we not like those spoken of, who would not even believe one, "though he had risen from the dead?"

The whole transaction reminds of the Scriptural history of Saul and David:

"And Saul sent messengers to take David: and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing, as appointed, over them, the Spirit of God was upon the messengers of Saul, and they also prophesied. And when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophesied likewise.—And Saul sent messengers again the third time, and they prophesied also. Then went he also to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu; and he asked and said—Where are Samuel and David? And one said: Behold they be at Najoth, in Ramah: and the Spirit of God was upon him also, and he went on and prophesied, until he came to Najoth, in Ramah. And he stripped off his clothes also, and prophesied before Samuel in like manner, and lay down naked all that day and all that night. Wherefore they say, Is Saul also among the Prophets?"

Not only are Walker and Stanton in indignant protest against the action of the Lecompton Convention, but Judge Douglas, the author of the Nebraska bill, has delivered one of the greatest speeches ever uttered on the floor of the United States Senate against it.

Are all these men, chosen representatives of the Democratic party, who have possessed unusual facilities of acquiring full knowledge of the real condition of Kansas affairs, mistaken? Is it not infinitely more rational to conclude that the voice of the people of that Territory, demanding the inalienable right of self-government, and pleading for the power of disposing of their internal difficulties through the establishment of the great and self-regulating principle of allowing the will of the majority to rule, has touched their hearts, as the messengers of Saul, and finally Saul himself, was touched by a providential power?

Congressional Committees.

Sectionalism has taken possession of both branches of the National Legislature. In the formation of the various Committees, by whom all legislation is shaped and given direction, the Slave States have an overwhelming preponderance.

In the Senate, of twenty committees, the chairman of fifteen of them are slave holders. They also have a majority in fourteen of them, while on the Library Committee there is is not a single Northern Senator. The Northern Locofocos have the chairmanship of five of the unimportant committees. The Republican Senators, where they are allowed any places at all, are put at the tail end of the committees. The vast commercial interests of the Lakes and of the North-west have no representative upon the Committee on Commerce! Even Senator Pugh protested against the gross injustice in the selection of Committees.

In the House, the South has played the same unscrupulous, grasping game. Out of twenty-five Committees, published by us a few days since, seventeen of the chairmen are from the Slave States, and only eight are from the Free States. The Committee on Territories is mainly composed of ultra Pro-Slavery men, and is headed by Stevens of Georgia, the most expert tactician in the lower House. The slaveholders are determined to use their power to the utmost; but the patience of the North cannot last always.—Sun. Reg.

☞ The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian of Dec. 15th, has a long article bitterly assailing Judge Douglas, closing as follows:

"The Judge has changed his position, and now talks of an enabling act to authorize the people to do just what the Kansas-Nebraska bill was passed to confer upon them, the right to manage their own matters in their own way. Where Hale and Fessenden and Chase stood in 1854 in their opposition to the Kansas-Nebraska bill, Judge Douglas stands now, and attempts to sustain himself by the same arguments they used then. But the attempt is a vain one. History, facts, and the argument is with those who sustain the Lecompton Convention, and thus the party and the President is safely entrenched, and cannot be dislodged by the artful attacks of Judge Douglas and his Black Republican allies."

Let it be remembered that this is from the paper recognized by Mr. Buchanan's friends as the organ that speaks for the Administration in Pennsylvania.

Giddings and Sumner.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post writes that the health of the venerable J. R. Giddings is fully restored; he feels that he is well, but still will not venture to participate again in exciting debates on the subject which has absorbed his mind so many years. Any great excitement would be likely to prove instantly fatal. His services will hereafter be in the council and not in the field.

Senator Sumner was warmly greeted by his friends in the Senate, where he is daily to be found; but it is evident that he, too, must for the present remain a passive spectator of the lists in which he used to bear a hand with the bravest and the best. His nervous condition could not endure the excitement of listening to Douglas, and he was obliged to leave the hall immediately after the commencement of his speech.

New Atlantic Monthly.—The writers in the Atlantic Monthly, cannot seem to elude detection, even if they desire it. The authors of the articles in the December number, are thus reported in literary circles: 'Florentine Mosaics,' to J. Lothrop Motley. 'Battle of Lepanto,' Wm. H. Prescott. 'The Golden Mile Stone,' H. W. Longfellow. 'Skipper Iverson's Ride,' J. G. Whittier. 'The Ghost Revivus,' Mr. Rufini, author of Dr. Antonion. Dr. O. W. Holmes of course contributed the charming paper in continuation of the 'Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.' 'Our Birds and their ways,' is attributed to Henry Thoreau. 'Solitude and Society' must have been written by R. W. Emerson. The able paper entitled 'Where will it End?' is doubtless from the pen of Parke Godwin of New York. We are pleased to hear that the Atlantic has reached a very large circulation. We hope the publishers will reap the most ample reward for their enterprise.—Boston Transcript.

Position of Senator Pugh.—George E. Pugh, United States Senator from Ohio, whom the Statesman and other Democratic organs have been assuring us to be utterly opposed to the Lecompton Constitution iniquity, has taken unequivocal ground in favor of that Constitution! He sustains Buchanan and the Administration, and opposes Douglas. He was one of the Senators who voted for the confirmation of Denver's appointment, as Secretary of Kansas, thus virtually casting his vote against Stanton.

Mark the course of this recreant Senator from Ohio, in the coming struggle.—Sun. Reg.

The Kansas Constitution.

The Chicago Times, upon receiving a copy of the Kansas Constitution, says:

The Slavery clause gives the Legislature power to provide for emancipating (by compensation to the owner) all slaves; but denies the power to prevent the introduction of more slaves. A vote "for the Constitution with Slavery" is a vote to establish and forever maintain the institution, with the power in the Legislature of emancipation. A vote "for the Constitution with no Slavery" is to vote to recognize the existence of Slavery now there, to keep those slaves who are now in the Territory, and their natural increase, slaves during their lives, and is a vote to strike out the power of the Legislature to emancipate. The Constitution "without Slavery" means that Slavery in the Territory shall be confined to those slaves now there, and their increase from generation to generation, with no power on the part of the Legislature to emancipate by compensation, or in any other way. The Constitution with Slavery allows more slaves to be brought to Kansas, but gives the Legislature power to provide for their emancipation.

We confess our inability to decide which of these two alternatives is the more "pro Slavery." We incline to the opinion that the "Constitution with no Slavery" is the more "pro Slavery!"

This is good Democratic testimony as to the consummate cheating of the Calhoun Convention. Will some of the Democratic papers, that maintain the fairness of the proposition to permit the people to vote for the Constitution with, and the Constitution without, Slavery, respond to the paragraph above?

Eternity.

'Eternity has no gray hairs.' The flowers fade, the heart withers, man dies; but time writes no wrinkles on the brow of Eternity.

Eternity! Stupendous thought! This ever present, undecaying and undying—the endless chain, composing the life of God—the golden thread entwining the destinies of the universe.

Earth has its beauties, but time shrouds them for the grave; its honors, they are but the sunshine of an hour; its palaces, they are but as the gilded sepulchres; its possessions, they are toys of changing fortune; its pleasures they are but bursting bubbles. Not so in the untried bourne.

In the dwelling of the Almighty can come no footsteps of decay. Its day will know no darkening, eternal splendors forbid the approach of night. Its fountains will never fail; they are fresh from the eternal throne. Its glory will never wane, for there is the ever present God. Its harmonies will never cease; exhaustless love supplies the song.

Judge Douglas Read out of the Party.—The Washington Union reads Judge Douglas out of the Democratic party as follows:

"An honest difference of opinion as to whether the Kansas Convention should have submitted to popular ratification the whole of the great essential part of the Constitution framed by them may be tolerated; but the entire Democratic press
