MUSTER-OUT—PROMOTIONS—ADIEU.

On the 11th day of July, 1865, we received orders to prepare for muster out of service. This was received with joy, yet the officers of the little skeletons of companies found that they had no small job on hand. The muster-out rolls had to account for each and every man that had ever belonged to the company. The regiment had been captured, then blown up on the Sultana, a number of men died in prison, and there had been many other casualties, while the papers were scattered to the forewinds. The writer, and some other officers and men who were rapid penmen, were sent on one occasion to Nashville, and there worked hard for some time copying muster-in rolls, that we might have a true copy in order to make the muster-out rolls. Again General Johnson ordered the writer to East Tennessee to get some data from some of the officers who had resigned and come home. This was avoided, however, by supplying the same thing in another way. The other regiments of the brigade could make out their rolls much more rapidly than we, because they had not met with such misfortunes. This delay on the part of our own rolls and the rapid muster out on the part of others, produced considerable dissatisfaction among some of the men who could not understand the cause, and at one time it appeared that a small mutiny was imminent, but such disgrace was avoided.

At length all was ready, and on the 3rd day of August, 1865, the regiment was mustered out of service. The boys boarded the train and went to Nashville to receive their pay. Capt. Jacob P. Brient, Capt. Wm. A. Campbell, Lieut. George W. Wester and the writer remained at Pulaski in order to complete our returns and make the final arrangements for turning over all the papers and accounts to the government. We worked hard the 4th and on the 5th completed our task, and on the 6th went to Nashville. Thus it appears that the writer was one of the first four who enlisted in the regiment and one of the last four to leave the field.

On the 7th day of August commissions were received in the regiment which had before been issued, by which the following promotions were made.

Colonel—Samuel W. Pickens, of Sevier county; Lieutenant-Colonel—John A. Souers, of Hamilton county.

Majors—Jacob P. Brient, of McMinn county; Will A. McTeer, of Blount county; William A. Campbell, of Meigs county.

Chaplain—John H. Morton, of Sevier.

Captains—Archibald S. Mason, of Monroe; George A. Wade, of Sevier; Oliver Henry, of Sevier; Elijah J. Pirkle, of Bradley; George W. Wester, of Grainger; Daniel E. Lebow, of Blount.

First Lieutenants—Andrew C. Hafley, of Blount; Joshua Hines, of Blount; William D. Wade, of McMinn; William E. Mansfield, of Jefferson; John W. Williams, of Meigs; Alexander P. Rambo, of Knox; Christopher A. Reynolds, of Blount; Jonathan H. Rodgers, of Bradley; John D. Fricks, of McMinn; Madison G. Wright, of Monroe; Samuel H. Badgett, of Blount; William L. Hutchison, of Meigs.

Second lieutenants—Robert S. Mason, of Monroe; Andrew T. Peery, of Blount; William C. Douglass, of Sevier; Joel A. Williams, of Knox; William A. McNutt, of Sevier; John D. Pierce, of Sevier; Joseph D. Bradley, of Sevier.

On the 8th we received our pay and soon the boys who had so long worn the blue did be seen with clothes of citizens, and they were scarcely recognizable.

Now, another trying time was at hand. It was true that we all wanted to see our homes, wanted to meet with loved ones who had been left in perilous times, wanted to see the places where we had lived and grown up, but to do this we must part. The third was never again to go into camps, never to again come out on another parade. When the sixth Indiana was mustered out, Captain McMillan of that regiment came over and bade adieu. He said when he left home he found it hard to part with parents, sisters and dear friends the companions of his childhood, "but now," said he, "I am about to part with comrades with whom I have stood in dangers where men have fallen, with whom I have shared in hardships and privations, and the thought that this is a last farewell to so many, that ties formed in blood must be forever broken, makes this one of the saddest hours of my life." So it was with all of us. The camps and the command of the Third had become a home to us, and now we must break up camps, disband and never again bivouac or march together, it was indeed a sad hour. Hands were clasped, while good wishes were expressed in tears. These were tears of sorrow at the parting, while tears of joy were ready to bathe the face at the meeting of loved ones of whom we had dreamed on the battlefield and in the darkest hours of the war. And so we parted. The Third was disbanded and was no longer a regiment of soldiers, but citizens of our GREAT REPUBLIC.

THE END.

According to the latest statistics, there are at least 15,000 washerwomen in Paris and its environs. In that city alone more than $12,000,000 are spent annually in washing.

ROSADALIS

THE GREAT SOUTHERN remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling, Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous Debility, Malary and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the Blood.

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities.

Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians, Ministers, and heads of families throughout the South, endorsing in the highest terms the Fluid Extract of Rosadalis.

Dr. S. Wilson Carr, of Baltimore, says "he has used it in cases of Scrofula and other diseases with marked satisfaction."

Dr. T. C. Pugh, of Baltimore, recommends it to all persons suffering with diseased Blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used.

Rev. Dabney Ball, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference South, says he has been so much benefited by its use that he cheerfully recommends it to all his friends and acquaintances.

Craven & Co., Druggists, at Gordonsville, Va., say it never has failed to give satisfaction.

Sam'l G. McFadden, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, says it cured him of rheumatism when all else failed.

Rosadalis is not a secret quack preparation, its ingredients are published on every package. Show it to your Physician and he will tell you it is composed of the strongest alteratives that exist, and is an excellent Blood Purifier. Did our space admit we could give you testimonials from every State in the South and from persons known to every man, woman and child either personally or by reputation.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

LOOK!

THE KNOXVILLE CHRONICLE

And Weekly Whig and Chronicle for 1880.

During the coming Presidential year, the DAILY CHRONICLE will take an active part in the vigorous discussions of all political issues involved, and will, at the same time, keep its readers fully posted on all the important events of the day. It will do whatever is honest and legitimate to promote the success of the Republican ticket, placing fidelity to the interests of that party above any personal aims or private ambition. To this end it will favor the selection of good men with clear records, personal and political, for standard bearers in the coming canvass, and when such are selected, it will do everything reasonable to secure their success.

In State politics, the CHRONICLE will support no man for any office, from Governor down to constable, who is not in favor of paying the State debt upon terms satisfactory to the creditors of the State. It will oppose the efforts of repudiationists to drag the entire State down to their low and degraded standard, first, last and all the time, and even though the repudiationists should be successful, it will continue to denounce them and their infamous schemes.

The WHIG AND CHRONICLE will be published weekly, as before, and will be made up from the issues of the DAILY CHRONICLE. It will contain a choice selection of miscellaneous matter each week, together with editorials, telegraph and local matter. Especial attention will be given its columns, and everything that could be objectionable in the family circle will be carefully excluded. It will be the object of the publishers to make it a welcome visitor into the families of the country.

Its market reports will be carefully revised every Tuesday and made as nearly perfect and reliable as possible.

The Agricultural columns of the WHIG AND CHRONICLE shall receive close attention, and will be improved all the time. In this department, the views of practical farmers on topics of interest will be invited.

The proprietors of these two old and well established journals will spare no pains to keep up and add to their established reputation, and are confident that they will make them worth many times more than the subscription price charged.
