No Congressional Convention.

The Democratic Executive Committee of the Tenth Congressional District of Tennessee, after having fully conferred with the democracy of the counties of Hardeman, Fayette and Shelby, and being entirely satisfied that there will be no candidate to the nomination against HON. CASEY YOUNG, our present able and popular representative in Congress and regarding it therefore a convention of the democracy of this district to nominate a candidate unnecessary, expensive and inexpedient, hereby give notice that no Nominating Convention will be called. And the voters of this District are earnestly invited to give their support to HON. CASEY YOUNG, who has so faithfully and efficiently represented the whole people of our Congressional District without regard to political affiliations or predilections. By order of the Committee. M. D. L. STEWART, Chairman.
J. M. BROOKS Secretary.

To the Voters of the Tenth Congressional District,

Composed of the counties of Shelby, Hardeman and Fayette—Urged by my friends and called upon to do so by a unanimity of public sentiment most grateful to my feelings, and which embraces all parties, I would have made a formal declaration of candidacy for re-election as your representative in Congress at an early day, but in deference to the political party to which I belong, I deemed it proper to defer doing so until its sanction was obtained in some authoritative way. It now having been declared by competent authority that there will be no Democratic Convention called in this district to make a nomination, I feel at liberty to announce myself a candidate before the people for re-election to the lower house of Congress, and to respectfully solicit the support of my fellow-citizens of every party at the ballot-box, on the third day of November next. Very respectfully, CASEY YOUNG.

WE have many warm personal friends among the supporters of Wilson in Hardeman county, and we do not intend, knowingly, to do anything to disturb these friendly relations. We have our views on public questions and they have theirs, and we can afford to differ and yet be friends.

JUDGE T. W. Brown delivered a strong speech to a good audience at the courthouse on Monday last. He demonstrated the danger of inroads upon constitutional methods and the folly of bolting the regular democratic ticket. His argument was clear, logical, conclusive, and so tempered with fairness and conciliation as to convince many who have been hesitating how to vote. Every day witnesses accessions to Wright and the regular democracy, and it is now confidently predicted that Wright will lead Wilson in the State fully 40,000 votes.

FROM the Chattanooga Times: Remember that the Governor of Tennessee cannot prevent a submission of a proposed settlement to the people by vetoing a bill for the purpose. The same majority which passes such a bill may pass it over the veto, and it becomes a law, the veto notwithstanding. And now that the court has decided against the assumption of the bolters' platform as to the obligation of the railroads, the last excuse for keeping Wilson in the field is gone, unless there is a secret bargain that he will hold on in the interest of dollar-for-dollar Hawkins.

THE Chattanooga Times, commenting upon the decision of Judge Withey, of the Federal Court, declaring the railroads not liable for the $25,000,000 of Tennessee bonds, says: Justice Bradley, of the Supreme bench, sitting as circuit judge at Mobile, and Judge Trigg sitting as circuit judge at Memphis, decided the same issue in precisely the same form and to the same effect as this holding of Judge Withey. Undoubtedly the Supreme Court of the United States will sustain Judge Withey, if the questions are carried there by appeal. We have predicted from the first that the decision would be what it turns out to be. There is no other possible unless the United States tribunals, for the purposes of this case, rip up the entire fabric of the government of Tennessee, annuling the acts of her Legislature, Governors and judiciary; and this would be an infringement of State rights the most radical centralizer on the bench would hardly venture on. The fact is, when we plead that the Legislatures which passed the various acts under which bonds issued were not representing "the people," we plead "the baby act" in most disgraceful fashion; and equally disreputable is the whine that the three different legislatures which authorized the railroad companies to settle in any State issues, were operated on by bribery. A people who thus decry the bodies they intrust with legislation either unconsciously slander themselves, or they are morally bad off. The stream rises no higher than its source. Like priest like parishioner. Like representative like people. The repudiators must now face the issue in a different form. Their game now will probably be to attack the court, as they have all along attacked all bodies in the State, as corrupt.

COL. J. J. Turner, of Gallatin, Tenn., one of the most distinguished lawyers in the State, and a citizen of unblemished reputation, in a speech at Nashville last week, made the following charge against Wilson, the bolters' candidate: "There were some personal matters in the canvass which he had hoped would have been kept out; but, as circulars by the tens of thousands had been distributed all over the State, charging Judge Wright with not paying his debts, and unfit to hold the position to which he aspired; and, as he had been denounced publicly for making some statements, he felt that his honor and manhood demanded a statement of facts, which he could prove by records. Wilson owed him to-day three notes given in 1868-9, amounting to some $685, for his education. Wilson owed R. H. Sindle, the hotel-keeper at Gallatin, about $500; Chas. Peacock, a newsboy, $42 for newspapers; livery stables, rents, etc., several hundred dollars; and a large amount on Epperson's Springs. The question now arose as to whether he could have paid these debts. Col. Turner found that Wilson went to Atlanta in 1875 to prepare a bankrupt application for his father-in-law, Mr. Seago. The creditors agreed to accept a composition after the application had been filed. For simply preparing the application and arranging the composition Wilson charged a fee of $2,500. The creditors received a small part of the debt, but Wilson came home with $6,000 and loaned the $6,000 out on Dec. 29, 1875. The question arose where did the money come from. He loaned it to a person who did not owe a cent and who had a large amount of money out on interest. He took a note for this amount, due in thirty days. As he failed to pay any of his debts at that time, or to discharge any of his obligations, the question was how did he obtain $6,000 to loan out. These were matters of record, and could be established if denied. It was disagreeable to go into these things, but, as a member of the democratic executive committee, he had been denounced, and he was willing to stand or fall by the statements he had made, and ready and prepared to prove the facts stated."

BOLIVAR, TENN., October 4, 1880.

To the Low-Tax Voters of Hardeman, Madison, Haywood and Crockett Counties:

As it has been concluded by these counties that Hardeman county is entitled to the Floater in the next General Assembly of the State of Tennessee from our Floterial district, and having been selected and presented to the other counties by the united action of the low-tax men of Hardeman county as the candidate on the low-tax ticket for Floater from our district, and having been endorsed by the low-tax men of Madison county in convention assembled, at Jackson, on the 26th of September; and also having the assurance of being endorsed by the low-tax county conventions of the other counties, which will meet soon, and which endorsements will be tantamount to a nomination by the united action of the party, I have concluded to accept the nomination and make the race. I will further state, for the benefit of some who may not know the reasons why we have not called a regular convention, that Hardeman county agreed upon some compromise resolutions in our county convention in regard to the Floterial and Senatorial canvass, which were presented to the high-tax conventions that assembled at Jackson on the 23d of last month, and which were ignored by those conventions; hence it has become necessary for us to put men on our ticket for Senator and Floater, and, not having time to call conventions, we adopted the above course, which amounts to about the same thing. And now, my fellow citizens, I have this to say to you. I did not seek the nomination, but tried to get others to accept it, and when all agreed that I should bear the banner of our just and righteous cause in this contest, I could not refuse; so, my countrymen, I accept the trust, prompted by a sense of duty that every citizen owes to his country in an hour of trial and peril like this. And in doing so, my fellow-citizens, I take upon myself another burden of care and responsibility, added to the many I have already assumed, which are solely for the benefit and interest of the people of our State. It is well known to you that I am one of the executive committee on the Wilson ticket, and have in charge the organization of our party in West Tennessee, which has cost me a vast amount of hard work; besides the expenditure of considerable money out of my own private means; and I can say to you that I have, with the assistance of other committeemen, perfected the organization and now have a live, working executive committee in all the counties in West Tennessee, with the exception of two, and hope to have them at work soon. I can now congratulate you upon our prospects; we are sure to carry West Tennessee by a handsome majority, and the State by a majority sufficient to elect Wilson, despite the combined forces of the Bourbons, ringmasters and all other opposition. And now, fellow citizens of my own county, I will not have time to canvass this county before the election, since my duties as one of the executive committee on the Wilson ticket are such that I will have to make a close canvass in the other counties. I shall rely soundly on your own sense of justice and duty. And while I am working so faithfully for you, I hope you will come up like men, irrespective of personal interests, and work for our cause and the success of the party. It is well known to you all where I stand, therefore it will not be necessary for me to say anything in regard to my position. For you know that I stand on the Wilson platform, and I will in all honorable ways, if elected, endeavor to carry out the principles set forth in regard to the settlement of our State debt. I will not have time to visit you as I should like to, but shall do so whenever I possibly can. Allow me once more to urge you to be up and doing, for we have no time to spare, and I shall do my duty. If you will be true to yours we will be successful.

Respectfully yours,
A. H. LANKETH, JR.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by a natural process,
ABSORPTION,
all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first one effective painful and minor troubled sufferers.
DIABETES AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE, while its cure of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick-dust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness, and Pain in the Back, seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.
DELICATE FEMALES
of victims of wasted or frustrated couplings, caused by frequent labors, the abuse of nature, and medical or physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates, and restores the vigor of health.
PAIN IN THE BACK.
We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.
YOUNG MEN, suffering from nervous and phy sical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.
Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our PAD brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors' bills, medicines and blisters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without exposure, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail free of postage, on receipt of the price, $2 (Other Pads $3 to $5.) Pad for incontinence of urine in children, $1.00. Special (extra size), $3. One box, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO, Toledo, O.
CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other. 8eow-1y

BEST IN THE WORLD!

ASSUMED AND CHEMICALLY PURE.

Empire Ele-Gro Soda is of a highly dirty white color, yours appear white, contrasted with mine, but a COMPARISON with CHURCH & CO.'S ARM AND HAMMER BRAND will show the difference.

See that Your Baking Soda is white, SWEET, fresh, and is the ARM AND HAMMER BRAND for best results.

A simple but severe test of the comparative merits of different brands of soda is to dissolve a teaspoonful of each kind with about a pint of water (not peroxided) in clear glasses, stirring until all is thoroughly dissolved. The deleterious impurities will be found in the interior of the vessel, will be seen by settling some twenty minutes or sooner, by the milky appearance of the solution, the impurity of baking powders is thus easily detected.

Remember and see that the Church & Co.'s Arm and Hammer Brand is on the package, and look at it and the package and wrapper well, in preference to Baking Powders, costing twenty times its cost.

Send one penny postal card for valuable information and receipt book, mailed free.
