THE HERALD.

Friday Morning, Aug. 9, 1872.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HORACE GREELEY,
Of New York.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
GRATZ BROWN,
Of Missouri.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JOHN C. BROWN, of Giles.

FOR CONGRESS,
W. C. WHITTHORNE, of Maury.

For State Senator,
THOS. F. P. ALLISON, of Williamson.

A DISASTROUS fire occurred in Nashville last Monday morning. The property was insured to the amount of $72,000.

COL. W. S. MCLEMORE's friends had bonfires and illuminations in Spring Hill and Culleoka, in this county, Saturday night, and gave every evidence of joy over his election.

SENATOR SUMNER has written a long and able letter to a number of leading colored men, who asked him whom they should vote for, GREELEY or GRANT. He comes out unequivocally for GREELEY, and every negro in the South should read his letter.

A MAGNIFICENT exposition of garden and field products will commence at Pulaski next Tuesday and continue five days. A number from this place expect to attend. Every effort has been, and is being exerted to make it a success. There will be a public entertainment each night.

THE election in North Carolina is yet unsettled, and will be until full official returns are made. The Republicans have probably carried the State for Governor by 1,000 majority. Five Democratic and three Radical Congressmen were elected. The Democrats have a majority of eighteen in the State Legislature.

A WELL-KNOWN Georgian, writing home about the contest between A. JOHNSON and Gen. CHEATHAM for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this State, says: "The former has the advantage in statesmanship—the latter in generalship. Which is the better now, in the U. S. Congress?"

THE "Moore County Pioneer" is the name of a handsomely printed paper, recently started at Lynchburg, the county site of the new county of Moore, between Bedford and Lincoln counties. It is neatly printed, well edited, and bids fair to be a good county paper, full of local news. If it becomes a good local paper, it will succeed.

CAMPAIGN documents distributed through the North, by the administration party, are attempting to prove that GREELEY was an original secessionist and rebel sympathizer; while those sent to the South, with the view of prejudicing Confederate soldiers against him, set forth that he was one of the bloodiest men at the North, at the breaking out of the war, and was in favor of almost total extermination.

THOS. B. MALONE has sold his interest in the Waynesboro Review to C. F. LEWIS. Mr. MALONE has made the Review one of the newsiest and most interesting country papers in the State, and Mr. LEWIS's Salutatory gives promise that the paper will not go backward. We understand that Mr. MALONE will take an interest in one of the Fayetteville papers. If so, we may look for a decided improvement in the way of local news which is the life of a country paper.

THE Lebanon Herald says Col. GOLLADAY, Congressman from the Hermitage District, is "confessedly the ablest member of the Tennessee delegation." This is strong language for the critical Herald, and it astonishes us. The leading Democratic member of Congress has said that Gen. WHITTHORNE, our representative, is the best member from the South. Nowhere is Gen. WHITTHORNE so highly appreciated as by leading statesmen in Congress and of the country.

GEN. N. P. BANKS, of Massachusetts, has written an able letter, announcing his intention to vote for GREELEY. He is for reconciliation between the sections, and believes it can never be secured while Grantism prevails. Gen. BANKS is one of the ablest statesmen and most popular speakers in New England, and his accession to GREELEY is worth thousands of votes. SUMNER and BANKS cannot fail to greatly influence the vote of New England, and should also persuade the colored men of the South, for they and GREELEY have been their life-long friends, while GRANT declared during the war that if the war was against slavery, he would resign immediately.

MAJOR THOS. F. P. ALLISON, of Williamson, authorized us to announce him this week as a candidate for Senator in this district. He was nominated by the inter-county convention which met here about the first of May. Major ALLISON is a native of Williamson county, and is one of the noblest types of man. Independent, frank, intelligent, industious and honorable—the very best requisites for a representative During the late war he was a brave officer, since the war closed he has been a progressive and successful farmer. He represented Williamson county in the last Legislature. Having been educated in Jackson College, he is familiarly known to many of the citizens of this county. He was a school mate with JNO. FRIERSON, Dr. SAM FRIERSON, VANCE THOMPSON, and their cotemporaries at the college here.

T. A. Kerchival, Chairman of the Tennessee Radical Executive Committee, has addressed a secret circular to his partizans, in which he advises them to be wise as serpents, and not put forth a candidate where there is no chance for election; but to concentrate upon the least objectionable Democrat, and thus force a breach in the Democratic ranks. Let the Democracy beware and keep well organized, and always select their candidate for every office.

McLemore at Home.

When the news reached Franklin Saturday night that McLEMORE was elected, it created the wildest excitement. Every man and boy in the place, almost, was on the street, shouting, firing pistols, exploding torpedoes and building bonfires. A procession half mile long was formed and marched out to his residence, headed by a band of music, to escort him to the square, where he addressed the people. The horses of his carriage were led by young men, and he received courtly honors. Hon. A. THOMAS, Col. N. N. COX, and BURKE BOND, Esq., also made speeches. Parties who were present say that there was more excitement than has been witnessed there for ten years. After the crowd had dispersed and quiet was restored, he was serenaded by a splendid band of music.

HARPER'S "Journal of Civilization" has a characteristic article on GRANT and Education," in which the writer, EUGENE LAWRENCE, evidently a New England Puritan, traduces and lies upon the South. Hear him: "Of all nations nominally civilized the Southern States, under the rule of the slave-holders, were the most ignorant. Even Italy and Spain were progressive and enlightened compared to that utterly barbarous population that, spreading from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, formed the ruling section of the American Union. Not one-third of the people of the South could read and write, and perhaps even a less proportion." "Of the whites the larger part were left in a startling ignorance. It was admitted that they were often more degraded than the blacks." "The only education the the poorer classes of the South received was gleaned from their coarse and barbarous politicians." It would be impossible for an article of the length of the one we have quoted to contain more flagrant and malicious misstatements. The "ignorant" section, which the puritanical hater maligns, furnished two-thirds of the Presidents of the Republic, one of her sons wrote the Declaration of Independence, others formed the Constitution of the United States, one of her sons was the central figure in the Revolution, and her sons and daughters have done everything that has been done to make the nation loved at home and honored and respected abroad. Before the war, the South was the happiest, most beautiful and prosperous country on the globe, and if she was "ignorant," then indeed "ignorance is bliss, and 'tis folly to be wise."

THE Northern heart stands aghast with horror at the revelations contained in the report of Hon. JACOB THOMPSON, in regard to his designs and attempts when in the secret service of the Confederate States. These were, to depreciate Federal currency, demoralize the war sentiment of the country, and even to destroy by fire the shipping and cities of the North. Such purposes have been exposed by means of what are called "Confederate Archives," purporting to have been held in the hands of one Col. J. T. PICKETT for the last seven years, who recently sold them to the GRANT government for $75,000.

We believe that a man capable of perpetrating so base an action will do anything within the range of human villany, and it is much easier to believe that the creature PICKETT would invent such documents, than that Mr. THOMPSON would be the agent for the firing of Northern cities. But we will grant that Mr. T. did make efforts to lay the cities of our then enemies in ashes. Did not GRANT order his willing tool SHERIDAN to burn mills, barns, houses, fences, corn, wheat, etc., in the Valley of Virginia, so that a "crow in flying over it would have to carry its rations along"? Did the smoking Valley of the Shenandoah, and the wail of fleeing mothers and shrieking children, bring any feeling of pity to the bosoms of those who are horrified at Mr. THOMPSON's letter? To use Gen. SHERMAN's language, "war is waste," and they that waste most succeed best. Destroying cities, seems a horrible thing to us now in these times of peace, but it did not seem so to Gen. SHERMAN, when he burnt Atlanta, turning the usands o poor women and children into the woods to starve and freeze; nor when he swept through Georgia to the sea like a "besom of destruction," and a consuming flame, burning private houses over innocent women and children; nor when he laid desolate the State of South Carolina, making every valley smoke with the brands of burning houses, and finally when he reduced the fair city of Columbia to ashes. These areactual deeds, to counterbalance the intentions of the Confederacy. These deeds and intentions should all be forgotten. In the South, the deeds of burning and killing are remembered in anger no more; it remains to be seen whether GRANT and his ministers of the doctrine of hate can succeed in preventing a like wish ed for consummation in the North.

Grave Charge Against the President.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—Ex-Mayor Bowen, of Washington, writes, under date, Washington, July 18, as follows, to George Watkins, of Scipio, New York, declaring the President wronged him out of twenty-five thousand dollars, in a business transaction:

"MY DEAR SIR—You are right in stating that I know something of Gen. Grant's business qualifications, as well as his character for honor, honesty and truth. I had a business transaction with him, in which he cheated me out of twenty-five thousand dollars, with a coolness and deliberation that would do credit to any blackleg, as I stand ready to prove by Grant's letter and original contract in my possession. I intend to prosecute Grant before our courts, and have made arrangements to commence suit against him at the next term, when the whole matter will be shown up to the world in evidence that cannot be disputed. This affair is only an index to Grant's private character. He is a miserly, sordid man, and will resort to anything evasion or invasion of law and justice or anything else that an honorable person would despise, to put money in his pocket. His habits are of the worst possible kind, and his associates of the lowest order. Indeed, his instincts are low and vulgar, and he is never so well satisfied as when in company with horse jockeys, smoking cigars, drinking whisky and talking horse."

"Your friend, &c.,

"B. J. BOWEN."

THE New York Herald thinks it "somewhat singular that while we hear of frequent changes among Republican papers, from the GRANT side to the GREELEY, we hear of no Democratic papers that come out squarely for GRANT." The Cincinnati Enqirer says there is nothing strange about it. There are no such papers.

THE Republicans of Nashville have invited HENRY WILSON, BEN BUTLER, Gen. JOHN A. LOGAN, Gen. JNO. HARLAN, Gen. J. A. NEGLEY, FRED DOUGLASS, and other prominent party men to speak there during the canvass. Several of them have signified their acceptance.

Democratic County Convention.

In accordance with previously issued call, a meeting was held at the Court House in Columbia, on Monday the 5th day of August, 1872, to elect delegates to attend the State Congressional Convention to be held at Nashville on the 21st inst., pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Executive Committee. On motion, Maj. Frank C. Dunnington was elected Chairman and W. J. Whitthorne was made Secretary. And, on motion of Col. A. M. Looney, the Chairman was directed to appoint two delegates from each civil district of the County to attend said State Convention. Thereupon the Chairman made the following appointments, from the several districts, to-wit:
