COLDS COUGHS CROUP BRONCHITIS ASTHMA

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS

There has been no medicine yet discovered that can show more evidence of real merit than ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM. This unequaled expectorant for curing consumption and all diseases leading to it, such as affections of the throat, lungs, and all diseases of the pulmonary organs, is introduced to the suffering public after its merits for the cure of such diseases have been fully tested by the medical faculty. The Balsam is, consequently, recommended by physicians who have become acquainted with its great success.

What Well-known Druggists Say about Allen's Lung Balsam.

SPRINGFIELD, TENN.

GENTLEMEN: Please ship us six dozen ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM. We have not a bottle in store. It has more reputation than any cough medicine we have ever sold. Have been in the drug business twenty-seven years. We mean just what we say. Very truly yours,

HUFF & TANNER.

Drs. Wilson & Ward, physicians and druggists write from Centreville, Tenn.: "We purchased ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, and it sells rapidly; we are practicing physicians as well as druggists, and take pleasure in recommending a great remedy, such as we know this to be."

Dr. J. B. Turner, of Blountsville, Alabama, a physician of over twenty-five years, himself prostrated with Consumption, is indeced to try the LUNG BALSAM, and informs us: "It is doing all it is recommended to do. The best preparation in the world."

☞ Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merit. What they say about ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once, and be convinced of its real merits.

As an Expectorant it has no equal. It is harmless to the most delicate child. It contains no opium in any form.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE is an infallible remedy for Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Jaundice, Colic, Restlessness, Depression, Sick Headache, Constipation, Nausea, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, etc.

SIMMONS

The reason that this medicine is successful in so many cases with which remedies previously tried were unable to cope, is attributable to the fact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maladies to which it is adapted. Liver Complaints, Fever and Ague, etc., and Dyspepsia in its worst form yields to the potent power of the REGULATOR. It does not merely relieve the sufferer, but effects a permanent cure. SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE has been used successfully for a long time as a substitute for Quinine and Calomel, and the effects of this medicine are truly wonderful.

LIVER

It is prepared upon strictly scientific principles, and being an entirely Vegetable Compound, is a harmless but effectual medicine.

It is a well known fact that food ill digested but imperfectly nourishes the system as it is only partially assimilated by the blood. Sufferers with Dyspepsia whose circulation is impoverished and nerves weakened, experience a decided and rapid improvement in their physical and mental condition by the use of SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR.

REGULATOR

This mild Tonic, gentle Laxative and harmless Invigorant aids the process of digestion, which insures a development of all materials that are necessary to a healthy condition of body and mind. Clergymen, bankers, bookkeepers, editors and others who lead sedentary lives will find much relief from the frequent headaches, nervousness and constipation resulting from want of exercise, by taking the REGULATOR. And persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking this medicine occasionally to keep the Liver in healthy action.

OR

It should be used by all persons, old and young, and no family can afford to be without it, and by being kept ready for immediate resort, will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctor's bills.

MEDICINE.

CAUTION.—As there are a number of imitations offered to the public, we would caution the community to buy no Simmons Liver Regulator or Medicine unless in our engraved wrapper, with "Red Z" trade mark, stamp and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

THE NASHVILLE CENTENNIAL.

And Other Matters, as Viewed by "Sevier."

SEVIERVILLE, May 13, 1880.

MR. EDITOR: On the 3rd inst. the writer, in company with Capt. E. M. Wynn and others, went to Knoxville, there joined a large delegation to Nashville, some going to the republican state convention, others to the centennial. Nashville is a live place. This being the first time the writer had been there since 1865, he found great improvement since then.

The centennial is attracting considerable attention now. We were given a pleasant look through it and found a great many old relics and other things of interest. The greatest attraction is the large portraits of all the governors of our state with the single exception of the honored W. G. Brownlow, whose portrait was not anywhere to be found in the building. Every man of the East Tennessee delegation, as far as we could learn, was disgusted and incensed at this seeming insult. Another noticable feature was that not a portrait of a federal officer was on exhibition, while several of confederates were conspicuously posted. There was a fine display of flags from prominent buildings about the city, the Maxwell house floating to the breezes, I suppose at least 100. This house was known during the war as the Zollikoffer barracks, being put up by him a short time before he was killed at the battle of Fishing creek. Now it is a complete hotel, containing 250 rooms, as we are informed. The convention we will not speak of, its proceedings having been published.

The writer left Nashville the 6th for Murfreesboro, and stopped over night at the Willard house, known during the war as the City Hotel and city hospital No. 1, where quite a number of gallant "boys in blue" died.

The next morning I took a trip to the national cemetery, three miles north of the city, on the battle field known as Stone river and is as near as possible on the spot where occurred on Friday, January 2nd, 1863, the last struggle between Genl. Breckenridge, confederate, and Rancle, federal. The writer gave an account of this in his "Reminiscences" of the second Tennessee, No. 4, published in the WHIG AND CHRONICLE. The cemetery contains twenty acres, is enclosed with a stone wall and has a good dwelling house for the superintendent, who is paid $100 per month. It is beautifully arranged, containing 6,135 single graves and quite a number of graves, from two to thirteen. The head stones are uniform, and each numbered and named. The ground is perfectly level and beautifully sodded with blue grass. The stars and stripes float grandly to the breeze from a pole in the center, over the boys in blue who repose quietly in the city of the dead. There are also two large cannons which were used in the battle. The cemetery is dotted with cedar, pine and maple trees.

Capt. Frank the superintendent, is an Irishman and is very polite and kind in giving any desired information. All the honored dead who fell in 20 miles of Murfreesboro are laid to rest in this cemetery, where the government will care for them as long as it is a government. The time we spent in this city of the dead was very solemn. We found many Tennesseans resting there, and can say to all their friends that they are well cared for.

Murfreesboro and surrounding country still wears the gloomy aspect it did during the dark days of rebellion. The mules and negroes in the cotton fields present the same melancholy appearance. One old mule was seen drawing a plow alone with no person to be seen near.

The country from Nashville to Chattanooga was very familiar to the writer, having been all along there time and again during the war.

There is quite a contrast in the farming of that portion of the state as compared with East Tennessee. We are far in advance of them here in everything. Knoxville is the cleanest, neatest and loveliest place that met our gaze in the entire journey.
